SUFFRAGIST CANDIDATE IS ELECTED MAYOR OF INDUSTRIAL HIGH SCHOOL

CAMPAGNING AT THE DULUTH INDUSTRIAL HIGH SCHOOL.

Miss Agnes Keller, backed by a solid suffrage vote, was yesterday elected mayor of the new government at the Duluth Industrial high school. She was a victor over twenty-five candidates. The new commission government, which gives the girls a vote, was established two weeks ago, during which time the feminine section of the school conducted a spirited campaign in behalf of their candidates for office. Out of seven girls running for the commission, one was elected mayor and three commissioners for one term. Miss Keller won out in the race for mayor by two votes. The candidates for the commission receiving the highest number of votes is given the office of mayor. Exactly 191 ballots were cast by the pupils, who used the preferential voting plan in casting their votes. Only the first choice was used by the judges in counting, with the exception of the fight between Erlene Larson and Charles Pollock, whose second choice votes will be counted Monday to decide the winner.

DIES AS RESULT OF FALL ON SIDEWALK

Gust A. Cassell, 42 years old, 109 North Sixty-third avenue west, died at St. Luke's hospital yesterday afternoon as the result of a fall on Central avenue Thursday evening. Cassell had just come out of a saloon on Central avenue, according to reports made by the West Duluth officers, when he fell to the sidewalk. He struck his head on the curb and was unable to get up. He was taken to the hospital, where an operation was to have been performed. He died at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon from a fracture of the skull. Cassell was well known in this end of the city, having been a resident between Wieland and Holland in the pharmacy event, the latter winning by the score of 10 to 2. This evening Wieland will play in the Henkleken event. On Monday evening Zauft and Judson will play in the finals of the West Duluth Commercial club event. A game scheduled for Monday night, between Cassell and Olson, was postponed because of the illness of Olson. The funeral arrangements will be made some time today.

With the Curlers.
Only one game was played at the Western Curling club last evening, between Wieland and Holland in the pharmacy event, the latter winning by the score of 10 to 2.

Boys' Club Notes.
Members of the West Duluth boys club will have a regular session at their club rooms on Tuesday. Instead they will have a swimming period at the Central Y. M. C. A. The club meets every Monday and Wednesday at 4 o'clock and again at 7 o'clock.

No Meeting of Club.
There was no meeting of the West Duluth Commercial club last evening, owing to the annual banquet of the West End Commercial club held at the Woodmen hall, which many of the local members attended. Next Friday will be ladies' night and the regular monthly entertainment will be prepared by the members.

Building Remodeled.
The Scott building at 215 Central avenue has been remodeled at a cost of $500. The front has been taken out and a double entrance built. The exterior of the building has also been repainted. H. C. Brock was in charge of the construction work.

Banquet Committee.
Andrew Myles, chairman of the banquet committee of the West Duluth Commercial club, has called a meeting for this evening. The plans for the banquet, to be held April 10, will be taken up and discussed. Reports will be made by several of the sub-committee.

West Duluth Briefs.

Bondholders Take Note.
As a result of the proceedings in the state courts by the Northwest-Traction company against the Interstate Traction company to force payment of bonds and accrued interest, the board of directors of the Interstate Traction company has decided to appoint a committee to investigate the situation and to report to the stockholders at their next meeting.

Child is Adopted.
Judge Cline in district court this morning signed an order for the adoption of a child, which was brought by the grand jury this week of manslaughter in the first degree. It is alleged he shot and killed Sam Martin, a local saloon keeper, in a place of business, late on Saturday night a few weeks ago. Johnson was captured, but was captured and has since been in the county jail.

August Johnson.
Benedict, Minn., March 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—August Johnson is expected to plead today to the indictment returned by the grand jury this week of manslaughter in the first degree. It is alleged he shot and killed Sam Martin, a local saloon keeper, in a place of business, late on Saturday night a few weeks ago. Johnson was captured, but was captured and has since been in the county jail.

BERT M. MOSES, late president of the Association of American Advertisers, says that the Duluth Herald is no longer willing to pay for blue sky. Up to yesterday the vital thing in circulation was bulk. It was the common error that inspired voting contests. The DULUTH HERALD never used a premium or a guessing contest scheme to artificially boost circulation.

influenced the first annual meeting of the Southern Minnesota Development league at Mankato, March 11 and 12. The latter was organized by a number of those who delivered addresses were B. P. Neff and L. B. Arnold of Duluth. The meeting at Mankato this year, taking advantage of the opportunity to be better acquainted with the residents in the southern part of the state.

Too Many Petersens.
Charles A. Peterson, aged 27, this morning petitioned the district court to have his name changed to Charles A. Boyden, because of the confusion which it caused in having as common a name as Peterson. Judge Cant granted his petition at the special term of court this morning.

Wanted Fair Adjustment.
"We all agree that a customs reorganization is necessary," asserted Mr. Miller, "but we want a fair adjustment. Such a plan as you have now proposed, which would not get a dozen votes in the house and senate combined."

President Taft did not give any indication of what he would do in the matter, but Representative Miller is hopeful that he will decide not to take any action at all as a result of arguments submitted today.

Mr. Taft should not act on the legislation authorizing the reorganization of the customs and the customs districts will remain as at present, unless congress should direct Mr. Wilson to do the same thing.

WHERE DO THE TOADS GO?
New York Mail: When a toad does set of dishes ever made was recently shown at an exhibition in St. Paul, Minn., it consisted of thirty-six hand-colored plates. This set has an estimated value of $18,500, a single plate therefore, being worth $515. It is the property of Count Orloff-Davidoff.

PLAN IS NOT SATISFACTORY

Would Combine Duluth, Superior and Twin Cities in One Customs District.

Congressman Miller Makes Vigorous Protest Before President.

(From The Herald Washington Bureau.)
Washington, March 1.—There was a lively exchange of words between Representative Miller and Secretary MacVeagh and Assistant Secretary Curtis, with the president as an interested listener, at the conference over customs reorganization today, when Mr. Miller was informed that the treasury department had returned to its original plan of having Duluth and all Western Wisconsin customs ports included in the Minnesota district, with headquarters at St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Mr. Miller immediately made a vigorous protest against the proposed reorganization.

Plan an Outrage.
"The plan you have before you is an outrage upon the people of Duluth, and all the cities at the Head of the Lakes," declared Mr. Miller. "You claim that this reorganization has been proposed in the interest of economy and efficiency."

"That claim can not be sustained. In the first place, there can be no economy either in money or time, in having a deputy stationed at Duluth, instead of a collector with full power of action."

"Efficiency will be destroyed because of the fact that all matters of dispute will have to go to a collector stationed 150 miles away. All the shipping and business interests of the Northwest will protest against this plan as soon as they know of it; and in what I am saying, I am simply anticipating that protest."

Assistant Secretary Curtis suggested that a deputy collector could pass upon violations of the shipping laws just as well as a collector.

Not Correct, Says Miller.
"That is not true," Mr. Miller declared. "No subordinate can act for his principal with satisfaction to anybody. If you are going to have deputy collectors pass upon matters of such great importance as arise at Duluth, because of sickness, or because all customs districts have one collector for the United States, and let all the deputies report to the head of the service, here will be prepared."

A suggestion was made that congress had put it up to the executive to effect a customs reorganization besides congress, largely for political reasons, could not result in an agreement.

Want Fair Adjustment.
"We all agree that a customs reorganization is necessary," asserted Mr. Miller, "but we want a fair adjustment. Such a plan as you have now proposed, which would not get a dozen votes in the house and senate combined."

President Taft did not give any indication of what he would do in the matter, but Representative Miller is hopeful that he will decide not to take any action at all as a result of arguments submitted today.

PUTTING BILLY WISE
Brother-to-Brother Letters
By Johnny Wise.

Dear Bill: Subdivision A of Section 46 of our new city charter reads as follows:

"All expenditure of money in aid of the election of candidates, except for holding public meetings and printing and distributing literature is prohibited, and the total expenditure on behalf of any one candidate, whether directly or indirectly, and whether by himself alone or otherwise, shall not exceed Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00)."

Take a good slant at that. What does it say? No campaign cigars, no little parties with a man in a white apron presiding, no slipping over of fives for personal endeavor, none of the little practices in finance that made the campaigns of old, gay little affairs in which any man might feel free to mingle.

Of course we became a little accustomed to this corrupt practice thing during the last general campaign. Now and then candidates for county office used to mix with the boys and get on good terms via smokes and whistle maintainers. They didn't do it much during the last campaign, but the omission was not as noticeable as it will be during this municipal campaign. When you get to applying a corrupt practice act to social affairs among neighbors in our little community it's getting too close to home to be entirely satisfactory—to a certain part of the community.

I can see in fancy a few of a certain group of campaign regulars standing in some popular place of alcohol festivity. They take another all around and some member of the party, not a candidate for office, pays. Then a doleful chorus goes up:

"It was not like this in the olden days. In the days beyond recall. In the rare old, fair old, spending days. It was not like this at all. Then we drank all day and half the night."

And candidates always paid. We sigh in vain for one campaign. Like the old boys made.

Then they have another, another member of the party, not a candidate, settle with the white-aproned diplomat behind the bar, and they tune up again.

I don't mean to say that a candidate cannot buy a drink or a cigar. He can and does, but whenever he does, which he seldom, he explicitly says it is a social affair, in which his candidacy is not involved. However, even that game will not go very far. No candidate is going to take chances on his election being contested. If he should happen to be elected, and every time a candidate buys a drink or a cigar for the gang he is jeopardizing his chances of holding his job if he is elected.

Careful Financing.
Speaking of my own observation of campaigns, which has been some extensive, the prominent candidate who can keep within that $500 limit will look like a pretty small limit. I see one of the candidates has already hired a hall for a little spiel on his candidacy. Hiring halls, if it becomes a habit, will make awful inroads on that $500. Yet there will be some hiring of halls, some distribution of literature, some newspaper advertising and some clerical assistance in the distribution of literature to be considered. One little measly postal card sent to every one of the 12,000 voters

In this city is going to cost some money. If a man goes to the expense of envelopes, paper and printing, he cannot circulate very many times without bringing the watchful eyes of other candidates upon him. Financially, it is a statement that's a sizzler. Jim Preston quietly retired from exactly the same angle as that from which your little brother has been viewing it. The men who are elected to this first commission are going to have the same kind of a time that presidents of Mexico get in for when ballots and bullets place them in office. Of course, there is no money to be any shaying of chief executives, nor is any patriotic citizen of Duluth likely to go down to the city hall with a company of rurales and get a gatling gun to seize the government. What I mean to convey is that there will be no more peace of mind in the city hall after April 14 than there is today in the palace of the president of our volcanic republic to the South. No five human beings can please 80,000 human beings. Whatever the government and whoever the men administering it, some of the citizens

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES
Course in Hygiene.
A course in hygiene was started during the week at the Central high school. At present only the students who have the fourth period vacant are expected to enroll in the classes, but next year it is planned to make the study of hygiene compulsory for all boys. The course is conducted on the same basis as frehand drawing. In that credit will be given toward graduation for completion of the study. The popular lecture system, which requires the taking of notes but no outside preparation is employed in the conduct of the classes. About 100 boys have already enrolled and it is expected that many more will arrange their programs so that they may have the study in this interesting subject. Principal Leonard Young and Prof. Dwight Hiestand have charge of the classes. The seniors meet on Tuesday during the fourth period while the junior, sophomore and freshmen boys meet on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, respectively.

Interclass Debate.
The second debate in the interclass series will occur next week when the representatives of the freshmen class meet the second year debaters. The subject for debate is the state high school league question. The winning trio will meet the junior team for the class debating honors inasmuch as the junior defeated the senior arguers last week. Both squads are working hard in preparation for the debate and are perfecting their delivery under the efficient tutoring of Coach Kenneth G. Olsen, McFarlane, Garon and Le Richeux make up the first year team, while the sophomore trio includes Sills, Armstrong and Neff. A great deal of impetus has been given debating and public speaking at Central this year, and the student body is taking a greater interest in the work than ever before.

"The Stump."
The Stump did not hold its regular meeting Thursday afternoon, as several of the members of the grade schools of the city and distributed tickets for the Central Minneapolis West High debate, held last evening. The next session of the club will be held Thursday when the members will discuss the relative merits and shortcomings of the woman suffrage movement. Irving Grover, chairman of the social committee will be the leader. The second of the series of socials and entertainments arranged by the social committee was held last week. The Wallace Cup.
Much interest is being evinced by the students at the Central high school in regard to the coming Wallace cup contest. Between forty and fifty students have entered in the oratorical and declamatory work, and are spending no little time in the preparation of their selections. Under the direction of Prof. Kenneth G. Olsen. So many have taken an active part in the work that it has been made necessary to have preliminary class contests. These will be held on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Those whose work in these tryouts merits further recognition will be entered in the interclass meet. The successful speakers will then meet in a final contest to determine who shall represent Central in oratory and declamation, in the dual meet. Superior high and Irving high school will be represented at the cup contest, and there is a strong possibility that Nelson Dewey of Superior will also enter a team.

Commencement.
A special committee of fourth grade students appointed by President Ray Giddings met yesterday at the close of school and selected several styles of commencement invitations which will be voted on by the class at a special meeting some time next week. The samples will be posted on the bulletin board on Monday, so the students may become familiar with them. The following seniors made up the committee: Eunice Whipple, Mildred Miller, Elvira Smith, Dorothy Vachtel, Harold Calkins, Thornton McLean, Richard Calkins and Ray Giddings.

The commercial club of the high school held a meeting Tuesday at the close of school in the commercial rooms. After the business session the members were entertained at a luncheon prepared by the girls of the club. Twenty students were in attendance at the spread and several were called on to respond to toasts.

The regular weekly rehearsal of the orchestra was held in the assembly

CARUSO OF THE COAL YARDS

Duluth Has Ambitious Young Man Who Shovels Coal By Day and Studies Italian Operas By Night.

WILHELM LINDSTRAND.

GEORGE TYLER, (Signor Taglieri), that master of music whom Duluth loved for many years, is responsible for the development of many voices of more or less "made-velous" capacity, and although he has been away from this city for some years there are still echoes of his work, and results are steadily being obtained where he laid the ground work.

Not the least of those whose voices he tested, and one of which Duluth may yet boast, is that of one who may be termed a "Caruso of the Coal Yards," for it is there that Wilhelm Lindstrand develops himself physically to keep in training, as it were, that his voice may have the proper physique back of it.

Lindstrand has been a resident of Duluth since 1899, coming here from his native country, Sweden. Not long after he arrived he was "discovered"—that is, it was found that he "had a voice," and his friends immediately put him forward as a possibility in the realm of vocalization. Mr. Tyler listened to him and became so interested in the young foreigner's voice and undoubted musical ability that he took him under his wing and taught him everything that the stage has to offer. Lindstrand, who is now a young man, was so convinced that his pupil had a tenor voice of greater than the ordinary capacity, and in fact that Lindstrand had the true tenor quality that he took more than ordinary interest in him, and not only instructed Lindstrand in the art of which he himself was adept, but taught him also the intricacies of the Italian language that the young man might not only sing the scores of the works of the great composers but also be able to understand what he might be thoroughly familiar with its every idiom and shade of meaning. The result is that Mr. Lindstrand is not only a polished singer but is accomplished in three languages—Swedish, English and Italian.

Some after score from the great composers have been committed to memory by the young singer—for Lindstrand is well under the age of 30—and it is claimed that he excels in many of them. He has been heard a number of times in Duluth and in surrounding cities and will sing on April 4 at a concert to be given in St. Paul by the Vega Singing society. At this time he will sing a number of compositions by Richard Strauss and several selections from "The Tugboat."

Mr. Lindstrand will go to Europe during the coming spring, there to add the finishing touches to an already beautiful voice, before making a bid for the operatic stage, for which Mr. Tyler has asserted he is by nature fitted. He sings under the name of Wilhelm Lind.

In the meantime, and for a number of years this young man has worked as driver of a coal wagon for the Duluth Coal company, his station being Dock No. 7 on Garfield avenue. He says that the hard work keeps his body in good condition, but adds that the coal dust is hard on the vocal organs. Physically, the singer is a handsome man. He stands about six feet in height, is well proportioned and is of a ruddy complexion. He is strong, has ample lung power and his strength of physique is in keeping with his strength of physique. To marriage he has given no consideration, fearing that it might impede him in his art. Theoretically, marriage appeals to him, but as an actuality it is far from a consummation devoutly to be wished.

Bryant gave a delightful talk on Social Center work. A class in calisthenics gave an exhibition of their work under the direction of Prof. M. Alletzhauser and Miss Margaret Lenihan sang. The evening closed with a large supper served tea and wafers during the social hour.

FAIR WAGES FOR TEACHERS

Present Pay Does Not Attract High Grade of Talent to Most Important Profession.

(By a Teacher.)

Teachers of Duluth are asking for an increase of salary, and for a few weeks have been carrying on a quiet campaign hoping to influence the board to grant their request. The movement in Duluth is a small part of a great national movement working toward the same end. For sometime thoughtful people have deplored the fact that the members of the teaching profession are so poorly paid.

The value of a teacher's work for the world has risen in the estimation of the public during the last century. Parents are beginning to regard the teacher as one who is capable of giving advice. They are also beginning to appreciate that the schools relieve them of a great share of the burdens necessary in the bringing up of children.

Should Attract Best.

The esteem of the public should be held and increased by all the means available. Salaries should be paid which will attract the best men and women to the profession. Teaching calls for a grade of knowledge which can be adequately compensated elsewhere if the financial inducements do not exist in the teaching system. The number of teachers who are offered higher salaries in other occupations is very large. No pay the professors in our best colleges about as much as a good commercial traveler receives, but the teachers are generally regarded as the ablest class. A great number of men and women who would prefer to do school work and who are capable of doing much for the common good in their work with the rising generation, leave the teaching profession because they can get better pay elsewhere. If this should continue for many generations we might as well give up the idea that we are letting the capable men and women feed, clothe, and amuse us.

In some cities the school board has hesitated to raise the salaries for fear of adverse criticism in the part of the taxpayer. This fear has proved to have no foundation in fact, as the presidents of school boards publicly admit. The truth is that the salaries of teachers do not make up a very great part of the taxpayers' burdens.

Sometimes the only argument the school board has to offer against a raise of salary is that there is no money with which to pay this increased compensation. This state of poverty can generally be remedied, for it is not always true that the district is too poor to grant the increase. The trouble is more likely to be found in the manner of distributing the available funds. A more generous portion should be set aside for teachers' salaries. If necessary, laws can be amended to secure this result.

MRS. GEORGE W. MORGAN, Chairman of Educational Committee and Head of Junior Work.

MRS. F. A. PATRICK, Chairman of Play-Going Committee.

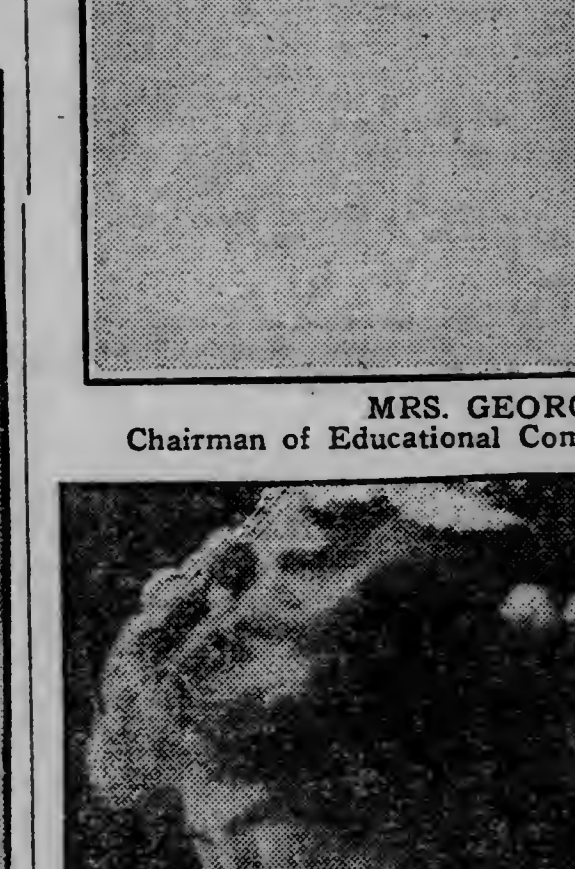

RICHARD CULLUM, President H. S. Junior League No. 3.

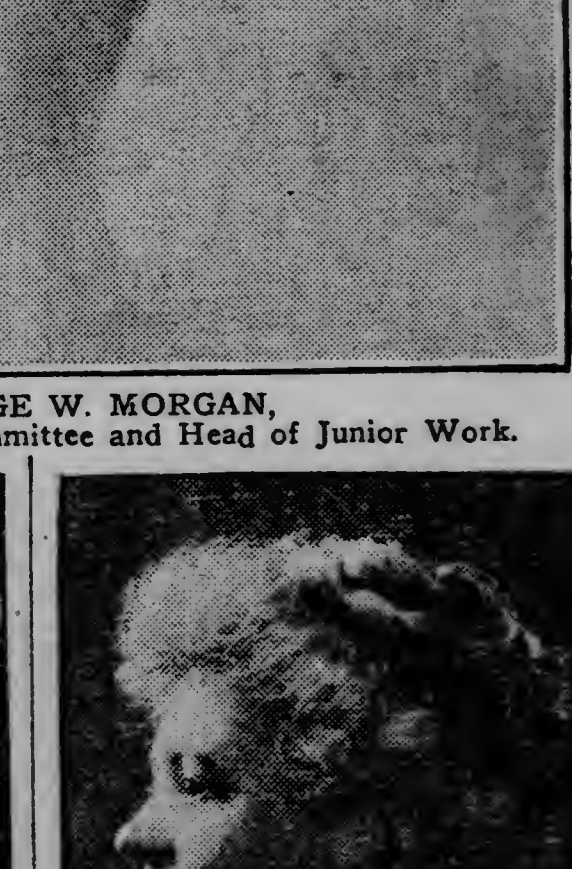

OSCAR BJORGE, President Unity Drama Club.

MARGARET V. GRANNIS, Secretary Unity Drama Club.

MRS. S. R. HOLDEN, President Duluth Branch of Drama League.

MRS. GEORGE W. MORGAN, Chairman of Educational Committee and Head of Junior Work.

WITH the annual meeting of the Drama League, which was held last Wednesday, special attention has been called to the work which is being planned and accomplished under the head of Drama League work.

The league department has gained a broader foothold in this city than the other part of the work and all over the city the young folks are ready to work with the league. The only check to this work, the only check to the league, is the lack of funds. The league is a young organization, and it is not yet able to pay the salaries of its officers and directors.

We are planning for our work this year to open a class for the training of producing plays and in this class we will take a group of children and train them for a play in the presence of the class giving an idea of the stage business necessary even to the simplest plays and of the way to bring out children and young people to do their best.

Five Junior League Leagues have been organized under the direction of Mrs. Morgan and other members of the Duluth branch of the league and two other dramatic clubs have joined the league and are working under its supervision.

At the Bryant school a Junior League was formed of twenty-five members of the eighth grade and they worked out and presented "Little Women" with marked success in January. The costumes were made by the children and their stage setting was of their own arrangement. The play itself was directed by Mrs. Morgan and Miss Kathryn A. King, principal of the school, and proved so interesting that it was repeated by request and the league has $12 in the bank, profit from the entertainment.

Each Junior league is made of not more than twenty-five members and has its own officers and a director.

The officers of the Bryant league were: Ross Beatty, president, and Miss Marie Gleason, secretary, both of whom were graduated from the school at the end of the last semester, and the society has not been reorganized, but members are planning to do so soon.

High School Leagues. At the Duluth Central high school three Junior leagues have been formed in the senior class and the members will commence on the study of plays immediately. The annual senior play, which will be given next month, was chosen by the committee of the Junior league, with Richard Cullum as chairman, the little Gilbert play, "Engaged," being selected and rehearsals will commence next week.

The plan at the high school is that the three groups will work on the same plays, reading them and casting them among themselves and later a cast for the play will be chosen from the three organizations and the play put on for the rest of the pupils of the school. Each group has its president and faculty members who will direct its work.

Members of the high school Junior Drama League, No. 1, who have chosen H. Alexander of the faculty as their director, are: Clara Fider, president; Ella Forrester, Truman Brooke, Lawrence Dow, Ella Smith, Stanley Grogan, Olga Lindahl, Gertrude McClen, Esther Dahl, Ray Giddings, Edith Magbliah Club.

The Magbliah club will meet at 2:15 next Saturday afternoon at the vestry room of Temple Emanuel, Seventh avenue east and Second street. A social hour will follow the study program and Mrs. S. Goldberg will give a talk to the members.

Students' Frolic.

The annual students' frolic under the direction of Mrs. Ernest Lachmund will be given in two weeks, the exact date to be announced later. Many original students are in preparation for this event and the large student body of the club are all working in earnest.

Prizes Are Awarded.

St. Paul, Minn., March 1.—Director Maurice I. Flagg, of the Minnesota State Art society, announced today the winners of medals and diplomas, and $1,200 in cash prizes given by the society to Minnesota artists for work to be exhibited at the society's ninth annual exhibition which opens tomorrow night at the auditorium in this city.

The annual students' frolic under the direction of Mrs. Ernest Lachmund will be given in two weeks, the exact date to be announced later. Many original students are in preparation for this event and the large student body of the club are all working in earnest.

Prizes Are Awarded.

St. Paul, Minn., March 1.—Director Maurice I. Flagg, of the Minnesota State Art society, announced today the winners of medals and diplomas, and $1,200 in cash prizes given by the society to Minnesota artists for work to be exhibited at the society's ninth annual exhibition which opens tomorrow night at the auditorium in this city.

At the Duluth Central high school three Junior leagues have been formed in the senior class and the members will commence on the study of plays immediately. The annual senior play, which will be given next month, was chosen by the committee of the Junior league, with Richard Cullum as chairman, the little Gilbert play, "Engaged," being selected and rehearsals will commence next week.

Round Table.
The piano teachers' round table of the Matthews club will hold its final meeting of the year at Miss Carcy's studio Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Undoubtedly the members of Miss Carcy's able leadership have been of material value to the many teachers. The round table, in its initial years of the round table, has been proven a success. Undoubtedly next year will be no exception. Increased interest in this new work.

arrival of a Freshman from Duluth who would make a desirable member of the fraternity. His name is Brown. No details as to his train or the time of his arrival are given. A member of the fraternity goes to each of the three fallows with a Brown in tow. The problem then is to find the right one.

In the second act a dance is given at the house and one of the girls of the town tries to get the desired information from Brown by using one of the pretenses to each in turn. She fails to get the desired data but falls in love with him. In the third act a traveling salesman who had pretended to be a lark, to be an enterprising freshman. The play thus leaves the audience in the discovery of the real Brown. In the last chapter all three from Duluth return to the city and the curtain is about to go down.

When the telegram arrives announcing that Brown would become the famous "Brown of Harvard."

Craig Speaks.

Advocating the need to the farmers, good roads, better transportation, reciprocal trade relations with the farmers, the promotion of the agricultural industry, the establishment of a St. Louis county agricultural bureau, C. H. Craig, head of the agricultural board, gave an interesting address on "The Problem of First Importance."

If Duluth is to have a very populous and prosperous city, it will be what is classed as an industrial city. If Duluth never becomes a great industrial center, it will be the fault of the people, not of Nature. But if Duluth is to be a great city, an agricultural foundation will have to be built under her. The industrial section of the city will be the section in which the laboring man is so abundant that it will be the section where you must watch out for the encroachment of the saloon, which seeks the distraction of the workers, and which must at least afford to expend the money these commercial concerns and church organizations of their own volition are willing to contribute.

AUTOMOBILES

BILLION IN MOTOR CARS

UNITED STATES HAS LARGE INVESTMENT IN PLEASURE CARS AND TRUCKS.

DULUTH GARAGES REPORT GOOD SALES FOR SPRING DELIVERY.

To those who like figures in regard to anything it may be an interesting question as to the growth of motor car use in the United States. During the first nine months of 1912, figures show 900,738 cars were registered in the United States, an increase for that period over the corresponding one of 1911 of 266,670, the total increase being 38.8 per cent. Of the total registration 920,918 were gasoline pleasure cars, 35,978 were trucks and 3,842 were electric autos.

The valuation of the total number of cars so registered in the United States, figuring the average price at $1,200 a car, aggregated $1,183,885,000 and the registration fee, figured at over $1 on every $37.50 of value, amounts to $2,220,000. If the fees can be looked upon in the light of a tax, and there is an average tax of $2.25 on every auto. The records show that on Oct. 1, 1912, Minnesota had 34,000 cars, North and South Dakota had 25,321, Nebraska had 32,372, Michigan had 39,235, Wisconsin had 24,175, Iowa had 44,652, Illinois had 47,924, Montana and Wyoming 6,128, Idaho had 4,280 and Washington and Oregon had 22,824.

It is estimated that next month when the sun will have melted some of the snow, but left the road still hard with frost, 50 to 100 motor cars will be driven from Duluth to the different range towns by people who have just bought them. Many of these are already ordered.

Business is brisk in all garages of Duluth. In one garage during the past six days sixteen cars have been sold. There is a great deal of inquiry from outside of the city.

M. W. Turner, whose garage and carriage shop is at 218 East First street, reports prospects for the coming season as very bright. He will have a 1913 model Cadillac car in next week, and already has much inquiry for business.

Sales of the leading cars handled in Duluth, made in the state at large last year were as follows: the total being 16,208 out of the grand total of 25,933 sold in the state.

Ford, 5,092; Buick, 1,922; Overland, 1,532; Maxwell, 1,311; E. M. F., 1,295; Geo. 974; Cadillac, 848; Chrysler, 462; Packard, 423; Johnson, 387; Kiesel, 298; Hupp, 287; Daimler, 201; Thomas Flyer, 190; White, 181; Thomas Flyer, 183; H. C. H., 31; Cale, 29; Marmon, 73; Michigan, 68; Lister, 43; Premier, 35; Locomobile, 25; Fiat, 2.

The Interstate Auto company is making extensive improvements to its plant along the line of preparation for the coming year. It is a more systematic way, and reduce the upkeep of cars that are being repaired.

Mr. Farland, superintendent of the mechanical staff, has just finished building a motor car which stands on large casters and is fitted with any type of motor. It is so constructed as to be made to run on a track or on a road, and a machine can just as easily work on the bottom of a motor as on a top. This device will greatly reduce the cost of going over a motor, which is a very common sight on the streets of Duluth.

The United States government has been asked to take an interest in the big automobile tour which the Indiana Automobile Manufacturers' association is planning for the proposed transcontinental motor car road, Col. E. R. Glenn of the Twenty-third regiment at command at Fort Benning, Harrison, Indianapolis, Ind., has called the attention of the war department to the importance of the proposed highway, by requesting permission to send a company of soldiers to the tour, the soldiers to ride in a fleet of five motor trucks as a demonstration of the possibilities of this method of transportation for the army.

SEEKING SUBSTITUTE FOR GASOLINE

Advance in Price of That Oil Causes Experimentation.

The ever-increasing price of gasoline has caused many predictions that unless something was found to replace it many owners of motor cars would have to abandon them. Prices are offered for a successful substitute and many have been experimenting with kerosene.

Among the many companies making experiments with kerosene the chief engineer of the National company, Indianapolis reports successful efforts. William G. Wall has for many months been making exhaustive tests with kerosene and declares he believes it will be only a short time until the majority of automobiles will use kerosene instead of gasoline.

He gives as his reasons the high cost and diminishing supply of gasoline, the greater efficiency, lower cost and abundant supply of kerosene. He says that alcohol is not the logical solution, one reason being that the changes would be necessary in the engines, whereas kerosene can be used without any changes except in the method of supplying the fuel to the engine.

There is a question, Wall affirms, as to the feasibility of starting on kerosene direct and suggests that it may be necessary to use a small amount of gasoline to start with. He says that the electric self-starter will aid greatly in using kerosene instead of gasoline.

line. Wall also says that the disadvantages of kerosene in winter are not so serious as to be easily overcome. In fact he has accomplished this feat in his winter experimenting at the National factor. He says that the elimination of smoke is one feature to be overcome in connection with kerosene and says this is possible by perfect combustion. He also suggests that universal use of kerosene may so reduce the price of gasoline so that an owner may use either in the same engine at will.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD

Moving one's family in, at all times, a disagreeable experience, and when the distance to be traveled is 2,000 miles, it becomes a problem. Judge C. E. Perkins, in deciding to change his residence from Dover, N. H., to Jacksonville, Fla., hit upon the novel idea of transporting his family by auto, thereby eliminating a long, tedious railroad journey.

The party, including Judge and Mrs. Perkins, their son and daughter, left Dover, N. H., Nov. 17, in an American "Underliner" car, arriving in Jacksonville, Fla., twelve days later. No attempt was made for speed so they enjoyed stops at Boston, New York City, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Richmond, Savannah and Jacksonville.

The entire trip was made without a single mishap. The roads in some places were in the worst possible condition, especially after leaving Richmond, Va., where for miles at a stretch the sand was almost flush with the hubs of the car. Other stretches of road were so steep and sloping, that to attempt them in any other than an Underliner car would have been the height of folly. The entire trip was made under ideal weather conditions, only one day's rain preventing a perfect score.

Col. Glenn has completed a list of the estimated cost of the trip, to be submitted to the department. The list shows a probable that his plan of sending the company will meet with approval. Fifty automobiles will start on the cross-country trip on the evening of March 1. The tour is planned to be a real pleasure trip during the trip. They will camp wherever night overtakes them on the way, after leaving Kansas City, sleeping in tents and cooking their own meals. According to Col. Glenn's estimate, the regiment could travel at the rate of about sixty miles a day. Each truck could carry eighteen men with their baggage and equipment, but additional cars would have to be provided to carry the oil, gasoline, tires and extra parts. Col. Glenn contends that if all army posts were provided with trucks every regiment would be able to move within one hour's notice, whereas at present it frequently is considerable delay in waiting for railroad cars.

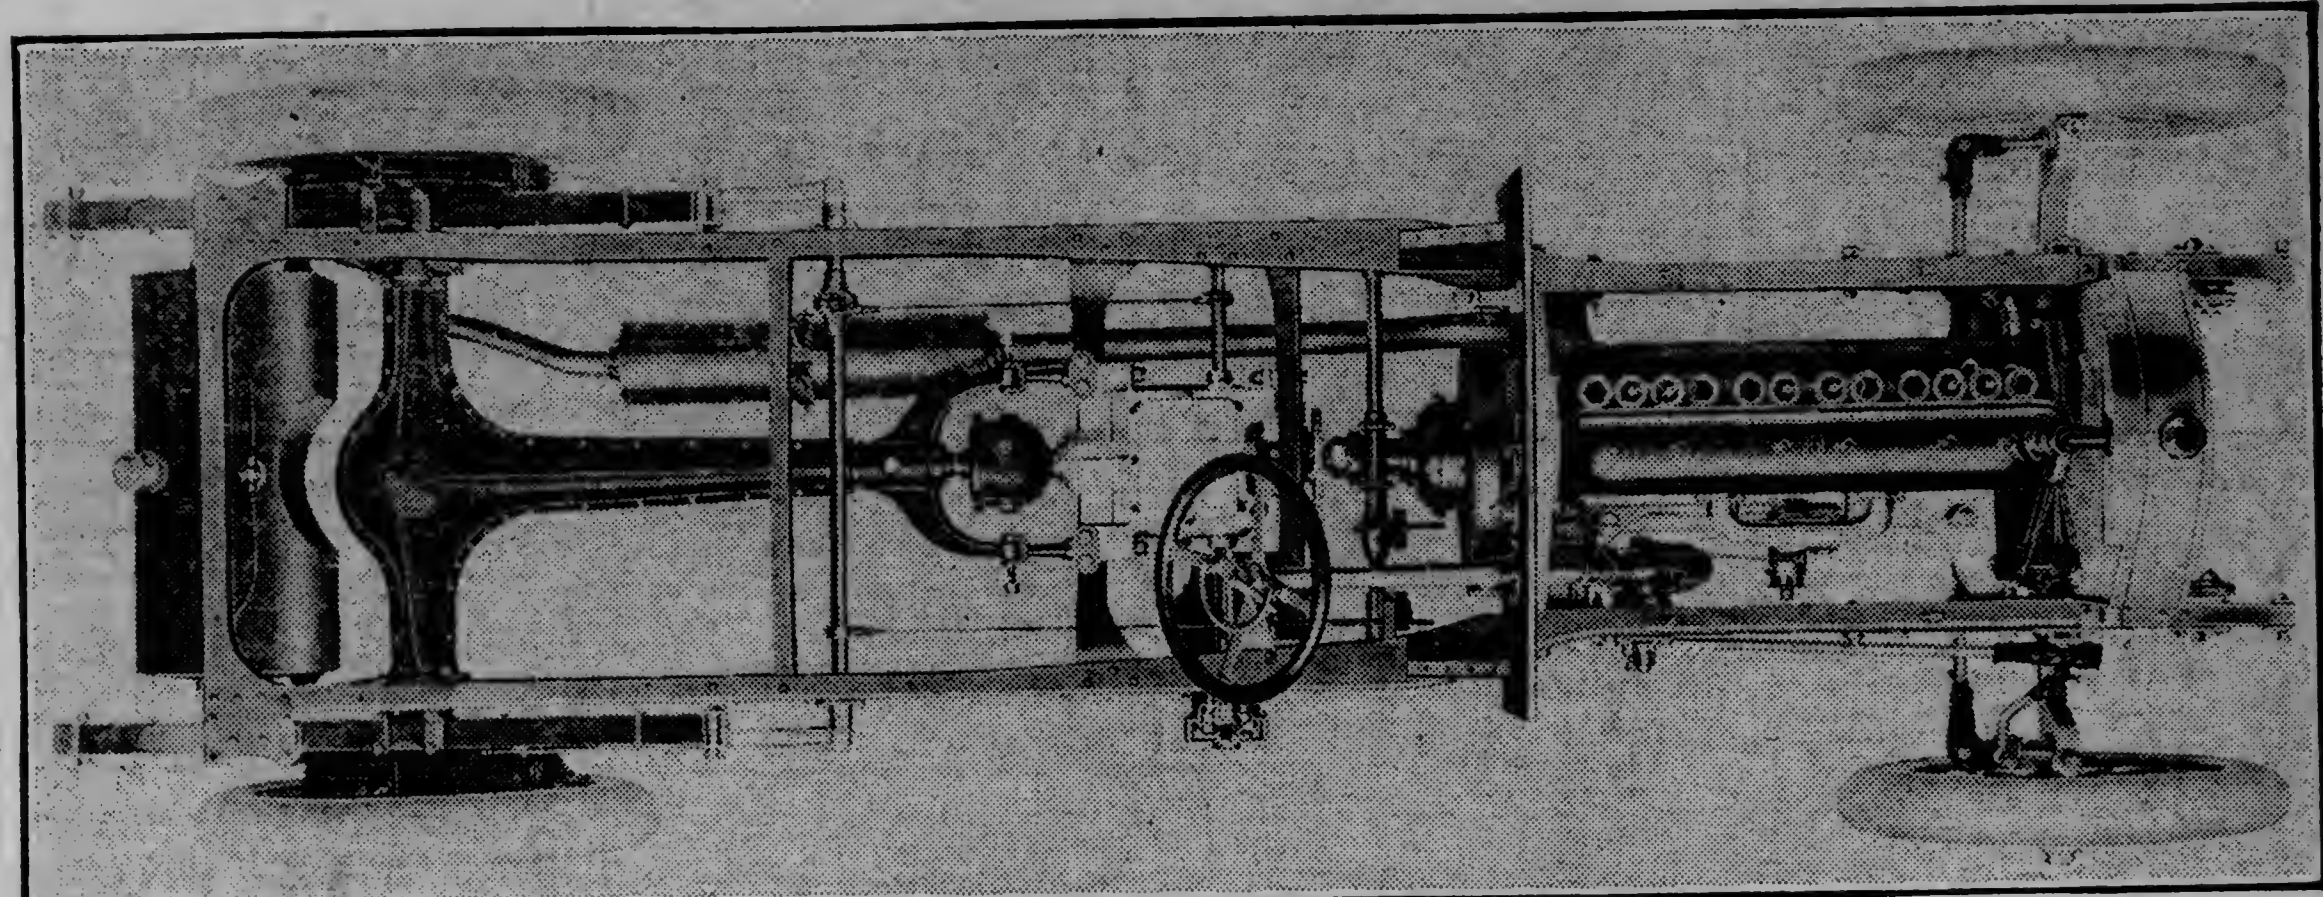

Postmaster General Hitchcock and Washington looked over the five new Kiesel Kar parcel post delivery wagons bought for Uncle Sam's home town and affixed their unstinted O. K. Each of the wagons, which are thirty-horse power vehicles, are painted a brilliant vermilion and bear the inscription, "U. S. Mail-Parcel Post." A Kiesel Kar ambulance just delivered to St. Joseph's hospital of Philadelphia is attracting much comment in the Quaker City. It is finished in national mahogany in the manner of the most luxurious Pullman, and has all possible conveniences, including ice chest, medicine cabinet, medicine cabinet, electric fans, sponge holder, wash basin and rubber-wheeled chair. There are four dome lights and a speaking tube.

The Golden Rule department store of St. Paul, Minn., which is using four 1,500-pound Kiesel Kar motor wagons in its delivery service, has issued a statement which shows that one of its autos is delivering at a cost per package of less than 3 1/2 cents. According to the statement the total cost for one year of the Kiesel Kar in connection with its delivery service is as follows: Lubricating oil, $49.20; tank recharges, $12.00; repairs, $10.00; tires, $10.00; incidental loss or broken, $33.30; tires, $37.48; tire and tube repairs, $91.65;

ST. PAUL BIGAMIST HELD TO GRAND JURY.

St. Paul, Minn., March 1.—Ralph Cook, charged in police court with bigamy, waived examination and was held to the grand jury.

It is charged that Cook went to Hudson, Wis. Dec. 16 last, and went through the marriage ceremony with Miss Grace Plant, although he had married a woman named Anna Hanson on June 27, 1910.

While Cook and his bride were in Kansas City, Mo., on their honeymoon, it is said, Mrs. Julia Plant, mother of the bride, discovered that Cook had been married before and that his first wife still was alive.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

Activities of Other Municipalities, Which Might or Might Not Be Copied in Duluth.

FOLLOWING action by the city council of Battle Creek, Mich., a special committee of aldermen is now busy acquiring 2,500 tons of hard coal to be sold to the people at cost. The idea is to buck an alleged "coal men's trust," which exists, according to investigators. The supreme court decision that a city can't go into a business for profit is sought to be dodged by the fact that there will be no profit and that the act is "in the interests of public health."

The local city government has not tried to sell coal, wood, foods or other products at wholesale. No such agitation has ever acquired any considerable size in Duluth.

with the comedian for a number of years and after "The Ripoff" returns from its tour to the Pacific coast next season, Mr. Atwell will begin rehearsing his new piece.

The dramatic rights of Earl Deer Rigg's story, "The Seven Keys to Baldpate," have been acquired by Colton and Harris. George M. Cohan will make the dramatic version.

In selecting the cast for the production of Ernest Poole's new play, "A Man's Friends," the Lieber company have engaged Katherine Grey to act one of the leading roles.

Arch Selwyn announces that Jane Cowd, who plays Mary Turner, in Bayard's play, "Within the Law," has signed a contract, by the terms of which she will go on tour next season with the same company and will be featured in her present role, appearing in a number of the larger cities.

A year from the coming spring Miss Cowd will come into New York as a star under the management of Mr. Selwyn, making her debut in a comedy which is being written for her by one of the younger playwrights.

Under the direction of William A. Brady, "Bought and Paid," George Broadhurst's famous dr. op. opera, March 3, in London, at the New Theatre. In the cast will be seen Allan Ayresworth, Alexander Carlisle, Alice Crawford, Worldworth Gold and Frank Craven. Recently Mr. Broadhurst, who went to England to direct the rehearsal, was the guest of honor at a banquet in his native town of Wakali.

The first joint appearance of Mr. Sothern and Miss Marlowe as Shakespearian stars began at the Illinois theatre, Chicago, Sept. 19, 1904. The first play presented was "Romeo and Juliet," followed on Sept. 24 by "Much Ado About Nothing." This was Mr. Sothern's first appearance in the city, but Miss Marlowe had appeared in a revival of the comedy with Robert Taylor as Benedick, five years before. In late years "Much Ado About Nothing" has been given many important revivals on the English stage.

Miss Terry's first appearance in the play was in 1863, when she impersonated Hero. Four years later, when her sister Kate had fared to the stage, Miss Terry appeared as Hero. She appeared for the first time as Beatrice, and two years later was the Beatrice to Henry Irving's Benedick, in their famous revival at the Lyceum.

She again appeared as Beatrice in 1902. George Alexander revived the comedy at the St. James theatre in 1890, appearing as Benedick to Julia Neilson's Beatrice. Her husband, Fred Terry, was the Benedick when the comedy was presented at Stratford in 1911. In this country, "Much Ado About Nothing" has had many important revivals. Ada Rehan appeared as Beatrice in Augustin Daly's revival of the comedy. In 1896, after Mr. Daly's death, Miss Rehan again appeared in "Much Ado About Nothing." Otto Skinner was the Claudio of the Booth-Mo-Jeska revival in 1889. In 1880 Mme. Modjeska appeared as Beatrice. Mr. Skinner being the Benedick. Annie Russell lately revived the comedy, appearing as Beatrice at the Theatre.

ing as Beatrice at the Thirty-ninth street theater, New York.

Charles Frohman has secured the dramatic rights of Elizabeth Robins' play, "My Little Sister." In its dramatic form the play will be performed in England and America.

The Lieber company has induced Vincent Sterns to return to the stage. He will act one of the important roles in Ernest Poole's play, "A Man's Friends." Others engaged for the cast are George Pawcett, Katherine Grey and Lily Cahill.

There is reason to believe that James K. Hackett is preparing to produce a play, entitled "Mexico." In the same report the Fulton theatre is mentioned as the local home of the new piece. The author of "Mexico" is Joseph Byron Totten, who has a number of melodramas to his credit.

Willie Ritchie, the lightweight ring champion, is going to rather some of the money which is paid out for vaudeville entertainments. The Sullivan and Considine people are going to send him over their circuit as a headliner and he begins his new vocation in Cincinnati at the Empress next week.

It's now Nora Bayes, Jack Norworth and George Mowbray in "The Sun-Doggers." The show has been coming money since Bayes and Norworth joined it.

George Mack has been engaged by John Cort for one of the important parts in John Philip Sousa's latest comic opera, "The American Maid," the book of which is by Leonard Lieblich. The opera will be given its Broadway presentation the first week in March.

Maudie Fealy is again starring under the management of John Cort, this time in a new play by Clara Louise Burnham, entitled "The Right Princess." Miss Fealy will begin an engagement of one week at the Providence Opera house, Providence, R. I., on Monday night.

Margaret Illington has been establishing new records for boxoffice receipts during the last two weeks in Texas. This is Miss Illington's first tour of the South and Southwest. It is given a more welcome reception anywhere than that accorded Edward J. Bowes' artistic star throughout the entire territory which she has been playing since the first of her tour at Richmond, Va., in Charles Kenyon's play "Kindling."

Louise Gunning, who, since she ended her engagement with "The Balkan Princess," has been ranching in Southern California, has been engaged by John Cort and will be starred in a new operatic production which the latter will present soon in Broadway.

Laureate Taylor will begin the tenth week of her engagement in J. Hartley Manners' delightful comedy, "Pog O' My Heart," at the Cort theatre on Monday night. Oliver Morosoff's newly made star has more than fulfilled the confidence the Western producer placed in her when he decided to make a star of her. The Cort theater has not had a vacant seat at any performance for weeks and the run of the play will certainly not end until late in the summer.

Edward J. Bowes' production of Thompson Buchanan's very cleverly constructed comedy, "The Bridal Path," will begin the second week of its engagement at the Thirty-ninth Street theatre on Monday night with Ann Murdock, Robert Warwick, Lucile Watson, Mrs. Charles Gray, Nan Campbell, Fay Bainter, Florence Short, Felix Krebs, Bernard Fairfax and William H. Sullivan in the cast.

Francis Wilson will begin his first season as a star under John Cort's management on Monday night, when he enters upon an engagement of three nights at Nixon's Apollo theatre, Atlantic City, in his latest comedy, "The Spiritalist."

Oliver Morosoff will produce Paul Armstrong's new drama, "The Escape," at the Grand Opera house, Chicago, on Sunday night, March 2, with Helen Ware in the principal role.

"The Iron Door," Alan Davis' new drama which John Cort produced some few weeks ago and after one week on the road closed the company to reorganize, is now in rehearsal. With Colles Gilles in the principal part, Mr. Gilles created the part when the play was produced by Harry Davis' stock company in Pittsburgh early in the season. It was there that Mr. Cort saw the play and bought it. He will therefore produce it in Chicago in two weeks, probably at the Chicago Opera house, and early next season present it in New York.

Mrs. Leslie Carter's revival of "Zaza," in which she is appearing under John Cort's management, is attracting large audiences on the road. Mrs. Carter has begun a tour that will extend to the Pacific coast and through the Canadian Northwest. Besides "Zaza," Mrs. Carter will present "Camille," "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," and probably another play. Her present tour will not end until the middle of August.

Chapline, the little French prima donna, having ended her engagement for the season under John Cort's management, is now rehearsing a new comedy with several new stars. "Nobody's Darling," which has been translated from the French by Alexander, and in which she will be starred under the direction of Paul Benedek, beginning her tour in two weeks.

WORRYING ALREADY.
It was to be expected that a certain class of the press would begin, even before the beginning of the Democratic administration, to worry about the platform pledges of the party that was successful in the last election. But to see a newspaper of the standing of the Minneapolis Journal fall into the ranks of the cavers is discouraging.

And it is the most discouraging because the Journal is not paying attention to the vital points in the platform, the planks that determined the voters in their choice of a president and congress, but is picking out the things to which the voters paid the least attention, or is seeking to interpret the Baltimore declarations according to its own ideas.

The Journal raises a wail of horror because the Democrats now in the house at Washington declined to favor a single term for the president, and because these same members are refusing to authorize enormous expenditures for new battleships. It cites the platform declaration in favor of a "balanced" navy, and would have us believe that to be balanced the navy must be made a wastepiece for millions of dollars. But if more millions were poured into this wastepiece, would not the Journal, in the light of its present tendency toward complaint, be among the first to raise the cry of extravagance?

As to the presidential term, that limitation idea was foolish from the start, and its development in the senate was so clearly and undeniably a result of personal antagonism that the wisest thing the house could do was to refuse even to consider it. As the St. Paul Dispatch says, "If a president's first term had been such as to make the people want him for a second term, the people should have the right to re-elect him." The question as it now stands "takes care of itself," the Dispatch says, and "the wise and sensible thing seems to be to leave the fate of all presidents in the hands of the American voters."

There may be occasion to find fault with the incoming administration after it is in. But it is no part of justice or even fairness to begin to pick flaws in advance, especially when the picking of flaws necessitates enlarging on points of secondary interest and importance. The Journal is worrying too soon to have its worries accepted in good faith.

Sometimes even the less skeptical among us get to wondering if there is anything more than illiteration in that stuff about in-like-a-lion-and-out-like-a-lamb.

A STATE INCOME TAX.
Sections of the state press are protesting against the levying of a state income tax. The burden of their objection is that the people are already being taxed enough by the state, and that any further step in that line will be only the imposition of an injustice.

The argument is foolish, inasmuch as the income tax is proposed to take the place of the present senseless and unjust personal property tax. Surely no sane person, looking at the question from the standpoint of fair play, can object to that.

If there were any doubt as to the injustice of the present personal property tax, it would be removed by a half hour's canvass among the people of any given community, with the question as to what personal taxes are paid by the different individuals. Under the present system the man with an income of less than $2,000 and with a family to support is made to pay as much, and sometimes more than twice as much as the man with a much larger income and no family. No allowance is made for the family. It is all a question of the individual judgment of the assessor who happens to have charge of the assessment district in which the citizen lives.

Under the income tax plan, the man with a family to support is given immunity from taxation to the extent of $200 of income for each child under a self-supporting age, or for each dependent person. And the graduation of the tax is arranged so as to put the heaviest burden on those least able to bear it, instead of on those least able, as is done at present.

There should be no opposition to the income tax. It operates in favor of the workingman and the man on salary, and these constitute the vast majority of our population. It is charged that the income tax in Wisconsin, after which the Minnesota plan was modeled, has driven industries from that state, but this charge has been specifically denied, and the burden of proof is on those who make it. The income tax is the fairest means of distribution of the burdens of government expense that has yet been evolved. Let us have it in Minnesota, by all means.

Of course it is more or less inconvenient to have to throw out the pipes, but just stop and think of the fun there used to be in throwing out the pump in the back yard.

THE TARIFF AND LABOR.
During the tariff hearings conducted recently at Washington, some of the standpat press of the country saw and improved an opportunity to raise once more the cry that the proposed reductions in schedules would prove to be serious blows to the interests of labor in this country.

The complaint is as old as the history of privilege itself, but it is always made, and with varying success. In the election last fall the workingmen showed that they were beginning to understand the truth a little better than formerly. But it has remained for the Massachusetts state board of conciliation and arbitration to put the finishing touch on the exposure of the fraud in the "labor defense" cry of the high tariff interests. Remembering that other articles concerned with the clothing of the people is among the most nearly prohibitive of any imposed—that these are the special privilege interests that are given the most protection under the tariff system—glance at the following figures, given out by the Massachusetts officials, and see how wonderfully this high tariff has benefited the working people:

Thousands of girl garment workers in Boston were paid $3 a week. A woman machine operator, who would have received $9 a week on full time, averaged between $3 and $4. A man classed as a skilled vest maker worked twelve hours a day for $11 a week.

Another man employed on piece work made $8.50 a week during the busy season; the rest of the year his pay ranged from $3 to $4; and on this he was trying to support a wife and seven children.

Think that over, you laboring men who are tempted to listen to the old story about the high tariff being a benefit to the working man. It is at the same time figure out why it is that you have to pay more for your own and our families' clothing today than you ever did before. And remember these things the next time you are told that the tariff is a benefit to you and yours.

Just think of all we've got to learn about certain men and their policies in the next thirty days!

IT IS UP TO THE MERCHANTS.

man who does let them know what he has.

The whole secret of the former success of the mail order house has been in the fact that it advertised. The whole secret of the future success of the retailer, big or little, lies in the proposition of advertising. And in this the small retailer has every advantage over the catalogue house.

The mail order concern must first advertise its catalogue. Then it must send the catalogue. But what if the catalogue gets lost, as it often does? Another must be sent for by the would-be purchaser, and this means delay, or perhaps the new one may never be asked for.

With the retailer it is different. He has ready to hand, in the shape of the local newspaper, an advertising medium through which he can get into the homes of all the people in his territory at least once a week, and if one of his advertisements is lost or destroyed, he has the privilege and the opportunity of sending another one to the same place with the next edition of the paper. The catalogue house can speak but once—the retailer dealer can speak repeatedly, and more than that he can show the goods themselves to a majority of those who are interested in them.

Don't get scared, Mr. Merchant, at this mail order house bogey. You can beat it, if you want to. Of course, if you don't want to, if you prefer to lie down and whine like a terrified puppy, you have that privilege. But you can win the game if you really mean business and try. It is up to you, and to you only.

The next job for the statistical maniac will be to figure the number of insane fourths that could be celebrated with the powder used up in Turkey and Mexico.

GOOD FOR MRS. WILSON!
It appears that the president-elect has no monopoly on the "Jeffersonian simplicity" idea in the Wilson family. The evidence is found in the frenzied outcry of the modistes against Mrs. Wilson's declaration that the White House is to be limited in expense to $1,000.

According to the arbiters of fashion in the national capital, the very least that a president's wife should spend on her wardrobe is $6,000, and they say she really ought to go beyond that figure. Mrs. Wilson thinks otherwise, and the people at large will honor her for the stand she has taken. It stamps Mrs. Wilson as a woman of common sense, who does not believe that because she is to be the "first lady of the land" she is thereby under the necessity of spending more on her personal wardrobe than a majority of the people who elected her husband to the presidency are able to earn in a year.

But if Mrs. Wilson thinks that by holding her wardrobe expenses down to the $1,000 limit she is going to escape publicity as to the character of that wardrobe, she is mistaken. However much general interest there might be among the women of the country in the number of silk hose and other finery the president's wife may possess, there will be infinitely more in the number and texture of the articles that go to make up this kind of an outfit.

But Mrs. Wilson has come to be known as a sensible woman, and this kind of publicity, if it bears out the statements of the outraged modistes, will only serve to confirm that opinion of her in the minds of a majority of the American people. As to the modistes, they evidently are to learn something of their real lack of importance and power, and the lesson will do them good.

Mexico is doing her best to revise our language. She is substituting revolution for evolution, and seems bent on development of the doctrine of survival of the fittest.

A JOKE WORTH RECORDING.
It was a great joke on the authors of the non-partisan county officers bill—that race of its opponents of amending it so as to make it include the members of the legislature. Of course the amendment was tacked on to insure the defeat of the whole thing in the senate. And then the joke was reversed, when the amendment and the bill were both passed by the senate.

Now it is up to the house to say whether it will agree with the jokers on both sides of the senate chamber, and pass the bill with the legislative annex attached. Of course the house may refuse to do that. And then again, it may not so refuse.

When you come to think of it, why shouldn't the legislators be elected on a non-partisan basis? What is there about party lines that makes them necessary in state legislation? Not a solitary thing, as party lines run in this country. A man's opinions on tariff and battleships and the Mexican situation have no conceivable bearing on state questions, so why consider those opinions in determining his fitness for the legislature?

Frankly, there doesn't seem to be any reason at all for such consideration. And just as clearly, the non-partisan ballot would be a distinct gain in many ways in our legislative choices. It would at least make a man stand on his own feet before the people instead of being able to invoke a certain amount of support on the ground of a prejudiced partisanship. There might have been reason for party choice to the legislature when the legislators chose the United States senators, but they don't even do that any more. So why not keep the senate joke alive and put it in the state records as a law? At least, the proposition has some attractive features.

And now the menagerie men are complaining about the high cost of living things. Next?

A BELATED VICTORY.
In the passage by congress of the bill providing for physical valuation of railroad properties, there is an indisputable victory for Senator La Follette of Wisconsin.

It is many years since the now senior senator from the Badger state first made his plea in the national congress for legislation of that character. Then his scheme was regarded as chimerical and impossible. But the more the people and the government learned about the management, and especially the financing, of our American railroads, the more it became apparent that only by some such means as this could any just basis be found for determining the proper earning capacity of the carriers. And now the plan once scouted as unfeasible and indefensible has been approved in the halls of the national legislature.

It is a belated victory for the Wisconsin man, but it is a victory, nevertheless. It may not show the beginning of a return to popular favor for the senator. The incidents that marked the Chicago convention of last June left a mark in the minds of the people that cannot so soon be eradicated. But the success of one of the principal projects for which he formerly fought so valiantly is certain to gain a hearing for some of the others. In the mean time it is not likely to be forgotten that the physical valuation proposition was an important part of the La Follette agenda, and he will get his due share of recognition for the work he did.

If the Mexicans stick to their apparent intention to kill off all the Madro family one at a time, there is a long and bloody record yet to be written.

THE PARCEL POST HAS "CAUGHT ON."
That the parcel post, so long sought and so long denied to the American people, had "caught on" became evident in the first month of its operation. It was seized upon by the people everywhere as a welcome relief from the oppression that had been practised by the express companies. The postmaster general, who had finally consented to introduce the system if congress would let him, acknowledged that the result of the innovation was a surprise in the quantity of business handled, and at once began to consider the possibility of extending the service.

All this was exceedingly gratifying to the men who had fought so long to get the parcel post, but even more gratifying is the official recognition of the fact that the service has "caught on," as contained in the two new orders just issued regarding the operation of the parcel system. The first of these is to take effect at once, and provides that special delivery service shall be given when the regular special delivery fee is paid. This means that the parcel post will be made more effective for the small merchants, for they will be able to secure ordered goods much more quickly than has been possible in the past.

The second order is that, beginning in July, it will be possible to send packages c. o. d. by the parcel post, a method of transmission that heretofore has been conceded only by the express companies.

It is becoming more and more apparent that the parcel post is here to stay. In view of this certainty, it is to be hoped that the postoffice department will soon see its way clear to take another step toward stripping the service of inconveniences by allowing the use of ordinary postage stamps on parcels. When this is done a big advance will have been made toward the perfection of one of the best innovations ever accomplished by the department.

A woman never realizes how her husband feels on a shopping expedition until she has gone with him to a cigar store while he lays in a fresh supply of "weeds."

GARDEN PLANS.
If you are an enthusiastic gardener you already have your little plot of ground all planned for the coming summer. Under every snowdrift in the back yard you can see in your mind's eye the green things growing up out of the earth and you can already taste (in imagination) the fine, fresh products of your garden that will appear on the table later in the year.

While you are laying those plans and picturing that garden, just take down the old catalogue of your personal garden and look into that for a little while. If you have forgotten what the things there are, you will find them in Louisa M. Alcott's story of "Jo's Boys." Remember Mrs. Baer's little garden plots in which she helped the boys and girls plant the tiny seeds of kindness, generosity, thought for others, determination, and all the rest? It was a pretty idea. If you have forgotten all about it, you will find real pleasure in looking it up and reading it again.

Don't forget to cultivate a little of that kind of ground for yourself. Your character is just as intense with life as any bit of ground in your yard. If you don't put things in there to grow that are worth raising, the weeds will fill it up. And weeds are a bad thing, whether in the ground or in the daily life.

In keeping with an ancient custom in all the states, it will soon be time to name new babies T. Woodrow.

Inasmuch as conviction on a charge of felony automatically deprives one of the right to vote, it is hard to see how the women who are after the ballot can expect to gain anything by running the risk of such convictions.

THE OPEN COURT
(Readers of the Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences are excluded. Letters must not exceed 200 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, who will be held responsible. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

MIXING FACE PAINT AND BUSINESS.

To the Editor of The Herald: I have been rather amused at the articles appearing in some newspapers lately regarding women working. I am a working girl and my experience in the business world covers many years. There always is a good position and a good salary for the girl who is efficient and really wants to work, be she married or single. It is making your own way while that pays the way for a successful business career. There are unlimited possibilities for the working girl in Duluth who puts aside the powder puff and the pocket mirror and demands the use of cheap face paint, who realizes there is something more in life than a "pony" coat, and who, through here from Duluth is the main line, and has always been so, yet the Twin Cities have been given the advantage of facilities of terminals. F. A. Patrick, one of the leading manufacturers and merchants of the Zenith City, at a banquet tendered Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific, asked that one of the five trains from Duluth to the coast be started from Duluth and advertised as the other trains are. A monster petition with thousands of signatures is being sent to the railroad to emphasize this request, and we venture the prediction that what our neighbors have set their hearts upon they will surely get. This summer will see a through train to the coast run through Duluth.

Looking for a Scrap.
Fergus Falls Journal: Duluth is having a big row with the Northern Pacific railway over certain terminal properties. Duluth is also demanding coast trains direct from Duluth to the Pacific coast, and also that the line be changed in the Twin Cities so that by way of Duluth, with a stop-over privilege in that city, if Duluth and the Twin Cities but be put into a big enough row, the balance of the state may be able to slip in and get a few concessions while the fight is in progress.

Why Own and Read Books?
Lillian Whiting in the Philadelphia North American: The words written by Mrs. Elizabeth Barrett Browning, "The world is still the world," are so absolutely interpreted in life and literature that they can only be regarded as a series of formed of cause and effect. Each reacts upon the other with determining influence, and the book that one owns, the book that he can dip into at any moment, rather than the one that must return to the library within the regulation two weeks, is the book whose words are some magic of spiritual alchemy, transmuted into the qualities that build up character. These qualities, in turn, determine the further choice of books, so that selection and result perpetuate themselves.

If a man's life is simply the outward expression of his quality of thought, refined and enlarged and elevated, as it inevitably is, the devotion to the study of literature, then it is obvious that his power of achievement is conditioned by his reading to an incalculable extent. There has been a nebulous and a most pernicious idea that good books are some way formidable, and that to the higher order of literature is something of a test of mental endurance, for cause and effect. Each reacts upon the other with determining influence, and the book that one owns, the book that he can dip into at any moment, rather than the one that must return to the library within the regulation two weeks, is the book whose words are some magic of spiritual alchemy, transmuted into the qualities that build up character. These qualities, in turn, determine the further choice of books, so that selection and result perpetuate themselves.

Stupidity in books might well be relegated to a place among the seven deadly sins of Dante. Of course, it is not inconceivable that the dullness might lie in the reader rather than in the book, for the appreciative capacity to enjoy good literature is one dependent upon culture and development. "Books make us the heirs of the spiritual life of past ages," said Dr. Channing. "None of us knows what fairly palaces we may build of beautiful thought, proof against all adversity," said Ruskin. A book is a companion.

Little Lamp.
Cheerful is the heart, soft the matted floor. The little lamp burns straight, its rays shoot strong and far; I train it well, to be the wanderer's guide star.

Burn, then, little lamp; glimmer straight and clear— Hush! a rustling wing stirs, methinks, the air; He for whom I wait, thus ever comes to me; Strange Power! I trust thy might; trust thou my coming heralds the night. —Emily Bronte.

School Savings.
School savings banks in 1,149 schools throughout the United States have now nearly $1,000,000 on deposit.

Duluth and The Herald
Bonquets and Brickbats from the State Press.

Some Arguments.
Fergus Falls Journal: Duluth is after the fourth hospital for the insane, which there is some talk of establishing next year. The argument used is that Duluth furnishes more crazy people than any other part of the state, and the hospital, if located there, would have the raw material right at hand.

Good Advice.
Wheaton Reporter: In an editorial discussing parcel post the Duluth Herald incidentally gives the country merchant some good advice how to neutralize any possible bad effects the parcel post may have upon his business.

Hard on the Schools.
Mankato Free Press: Raymond Rindan, superintendent of Interlaken school at Rolling Prairie, Ind., told the Northeastern Minnesota Educational association, in session in Duluth last week, that the present public school system produced "educated bums." In the discussion of the subject, Rindan said that the cause of crime—now are they the prevention. Let us look to the public schools. That is a terrible statement, which will have charge of the room, and the chef will be Gottard Trabattion, formerly connected with the Chicago Auditorium. G. H. Appel will look after the barber shop, and Johnny Lanigan will be in charge of the buffet.

The Funster at Work.
Cokato Enterprise: "Suffragettes on Second Lap" reads a Duluth Herald headline of a week ago, relating to the hike to Washington. Hope the "long tramp" also referred to is not the answer to "I Wonder Who's Holding Her Now."

Is Bathing Peculiar?
Virginia Virginian: A Duluth woman took a bath recently and now she is suing the plumber for $6,000. Duluth people sure do put up peculiar capers.

Duluth's Position.
Brown's Valley Tribune: Duluth should not be classed with St. Paul and Minneapolis in the matter of opposition to distant tariff. We know that many of the foremost citizens of Duluth are in favor of distant tariff. In many ways Duluth is much more discriminated against in favor of the Twin Cities, and Duluth has something to gain and nothing to lose by a square deal all around in the matter of freight rates.

A Hopeful Prophet.
Aitkin Independent Age: The people of Duluth, having long suffered in silence, suddenly roused out of their lethargy and are making an insistent demand on the Northern Pacific Railway company for a through train to the coast. This is still the line through here from Duluth is the main line, and has always been so, yet the Twin Cities have been given the advantage of facilities of terminals. F. A. Patrick, one of the leading manufacturers and merchants of the Zenith City, at a banquet tendered Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific, asked that one of the five trains from Duluth to the coast be started from Duluth and advertised as the other trains are. The bill legalizing the contract which the West Duluth Water company holds with the village of West Duluth was passed by the state senate, and Mayor d'Astremont was angry today, denouncing the contract as a rank steal and the bill legalizing it a cunningly concealed piece of special legislation of the most mischievous and unwarranted. He has telegraphed to Governor Nelson asking him not to sign the bill until a Duluth delegation can confer with him. The contract held with West Duluth by the company, which is controlled by ex-Governor W. R. Merriam, costs that village of 6,000 people about $17,000 a year. West Duluth became part of the city next year, and the mayor thinks that the taxpayers of Duluth should not have such an iniquitous contract saddled on them in addition to their other burdens.

Butcher & Michael will open the St. Louis hotel this evening for the first time since the destruction of the original St. Louis by fire on Jan. 13. The new house was formerly known as the Brighton, and it has been completely renovated. SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

The Spur of the Occasion.

Thousands of young men the world over are serenely awaiting it. They imagine they can go in and win when the big hour comes. If they were once really put to it they could square up to all requirements.

To any indulging so pleasing a confidence the words of James Gardfield are full of suggestion. "Young gentlemen," he once said, "occasions must make spurs. If you expect to wear spurs you must win them. You must use them when you must buckle them to your own heels before you go into the fight."

In truth, occasions may reveal nothing save our incompetency and weakness. They may simply furnish the stage on which as ill-prepared actors we stumble and falter. By no magic whatsoever can an occasion transmute incapacity into power and resource. Examining a spectacular success we find its long roots in the past. The great occasion had been patiently prepared for. The evening before the great occasion had been patiently prepared for. The evening before the great occasion had been patiently prepared for. The evening before the great occasion had been patiently prepared for.

At a football game between our two greatest universities one of the players kicked a sensational goal from the line. The stands rang with acclaim at his wonderful feat. Few of the spectators could know that for the whole previous season the young man had practiced with the ball, learning to put it true from all positions and under all sorts of conditions.

Gossip, Comment and Sporting Editorial Review as Written By Bruce.

RIDING down the current week sport mavericks and throwing the lasso of kindly mention over the horns of some of the large number of hold-overs bravely holding the financial fort against the well armed magnates. In speaking of the term is used in the fortification sense of baseball authority; for, Billy, when it comes to cold cases the player has much show against the modern manager of baseball as a tallow candle with a piece of asbestos in the lower regions.

Tyrus Raymond Cobb is one of the illustrious band; in fact, he is the most illustrious. Tyrus, tyrannical and tedious at times with his effusions, is never the less to baseball what the kind character of the melancholy Dane is to Hamlet, a fairly good play that was written by a chap named Shakespeare.

Ty is holding fast to the more modern line, and aligned with the Georgia Peach are such notable performers as Sam Crawford, old Wahoo Sam, the whilom barber, Miller, the great infidel of the brigand crew of Pittsburgh Pirates, Hendrix of the same team, Konetchy of St. Louis, Marquard, and many others quite too numerous to mention here.

There is one recourse for the baseball player; if he is so great a draw-ling card that he makes the dear dollars to cause the turnstiles to resemble the regular tick of a Waterbury on sunny afternoons, he may buy the protesting president of a club into granting his demands.

Cobb is almost indispensable to Detroit, while down St. Louis way they regard Edward Konetchy as the peer of Hal Chase, Stuffy McInnes or Jack Daubert. The absence of Cobb and the great Edward from the lineup of the Detroit and St. Louis teams would cause odium to be heaped with liberal supply and picturesque language upon the heads of the owners of these two clubs.

Perhaps before the opening of the season most of the troubles of the proud players will be amicably adjusted. A ball player, the same as any other human being, can't give his best services when he thinks he isn't getting what he is worth. Perhaps Cobb and others are asking for more—no base ball player has ever been accused of asking for more than he thinks he can earn—with the idea that the compromise will leave him a margin over the little old last year's stipend.

N rounding up the happenings of the current week in the big sport show, one is duty bound to pause and pass mention upon this giant Constant LeMarin, the French giant of some 240 pounds of bone and muscle, who flattened the great Zbyszko and gained a fall on the Polish wrestler, who is without dispute one of the greatest grapplers in the world.

LeMarin first attracted the attention of followers of the mat game, when he beat another giant, Cazen, at Montreal. This victory was followed by others over some of the best wrestlers in the country. Then came the defi to Zbyszko and the result that has startled the sport world and caused the devotees of the game to acclaim the new star as one of the greatest in the game.

Fans here are going to have the opportunity of judging personally of the work of this new sensation; but from the many accounts of the contests with Zbyszko, LeMarin must be credited with marvelous strength. He slammed Zbyszko around the mat at Chicago and crushed the huge bulk of the Pole to the mat with a strength that inspired some of the Chicago sporting writers to declare the French giant the most powerful athlete in existence.

LeMarin is truly the wrestler of the hour, and his going against Westergaard should furnish Duluth with about the best heavyweight encounter it has witnessed for many moons.

HOCKEY came in the calicum of local interest during the present week. Duluth has shown the fans one of the best teams in the whole large field of amateur hockey, and this too with the game on pure probation here. From the start of the season there has been a steady and consistent improvement in the play of the Linderites. Individual effort has been forgotten in the smooth and well oiled team play of the curling club seven.

All of us are saying that next year the team will be a wonder. One can point with justifiable pride to the accomplishment of the past and present week, and thus watching the purr of appreciation, it is apropos to tick the keys a little anent the baseball situation that looms large in the interest of local events.

IN stroking the backs of the sport events of the present week, and thus watching the purr of appreciation, it is apropos to tick the keys a little anent the baseball situation that looms large in the interest of local events.

With tomorrow's meeting of the magnates of the league, which may be called the Sec-Eye and which also may be called the Northern, some more definite line on the grouping of the present season may be gathered.

It looks like the best baseball in the history of Duluth. Reports from around the circuit brings news of the signing of players by the various teams. It is generally believed that the brand of the delightful diamond pastime is to be faster than the general average of yore, which is cause sufficient to bring joy to the hearts of the rabid ones.

Duluth really should come into its own this year. The baseball menu will probably be the most palatable of the year, and added to this will be the fact that we are going to be in the same league with St. Paul and Minneapolis. With Cantillon placing a strong team in the field, which he has promised President Blume and some of the other magnates to do, it will of the general line, the rest of the managers to have the fastest teams that we have seen in these parts for many years.

Baseball is a grand old game, not pretending to be original in the least, and we hope, Bill, that the prospective of promise passes the wire with its present speed at the first quarter, for even we are due for diamond doings of high importance.

PORT ARTHUR DEFEATS DULUTH IN FAST AND THRILLING CONTEST

Fast Canadian Hockey Team Shows Reversal of Form in Final Game--- Visitors Nip Linderites Near Call of Time, Nosing Out By 5 to 4 Score.

(By Bruce.)
Amid the din of shouts, the deep rippling huzzahs that leaped forth from throngs already husky from yelling, amid this fanfare of noises, Art Wellington, the greatest center of the Port Arthur hockey team shot the deciding net in just twenty-three minutes after the start of play in the second half of the contest of last evening, thereby causing the defeat of the Duluth seven by the score of 5 to 4.

One searches back through the vocabulary for adjectives to do the occasion justice. Taking your eye off the contest for a brief moment and slanting it down the long and high rows of seats, a vista of waving arms, wildly gesticulating men, yes, and women, and some human beings that went through paroxysms of enthusiasm, greeted the gaze.

All through the first half, which ended 3 to 2 in favor of the invaders, the slumbering fire of enthusiasm was being worked up. Far down in a corner of the huge rink the megaphone brigade was industriously manufacturing noise.

But when things started to happen in the second period of play the megaphones, zealous in their efforts to create din and demon noise, were completely drowned by the volume of roaring sound from 2,000 throats.

Score Evened.
And so a few minutes passed and the score was even, four up. Grave ladies let loose shouts that would never be recognized at home, dear, and then looked confused and shyly peered around to discover whether anyone in the immediate neighborhood was shocked. Nobody was. Everybody was doing it. It was a moment heavy with possibilities, and while the men of the two teams sped over the ice, checking, going into the boards with reckless abandon and striving with desperate earnestness and grim determination for the winning score, business men whacked by the way, until the ice flew up and hit poor Ryan.

The play was desperate at times during the efforts of both teams to struggle into the lead. Ryan did a loop the loop through the air and landed his head on the ice, but he came back and resumed the frantic little race.

The absence of "Doc" Tamblin. One realizes how this quiet star is missed when it comes to the regretted task of playing without him. Greener played the defense, putting up a sterling exhibition, but his great offensive play was what was needed, and playing at overpoint the bank had small opportunity to figure in the work of shooting goals.

Wilson and Wellington proved the Waterloo for Duluth, this chap Wellington played a part somewhat similar to the illustrious center of another Wellington. The star center of the Port Arthur team scored four of the five goals registered by the Canadians and gave an exhibition of lightning-like shooting that opened the eyes of the home devotees of the game.

Speediest Skaters.
The two wings of the visitors, Ritchie and Ryan, showed some great playing, but Rover Wilson showed some of the prettiest skating of the season and time and time again carried the puck in sensational rushes down the ice. The visitors clearly outskated the home crowd, the Cousins exhibiting the greatest speed of any team that has visited here the present season.

Fenton played a remarkable game for Duluth and so did little Barkell. It is difficult to pick stars, and perhaps it isn't fair. It was not because Duluth put up a poor game that it was beaten, rather it was because the visitors did some high class scintillating of their own.

Penalties fell from the ruthless ruling of McCrear in the second half like brown autumnal leaves from the classic withered oak. At one time he had three of the Duluth men draped along the fence, and it seemed to the anxious and furored browed follower of the fortunes of the home defenders that there was someone from the local seven on the perch during the entire second period of play.

In just five following moments, after some great puck carrying by Rover Ritchie and the two opposing wings, Ritchie made a swift and accurate shot to Wellington and the latter made the second score of the game, the shot being as swift as the wings of the morning.

One minute of huge excitement in which was crowded some great old playing and then Jack Mahan got the puck at a slight angle to the goal in scrimmage and whiled it through the net. Wellington came back on one of the neat combination plays of the visitors, in which the center is used as the principal shooter at net, and scored the third goal of the period. Mahan scored for us just before the close of the half, whipping her in from a live-ly scrimmage in which little Barkell played a ubiquitous role.

Just two minutes after the resumption of play the ed-like Barkell copped a score from in front of the goal and the crowd leaped forth on its collective feet and emitted a roar that battled with the steel gliders above for pass out checks.

Wellington Again.
But the ever scoring Wellington placed a damper on the riotous enthusiasm of the home people by shooting another goal at the end of fifteen minutes of play. Jimmy Owens shot one two minutes later and the old game was tied up again.

With but two precious moments remaining of the second half this Wellington chap wrote disaster over the face of the whole thing by going down wings and revealing the puck by a clever and lightning pass just in front of the goal, shot it in with a speed that would not permit of blocking.

To the credit of the sporting spirit of Duluthians let it be said that when the call of time two minutes later brought the great game to an end, that the Canadians were roundly cheered.

The lineup:
Duluth—Fenton, Greener, Barkell, Mahan, Wilson, Olson, Ryan, Greener, Deetz, judge of play, MacIntosh, goal umpires, Young and Keel, timekeepers, Swenson and Penfold.

Penalties, Mahan, 2 minutes; Wilson, 2 minutes; Murray, 2 minutes; Linder, 2 minutes; Olson, 2 minutes; Barkell, 1 minute; Greener, 2 minutes; Mahan, 2 minutes; Wellington, 2 minutes.

Wins Five-Mile Run.
Chicago, March 1.—Garnett Wikoff, Chicago Athletic association, took the five-mile run in the Central A. A. U. championships here last night, making the distance in 24:46 4-5. Wikoff, a former intercollegiate champion, won the event with half a lap to spare, finishing strong. Joe Ray, I. A. C. was second. The preliminaries leave a fast field for final honors tonight.

BAD YEAR FOR GOPHER FIVE

Disastrous Basket Ball Season Will End With Purdue Game.

Interest Taken in Inter-Fraternity Games at Minnesota University.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two more games remain to be played by the Minnesota basketball team. The season has been the most disastrous one that a Minnesota team has passed through in years. Even in years in which the material was not promising at the beginning of the season, "Doc" Cooke has been able to develop winning teams which were real contenders for championship honors, but too many things went against "Doc" this year. The coach had his green men going along fine until fate handed him a jolt by his two guards receiving injuries which put them out of the lineup for a while.

A shift was made in the lineup for the Wisconsin game, and the reorganized team played with such "pep" that they held the unbeaten Wisconsin team to a close score in the first half. The heavy Wisconsin men wore out the Minnesota men in the second half and won by a large score. "Doc" Lawler was shifted to forward in this game and held the towering Johnson to one basket. The forward is a very large man and in every game scored all the baskets for Wisconsin while Lawler is only five feet, five, and weighs 130 pounds. Chaucer Smith of Superior, who used to play on the Blaine team, played his first big game for Minnesota, and though owned up to, Minnesota will win both games.

Dancing Ban Unpopular.
The action of the athletic board of control in prohibiting dancing after the basketball games has met with such disapproval by the students that most of them have declared they will not go to the games and admit that the dancing is as much of an attraction as the game. At the Illinois game there was a very thin attendance and as a result a large deficit in the expenses was incurred, this never before. Very few tickets have been sold for the coming games, but the board refuses to reconsider its action. The students insist that there was nothing objectionable about the dancing and the boycott is still on.

In order to have the members of the basketball team together as much as possible, and to promote a spirit of fellowship and intimate co-operation among them, the members of the team and coaches have been entertained before the games by the fraternities. It has served to make the students acquainted with the players and show that they are being supported. Beta Theta Pi, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Kappa Psi have all thrown their houses open to the team on the day of the games.

First Games.
Great interest has been manifested over the games in the inter-fraternity basketball competition. Since the final contests have been so close, the large crowds turn out to see the Greek meet Greeks. For excitement and scrappy playing and close scores, these games have far outdone the varsity games. The members of the teams are composed of varsity men on ineligible status, some are former players who have been dropped from the team. Alpha Delta Phi, Phi Gamma Delta defeated Sigma Chi and Sigma Epsilon in the semi-finals and Phi Gamma Delta defeated Sigma Chi and Sigma Epsilon in the final game. Phi Gamma Delta won the championship by a score of 4 to 3. The Phi Gamma Delta team has won the championship for the first time in three years.

Winter Football Practice.
Winter practice of the football team has been resumed by Dr. Williams. He has a large squad out in the Army and a couple of times a week. There is some promising material in the bunch and a fine team is looked for next year. The beginning of another cycle of three successful years is expected.

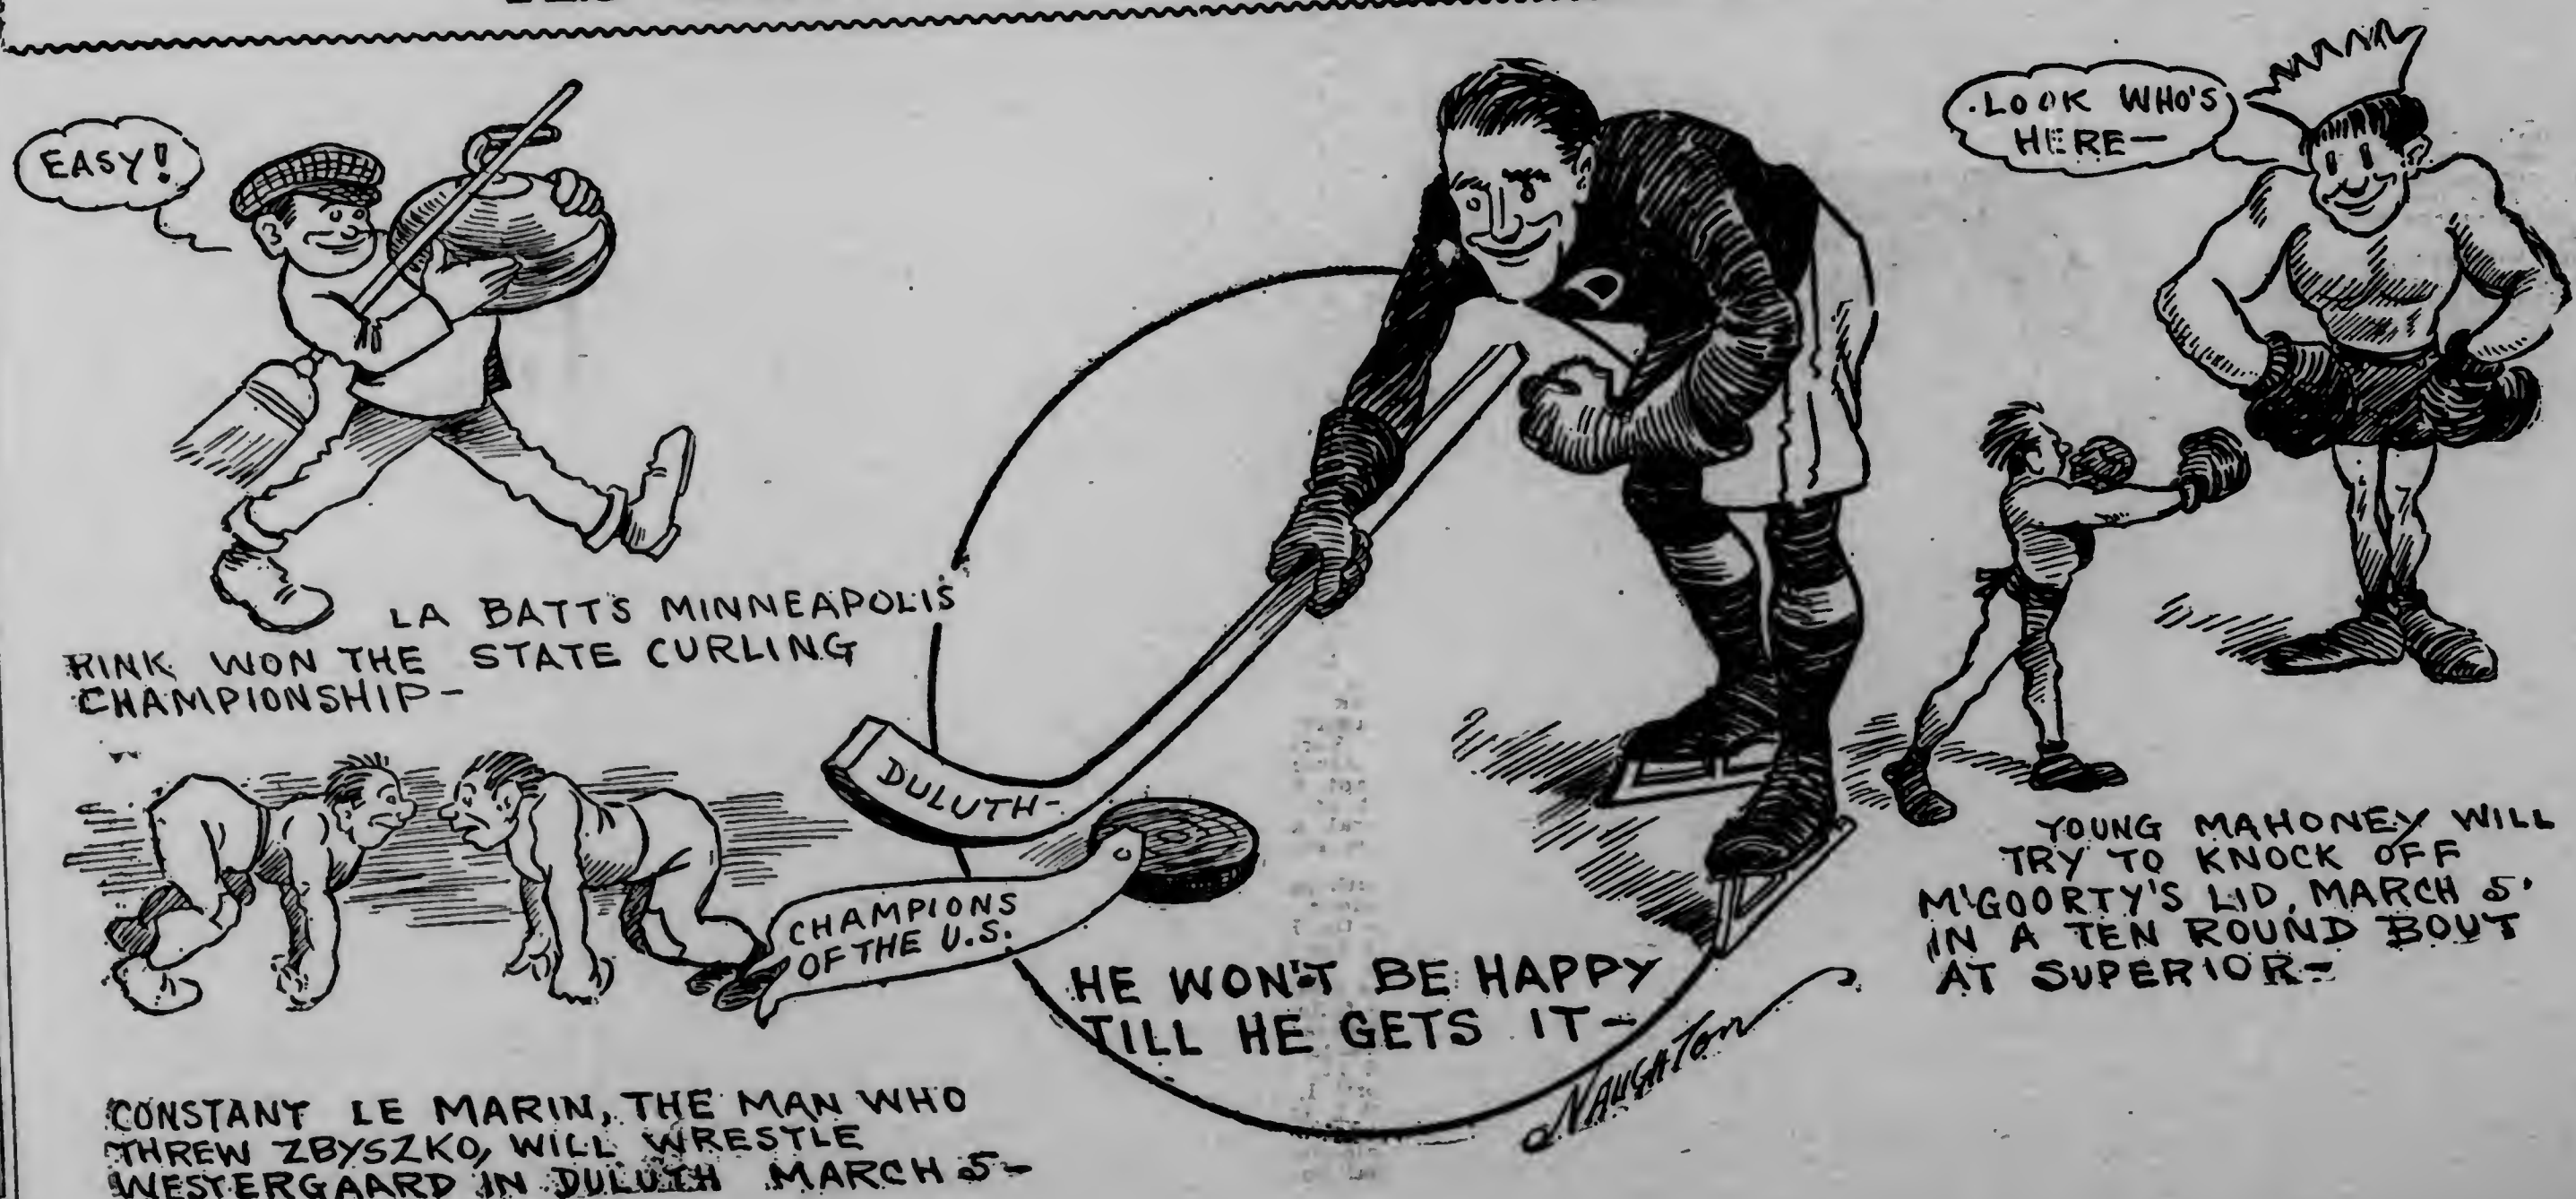

Talk of Michigan's return to the conference has again crept out. A report has come from Ann Arbor that the athletic authorities will soon authorize frequent meetings of the authorities with prominent alumni in Chicago. There is no doubt that there is much dissatisfaction on the Michigan campus with their present position and the students desire a return to the conference. The position of the students has been plainly stated on numerous occasions, and the Michigan Daily has been carrying on a campaign with that end in view all year. The students claim that pride alone is keeping the authorities from making the move.

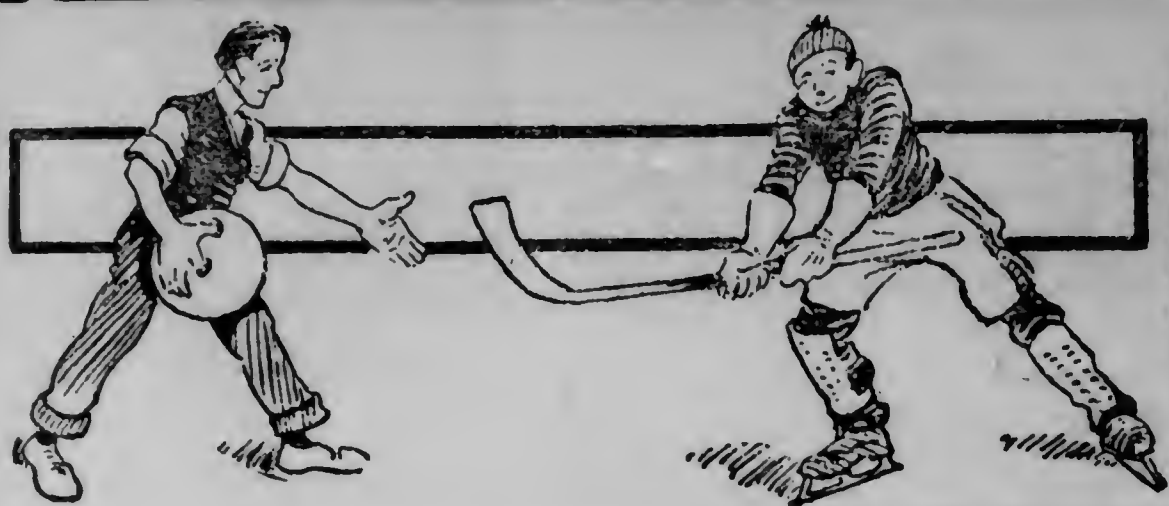

MILLER COMES HERE TO LIVE
Former St. Paul Athlete Will Now Call Duluth Home.

Walter Miller has become a citizen of Duluth. The little wrestler has moved all of his personal effects and household goods to the Zenith city of the unsalted seas, and from now on will sign Duluth after his name. The former Apolite is going into business here, not only because he likes the city and appreciates the courteous treatment he has received here, but also because he believes Duluth has a great future.

After taking a good rest in Calumet, Walter put on something like twelve pounds. It is the ambition of the little grappler to win back the laurels he lost to Joe Carr, and some day he wants to meet the Minneapolis man. Miller also declares his confidence of beating any welterweight in the world.

SPORTING EVENTS OF THE PAST WEEK AS SEEN BY THE HERALD CARTOONIST

MILLIONAIRE IS LE MARIN'S PILOT

George Kennedy, Montreal Sportsman, Discovered Conqueror of Zbyszko in a Vineyard.

George Kennedy, a millionaire sportsman of Montreal, Can., is chiefly responsible for the bursting into the limelight of Constant Le Marin, the great French giant. For years Kennedy has been searching for a wrestler who possessed the qualifications of a champion of the world. It was an ambition upon the part of the Canadian sportsman to discover a man capable of meeting the best grapplers in the world.

Kennedy discovered Le Marin in the southern part of France, where the laziest and strongest Frenchmen are born. Le Marin was working in a vineyard, unconscious of his marvelous strength and never dreaming of the great future he was to gain as an athlete.

For the past six months the French man has been working at Montreal, becoming proficient in the many scientific wrinkles of the catch-as-catch-can game. Le Marin has not lost a match in this country, the sensational climax of his mat achievements coming with the signal defeat of the great and powerful Zbyszko.

The huge French giant, bigger even than Zbyszko, will arrive here Monday, according to the present schedule. Though Le Marin is larger than Stanislaus Zbyszko, he is better constructed and does not lack the sinewy bulk of the bear-like Pole. Some idea of the marvelous strength of the foreigner can be gained by the statement that he threw Zbyszko around the mat in the contest of last Monday evening.

Oscar Thorson, manager of Western Guard, the world's champion Swedish title holder, and the conqueror of both Cutler and Ordeman, wired today that the able Swede is training for the battle of his life. In a letter of yesterday Thorson stated that cities all over the United States are feverishly bidding for the services of Le Marin, and that the prompt action of the local promoters put off the contest until the French giant in several Eastern cities.

John Olin, the huge Finnish heavyweight, is nearly as big as Le Marin. Fans here will see three of the largest heavyweights the world has ever known. Le Marin, Westergaard, and Olin battle next Wednesday evening.

Rube Schiller's rink was put out of the running in both the Gruenen and Bagley events in the play last evening at the Curling club. S. H. Gruenen was rendered hors de combat in so far as the Gruenen event is concerned by being beaten by Walter Harris, and Stocking went down to the eighth of the Bagley by beating Gillespie. Out of the unknown-for events of the evening was the decisive beating administered to Ron Smith by Billy Dinham. While the Dinham crowd are going great at the present time, it was not thought that the veteran Ron would go down under so mountainous a score. Dinham progressed further in the Manley-McLennan event, through the forfeiting of Starkey, and Biehalter went further toward the final in this event by defeating Dunlop.

Following is the draw of this evening:

Gruenen-Stocking vs. Galterson; C. F. McDonald vs. Cleveland.

Manley-McLennan-Brodley vs. Richardson; McGhie vs. Jones.

Bagley-Maclean vs. MacLeod.

Gruenen-Harris vs. Fregau.

ROWING IS AGAIN BECOMING A POPULAR SPORT AT COLLEGE

The Study of Different Strokes Is at Present Agitating Those in Charge of the Rowing Departments of Large Universities.

(By Constance S. Titus.)

Rowing in America is on the boom. Especially is this so in college circles. The most discussed subject at the present moment is the English method of England.

The son of the late railroad king has, as every one is well aware, been appointed head rowing coach at Yale university. He has gone to England to study at close range all the fine points of the British system. With him are assistant Coach Thorson, and Capt. Snowden. Harriman is familiar with the English stroke, and he wishes his lieutenants to become likewise.

It is Harriman's purpose to teach at the Yale quarters, in an effort to defeat all American crews, the famous English stroke, which has been very short. He tried very hard to make the Yale crew, but didn't. He then took to double sculling with his classmate, Appleton. He rowed in the Harvard Regatta association on the Harlem river in the spring of 1909, only to be badly defeated. Again, in the Philadelphia he was badly defeated. Of course, while a theoretical knowledge without practical experience may hit it when competition comes.

I am going to diverge from the subject of Yale, which was brought up initially to introduce another topic. I would like to compare the English method with the American one, which has proved most successful in their respective countries.

There is entirely too much waste motion in the British style. They go too far back in the stroke, and the finish of the stroke; they take entirely too much time in getting back to the horizontal position, and it is entirely too great a strain on their arm muscles. All these drawbacks the American stroke eliminates. Now, another good point in favor of the American stroke is that it does not swing back so far and can row a higher stroke with less physical exertion.

Because of this terrible heave on the finish of the English stroke the causing more friction and consequently retarding speed to a marked degree. Such was noticeable in the work of Hob Cook's Yale crew when he attempted to adopt the British methods to its use.

This long body swing has been tried time and again in America by our best coaches. Invariably it has been condemned. Our best authorities maintain that it is heart-rending and that a crew is "all in" before it has gone the distance. If you ever see any rowing pictures of the finish of an English boat race just notice how many of them are ready to keel over from exhaustion.

We all remember in 1906 when Harvard went to England and rowed Cambridge. Harvard was practically fresh bodies back to the hands of the Cambridge crew was all in, down and out. Here was another case of not listening to the professional coach, James Wray, and of too much amateur capriciousness. The captain wanted to row a waiting race. Sad, but true, Harvard is still waiting.

Every one who saw that race declared that if the Crimson had gone at the pace of the English stroke the would undoubtedly have been a different story. The incident is not mentioned as a criterion, for Harvard was not the champion college crew of America, by a long way, that year.

The Time-Worn Argument. Now the whole question resolves itself into this riddle: "Which part of a rowing stroke is the greatest strain on the arm, the stomach muscles or the leg muscles?" The English boys, as soon as they go to preparatory school, are taught this English stroke. They gradually build up their abdominal muscles. When they become of age they are pretty well developed, and, of course, can stand the pressure. But think of putting in a green man, as Head Coach Harriman wants to do at Yale. To ask such work of muscles that have not been gradually developed is beyond all physical ethics. There has been a great deal of talk going on that the English are going back to the old stationary seats, doing away entirely with the slides. The reason given for the change is a desire for more body swing. It is true a great many of the English coaches have not adopted the Yankee swivel lock, which has been used in this country for the last thirty-five years.

They are still holding to the old opinion, claiming that the oar hitting from one pin to the other will keep in harmony with the stroke, and that is where the English phrase originated among the English rowing experts. The crew row so many beats to the minute. I saw an English coach in this country make the coxswain carry a potato masher and beat time on the washboard of the eight. Unless he heard that noise he thought the crew was rowing very badly and that they were not together.

English Really Train Faithfully. We read these nice stories of English fair play and sport for sports' sake, that Englishmen do not go into the hard grueling training as the Americans do. When I was training at Putney on the Thames, I used to rise about 4 a. m. for a short walk before breakfast. I could see all the young men who were preparing for Henley rowing or running just as early as myself. Many of them would get in two rows a day. The New York young man will get in only one row a day on the Harlem river.

I presume the Yale trio will have a "jolly good time" as advance guard for the Harvard crew. I would not be surprised to see him bring over a shipload of English rowing paraphernalia, but you do not see the Englishmen sending any "pink tea" invitations to Charles Courtney of Cornell.

Stanford Engages Henley. Leland Stanford has engaged an assistant coach and boat builder, John Hoile of Cornell. So keep your eye on

THE CONQUEROR OF THE GREAT ZBYSKO

John. He has a lot of good material out at Stanford and he can row the men all the year round out there. Hoile is a good man in every respect. He can build a good boat and he should understand rowing and rigging by this time. Stanford should be congratulated on getting such a good man as Hoile.

Ellis Ward, the old rowing coach of the University of Pennsylvania, seems to have outlived his usefulness and have lost hold on the men under him. But he should turn out a good freshman crew this year, as he has the famous sculler, Kelley of Philadelphia to put in at stroke.

Regardless of what the place no one knows. All the admirers of the University of Pennsylvania hope that they will not go into the experimental proposition by selecting some rich son, regardless of what he knows about rowing, of changing from year to year and traveling all around the globe between working on a theory basis of trying to learn something in one year which has been the best champions the better part of a lifetime of study.

Colleges in Big Race. A very interesting race will be furnished by Harvard, Princeton and Pennsylvania on the Charles river, two weeks prior to the Henley regatta, which will be held in the first part of June. This winter has been extra mild. Harvard has started rowing on the Charles already this year.

So have all the other colleges excepting Yale, which is waiting for the return of its rowing advisers. The Harvard crew has been extra mild. Harvard has started rowing on the Charles already this year.

BOSTON TEAMS DEPART. Both Americans and Nationals Leave for Training Grounds.

Boston, March 1.—The vanguard of both Boston major league baseball teams started South for the spring training trip yesterday. Only a few members of the world's championship Americans left Boston, but other members will be picked up en route to Hot Springs, Ark., where Manager Jack Stahl has been working out the winter kinks for the last week.

The Nationals got away on an evening train for New York, the first stop on the way to Athens, Ga., and sitting-out grounds. Capt. Bill Sweeney headed the party out of Boston and a number of several additions at New York, Philadelphia and Washington.

Ray Collins, the "south-paw" pitcher, remains the old guard. From the American squad, while the Braves have been unable to satisfy the demands of Coach Bill Dahlen.

The itinerary of the Boston Nationals was announced as follows:

March 24 and 25, Atlanta; at Atlanta; March 26 and 27, Atlanta; at Atlanta; March 28 and 29, Toronto; at Toronto; March 30, April 1, Buffalo; at Buffalo; April 2 and 3, Richmond; at Richmond; April 4 and 5, Washington; at Washington; April 6 and 7, Baltimore; at Baltimore.

BIG LEAGUE CAMPS

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

New York.....Marina, Tex.
Brooklyn.....Augusta, Ga.
Boston.....Athens, Ga.
Philadelphia.....Tampa, Fla.
Chicago.....Mobile, Ala.
Cincinnati.....Hot Springs, Ark.
St. Louis.....Columbus, Ga.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

New York.....Bermuda
Boston.....Hot Springs, Ark.
Washington.....San Antonio, Tex.
Chicago.....Paso Robles, Cal.
Cleveland.....Pensacola, Fla.
Detroit.....Gulfport, Miss.
St. Louis.....Waco, Tex.

Perhaps in no previous year were the training camps scattered as much as they will be in 1913. The points furthest separated are the training camps of the Highlanders and White Sox. The Highlanders' training camp will be about 5,000 miles east of the training camp of the Sox which will be pitched in Paso Robles, Cal.

Big Shakeup. There has been a big shakeup in training camps this year, only five of the sixteen major league clubs standing pat on their camps of 1912. By a strange coincidence, all five of the clubs which were satisfied with their training camps last spring finished either one, two or three. The five clubs are the Giants and Pirates of the National league and the Red Sox, Senators and Athletics of the American league.

Every state of the former Confederacy has been the scene of one or more major league clubs, with the exception of South Carolina and Tennessee. The Browns, famous because they did not finish eighth last season, will go to Hot Springs, Ark. The Cardinals, famous because they did not finish eighth last season, will go to Hot Springs, Ark. The Cardinals, famous because they did not finish eighth last season, will go to Hot Springs, Ark.

Three in Georgia. Bill Dahlen's Brooklyn will start the ball rolling in Augusta, where the Braves trained last spring; the Braves will switch to Athens, where George Stallings took the Highlanders in 1910. The Cardinals will honor Columbus with their presence.

Two clubs will train in Arkansas and Florida. Arkansas has to take a back seat this year, as four teams trained there last spring. However, what Arkansas lacks in numbers it makes up in class. As the world's champion Red Sox and the second-place Pirates again will train in Hot Springs.

Then two clubs have arranged a big exhibition series, Boston and Pittsburgh scribbles feet certain the series will be a sort of fore-runner to the 1913 world's series. Other persons, however, are also entitled to an opinion.

The Cubs and Naps will train in Florida. The Cubs have been in the state for the last few years and the Naps will be in the state for the last few years. The Cubs and Naps will train in Florida. The Cubs have been in the state for the last few years and the Naps will be in the state for the last few years.

REPORT STAGGERS BATTILING NELSON

Former Champion Lightweight Does Not Believe Divorce News.

Savannah, Ga., March 1.—When "Battling" Nelson arrived in Savannah yesterday afternoon he denied knowledge of any intention on the part of his wife, Mrs. Fay King Nelson, to sue for divorce.

"This is staggering," he said when shown a dispatch containing the report. "As far as I know there is no word of truth in it. Mrs. Nelson is in Denver and I have been corresponding with her regularly. I am now planning either to meet Mrs. Nelson in Chicago on March 11, or go to Denver to celebrate her birthday. We are on the best of terms."

SHE SAYS IT'S TRUE.

Mrs. Nelson Says She Does Not Love Her Husband.

Denver, Colo., March 1.—Battling Nelson has lost another fight. Since his marriage about a month ago he has been fighting for his wife's love. But he has lost.

Mrs. Nelson, formerly Miss Fay King, newspaper cartoonist, announced that she would sue the fighter for divorce and ask the restoration of her maiden name. She says she does not love him, and that's the only reason she will give.

"I want a husband that comes home with a dinner bucket every night," she said. "Not a man who comes home in a check suit and flashing diamonds. But a mighty good fellow. Like him mightily well, have for eight years, but as a husband—not for mine."

BUFFALO MAY BE HOST NEXT YEAR

Toledo Bowling Convention Drawing to Close—High Scores.

Toledo, March 1.—The Overland five man team of Toledo last night made a new record for that event in an A. B. C. tournament when they rolled 2,932 pins. The former record was held by the Lipmans of Chicago, who rolled 2,942 pins at the tournament held in Pittsburgh in 1908. The remainder of the leaders in the five man events remained unchanged.

Five man leaders: Overland, Toledo, 2,932; Lexington No. 1, Lexington, Ky., 2,930; Spear-Binfields, Milwaukee, Wis., 2,925; Ruth, Chicago, Ill., 2,924; Weldman, Cleveland, 2,916; Pelican, Chicago, 2,914; Chicago Heights, Ill., 2,913; Lexington No. 2, Lexington, Ky., 2,912; Wooten-Lambert, St. Louis, 2,911; Washington, Buffalo, 2,910; 2,783; Washington, Buffalo, 2,783.

A general revision of the leaders of the two-men and individual events took place in the afternoon. Charles Carlson and Charles Mountain of Chicago rolled a total of 1,277 in a four-man event. Carlson, Chicago, became the leader in the individual events, with a score of 645. Radly, Kalk of Chicago went into second place with a score of 1,216. In the Galesburg tournament duo, Carlson and Carlson, the same is the second highest mark ever made in a two-man event in an A. B. C. tournament.

Cleveland bowlers accepted the delegates' decision against the loaded ball and will not secede, as they threatened to do. Judge Heston, president of the Cleveland A. B. C. association, secretary, Milwaukee and Frank L. Pasadoul, Chicago, have been sent to St. Paul as representatives of the local club to compete in the tournament of tomorrow. According to the advice received here, the St. Paul promises to be a huge success, representative amateur riders from all parts of the Northwest being entered in the various events. The Duluth riders expect to make a strong showing.

Nationals Trim Maroons. Last evening at the French rink the Nationals won from the Maroons by the score of 3 to 0. Ouellette for the Nationals was one of the stars of the game. The contest was fast and very well played.

The Line-up:
Nationals—Ouellette, Skomars, Clark, P. Swanson, Polansky, capt., P. Ullberg, Dykine, F. Rickard, capt., Roswell, C. Hefferan, Bials, W. Nelson.

Old Twins. Long Beach, Cal., March 1.—Thomas and Robert Holmes, who are believed to be the oldest twins in the West, celebrated their 81st birthday yesterday. Both are good health and spirits. The twins jointly held the office of postmaster at Albion, Wis., for thirty-one years.

KLING WITH REDS.
Noted Catcher Signs Up With the Cincinnati Team.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 1.—President August Herrmann of the Cincinnati National league team announced here last night that Johnny Kling, the catcher, had signed a contract to play with the local baseball organization during the coming season. Just what Kling will receive was not announced. Mr. Herrmann stated that everything had been arranged with Kling and that the latter would report at Mobile by the time the other members of the team arrived there.

BLUME LEAVES FOR MEET AT MINNEAPOLIS.

Harry A. Blume left today for the schedule meeting of the See-Eye league, which will be held at the West hotel, Minneapolis, tomorrow. O. F. Collier, another member of the board of directors of the Duluth Baseball association, will go down tomorrow. Before leaving the Duluth representative stated that he was confident that some very pleasing news would develop from tomorrow's meeting.

Sodality Team Wins.

The strong Sodality indoor baseball team defeated the Superior All-Stars in Superior last evening by the score of 9 to 6. England, the heaviest star of the "Sods" brought record-breaking season to a grand climax by whiffing twenty of the opposing batters. The contest of last evening was the last of the year for the Catholic team.

WARROAD MAN
NEAR DEATH

Clothing Catches in Mill
Gearing, Being Torn Off His Body.

Warroad Is Trying to Secure Canadian Northern Division Point.

Warroad, Minn., March 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Robert Carlson narrowly escaped losing his life this week. He was handling the steam gear, which is used by the Swift Lumber company, for decking logs, when something went wrong with the drum, and while endeavoring to fix it, his clothing caught in the gear whirling him through the air until his clothing was torn from his body. Fortunately, he escaped with but several severe bruises, which will keep him on the retired list for some time.

Want Warroad Division Point.
A delegation of business men from this village, went to Winnipeg Wednesday to confer with officials of the Canadian Northern division point. It can be said no longer that the expert specialist is the rich man's doctor; nor can it be claimed that the rich alone may profit by his skill, for today the services of the specialist, the so-called rich man's doctor, are within the reach of every one.

NO ONE, who is afflicted with any chronic lingering disease which the ordinary doctor finds difficult to cure, need continue to suffer because he or she cannot afford the high fees usually charged by the master minds of the medical profession who make a life-study of such diseases.

This new plan of home treatment places the medicine resulting from the COMBINED wisdom, knowledge, skill and experience of FIVE such specialists within the easy reach of everyone, and these five specialists, headed by Dr. James W. Kidd of Fort Wayne, Ind., are curing every day serious, stubborn, chronic diseases that other doctors fail to cure. Why? Because as specialists, they have a clearer, better and more thorough knowledge of the diseases they treat, than the ordinary doctor who treats everything. The "Jack of all trades, is master of none." The specialist is the master, the expert, the authority from whom the ordinary doctor seeks advice.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

WARROAD MAN
NEAR DEATH

Clothing Catches in Mill
Gearing, Being Torn Off His Body.

Warroad Is Trying to Secure Canadian Northern Division Point.

Warroad, Minn., March 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Robert Carlson narrowly escaped losing his life this week. He was handling the steam gear, which is used by the Swift Lumber company, for docking logs, when something went wrong with the drum, and while endeavoring to fix it, his clothing caught in the gear whirling him through the air until his clothing was torn from his body. Fortunately, he escaped with but several severe bruises, which will keep him on the retired list for some time.

Want Warroad Division Point.
A delegation of business men from this village went to Winnipeg Wednesday to confer with officials of the Canadian Northern in regard to making Warroad a division point. It has been a known fact that the Canadian Northern has been making a division at Warroad, but some obstacle in connection with the question and labor laws could be overcome.

Rev. C. Del Harris, the new pastor for the Episcopal church, is expected to arrive tomorrow.

E. M. Hestrich, wife and baby will leave today for a visit to friends and relatives in the Twin Cities.

Rev. O. N. Fosmark, father of our Attorney Fosmark, spent a couple of days here this week, visiting his son.

Alfred Soderstrom, secretary of the Swedish Historical Society of America, left this week to make his headquarters at Minneapolis. While he has located at Minneapolis for the time, he has not given up his residence here, but will return from time to time to look after his business interests in this village.

R. J. Hart left Wednesday for Northwest Angle, with a load of supplies for the boundary surveyors.

A. H. Neal left Wednesday for Big-by Island, with a load of household effects for P. P. Newton of the fisheries.

Jack Walsten of Greenbush, was a business visitor in town a couple of days this week.

BLOWS SELF UP WITH DYNAMITE

Miner Puts Explosive on Breast and Touches
It Off.

Besemer, Mich., March 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Gabriel Lettenen, a miner working in the Asteroid mine, near Ramsey, Mich. Sunday in a sensational manner. He placed a stick of dynamite on his chest and lighted it, his body being blown to pieces. He was about 45 and had been engaged in the business here for years. His wife and two children were with him at the time.

It is thought that he was mentally unbalanced as he had made an attempt to end his life once before at Iron River by jumping over a bridge into the river.

HANCOCK BUTCHER TAKES HIS LIFE

Champion Animal Killer of Copper Country Drinks
Carbolic Acid.

Hancock, Mich., March 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Famed in the Copper country as the champion butcher, who generally won the first prize at animal killing contests held in this section, Samuel P. Payne made his final killing here yesterday when he took his own life by drinking carbolic acid. He was about 45 and had been engaged in the butcher business here for years.
His health and business reverses are assigned as the cause.

BARNUM INSTITUTE.

A. J. McGuire and Others Will Be Heard There This Month.

Barnum, Minn., March 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Farmers' institute will be held at Mahtowa the latter part of March. A. J. McGuire of the experimental farm, and Prof. Chapman will be two of the speakers and another man, equally prominent, will come with him.

A meeting of the directors of Commissioner's District No. 4 will be held at the high school Monday afternoon.
Mrs. John Vils was taken to a hospital at Duluth to be cared for until she recovers from septemia.

Miss Hattie Blyer returned to her home at New York Wednesday after a short visit with friends here.

Mrs. Joslyn, who has been at a hospital at Duluth all of last week, returned home Tuesday much improved in health.

Services in the Presbyterian church will be held at 10 o'clock.

With spring not far distant, further symptoms of an increased business in the realty trade are coming to the surface. So far, from outside appearances, the promised progress for 1913 has not materialized, but Duluth real estate dealers who handle the bulk of the local trade declare that their books show more than a double the business done during the first two months in 1912.

Inquiry is brisk and new offers for improved property both in the business district and residence sections are cropping out daily. The number of negotiations for property in general shows that the progress of the market is continuous. Duluth has grown greatly during the last four years and considerable money has been spent here both in public and private improvements, making this fact less surprising. It goes without saying that a season of active buying will take place when the spring market gathers momentum.

Buyers are beginning to display more than a passing interest in investment propositions. It is generally believed among local dealers that the reason for this is that the market has been so quiet for some time that they are looking for a change. The business district, for instance, are practically of the market.

Not only has the buying movement begun to assume substantial proportions in all classes of city property, but also activity in land trading in St. Louis and adjoining counties has become quite pronounced. The cold weather has been a drawback, of course, but in spite of this there have been several good deals closed.

This week the Robert Walker & Mc Knight company sold 36 acres of land near the Soo railroad for M. W. Hesser to local land dealer. The property was picked up for $11 an acre. The same firm also received orders for 100 acres close to the city of Atchita. This is being taken over by Duluth investors, who are looking for a good deal on the land next year. They also have sold two lots near Kenwood to H. Ruth of Hibbing. Both buyers expect to improve the property.

A colonization firm which expects to bring hundreds of settlers to Minnesota within the coming year is now negotiating with the local realty trade for several thousand acres, which will perhaps be closed within a few weeks.

The L. A. Larson company reports a good February business and advises that the outlook for early spring business seems to be very satisfactory. Among the recent sales of the company which have been closed up, 51.13, adjoining Exeter farms and close to the Lester river. Consideration, $300.

House and two lots on West Fourth street to John Lantini for $1,300.

To John B. Olson, two lots in Siohoun park, $500.

To S. E. Nelson from Jane A. Thilman, 70 by 100 feet, at the northeast corner of Seventh street between Lake and Tenth street for immediate improvement. Consideration, $300.

For same to local purchasers, nine other lots in same block. Consideration, $3,300.

Also 160 acres in township 51-13. Consideration not given.

The Steel Plant Investment company this week sold the Colvin-Robb Lumber company lot B of Gary, first division, for a consideration of $5,500. The tract was purchased with the idea of immediate improvement. The same firm also disposed of six other lots at Gary during the past week.

Little & Nolte this week sold a four-flat building at 1121-1123 East Third street from Carrie Rogers to Ely & Gridley. The consideration was $9,000. This is the second flat property which the same firm has sold for the same owner during the past month. Recently another flat building owned by her was sold by Little & Nolte for $5,500. The same firm reports the receipt of earned money on a residence property on Jefferson street, the sale price of which is $3,000.

E. D. Field & Co. this week closed up a deal which has been pending for the sale from G. O. G. to J. E. Horak of eight lots on Tenth street between Tenth and Eleventh avenues. The property is near the new Ninth street car line and is in a district which is expected to show considerable building activity during the coming season. The consideration involved in the transfer was not made public. Mr. Field reports that inquiry for moderate priced dwelling houses has been very keen, eight having been received on one day during the week.

Through the agency of Stryker, Mantley & Buck, a 50-ft. lot on the upper side of Second street between Lake and First avenues west, has been sold from Alice S. McKinley to D. Weinberg. The property is improved. The consideration involved in the deal was not made public. A. H. Brown of the Stryker, Mantley & Buck agency says that inquiry is encouraging and that a number of good things seem to be in the air which may materialize soon.

The loan business is only fair, according to the statement of C. L. Rakowsky & Co., who declares that applications for loans at the present time—that is desirable applications—are somewhat hard to get, although there is plenty of money to be lent.

As soon as building operations start off in the spring, he predicts a noticeable increase will be made in the number of applications. During the past week, Mr. Rakowsky received earnest money for the sale of two lots at West Duluth.

George E. Lynott, sales manager for the Alliance Real Estate corporation, reports the sale of four lots in Iron, Fourth division, this week. Two of the lots were sold to outside investors.

E. W. Markell advises that outside inquiry is one of the encouraging features of the present season, so far as his office is concerned. Mr. Markell has a number of fair sized deals which are now pending.

The Home Realty company, according to E. W. Lyons, sales manager, disposed of three more lots at Gary this week. As soon as milder weather comes this company expects to put an active campaign in Gary properties.

The Harris Realty company has added a life insurance department and has taken over the general agency of the Hartford & Missouri State Consolidated Life Insurance company of St. Louis, Mo. The company has taken new offices at 715-717 Selwood building.

The Hartman Building company this week sold a residence property in Condon park to William C. Brown. The consideration involved was $5,000.

A residence at the southwest corner of Sixth avenue west and Third street and lot fronting fifty feet on both the avenue and the street was transferred this week from Joseph Slonim to David Ostrov. The consideration was $4,000.

The Northern Title company has taken over from William Wallingford a 2,000 ft. house and 25-foot frontage on the upper side of London road between Ninth and Tenth avenues east.

A house and lot fronting fifty feet on the lower side of Fifth street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth avenues west and lot fronting fifty feet on the lower side of Grand avenue between Fifth and Sixth streets, was sold to J. Westman to Martin Rustad. No consideration was given.

For $1,800, Albert Rosner has purchased from Annie Sherman a lot on the lower side of Grand avenue between Fifth and Sixth streets and lot fronting fifty feet on the lower side of Grand avenue between Fifth and Sixth streets.

Fifty feet fronting on the lower side of Eighth street between Central and Fifth streets avenue west was sold this week.

LECTURES ON "LOW PRESSURE BOILERS"

Under the auspices of the Duluth Architectural club, an interesting lecture on "Low Pressure Heating Boilers" was delivered Thursday evening at the Duluth Hotel by Henry R. Gullone, Minneapolis representative of the American Radiator company. About 100 attended, the audience including members of the architectural profession, engineers and the plumbing and heating trade.

The lecture was illustrated by a number of slides showing various scientific methods of establishing standards of heat measurements and pointing out how these standards are followed and applied in the construction and ratings of house-heating boilers. Other slides showed formulae for determining low pressure boiler capacities for the varying requirements. The lecture also included a brief talk on the principles of vacuum cleaning.

Clyde W. Kelley, president of the Duluth Architectural club under whose auspices the lecture was given, introduced Mr. Gullone as the best speaker on the subject of low pressure boilers. The speaker lived up to his reputation and interspersed his remarks with number of witty sayings and humorous stories. At the conclusion of the lecture he was given a vote of thanks at the suggestion of Architect Abraham Holstead.

The club is planning a series of lectures for the winter. It is expected that the lecture he was given will be the first of a series of lectures within the next two weeks.

QUIET DAYS FOR BUILDERS

February Report Shows Falling Off From Same Month Last Year.

Real Estate Men Expect Renewed Activity During Spring Months.

During February there were issued from the office of the city building inspector fifty-two permits, authorizing improvements which represented an expenditure of $35,000. While this is a gain over the preceding month, it falls short of the record made in February a year ago. During February, 1912, sixty-one permits were taken out for improvements costing $114,130.

During January last, forty-four permits were issued and the estimated cost of the improvements was $68,675. The winter climate has been most favorable to building operations and outdoor work throughout the Northwest according to the midwinter bulletin of V. F. Houk, state commissioner of labor. Among other things, the bulletin says: "In former years, concrete workers, masons, and thousands employed in general construction anticipated a yearly period of inactivity during the winter months. During this winter, however, construction work in the Twin Cities and in Duluth has been interrupted but little."

In spite of the apparent falling off this year as compared with last, in the opinion of the architects and contractors, Duluth will witness considerable activity as soon as things open up in the spring. Sub-division operators declare that a number of lot owners are planning to build homes this season. Architect J. J. Wangenstein has prepared plans for a three-story brick hotel building to be built for the Duluth Brewing & Malting company at Baudette, Minn., this spring. The structure will be a 60-room affair, modern in every particular and will cost $40,000. The plans will be ready for the contractors in about a week.

Architect Hunt is preparing plans for three semi-detached brick houses to be built for Mrs. M. K. Richter at the southeast corner of Twenty-second avenue east and Second street. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $11,000.

Bids on the construction of a 4-room frame schoolhouse to be built at Cove, Minn., and to cost about $10,000, will be opened March 11. The plans for the structure have been prepared by Architects Holstead & Sullivan and are now in the hands of contractors.

E. R. Brown, a Grand Rapids contractor, has secured the plumbing and heating contract for the nine-room public school building to be built at Stevens, Minn., on plans prepared by Architect E. C. Gridley of this city. His figure was $4,310. The cost of the new school building will be $30,000.

Plans for a two-story brick veneer and stucco residence to be erected for E. C. Gridley at Twenty-fifth avenue east and Fourth street, costing $3,000, have been prepared by Architect W. A. Hunt and are now out for figures.

A two-story brick garage, having quarters for a chauffeur, will be built this spring for George H. Crosby at Twenty-first avenue east and Superior street at a cost of about $5,000. P. G. German is the architect.

A building permit was issued this week for the erection of a hollow tile dwelling for R. N. Chaffee on East Fourth street between Twenty-first and Twenty-second avenues east and Fourth street. It will cost $6,500.

The following permits to be built were issued from the office of the city building inspector during the past week:

To G. G. Hartley, alterations, additions, and elevator, East Superior street between Third and Fourth avenues.....$ 1,000

To Barnett & Record company, hollow tile factory building, Central avenue between Sherburne and Red-nick streets.....2,000

To R. C. Johnson, repairs, Duluth Heights.....500

To E. G. Wallinder, additions, Grand avenue and Ramsey street.....200

To E. A. Johnson, three frame dwellings, Seventeenth avenue east and Fifth street, additional.....10,500

Two new real estate firms.

Two new real estate concerns filed articles of incorporation this morning with the register of deeds.

The Cuyuna Improvement company is organized to engage in the buying and selling of mineral lands and is expected to confine its activities to the new Cuyuna range. It is capitalized at $50,000. The incorporators are J. J. Robinson, H. E. Cerr and Antonette Bird.

Chase Favara Credit Bureau.

St. Paul, Minn.—To safeguard the state banks of Minnesota against the possibility of borrowers and to eliminate so far as possible the passing of unsound securities, it is recommended in the annual report of Kelsey S. Chase, superintendent, that a credit bureau be established in connection with the state department of banking.

In the first seven months of 1912 Germany exported 20,900,000 metallic filament electric lamps.

BRICK HOUSE BY PARCEL POST

Being Sent a Brick at a Time to Chicago Show.

A brick house is now being sent by parcel post to Chicago.

Brick manufacturers all over the country are sending a brick from each of their plants to be used in building a brick house at the coliseum, Chicago, during the Minnesota exposition which is now being held there. The exposition started Feb. 26. It will continue until March 3.

The idea of assembling the material for the brick house was originated by the merits of the parcel post system and is a novel one. It is said that the record is being set by the delivery of a brick house by mail.

Uncle Sam's mail carrier will not be over-enthusiastic for this method of delivery of a brick house. It is also safe to say that other mail carriers throughout the country will watch this experiment with interest and fear and trembling.

While it is true that the brick fire-proof home is becoming more and more popular because of its permanency, economy and superiority, it is hardly probable that it will be delivered by mail to any alarming extent.

"THE CITY AND THE TEACHER"

Pastor Says Request for Salary Increase Should Be Granted.

Rabbi Lefkowitz preached last evening in the Temple Emanuel on "The City and the Teacher." In which he took occasion to eulogize the teacher and to urge the citizens to support him in general and to support the teachers in particular. He declared that if any are entitled to respect and reverence, and deserving of consideration, they are those who mould the character of children in the school rooms. Declaring that the teacher's example is the child's moral sunlight. He said:

"Yet here we stand and pay them the doubtful compliment of indifference and the disrespect of insufficient support. We pay them less than the little higher than the wage which we would be afforded in the city and which even low-priced laborers would scorn to take. We demand of them qualities of character and ability of a higher order and reward them with stipends which would be ludicrous to offer to bricklayers and hod carriers."

The rabbi declared himself strongly in favor of the increase asked by the Duluth teachers. He said:

"The modest increase demanded by them should be given and given at once and given not grudgingly, graciously and gratefully."

NOTES OF BOYS' DEPARTMENT

The boys' department cabinet held its regular monthly meeting at the boys' building last evening. Plans were made to have a special program during the Easter vacation. Each of the committees will be responsible for one of the days.

Tuesday evening Chas. Colton will give a talk on Dartmouth, after which all the high school members of the club will be organized into a basketball and volleyball leagues.

The popular and interesting program given at the club room last night was the best of the month's program and attracted a large number of the members and friends.

Eight new members were initiated into the Knights of Sir Galahad last evening. The knights meet every Sunday at 4 o'clock. Henry and Maurice will furnish the musical program.

This afternoon the members of the club are inspecting the Duluth Candy company, after which they will go for a swim.

REAL ESTATE DEALERS REPORT GOOD BUSINESS

The Lakeside Land company has disposed of three lots fronting 150 feet at the southeast corner of Glenade street and Fifty-third avenue east to Raymond Bruber for $800.

Cooley & Co. will have purchased from M. Glover for $1,500 a 50-foot frontage on the lower side of Seventh street between Sixth and Seventh avenues west.

Thorwald Hanson, a local attorney, has purchased a building lot in Hinesville Park fronting on the corner of Avenue and Victoria street from Lundmark & Franson for $1,000. He has intention to improve the property with a residence within a short time.

For a consideration of $1,000, Barney Schooner this week disposed of a house and 50-foot lot fronting on the east side of Sixty-eighth avenue west between Sherburne and Redburn streets.

The N. J. Upham company has sold a house and lot at 4025 East Superior street to G. E. Glusson for $2,400.

The real estate transfers of the week follow:

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE REACH WASHINGTON TO WITNESS INAUGURATION

Bands Play, Soldiers March and Sightseers Throng Streets.

Heavy Traffic Results in Delay on Many Railroads.

Arrival of President-Elect Will Be Feature of the Day.

Washington, March 3.—Bands were playing, soldiers were marching from incoming trains and thousands of visitors in holiday array were parading the streets today under a brilliant sun and cloudless sky, awaiting the arrival of Woodrow Wilson, who is to become president of the United States tomorrow.

So heavy was the traffic on all railroads that many trains were late, delaying the arrival of thousands of visitors and participants in the inaugural parade, but weather conditions were such that by tomorrow morning every organization that is to join the inaugural parade will have arrived.

The arrival of the new president and his family, attended by 500 students from Princeton University and the Essex troop of New Jersey was the magnificent event of the day. The Wilson party was scheduled to reach the Union station at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon.

Reception Brief.
Thomas Nelson Page, chairman of the reception committee, planned to meet the president-elect and his family when they alighted from their special train. The reception will be brief, after which, without military escort, the Wilsons will be driven to their hotel, where the committee will leave them.

At 6 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will be escorted to the White House, where President and Mrs. Taft will greet the new president.

GLOQUET FIREMAN DIES OF INJURY Returns From Fighting Fire and Falls Down Firehouse Pole.

Cloquet, Minn., March 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Alexander J. Grant, aged 60, a member of the Cloquet fire department, died about 4:30 this morning from injuries sustained when he fell down the fireman's pole at the fire station. He returned to the firemen's headquarters early yesterday after helping fight the fire in the Wilander store block and was feeling badly from the exposure and fell down the pole, striking the floor and sustaining internal injuries. He was taken to the hospital but never rallied.

Mr. Grant, known to a host of friends as "Sam" Grant, was a member of the Cloquet fire department for many years. His funeral arrangements will be announced later. A wife and two daughters survive.

CONGRESS IS ENTANGLED IN CONFERENCE REPORTS

Both Houses Will Probably Be in Session Till Tuesday Noon.

Battleship Fight Seems to Be Key Log in Legislative Jam.

Washington, March 3.—With less than twenty-four hours to live, the Sixty-second congress today found itself entangled in a maze of conference reports on many of the big supply bills which ordinarily would not begin finally before tomorrow noon.

The prospect is that both house and senate will be in continual session until the moment the inaugural ceremonies begin. The battleship fight with the house holding out for one ship and the senate insisting on two, appears to be the key log in the jam. Both sides are insistent.

Other measures in conference today were not embarrassed by such serious difficulties and while the conferees were negotiating the senate and house were practically marking time.

Leaders Busy.
Washington, March 3.—When congress reassembled today morning, the

LANE TO BE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR

Chairman of Interstate Commerce Commission Has Accepted Post.

Lindley M. Garrison of New Jersey Chosen for Secretary of War.

Secretary of Agriculture Likely to Be a College Professor.

Wilmington, Del., March 3.—(On board Wilson's special.)—Vice Chancellor Lindley M. Garrison of New Jersey is to be secretary of war and Franklin K. Lane of California, at present a member of the interstate commerce commission, will be secretary of the interior, according to unquestionable authority.

This information was not obtained from President-elect Wilson, but from an intimate friend who is aboard the Wilson train for a part of the journey. The same source of information gave the remainder of the cabinet slate as follows:

Secretary of state—William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska.
Secretary of the treasury—William G. McAdoo of New York.
Attorney general—James C. McReynolds of Tennessee.

Lane Is Reluctant.
Washington, March 3.—Franklin K. Lane of California, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, has accepted the post of secretary of the interior. Though Chairman Lane himself today refuses to affirm or deny the report of his selection, leaders of the congress close to President-elect Wilson declare positively that Mr. Lane's formal acceptance of the portfolio has been sent to Mr. Wilson.

Will Not Talk of Cabinet.
Washington, March 3.—William Jennings Bryan arrived in Washington today and was escorted by a reception committee to what is known as the presidential suite in a downtown hotel. Whether he arrived in the capacity of the future secretary of state, Mr. Wilson's personal secretary, or as a guest, he refused to say.

TO TEST SERUM BEFORE N. Y. MEDICAL SOCIETY.
New York, March 3.—Instead of opening offices here today, as he had planned, Dr. F. P. Friedmann, the young German physician, has decided to test his tuberculosis serum before the New York County Medical society before he attempts any treatment of patients. This course was decided on after a conference with officers of the society, who informed him that such a step would be necessary if he desired to obtain a license to practice.

A meeting of the board of censors of the society is to be held tonight to make arrangements for a test of the serum.

Longest Special.
The longest special that ever rolled out of Princeton carried Mr. Wilson and his family and their daughters, the Misses Margaret, Jessie and Eleanor, and an escort of 500 Princeton students, accompanied him.

The president-elect left at 11 o'clock, Mrs. Wilson, sister three daughters, the Misses Margaret, Jessie and Eleanor, and an escort of 500 Princeton students, accompanied him.

“MERELY INSTANCE OF BOYISH PLAYFULNESS.”
London, March 3.—“General” Mrs. Flora Drummond, the militant suffragette whom the police had to rescue yesterday from a mob in Hyde park, declared today that she has no fear of the threats that have been made to tar and feather her. She described the wild scenes yesterday as “merely an instance of boyish playfulness,” and added, “Every fresh outbreak of militancy in the part of the women brings enthusiastic recruits. The vast majority of men admire us.”

Washington, March 3.—President Taft held open house today and with his characteristic smile greeted political friends and foes. Although he was up until 3 o'clock this morning clearing his desk of important business, he came back at work early and ready to receive callers.

Among the first who came to say goodbye were Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, chief of staff, U. S. A., and the bureau chiefs of the war department. Several assistant secretaries and department officials followed. Among other callers were Governor Durne of Illinois and Governor Sulzer of New York.

The first Minnesota National Guard, with a band, marched into the White House grounds and the officers shook hands with the president. Capt. McCully, commanding the presidential yacht, followed. Other officers of the ship said goodbye today.

The president signed commissions of 360 persons whose nominations were confirmed by the senate, wrote his autograph upon several hundred pictures of himself and signed scores of important letters.

MYSTERIOUS LOSS OF $41,000 BY TEXAS WOMAN IN CHICAGO

PART OF THE DAY TO BE PLEASANT
General Forecast for Inauguration Considered Good.

Washington, March 3.—“Fair Tuesday morning, probably followed by unsettled weather Tuesday afternoon or night; winds becoming variable Tuesday night.” was the official weather bureau forecast for inauguration day issued early today.

Apparently having in mind the forecast of fair weather today when the prediction of fair weather was overturned by snow and a sleet storm, the weather forecasters today were none too positive in their prediction of what kind of weather would greet the inaugural day at least.

Unofficial indications of the weather-wise citizens today were that the incoming president and the thousands of visitors would be favored with pleasant weather for part of inauguration day at least.

“The indications are that the disturbance now over the plains states will move East and be attended by local snows in the region of the Great Lakes, the interior of New York and North New England and unsettled weather Tuesday in the Middle Atlantic states and the Ohio valley,” said the forecast.

Taken While Making Ex-

Maracaibo, Venezuela.

Bjorge Is Son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Bjorge of This City.

Maracaibo, Venezuela, March 3.—Two mining engineers, Guy N. Borge of Duluth, Minn., and William Leslie Taylor were captured Saturday by wild Motilon Indians while making petroleum explorations near Lake Maracaibo. News was received here today through official sources.

The American consul, John A. Ray, left at once for the Indian country.

The two young men mentioned in the above dispatch are both University of Minnesota graduates. Mr. Taylor's home is on a farm in the southern part of the state. Guy N. Borge is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans P. Borge of 613 East Eighth street, Duluth. He and young Taylor were classmates at the University of Minnesota, graduating last spring. They were recommended by their professors to a New York firm which was looking for two mining engineers to go to Venezuela to prospect for oil. The young men were placed in charge of the party, which consisted of two guides, a cook and some natives.

Mr. Borge, who is just 25 years of age, left Duluth last Thanksgiving. He was met in Minneapolis by Mr. Taylor and they proceeded to New York. They received their instructions there and sailed almost immediately for Venezuela. Mr. Borge's parents are naturally very anxious regarding him. They had not heard of their son's departure until the Associated Press dispatch was read to them by The Herald, and they are anxiously awaiting further news.

Chicago, March 3.—Chicago and Evanston police officials co-operated today in investigating the mysterious disappearance of $41,000 which either was lost or stolen from Mrs. Mabel Miller, 45 years old, wife of a wealthy real estate dealer of San Antonio, Tex.

Mrs. Miller is in a serious condition at an Evanston hospital, due to a wound on the back of her head which she received either from a blow dealt by robbers or a fall. She was found on the doorstep of Mrs. A. C. Cooper in Evanston and removed to a hospital where she was revived and told the police a story of having drawn $43,000 from a Chicago bank Saturday and spending $2,000 on a shopping tour in State street, then going to the home of a friend in Evanston where she spent the evening. Later she started back to the city, but retraced her

Year.

Vital Statistics for County Show No Signs of Race
Suicide.

The town of Tiovola, St. Louis county, gives the lie to all talk of race suicide. The vital statistics for that community show that during the year 1912 there were twenty-one births and not a single death. It is located in township 51-19 and 20.

While St. Louis county as a whole cannot approach the mark made by the Tiovolans, her record for 1912 shows that the births outnumber the deaths by 24 to 1. Vital statistics for the year for St. Louis county have been prepared by Dr. H. M. Bracken, secretary of the state board of health, and have been forwarded to J. P. Johnson, clerk of the district court, who will record them.

The report shows that during the year

just past there were 4,390 births and 1,659 deaths in the county, an increase in the population of 2,731 chargeable to the stork. In the city of Duluth, the number of births is given as 1,965 and the deaths 1,070. Some of the other cities, villages and towns are as follows:

	Births.	Deaths.
Chisholm, village	343	95
Duluth, city	1,965	1,070
Hibbing, village	257	120
Proctor, village	74	16
Stuntz, town	167	32
Virginia, city	458	184

The town of Waasa, 60-14, reports thirteen births and no deaths during the year. In the towns of Beatty and French there were no births or deaths. In the village of Cochin there were three births and no deaths, in the town of Fern no births and one death. The other towns in which no deaths were reported are Iron Junction, Northland and Kugler.

Ishteping's Veteran Preacher.
Ishteping, Mich., March 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. C. B. Kendall, now serving as temporary pastor of the Calvary Baptist church here, has the unique record of sixty years' service in the pulpit, and at the age of 77 is still active and capable of delivering a vigorous and interesting sermon. Mr. Kendall first preached at the age of 17 years, and he has occupied his life continuously ever since, although he retired from active church work a few years ago, because of his advanced years.

ENDS LIFE IN COUNTY JAIL

Prisoner Hangs Himself
With His Suspenders
in His Cell.

Preferred Death to Deportation to Old Home
in Finland.

Determined not to be deported, John Chop, 34 years old, a native of Finland, hanged himself with his suspenders from a bar of his cell in the county jail early this morning.

Chop was an inmate suspect who was being held in the jail for the Federal authorities, who planned to send him back to Finland. He was brought down from Chisholm.

Although four other prisoners were confined in the cell with him, Chop succeeded in taking his life without swallowing any of them. When the first of them roused himself at 6 o'clock his gaze met the suspended form of Chop's lifeless body. He was immediately taken down but was beyond all human aid.

Chop was single. His only relative in this country is said to be a brother residing in Duluth.

The body is at the undertaking rooms of Flood & Horgan, where it is being held pending funeral arrangements.

MANISTIQUE'S MAYOR WILL RUN AGAIN.

Manistique, Mich., March 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor W. L. Middlebrook of Manistique has a record in office and has consented to serve another year, having been nominated without opposition.

Pat O'Connor, treasurer, was arrested at his home, 708 East Superior street, last evening on complaint of his wife, who charged him with using indecent language. O'Connor claimed that his wife was drunk and that she had been drinking since he was arrested. He was taken to the police station and held until this afternoon for disposition.

Peter Van Dyke, the blind man, who sells pencils and shoe strings along Superior street, was picked up yesterday under the influence of liquor as he tried to make his way about with his crutch. He pleaded guilty in police court today, but his case was set over until this afternoon for disposition.

Axel Selin, a milkman, was arrested this morning on a charge of having stolen twelve milk bottles belonging to Bridgeman & Russell. He pleaded guilty and was given 15 days in the county jail. This is the second arrest in a week for the same offense.

The police found eight horses in an open box car near Garfield avenue Saturday night, unblanketed and unprotected from the cold. James Bowden of Monticello says that he brought them here from that state to sell them. He said that they are mustangs used to wintering on the plains and that the protection of the box car was taken away from them so that they are unprotected. He alleged that the cold did not cause them to suffer.

The man who was taken by the police in which was thought to be a dying condition from headquarters to the Lakeside hospital and later transferred to the hospital at the poor farm, is recovering possession of his faculties. He says that his name is Richard Wells and that he was born in Michigan, but in which town he is still unable to recollect. Wells, a big, strapping workman, was taken from the back room of a Bowler saloon, with a deep scalp wound over his forehead. The police surgeon dressed the wound

GLEATED ALONG THE POLICE RUN

LEAVES FROM A REPORTER'S
NOTE BOOK
BY X

After enticing her from the family for whom she was working as a domestic, Catherine Scott, 19 years old, claims that Albert J. Mason lured her into the North Star lodging house across from the Union station on West Michigan street and attempted to accomplish her ruin last evening.

Only the interference of the people running the lodging house is said to have saved her from Mason's designs and their story corroborates in part that told by the young woman. As traced by the struggles and screams of Miss Scott, they summoned the police and both were taken into custody. Mason was charged with indecent assault and the young woman was detained as a witness.

Mason was now in the municipal lodging house at Seventh avenue west and Second street.

Miss Scott was employed in a home at Woodland and Mason's case is not helped by the fact that until a few days ago he was a piano player in a resort of the Superior red light district.

Miss Scott is a pretty young woman, tall and with flashing black eyes and dark hair. She was plainly but neatly clad.

Mason and Mason were playmates together when both their families lived in Grand Marais. Miss Scott's parents are now in the north shore town where Mason's family is now at Bayfield. Through their former acquaintances they began to correspond and learned of one another's whereabouts.

Yesterday afternoon Miss Scott asserts that Mason came to the place where she was working to call upon her. She said that she left when he told her that he would take her to Bayfield to visit with his mother. Unexpectingly, she packed her belongings in a grip and went with him.

Together she says that they made their way to the Union station at 4 o'clock. She claims that Mason had all the money she had, with which to buy transportation.

After getting the money it appears that Mason went to the ticket window. When he came back he is alleged to have told her that there would be a train about 8 o'clock. No train came, however, and she was left alone.

In the meantime he advised her that he had a better place to go to a hotel. Upon being told by him that it would be all right, she accompanied him to Michigan street between Fifth and Sixth avenues west.

She claims that the man who signed the register, but the books show that she claimed as man and wife and assigned to a common room. She avers that she went to the room before the train came.

Later in the evening the people conducting the place heard Miss Scott cry out and struggle. They went to the door and found her in a state of distress. Receiving an answer in the affirmative, said to the questions went away. The sounds were renewed and she claimed that she heard Mason promising the girl that he would marry her as soon as they got to Bayfield.

Satisfied that something was wrong they summoned a policeman and both of them were taken to headquarters. This morning Mason asked for an examination in police court and his hearing was set for tomorrow morning.

William Cahill, bartender for J. J. Cot at 1325 West Superior street, was arrested Saturday on a charge of selling liquor to a minor. The police say Wednesday afternoon.

Edward Murphy was arrested yesterday on a charge of selling liquor to a minor in the hotel at the Adelphi hotel at Twenty-eighth avenue west and Superior street. He pleaded guilty in police court this morning and was paid a fine of $100.

Anthony J. Henriksen was arrested Saturday afternoon on a charge of having stolen a watch from Ole Thompson. He pleaded not guilty and will be tried tomorrow morning.

Pat O'Connor, treasurer, was arrested at his home, 708 East Superior street, last evening on complaint of his wife, who charged him with using indecent language. O'Connor claimed that his wife was drunk and that she had been drinking since he was arrested. He was taken to the police station and held until this afternoon for disposition.

Wells, a big, strapping workman, was taken from the back room of a Bowler saloon, with a deep scalp wound over his forehead. The police surgeon dressed the wound and said that he was suffering from what appeared to be acute kidney trouble. For days he hovered between life and death. His remarkable constitution enabled him to win a victory and within a comparatively short time, it is believed that he will be in his normal condition.

A letter has been sent to Duluth stating that two young men giving the name of J. R. Russell and Frank Parker, claiming to be newspaper tramps, are traveling from coast to coast in thirty days on a wager and are representing themselves as being connected with the Boston Globe. It is stated that they have now turned up in the Middle West. The letter states that the men have in connection with the Globe, Paul Cowles, superintendent of the central division of the Associated Press, 11 West Jackson boulevard, Chicago, would esteem it a favor to be notified immediately if they reach this territory.

MINING GREAT SIMPLON TUNNEL

Can Be Exploded Twenty Miles Away If Occasion
Should Require.

Geneva, Switzerland, March 2.—The Italian government has joined the rest of the European continental powers in making military preparations. It has increased the Italian garrisons along the Swiss frontier and military engineers are engaged in building new forts commanding the passes from the south of the Simplon tunnel toward the east.

Chambers for mines have been excavated at the Italian entrance to the great Simplon tunnel and these have been fitted with secret electrical connections so that by pressing a button twenty miles away the tunnel can be shattered.

In the center of the Simplon tunnel there is a massive steel door which may be worked from either the Swiss or Italian side to block the passage of trains or troops.

SUIT AGAINST THREAD TRUST

Combine Dominated By British Company Is Attacked By Government.

Trenton, N. J., March 3.—The so-called thread trust, which was attacked by the Federal government in a civil anti-trust suit filed here today, seeking the dissolution of the alleged attempted monopoly by "Coates and Foreign Thread Trust," the thread trust of Great Britain of the thread trade of the United States including the American Thread company, itself a consolidation of fourteen American companies.

Under the domination of J. & P. Coates (Ltd.) of Great Britain, it is alleged that the interstate and foreign thread trade in this country has been restrained by combination and unfair competitive methods. The court is asked to order the disintegration of all the combinations in this country controlled by the Coates into such units as will restore competition and to restrain the continuance of unfair competitive methods alleged. If necessary to accomplish this result, the court is asked to appoint a receiver for the properties.

The petition, signed by Attorney General Wickersham and James A. Weaver, assistant to the attorney general, was filed by United States Attorney Vreeland.

MAY MAKE USE OF THE "POCKET VETO"

President May Refuse Signature to New Department Bill.

Washington, March 3.—Governor Sulzer of New York was one of the first callers upon President Taft today at the White House. The governor had been invited to see the president sign the bill creating a department of labor and adding another member to the cabinet. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was with the governor.

The president, however, did not sign the labor department bill in the behalf of Governor Sulzer and Mr. Gompers, although the governor made a short argument in its behalf.

"It looks favorable for the bill," said the governor as he left the White House offices, and Mr. Gompers agreed. It was understood that the president would veto the bill, but if he finally decides he does not wish to approve it, may refuse his signature and make use of the "pocket veto."

Hearing Postponed.

Chicago, March 3.—Hearing on the government's suit against Albert C. Frost and five others charged with fraud in connection with Alaskan coal lands was postponed by Federal Judge Landis today until next Thursday.

Wife's Broken Heart Over Husband's Drinking

If you were to stay in the office of the Neal Institute a single day and answer the "phone calls and attend the door every time the door-bell rang, and met the wives and mothers and sisters and other loved ones who go there in the interest of their pitiful stories of drink, and the want and privation, sorrow and suffering and anguish that liquor had brought them, heard the piteous sobs of the broken-hearted wives as she tells of her little ones at home in want, and her husband downtown drinking, you would say "Surely the Neal Institute, next to the Church, was the greatest institution in the land. There, in just one day, all craving, desire and appetite for liquor is taken away, and the drinker restored to his wife and little ones a sober man, who then, and despoils all liquor. NOBODY DIES IN TIOVOLA

But Stork Paid Twenty-One Visits During Last Year.

Vital Statistics for County
Show No Signs of Race
Suicide.

The town of Tiovola, St. Louis county, gives the lie to all talk of race suicide. The vital statistics for that community show that during the year 1912 there were twenty-one births and not a single death. It is located in township 54-19 and 20.

While St. Louis county as a whole cannot approach the mark made by the Tiovolians, her record for 1912 shows that the births outnumber the deaths by 24 to 1. Vital statistics for the year for St. Louis county have been prepared by Dr. H. M. Bracken, secretary of the state board of health, and have been forwarded to J. P. Johnson, clerk of the district court, who will record them.

The report shows that during the year

just past there were 4,590 births and 1,359 deaths in the county, an increase in the population of 2,231 chargeable to the stork. In the city of Duluth, the number of births is given as 1,965 and the deaths 1,070. Some of the other cities, villages and towns are as follows:

	Births	Deaths
Chisholm, village	363	95
Ely, city	194	67
Hibbing, village	257	129
Proctor, village	14	10
Stuntz, town	137	32
Virginia, city	438	124

The town of Waasa, 60-14, reports thirteen births and no deaths during the year. In the towns of Beatty and French there were no births or deaths. In the village of Costin there were three births and no deaths. In the town of Fern no births and one death. The other towns in which no deaths were reported are Iron Junction, Northland and Knigler.

Ishpeming's Veteran Preacher.
Ishpeming, Mich., March 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. C. B. Kendall, now serving as temporary pastor of the Catholic Baptist church here, has the unique record of sixty years' service in the pulpit, and at the age of 77 is still active and capable of delivering a vigorous and interesting sermon.

Mr. Kendall first preached at the age of 17, and has occupied pulpits continuously ever since, although he retired from active church work a number of years ago, because of his advanced years.

Earl of Aberdeen to Resign.
London, March 2.—The earl of Aberdeen has decided to resign the lord lieutenantcy of Ireland, which he has held since 1907, according to the Globe today. He probably will be succeeded by Baron Ashby St. Lawrence, a cousin of Winston Spencer Churchill.

ENDS LIFE IN COUNTY JAIL

Prisoner Hangs Himself
With His Suspenders
in His Cell.

Preferred Death to Deportation to Old Home
in Finland.

Determined not to be deported, John Chop, 36 years old, a native of Finland, hanged himself with his suspenders from a bar of his cell in the county jail early this morning.

Chop was an insane suspect who was being held in the jail for the Federal authorities, who planned to send him back to Finland. He was brought down from Chisholm.

Although four other prisoners were confined in the cell with him, Chop succeeded in taking his life without awakening any of them. When the first of them roused himself at 6 o'clock, he found the suspended form of Chop's lifeless body. He was immediately taken down but was beyond all human aid.

Chop was single. His only relative in this country is said to be a brother residing in Duluth.

The body is at the undertaking rooms of Flood & Morgan, where it is being held pending funeral arrangements.

CLEANED ALONG THE POLICE RUN

A REPORTER'S
NOTE BOOK
BY X

After entering her from the family for whom she was working as a domestic, Catherine Scott, 19 years old, claims that Albert J. Mason lured her into the North Star lodging house across from the Union station on West Michigan street and attempted to accomplish her ruin last evening.

Only the interference of the people running the lodging house is said to have saved her from Mason's designs and their story corroborates in part that told by the young woman. Attracted by the struggles and screams of Miss Scott, they summoned the police and both were taken into custody. Mason was charged with indecent assault and both were taken into custody.

Miss Scott is a pretty young woman, tall and with flashing black eyes and dark hair. She was plainly but neatly clad.

She and Mason were playmates together when both their families lived in Grand Marais. Miss Scott's parents still reside in the small north shore town while Mason's family is now at Bayfield, through their former acquaintance they began to correspond and learned of one another's whereabouts.

Yesterday afternoon Miss Scott asserts that Mason came to the place where she was working to call upon her. She said that when he told her that he would take her to Bayfield to visit with his mother, unsuspecting, she packed her belongings in a grip and went with him.

Together she says that they made their way to the union station. There she claims that she gave Mason $4, all the money which she had with her, to buy tickets when he informed her that he did not have any cash with which to buy transportation.

After getting the money it appears that Mason went to the ticket window. When he came back he is alleged to have told her that there would be no train until about 8 o'clock. No train leaves at that time or about that time for Bayfield. In the meantime he made her wait in the union station.

Upon being told by him that it would be better to order the room alone and assigned to a common room alone and that it was some time before Mason entered.

Later in the evening the people conducting the place heard Miss Scott crying in the street. They went to the door and asked if they were married. Receiving an answer that they were not, the women, the questioners went away. The sound of her crying was heard at the door. It is claimed that they heard Mason promising her that he would marry her as soon as they got to Bayfield.

Satisfied that something was wrong they summoned a policeman and both of them were taken to headquarters. This morning Mason asked for an examination when arraigned in police court and his hearing was set for tomorrow morning.

William Cahill, bartender for J. J. Golt at 1222 West Superior street, was arrested Saturday on a charge of selling liquor on Sunday. He pleaded not guilty and will be tried tomorrow morning. The police say that Cahill was dispensing booze in a room over the saloon.

Edward Dunphy was arrested yesterday on a charge of selling liquor in the saloon of the Adelphi hotel at Superior street. He pleaded guilty in police court this morning and paid a fine of $100.

Anthony J. Amari was arrested Saturday afternoon on a charge of having stolen a watch from Ole T. Heston, Wednesday afternoon. The police say that Amari was dispensing booze in a room over the saloon.

Peter Van Dyke, the blind man, who sells pencils and shoe strings along Superior street, was picked up yesterday under the influence of liquor as he pleaded guilty and was set over until this afternoon for disposition.

Axel Sellin, a milkman, was arrested this morning on a charge of having stolen twelve bottles belonging to Bridgeman & Russell. He pleaded guilty and was given $15 and costs or ten days in the county jail. This is the second arrest in a week for the same offense.

The police found eight horses in an open box car near Garfield avenue Saturday night, unblanketed and unprotected from the cold. James Boyden of Montana says that he brought them here from the state to sell them. He said that they are mustangs used to wintering on the plains and that the state has no right to take them more than that to which they are accustomed. He alleged that the cold did not cause them any suffering.

The man who was taken by the police, in what was thought to be a dying condition, from his quarters at St. Luke's hospital and later transferred to the hospital at the poor farm, is recovering. His name is Richard Wells and that he was born in Michigan but in which town he is still unable to recollect. Wells, a big, strapping woodsman, was taken from the back room of a Bowery saloon, with a deep scalp wound over his forehead. The police surgeon dressed the wound

MINING GREAT SIMPLON TUNNEL

Can Be Exploded Twenty Miles Away If Occasion
Should Require.

Geneva, Switzerland, March 3.—The Italian government has joined the rest of the European continental powers in making military preparations as being increased by the Italian garrisons along the Swiss frontier and military engineers are engaged in building new forts commanding the passes from the mouth of the Simplon tunnel toward the north.

Chambers for mines have been excavated at the Italian entrance to the great Simplon tunnel and these have been fitted with secret electrical connections so that by pressing a button twenty miles away the tunnel can be shattered.

At the center of the Simplon tunnel there is a massive steel door which may be worked from either the Swiss or Italian side to block the passage of trains or troops.

SUIT AGAINST THREAD TRUST

Combine Dominated By British Company Is Attacked By Government.

Trenton, N. J., March 3.—The so-called thread trust was attacked by the Federal government in a civil anti-trust suit filed here today, seeking the dissolution of the trust and the removal of the "Coates interests" of Great Britain from the thread trust of the United States including that of the American Thread company, itself a combination of four American companies.

Under the domination of J. & P. Coates (Ltd.) of Great Britain, it is alleged that the interstate and foreign thread trade in this country has been restrained by combinations and unfair competitive methods. The court is asked to order the integration of all the combinations in this country controlled by the Coates into such units as will restore competition and to restrain the continuance of unfair competitive methods alleged.

The petition, signed by Attorney General McKim and James H. Fowler, assistant to the attorney general, was filed by United States Attorney Vreeland.

ment Bill.

Washington, March 3.—Governor Sulzer of New York was one of the first callers upon President Taft today at the White House. The governor had been invited to see the president sign the bill creating a department of labor and adding another member to the cabinet. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was with the governor.

The president, however, did not sign the bill. He said that he did not sign the bill because he did not want to approve the use of the "pocket veto."

Hearing Postponed.
Chicago, March 2.—Hearing on the government's suit against Albert C. Frost and five others charged with fraud in connection with Alaska coal lands was postponed by Federal Judge Landis today until next Thursday.

Wife's Broken Heart Over Husband's Drinking

If you were to stay in the office of the Neal Institute single day and answer the phone calls and attend the door every time the door-bell rang, and met the wives and mothers and sisters and other loved ones who go there in the interest of their drinking ones, and heard their pitiful stories of drink, and the want and privation, sorrow and suffering and anguish that liquor had brought them, heard the piteous sobs of the broken-hearted wife as she tells of her little ones at home in want, and her husband's downtown drinking, you would surely the Neal Institute, next to the church, was the greatest institution in the land.

There, in just three days, all craving, desire and appetite for liquor is taken away, and the drinker restored to his normal state. The man, who then hates and despises all liquor. Our booklet, "Three Days," giving full information is mailed on request, and in a plain sealed envelope. CROOKSTON'S NEW ACADEMY BLESSED WITH SOLEMN SERVICE

ST. JOSEPH'S ACADEMY, DEDICATED TO EDUCATION.

Crookston, Minn., March 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bishop Timothy Corbett of the Crookston diocese, assisted by other Catholic clergy of the diocese, yesterday conducted the solemn service of blessing the new St. Joseph academy, just completed. The exercises which were witnessed by a large throng began at 2 o'clock. Bishop Corbett, assisted by Rev. Father Wurm and Rev. Father Du Fault, priest and assistant priest of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, and Rev. Father Tappin of St. Anne's church. The procession consisting of the bishop and priests assembled in the academy chapel with attendants and proceeded through the entire building, blessing the walls and returned to the chapel where there was benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament with appropriate music.

There was a short program following this in the large academy auditorium consisting of music and short addresses and recitals by the students followed by an impressive address by Bishop Corbett.

He commended the Sisters of St. Joseph, who, a little band here, under the leadership of Sister Superior Jeanne, starting but a few years ago in a little leased studio, by perseverance and faithfulness had built up an institution which finally demanded the magnificent structure which had just been completed. He dwelt upon the danger and futility of education without religion if the young men and young women graduate was to be properly equipped for the stern duties of life. He referred to the fact that though the Cathedral high school was in the midst of but the second year the attendance was large, and the demand for education with religion was seen in the large enrollment of St. Joseph's academy 200, and the prospects of a capacity attendance in another year.

After the services there was a general inspection of the building. At the conclusion of the program students and audience joined in singing "Minnesota." This afternoon there was a general reception and this evening an elaborate program will be given in the academy auditorium, concluding with the dedication functions.

BOILER EXPLODES.

Locomotive Drawing Special Train to Washington Is Wrecked.

Philadelphia, March 3.—A locomotive drawing a special train carrying the Massachusetts national guard from New England to Washington for the inauguration, by the East Baltimore, N. J., on the Pennsylvania railroad at 3:20 a. m. Tuesday, and a fireman of the locomotive were badly injured but no passengers were hurt. Three of the four tracks were blocked, interfering with the inauguration traffic.

CASHIER TOO QUICK.

Wimbledon, N. D., March 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The carelessness of Cashier Stroud in sending a personal telegram frustrated the efforts of a swindler named Thompson of Newport, Ky. A. E. Darkenwald of this place, a director of the First National bank here, is spending the winter at Newport. In some way Thompson made his acquaintance and learned of his financial responsibility. A telegram was received here bearing Mr. Darkenwald's name, asking that $1,200 be wired to a Newport bank. Cashier Stroud did this but also sent a personal message to Mr. Darkenwald, who immediately suspected some crooked work and went to the bank. An officer was secured and when Thompson appeared to impersonate Darkenwald he was immediately arrested.

MILLER PUT UNDER FIRE

Charges Presented Against Attorney General of North Dakota.

Several Important Measures Are Killed By the House.

Bismarck, N. D., March 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charges were laid before the select committee of the house of representatives against Attorney General Andrew Miller by George A. Bangs of Grand Forks, and the information contained in the statement given the committee was used very largely in making up the report filed with the house today, so far as it affects that particular official.

The particular charges cited against Miller follow: That he entered into a contract with Stark county to prosecute the claim against four bonding companies for recovery of money embezzled from the county by J. S. White, former auditor, receiving $3,435.55 as fees, whereas the law expressly provides that the attorney general shall at all times be at the command of the state in matters of this nature; in other words, it is charged that he contracted with Stark county for a fee for his work, whereas the work in question came within his duties as attorney general.

That, subsequently, though under contract to appear for Stark county in all litigation arising out of the proceedings, he appears as attorney for a bonding company which has brought suit against the Northern Trust company of Stark county, seeking to have its claim against the Northern Trust company placed ahead of that of Stark county; this action growing out of discoveries of additional shortages of money paid from the Northern Trust company, contending that all claims against it were abrogated by original settlement.

That the attorney general, despite the fact that the law makes him the representative of the state in all litigation which may arise with corporations, appeared under the firm name of Miller & Zuger, the latter being an assistant attorney general, as attorney for the Western Union Telegraph company in an action in the Twelfth judicial district.

That C. L. Young, another assistant attorney general, drawing annual salary of $2,600, appeared as attorney for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway company in a law suit brought against it by the Aberdeen Brewing company, Mr. Young examining witnesses whose depositions were being taken.

That Andrew Miller, under the firm name of Miller & Costello, firm name of Miller & Lohr, and as Andrew Miller, received warrants from the state auditor for insurance on public buildings totaling $12,721.15. This in face of a law which prohibits public officers from acting in such capacity.

That in face of the law which makes him the attorney for the state in actions arising out of violations of the law by insurance companies.

That, though retained as attorney by corporations, he sits as a member of the board of equalization, is attorney for the board of railroad commissioners, is charged under a law of 1909 with conducting actions before the interstate commerce commission to determine the justice of grain freight rates, and that he also is charged with enforcement of the law regulating construction of "wyes" by railroads.

It is contended that the policy of engaging in private practice diminishes the efficiency of the work of the attorney general for the public. The bill of P. C. Heffron for prosecution of prohibition cases west of the Missouri river is contended to be avoidable, in that the attorney general, by giving all of his time to state work, would have had time to handle such work with a special assistant.

That at least one stenographer employed and paid by the state for the office of attorney general has been engaged in the downtown office of Miller & Costello under the instructions and command of Mr. Miller, and has been made use of for day and week at the time the work of the private practice of the attorney general and his assistants with whom he is in partnership.

That though the public examiner showed W. L. Stockwell to have been liable to the state for $12,721.15, the former general brought suit for the recovery of only $5,596.

It is killed by the house. Saturday was a fatal day for at least four important measures in the house. The bill providing for the construction of a new capitol went down with a small vote. The liquor inspection bill for which the prohibition forces have been making a determined fight for some time, failed to show the strength anticipated and was defeated. The Butler drug permit bill, which would have compelled judges to grant permits in cases where proper showing was made, met a like fate, while the good roads bonding measure also was killed.

The house appropriations committee killed the bill by Senator England which would have established the Mouse river fair at Kenmare.

When Senator Brown's woman suffrage bill is called up in the house there is little doubt that it will be passed.

Under a bill for a constitutional amendment, proposed by Senator Mudgett of Barnes county and passed by the upper house, all road and bridge tax collected from railroads would be distributed equitably among all civil townships of the county in which the tax is collected.

GUEST OF HONOR IS "ROASTED"

W. H. Smith Grilled By Speakers at Farewell Banquet in His Honor.

The dinner given by traffic men of the city—both wholesale houses and railroads—to W. H. Smith, retiring local freight agent of the Northern Pacific, on Saturday evening at the Commercial club, was a most pleasant occasion. About forty men interested in the transportation business, and all close friends of Mr. Smith, attended and before the close was reached C. F. Rowe, traffic manager of the Marshall-Wells Hardware company, in a very neat address presented Mr. Smith with a pair of cuff links with diamond settings. Previous to that a list of addresses

Heat that lightens labor

The coal question buries many homes in a mountain of labor and expense—for those who handle the shovel or pay the coal bills. This is due to old-fashioned heating methods from which the waste of energy and fuel mount up high. They hold house-owners, house-keepers and servants in bondage to excessive toil, and drain the family living fund. If your home is "in the dumps" this way, why not throw off the overwhelming handicap by putting in made in sizes for cottages, larger homes, churches, schools, hotels, stores, public buildings, etc. Our Ideal heating wonderfully lightens cleaning and care-taking.

AMERICAN & IDEAL RADIATORS & BOILERS

You have freedom from ash-dirt and soot in the rooms (which means less house labor), easy regulation, warm nights, early morning comfort and all day, with least work. This results from tested heat-making qualities of an IDEAL Boiler, plus the heat-distributing work of AMERICAN Radiators.

A No. 1-10 IDEAL Boiler and 240 sq. ft. of 38-in. AMERICAN Radiators, costing the owner $130, were used to heat this cottage. At this price the goods can be bought of any reputable, competent fitter. This did not include cost of labor, pipe, valves, freight, etc., which are extra and vary according to climatic and other conditions.

Large fire-chambers and air-mixing features of our boilers completely burn the coal gases (which in old-fashioned methods pass off unburned). The heat taken from the coal is quickly passed through AMERICAN Radiators, so correctly made inside and outside that they throw out a full supply of warmth in every room in spite of winds. IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators and our special heat controlling devices are all subject to same standards of accurate trial at our testing laboratories (a chain of exclusive heating laboratories in the United States, France and Germany), so that the complete IDEAL-AMERICAN outfit fully meets the most exacting demands of American and European standards of economy in coal saving and easy care-taking.

Be sure you get both IDEAL Boiler and AMERICAN Radiators—permit no substitutes of either; you then secure general tested efficiency in both heat-making and heat-distribution, rather than handicapping your outfit by inferior quality radiators, boiler, heat regulators or valves. Send for our valuable (free) booklet, "Ideal Heating," which points the way to lessen care-taking labor and coal-bills.

AMERICAN Radiators circulate heat in full volume, no noise or leak—easily controlled to use, or save heat.

A SUCCESSFUL STATIONARY VACUUM CLEANER AT LAST! Our scientific ARCO WAND Vacuum Cleaner has been successfully used under hard tests for two years in residences, churches, schools, hospitals, stores, hotels, public buildings, etc. Sets in basement; through iron suction pipe (running to each floor), light rubber hose and intake tools, all dirt, lint, insects and dust are drawn instantly to sealed bucket in machine. It cuts down room-cleaning work over four-fifths (also cleans clothes, furs, etc.). No heavy machine to lug; no risky step-ladder work; no after-dusting. (Residence sizes cost $225.00 up, at dealers, not including installation, piping and freight.) EASILY installed in OLD buildings. May we send new catalogue?

MIDLAND ROAD TO BE EXTENDED.

Cooperstown, N. D., March 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Midland Company, which is now in operation from Edgley to Jamestown, is to be extended 150 miles in North Dakota this summer, according to President Duncombe who recently spent some time here. He states that the material for thirty miles of this extension is already on the ground. There is some difference of opinion as to whether the line after leaving Jamestown will run via Wimbledon or Courtenay.

EXCITED AT CHANCE TO SEE PICTURES FREE

100 Duluth Children Will Be Guests of Herald at the Lyceum.

The same excitement that prevails whenever the announcement is made that a circus is coming to town has taken hold of the youth of Duluth over the prospect of getting to see free as guests of The Herald the wonderful motion pictures of the greatest wild animal hunt of modern times, which will be exhibited at the Lyceum all this week.

It seems as if every boy and girl in the city of Duluth must be trying to win a prize in the unique contest which is conducted to decide who are the 100 youngsters who can best answer the question: "Why are the Rainey pictures of wild animal life in Africa generally admitted to be the greatest contribution to natural science within the past decade?"

Parade Lasts Two Hours. It is rather a weighty question for youths to wrestle with, some one may say. Not at all, judging by the mass of answers which have come tumbling into this office. And some of the answers show deeper knowledge of the subject of Africa and its wild animals and strange people as well as of the possibilities of the cinematograph in such a rich field for photography than is possessed by other folk.

Everybody knows how the average boy, both young and old, will stand for hours, even if it be raining, upon the street curbs to see the circus parade. Well, in this instance he may roll back in a comfortable arm chair and watch a parade pass that will not be over for two solid hours, and meanwhile he will be told by a well posted and highly amusing lecturer more interesting facts about the "King of Beasts," the "Ship of the Desert," the "Greatest of all Mammals," the "Missing Link" and the other thousand and one strange animals and even stranger people that the very heart of the jungle than he could glean from all the text books published.

It is unquestionably going to be a gala event for the lucky youngsters who attend an exhibition of the remarkable motion pictures of Paul J. Rainey's African Hunt.

The Rules: 1. Address your letter to The Rainey Picture Editor, The Herald.

2. Do not write a letter of more than one hundred words, and upon only one side of the page. Tell why you think the Rainey pictures are of educational value.

3. Mail, or bring your letter so that it will be received at this office not later than tomorrow noon.

The Prizes: One hundred reserved seats to be given free to the boys and girls who write the best letters. Write your name and address plainly.

SPEEDS OVER ICE ON LAKE SUPERIOR

Motor Iceboat Goes Sailing Through Canal and Makes Circle on Lake.

Fritz Ericson, inventor of the 40-horse power Demon III ice boat yesterday made a successful trip through the Duluth ship canal, carrying with him four passengers.

The ice boat encircled a course of two miles out on the ice of the lake, making the trip at a speed of about forty miles an hour.

The trip across the ice in the canal was regarded as rather hazardous owing to the thinness of the ice, but it was made in safety. A crowd of about 100 watched the getaway.

Besides Mr. Ericson those who were on the boat were F. Collins of Elvabik, N. M. Smith of this city and two other passengers.

CHORUS WILL TOUR EUROPE

Finnish-Americans of Duluth and the Range to Sing Abroad.

Concerts Arranged in Finland and Other Countries on Continent.

Prof. Sanfrid Mustonen, well known in local musical circles, returned yesterday from Virginia, where he completed the organization of a chorus of Finnish-Americans of Duluth and the range country. The chorus consists of thirty-six voices and has been organized for the purpose of making a tour of Europe in the summer, advertising Duluth and the surrounding country. The itinerary will include Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Finland, in which countries twenty-eight concerts will be given. The longest sojourn in any one country will be in Finland, and will give twenty entertainments. The program will all be largely composed of American patriotic songs.

The traveling party will include not only the chorus itself, but a large number of other Finnish-Americans. Prof. Mustonen has received letters from about 200 Finnish residents of Minnesota and Michigan, expressing a desire to accompany the party. The committee in charge of the trip consists of R. Granquist, William Ohman, Fred Johnson, M. Sundberg, and Dr. E. Nyquist. Plans for the affair have been under consideration for the last two years.

The party will leave Duluth on June 1 and will sail from New York on June 5. Before sailing, the chorus will give concerts at Duluth, on the range in the Twin Cities and at Chicago and New York. The concert at Chicago is for June 2, and that at New York for June 4.

SUBSTANTIAL SALES OF LUMBER MADE

While lumber manufacturers and brokers are inclined to regard the local season as dull, there is said to be considerable selling in this vicinity recently. The report of a substantial sale to Eastern buyers has just been confirmed. It included 7,000,000 feet of No. 2 spruce and better, 1,000,000 feet of spruce, 1,000,000 feet of 5-quarter No. 3 common, and 500,000 feet of 10-inch No. 3. It is also stated that the purchasers have an option on an additional 1,000,000 feet of spruce, half of which has practically been closed up on.

In a district lumbermen who have been getting out timber for the coming season's mill supply have been favored with good weather. Those of the contractors who have had steady crews will be able to show a neat balance for the winter's work.

PROGRAM FOR Y. M. C. A. "POP"

Considerable interest is being taken in the volley ball game to be played at the "pop" Tuesday night between two teams captained by M. F. Jamar and Sidney Johnson. The purpose of the contest is to select a team to represent the Duluth Y. M. C. A. against the Leavenworth Y. M. C. A. in the near future.

The lineup will be as follows: S. Mortrud, capt. M. F. Jamar, capt. C. F. Coleman, George Ebert, G. A. Anderson, C. R. Carmen, Dr. E. A. Craven.

Following the volley ball game, Axel Leander will present an exhibition on the slack wire. Mr. Tavine has perfected his work in this line, and his work above the wire ordinarily presented by the amateur.

As a part of the musical program a piano quartet will be played by Misses Flancia Ellson and Elsie Hallows, first piano and Ruby May Krause and Ethel Mollitor, second piano. They will play the "Purcell March" from "Tannhauser," by Wagner. The Y. M. C. A. orchestra will also present several selections.

ALOOFNESS UNCHRISTIAN

In his sermon yesterday morning on "The House by the Side of the Road," Rev. William Forney Hovis, pastor of the Endion Methodist church, declared that money is nothing in the sight of God, but that spirit is all in the matter of greatness.

He condemned the "religious ascetic" and the "aristocratic fool" who refuse to mingle with other people, and declared that such fanaticism is in direct violation of the spirit of God, who is in closest contact with the people.

RESULT OF FAILURE TO OBEY COMMANDS

Rev. Charles N. Thorp, pastor of Pilgrim Congregational church, preached at the vesper service yesterday afternoon on "A Famous Wedding."

He spoke of the wedding at which Jesus turned water into wine. He pointed out the absolute obedience of the servants whom Jesus told to fill the stone water pots to the brim, and then carry the newly made wine to the feastmaster and guests. He declared that many today fill the pots only partly, and expect the same results as though the orders were fully obeyed. Said he: "We fail to bear Christ's blessings to others and wonder why His power is not more widely felt."

THINKS DIAZ WILL RETURN TO MEXICO

That Don Porfirio Diaz, the exiled former president of Mexico, will return very soon to his country, either as a ruler or as an adviser to take part in settling the affairs of the turbulent country is the opinion of J. E. Hauter, religious work director of the Duluth Y. M. C. A., who lived three years in Mexico and still has relatives living there.

Mr. Hauter today remarked that three years ago, when Madero organized the rebellion that drove Diaz from the country, Mexico had enjoyed thirty-five years of prosperity under the Diaz regime. The Mexicans were tired of peace and eager to fight. They craved bloodshed. They are now eager, however, as Mr. Hauter sees the situation, to return to a state of peace and prosperity, having had enough bloodshed.

Mr. Hauter said both Madero and Huerta had tried to rule along the same lines as Diaz had done, but they did not have his strength of character or the personal qualities to inspire confidence. Porfirio Diaz ruled as a monarch with a hand of iron and the people would be glad to see him back.

Mr. Hauter thinks that Felix Diaz, who was chief of police of Mexico city, felt that Madero was not strong enough to conduct the government and therefore led the revolt. Either Felix or Porfirio Diaz, Mr. Hauter believes, will soon be elected president of Mexico.

FIFTY GROCERS TO ATTEND MEETING

Duluth Will Be Well Represented at Minneapolis Convention.

Fifty Duluth grocers will attend the annual state convention of the Minnesota Retail Grocers' association which will open tomorrow morning at Minneapolis. Twenty of this number will be regularly elected delegates and the remainder will be "boosters." The crowd will leave for the Twin Cities this evening.

"The High Cost of Living" will be the topic for discussion at this year's annual meeting. The Duluth delegates will make an effort to land the next meeting for Duluth. George H. Schulenberg, former president of the Duluth association, will be a candidate for president of the association. He is now vice president.

The elected delegates from Duluth are: M. R. Bush, president of the Duluth association; George M. Peterson, secretary; John Molr, treasurer; Edward Stange, Alf Loken, A. M. McEwen, C. B. Nunan, Joseph Gauthier, Herman Olson, H. Thatcher, J. E. Ross, David Olson, T. W. Cumming, J. S. Foubister, G. A. Hjerpe, J. N. Lent, J. O. Johnson, N. Logan, John Logan and Mr. Schulenberg.

TWO MORE LABOR LEADERS RELEASED

Tveitmo and Clancy Are Out on Bonds of $60,000.

Leavenworth, Kan., March 2.—Olat Tveitmo and Edgar Clancy, both of San Francisco, two of the labor leaders convicted at Indianapolis in the dynamite conspiracy trial, were released upon bonds from the Federal prison here last night.

The order of the court for the release of the men was brought here by Edward Nickels, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, and at 10:30 o'clock Tveitmo and Clancy were free. An hour later the two in company with Nickels left for Chicago.

Nickels, Tveitmo and Clancy would discuss their cases. Tveitmo, who is secretary of the Iron Workers International Trade Union, said that after two weeks in Chicago he and Clancy would return to California.

"I have no regrets for the past and no fears for the future," he said, "and am going back to devote myself to helping vindicate labor of this charge."

He said that all of the men imprisoned with him were treated well at the prison.

"In fact," he said, with a smile, "the prosecution seemed to end when we entered the prison doors."

He said that neither he nor Clancy would attend the Indianapolis convention. Clancy formerly was vice president of the Iron Workers International organization.

With the release of the two yesterday, sixteen of the convicted labor leaders are out on bonds and sixteen remain in prison. This does not include Herbert S. Hookin, who did not make application with the others for the writ of superdenance.

Next to Frank M. Ryan, who was sentenced to seven years, Tveitmo and Clancy, given six years, were among the half dozen of the convicted men receiving the longest terms.

The bond upon which they were released were $60,000 each.

BANQUET BY THE ERICSSON LEAGUE

Twenty-Five Duluth Members Will Attend Dinner in Minneapolis.

About twenty-five Duluth members of the John Ericsson Republican league of Minnesota will attend the annual banquet of the league to be held at the West hotel in Minneapolis next Saturday evening.

William A. Anderson, deputy registrar of titles for St. Louis county, is president of the league. Dr. J. J. Erickson is vice president for the Eighth congressional district and Andrew Hornstrom, deputy state factory inspector, is a member of the executive committee.

The banquet next Saturday evening is expected to be one of the greatest in the history of the league. Light Governor J. A. Burnquist of St. Paul will be toastmaster. The list of speakers includes W. A. Anderson, Dr. A. F. Elmquist of Minneapolis, John Olson of Wisconsin, Governor A. O. Eberhart and Harry Swenson of Minneapolis.

E. L. Erickson of St. Paul is in charge of the program and he says that it will be one of the best the league has ever had. People will attend the banquet from all parts of the state and the gathering will be a notable one.

The executive committee will hold a meeting before the banquet and make plans to complete the raising of funds for a statue of John Ericsson on the capitol grounds at St. Paul. A large part of the fund has already been raised.

The Duluth visitors to the banquet will make an effort to secure the 1914 meeting for Duluth. The banquet was held in Duluth last year.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS HOLD MOCK TRIAL

The LaSalle Literary society of the Cathedral high school is conducting a mock trial of six of its members on the charge of plural voting at the quarterly election held by the society on Feb. 14. It is expected that the cases will be finally determined at the next meeting of the society next Friday afternoon.

The defendants are Frank Doherty, Cletus Lee, George Walker, Walter Althaus, Edward Anderson and Peter Heluski. Brother John is acting as Tumulty to Get $7,500.

Washington, March 3.—A salary of $7,500 a year for Joseph E. Tumulty, who will be President-elect Wilson's secretary, was assured yesterday when the house agreed to accept the senate amendment to the general deficiency bill fixing that amount, instead of the $6,000 originally proposed.

May Pay Fine and Go Free.

Washington, March 3.—President Taft has commuted to the fine and costs the sentence of Charles R. Hulke, secretary and treasurer of the American Sugar Refining company, of eight months in the New York county penitentiary and a fine of $5,000. Hulke was convicted of conspiracy to defraud the United States in effecting entry of dutiable sugar at less than its true cost.

MAN LIVES HALF HOUR WITH THREE BULLETS IN HIS BODY

Section Hand, Bent on Suicide, Shows Remarkable Vitality.

Wounds End Life Only After Bloody Death Struggle.

With one bullet in his brain, one through his heart, and one just below the heart, Carl S. Peterson, suicide, thrashed about his room like a madman for half an hour before dying Friday evening.

Peterson, a section hand, shot himself three times at his boarding house near Saginaw, about 6:30 o'clock Friday. The particulars were not available until an employee of the Crawford morgue reached the city with the body Saturday afternoon.

Any of the three shots would have been fatal. In ninety-nine cases out of 100 any one of them would have resulted in almost instant death.

Peterson, a section hand, was in the room for thirty minutes, with the blood pouring from the wounds in his temple and heart, his muddled, crazed dashing and tumbling, he smashed chairs, overturned tables, and tore at the carpet and bed. Only a miracle saved him from overturning the lighted lamp and firing the big frame boarding house.

The remarkable exhibition of vitality is unparalleled in the annals of the coroner's office of St. Louis county. Life clung to him despite his frantic determination to die. Even after firing the third shot he tried to clutch the revolver from the bed to send still other deadly shots into his body.

No reason is known for the deed. Peterson had worked on the section for several years, coming to the country with Robert Carlson, the proprietor of the boarding house, from Sweden. He had lived with Carlson steadily at Saginaw, a small station on the D. & M. & E. He was single.

Room Is Gory Sight.
The room in which Peterson ended his life was a mass of blood. The bed, carpet and walls were red. The floor was so soaked that those who went into the room left bloody footprints along the hall and down the stairway when they left it.

No one had the slightest idea that Peterson intended to commit suicide. He helped the landlady set the table, as was his usual custom, ate his supper without saying anything to edify, any indication of his intentions, and retired to his room about 6 o'clock. A few minutes later Carlson heard a shot.

Rushing upstairs he saw Peterson on the bed with a bullet hole through the right temple and the revolver clutched in his hand. To all appearances he was dead.

Grabbing his hat Carlson ran out, called a doctor and returned to find Peterson still on the bed. Outside the door he met a man coming to visit. Carlson told him what had happened and the man went into the house. Starting for Peterson's room he was just entering the door when he heard two more shots in quick succession. Jumping to the door he then saw Peterson was on the floor, flinging himself about and kicking and striking. The revolver was on the bed. Crawling to its side he grabbed for the weapon but could not find it. The revolver was on the bed. Peterson continued to kick and strike. He was nearly half an hour. Exhausted from loss of blood he crawled to the door, stretched himself on the floor and died.

The body is being held at the underlying room of J. L. Crawford pending funeral arrangements.

WONDER CITY OF WISCONSIN
Absurd Stories About Carnegie Given Publicity By Chicago Tribune.

Says 1,500 Men Will Be Working There By Spring.

Again, "Carnegie," the so-called "wonder city of Wisconsin" gets a fresh dose of overly enthusiastic publicity and is again being heralded as the country's "wonder city."

The first time was in 1911, when a land concern of this city sent through the mails circulars and booklets picturing the townsite of Carnegie, on the Wisconsin side of the river from the steel plant, as the city of "big things."

The story that the picture had to be toned down slightly after the postal authorities commenced an investigation.

The second outbreak occurred last week through a news story published under date of Feb. 26, in the Chicago Daily Tribune. The contents of the story make excellent publicity stuff for the land company it mentions, but is about as far off from the actual truth in the matter as it possibly could be.

From the article it would appear that the Minnesota steel plant is being built in Wisconsin, instead of on the Minnesota side of the river. The story states that Carnegie will have 50,000 inhabitants by the end of the year.

The reported sale of a $3,000,000 tract of land from the United States Steel corporation to the Great Lakes Steel company, which operates in Carnegie, is emphatically branded as an absurdity by local officials of the Minnesota Steel company.

We have seen that story. It is a "surprise" near the comment which came from George L. Helt, vice president of the Minnesota Steel company, at his office in the Wolvin building this morning.

The Great Lakes Land company, which is mentioned in the story is a St. Paul concern of which J. J. O'Connor is president. Mr. O'Connor has denied the story. The article is reprinted from the Chicago paper as follows:

"A deal by which the Great Lakes Land company of St. Paul, Minn., acquires a $3,000,000 tract of land on the St. Louis river, was effected yesterday between officers of the land company and two representatives of the United States Steel corporation in the offices of Miss Frances E. Spooner, an attorney in City Hall Square building. She acted as attorney of record.

The land purchase, paid $2,250,000 down. The land purchased comprises fourteen townships, 32,500 acres, near the mouth of the Wisconsin river, a short distance of Duluth, Minn., and Superior, Wis. The land is to be used for a plan similar to that adopted when it was sold to the United States for an outlay for the city which now consists of a railway station and a hotel, is to be $25,000,000.

Milk Working in Spring.
The United States Steel corporation expects to have 1,500 men working in Carnegie in the milk by spring. At the end of the year, the company thinks 60,000 inhabitants, the companies think.

"Already the United States Steel corporation has invested $2,000,000 in foundations for their plant, and subsidiary buildings, located heavily in the district, following the Steel corporation's lead.

The Wisconsin Car company intends to put in a $2,000,000 plant and the American Steel and Wire corporation is to have a $10,000,000 plant.

Other Companies Coming.

Members at a conference received a dispatch from St. Paul that the St. Paul Car companies were to invest in a $2,000,000 plant. Other companies to have mills are the Standard Oil, the American Locomotive company.

J. J. O'Connor, vice president of the land company, R. C. Carlock, vice president and general sales manager; H. M. Hokeness, secretary and treasurer; and A. E. Doyle, manager of the Chicago branch of the land company, were present at the $2,000,000 transaction."

NELSON COUNTY HAS SECURED FARMERS.
Lakota, N. D., March 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Nelson county has secured a trainload of actual farmers from the vicinity of Woodson, Ill. They have purchased homes in this county through a local agency and all have their own stock and machinery. They are practical men who will greatly assist in building up this locality.

CIVIL WAR VETERANS ARE INVITED TO BIRTHDAY FEAST

John H. La Vaquer, civil war veteran and one of Duluth's "old boys," has invited his comrades in Culver post, G. A. R., to help him celebrate his sixty-eighth birthday, which comes this week.

He has planned a dinner for them on Friday evening and has asked them to come and bring along their reminiscences. Mr. La Vaquer's birthday anniversary falls on Tuesday, March 4, but he has planned the dinner for Friday evening.

The invitations which he mailed out to his old soldier friends Saturday read as follows:

On the 4th instant I am in hopes of reaching the sixty-eighth mile-post in my march of life, not only the spiritual allotment of human life, "Three score years and ten," but also the material one, "I am conserving my forces and will in due time, upon the orders of the Great Commander, enter into the final conflict, but not yet. Being thankful for the long journey so successfully passed over, I invite my comrades of Culver post, G. A. R., to make merry with me on Friday, March 7, 1913, at 6:30 p. m., to dine with me at that hour, to recount the occurrences of the past and to make merry generally upon that occasion, remembering the roads traveled over during 1861-1865. Bring along your reminiscences, mood, and you come? Your comrade,
JOHN H. LA VAQUER,

BRIEF INTERVIEWS WITH ZENITH CITY VISITORS

Believes in Virginia.
AROLD GRIGGS, manager of the electric lighting and power plant of Virginia, at the St. Louis exposition, stated that Virginia was not only one of the best of the growing towns in the country, but that it was the best of its kind in the country and more promising than any other community.

The Ruction in Mexico.
T. SMITH comes back from Cananea, Mexico, with the news that the Mexicans are fighting among the Mexicans in Cananea, a local issue, and that in the event of the Americans in Mexico City paying strict attention to their own little affairs, there is not the least danger in the world of the people of this country being molested.

Canadian Cities Booming.
GEORGE HORNE of Port William, who is a Spalding guest at his office here, stated that there is nothing that can prevent the two cities at the Canadian Head of the Lakes from becoming two of the largest of the Canadian cities.

Shelters for Game.
MITH RILEY of the United States Forest Service, who has been making an inspection of the Minnesota forest reserves, was in Duluth yesterday on his way to inspect the game shelters at the Spalding. He was a guest at the Spalding.

Mr. Riley visited the reserves near Cass Lake and Ely. In speaking of the Minnesota forests, he said: "I have never seen either the Minnesota forest reserves or the Superior reserve except in winter, but I have taken in the winter the attraction which they must have for summer visitors seeking the close-to-nature life." "I judge that the percentage of land suitable for agriculture in the Superior reserve, which is also a game preserve, will be found to be small. Even after the timber that may be removed under the law is gone it will still be a forest and afford the same plenty of shelter and conditions as the animals are accustomed to.

Mr. Riley makes his headquarters at Denver.

"Down at Cananea we understood perfectly well that the Mexicans were coming with no ulterior motive in view, we would be welcomed. But he also stated that if the lower class of the Mexicans got it into their heads that exploitation was to be made of the situation, they would surely be a lot of trouble stirred up."

Mr. Riley stated that the government down there is simply one huge graft, and if you believe even half of the stories you hear.

Concerning the killing of the late president, Down there in Mexico one hears of many rumors and under current of gossip. Out at Cananea there was less of the kind of talk. It was said that would imagine, the work going on unabated.

At the Calumet-Sonora mine is progressing very well and the mine looks in very fine condition."

PETITION IS ACCEPTED

Late Hour of Filing Does Not Invalidate C. S. Wilson's Nomination.

Mr. Wilson on Way to Panama and May Not Formally Accept.

The closing hours of the filing period for the city election April 1 developed no surprise. The complete list of candidates shows sixty-five aspirants for municipal office. Eleven are candidates for mayor, ten for commissioners for the long term, thirty-eight for commissioners for the short term, two for special municipal judge and three for assistant municipal judge.

Though the petition nominating Corvate S. Wilson for mayor was presented to City Clerk C. S. Palmer at 4:15 Saturday afternoon, which is after the customary hour for closing the office, the petition must be accepted, according to an opinion given by City Attorney C. S. Carmichael today.

There is still some question as to whether Mr. Wilson's name will go on the ballot. His acceptance must be filed by 12 o'clock today. Wilson sailed Saturday for Panama, not to return to New Orleans until March 18. Henry V. Wright, who filed Mr. Wilson's petition, said today he would know by tomorrow whether Mr. Wilson's acceptance will be available for filing.

No Official Closing Time.
In instructing the city clerk to accept Mr. Wilson's petition, Mr. Carmichael said:

"There is no provision in our state law or our charter that the office of the city clerk must be closed 'officially' at any given time. This great city has adopted an admirable system of nomination of candidates for the city government. It is a system which should be given to permit the electors of the city of Duluth to make a far better choice in nomination. The object of elections is to ascertain the popular will and not to thwart it. The object of election laws is to secure the rights of the duly qualified electors, and not to defeat them. This must be borne in mind in the construction of such a provision in our charter, and it is presumed that such a provision in our charter as above referred to is enacted to prevent fraud and to secure freedom of choice, and not by technical objections to make a person's name in nomination insecure."

P. E. Dowling, candidate for mayor, issued his platform Saturday night, declaring for tax fares for a quarter on the street railway, the elimination of the special interests from the government of the city, the improvement of railroad service, impartial treatment of saloon keepers, the development of open markets and efficiency in city government.

Mr. Dowling called attention to his platform to his experience as a member of the legislature and as mayor of Duluth, and as mayor of Duluth.

The first meeting of the Socialist campaign will be held at the Duluth Heights fire hall Wednesday evening, with Richard Jones and Morris Kaplan, candidates for mayor, as speakers. W. E. Towne, candidate for commissioner for the long term, will preside.

The Socialists are preparing for a vigorous campaign on behalf of the candidates whom they have endorsed. At least one meeting will be held every day during the campaign. The campaign committee consists of Richard Jones, press; A. Allenow, finance; W. E. Towne, printing; and Max Holder, meetings and speakers. A small weekly paper will be issued during the campaign to further the cause of the Socialist candidates.

ST. PETER WOMAN SAW MEXICAN FIGHT.
St. Peter, Minn., March 3.—A St. Peter woman, Mrs. H. L. Eisenhart, was an eye-witness to a desperate fighting between the forces of Madero and Diaz in the City of Mexico. Her mother, Mrs. Christine Perry, received a letter which was written by Mrs. Eisenhart while the battle was at its height.

Catch Fleeting Horse Thief.
Sherwood, N. D., March 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Stalling a team and a buggy from a livery stable at Palmer, S. D. South was captured before he could get across the international boundary line. He stopped with a farm near Kamsa and offered to sell the outfit at such a ridiculously low price that suspicion was created. After he left the farmer telephoned to different towns and learned of the thief. South was arrested.

A store whose greatest asset is its long list of satisfied customers!

OUR HALF PRICE SALE was successfully terminated on Saturday, March 1st. From now on there will be a steady preparation and a preparedness for our spring and summer trade coupled with an earnest effort to get in closer touch with all our customers.

At present we are redecorating our main and second floors. We believe that a new color scheme will present a better and more impressive background for display purposes and thus allow our customers a closer and more satisfying inspection of our merchandise.

When the changes now being made are completed, we will have in all 70,000 square feet of floor space. Every available foot of this tremendous space will soon be filled to overflowing with seasonable displays of attractive merchandise. All duplicate stock and hold orders will be stored as before in our spacious Michigan street warehouse so that our entire store can be devoted to displaying goods.

This year will find us a bigger, better store than ever before with unlimited facilities for catering to the wants of our most critical customers.

Hearing on Teigen Bill, Prohibiting Trade in Futures.

Board of Trade Will Be Represented at St. Paul Tuesday.

The grain and warehouse committee of the Minnesota house of representatives will hold a public hearing Tuesday evening in the state capitol at St. Paul on the Teigen bill for the abolition of trading in grain and stock futures.

For some time it has been a foregone conclusion that the Duluth board of trade would be represented at this meeting in opposition to this bill, but up to a late hour today no one could tell just who was going to St. Paul to represent the board.

The Teigen bill prohibits sales of grain or other commodities or corporate stocks on margins or options in certain cases. The bill reads as follows:

"Section 1. All contracts hereafter made in this state for the sale of any grain, other commodity, or any share of the capital stock of any corporation on margin or option, to be delivered at a future day, shall be deemed gambling contracts and shall be absolutely void, and all persons who have or may have recovered in any court having jurisdiction, unless the contract is in writing and under seal at the time of making the same the seller owns and has in his possession, at a place to be designated in the contract of sale, the grain, commodity or corporate stock which is the subject of the contract, shall be deemed to have committed a misdemeanor; and any member of commerce or board of trade who permits any contract in violation of this act to be made directly or indirectly by him or by any agent or agent of any such corporation who has or may have recovered in any court shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and any member of commerce or board of trade who permits any contract in violation of this act to be made directly or indirectly by him or by any agent or agent of any such corporation who has or may have recovered in any court shall be deemed to have committed a misdemeanor."

OVERDOING THE CONSERVATISM.

It was expected that there would be a tendency toward conservatism in the state senate when the question of the initiative and referendum came up. In some respects that expectation has been gratifyingly disappointed. But there is still one spot in which it has cropped out in serious form, and that is in the proposal that petitions initiating any measure must be signed in one-half the counties of the state.

The idea back of this move is easily understood. It is that such a restriction would insure more general interest in the measure. But the idea is being carried beyond the bounds of good judgment. A much better provision is that in the bill passed by the house, in which signers in only ten counties are required to initiate legislation.

The ten county provision is immeasurably preferable to the other. The initiative petition is intended only as a means of proposing legislation, not enacting it. And it is fully as conservative to allow a percentage of voters in ten counties to propose a law as it is to allow one man, representing from ten to twenty thousand people, to do so at his own discretion, as is now the case.

As the ten county plan for the initiative is none too low. Better keep on that basis and have the initiative practical, than enlarge the requirements and imperil the effectiveness and value of the system.

So long, Bill; take care of yourself!

A DOUBTFUL VICTORY.

Great as is the rejoicing in prohibition circles over the passage by congress, over the president's veto, of the Webb-Kenyon bill, that action can be regarded as only a partial victory until the supreme court shall have passed on the constitutionality of the new law. For that it will be taken before the supreme court is unquestioned. What standing it is impossible to find in that tribunal it is impossible to determine. Some of the highest recognized legal authorities at the national capital have pronounced the measure unconstitutional, and it is an open question whether the supreme court will view it in the same light.

Aside from the question of constitutionality, the new law has much to recommend it. Our whole system of government is founded on the principle of rule by the majority, with the sovereign states constituting separate units in questions affecting their own people. It is acknowledged that any state a majority of whose voters desire has the power to prohibit the sale or transportation of liquor within its borders. But the efforts to enforce that right have been made abortive by the shipment into the states of liquor from outside, under the protection and sanction of the national government. It was to do away with this system of undermining prohibition that the Webb-Kenyon law was drafted.

Should the new act be upheld on appeal, it will mean that a state whose people vote for prohibition will have the assistance of the Federal government in enforcing that principle, instead of having to work under the disadvantage of being forced to wink at virtual violations of the law that have Federal protection and sanction. This will mean that prohibition in the "dry" states will come nearer actually prohibiting than it ever has done before.

But it is claimed that the new law will interfere with the freedom of interstate commerce and with individual rights, and that it will therefore not stand the test of judicial consideration. This is the view President Taft took in his veto, and it is also the view that was entertained by other eminent lawyers.

It is idle to consider the purposes of the members of congress who voted for the bill. The president was clearly right in vetoing it; since he regarded it as an unlawful assumption of authority by congress. Perhaps, as has been suggested in some quarters, some congressmen who voted to pass it over the veto did so in the hope of "getting solid" with the prohibitionists, believing that their action would be nullified by the courts.

One thing only is certain: That the battle now has been transferred to the field of the judiciary, and that it probably will be even more bitter there than it has been in congress. How it will terminate, none can say.

At present the victory of the prohibition element is, to say the least, doubtful.

It would help solve the battleship problem if the country could demand that the money to pay for a big navy must be raised by subscription among the members of congress.

WE ARE NOT!

Why is it that so many people are unable to see the true character and effect of the adoption of the system of initiative, referendum and recall into our methods of government? Here is the Preston, Minn., Times, with this observation about the probability of the indorsement of those methods in our state government:

We are drifting away from representative government and a government by parties, twin institutions which have been large factors in making this the grandest country on earth.

In spite of the bluntness of the denial, it is necessary to inform the Times that we are NOT drifting away from representative government. On the contrary, we are getting away from misrepresentative government and traveling toward the assurance that our government shall be really representative.

The Times, like some other members of the state press, should look more closely into the operation of these three systems before it makes any such criticism of them. Their adoption does not do away with the representative form; only supplements it.

We have had instances in our own state history within recent years when we could have used them to advantage. On the reapportionment question, for example, had we had the privilege of the initiative, it would not have been necessary to wait for tardy legislative action to secure just distribution of representatives at St. Paul; or waiting in vain for reapportionment because of the failure of the legislature to make it even after a bill had been introduced, the referendum could have been invoked and the injustice remedied. And with the recall it would have been within the power of the people to punish those legislators who refused to abide by their oath of office.

"Drifting away from representative government?" Bosh! We are only putting into action the means of insuring that representative government shall be representative. That is the sole purpose and effect of the initiative, referendum and recall. And if the Times will only study the subject ever so little it will see that such is the case.

Anyhow, you've got to admit that the Mexicans know how to keep things interesting.

THE RIGHT SOLUTION.

President-elect Wilson is reported to have expressed himself in favor of the repeal of the no-tolls clause of the Panama canal bill. This is promising, and it is the right solution of the difficulty in which we are at present involved with Great Britain.

Of course Mr. Wilson's say-so does not insure the repeal of that clause. He will have to deal with congress in securing such action, and congress may not be willing to take the same view of the question that he does. There are almost sure to be some members who will insist on sticking to the declaration of the Baltimore platform in favor of remission of tolls to American coastwise trade, though that plank of the platform has since been found to be in flat contradiction of the declaration in the same document against subsidies.

But Mr. Wilson's attitude at least assures the country that the reply of this nation to the latest note from London, a reply which will be sent by the Wilson government, will be of a very different tone from those which Secretary Knox has transmitted on the same question.

So whatever attitude the new congress may assume, the stigma of having the head of the United States government seeking to evade our treaty obligations will be removed. And since the Wilson solution of the difficulty is the right solution, it is to be hoped that congress will adopt that solution.

Positively the last call for guesses on the cabinet!

THE FRIEDMANN TESTS.

Nothing more reassuring has been done in connection with the Friedmann system of treatment of tuberculosis than the decision to furnish treatments to a large number of afflicted persons. They will begin to-day in New York city, and will be extended to 5,000 tubercular persons. Most significant of all, no payment will be required from those unable to make payment for the service.

As a result of many widespread rumors, some severe criticism has been leveled at Dr. Friedmann. He has been accused of seeking to make a private fortune out of the proceeds of a discovery that, if it proves authentic, "should be thrown open to the whole human race." In spite of the naturalness of such a feeling, there is something to be said for the other side of the question. After devoting many years of unremitting study to the search for a cure for tuberculosis, Dr. Friedmann assuredly is entitled to some personal benefit from the proceeds of his discovery, should it prove to be all that is claimed for it. Such labor is entitled to substantial reward. It is not as if the doctor had made the find by accident.

But this offer of free treatment to the needy, even during the period of test for the already famous serum, removes the stigma of self-seeking. There are plenty of persons well able to pay a high price for the treatment, and who would be glad to do so, even in the present uncertainty as to its efficiency. But Dr. Friedmann has not seen fit to avail himself of that opportunity to enrich himself while the world waits. Confident that he has actually found a remedy for the dread white plague, he is willing that it be tested without great financial returns to himself. And this must be accepted not alone as a proof of confidence, but as evidence that the whole world is to have the benefit of his work.

Meanwhile the tests now being conducted at New York will be watched with the most intense interest in every part of the civilized world, in the hope that the great white plague has at last been conquered and science thus has added to its already incalculable account in the interests of mankind.

Now that the English suffragettes have had to appeal to the police for protection, they will be a little more ready to sympathize with the cabinet ministers.

A $9,000,000 GOAT.

Some months ago, when the coal miners were granted an increase of 5 cents a ton in their wages, it was predicted that Mr. Consumer would have to pay the difference.

"All right," said Mr. Consumer. "As long as those fellows who dig out the coal get the money, I'm willing to pay that much more for what I burn."

A few weeks later it was announced that there would be a raise of 25 cents a ton in the price of coal. Mr. Consumer scratched his head and did a little calculating, but he couldn't see just how that was logical. So he asked the Coal Barons:

"Why, it's perfectly clear," the Coal Barons said. "Don't you see? The miner gets his 5 cents a ton, and the other 20 cents is to make up for the awful scarcity of coal we are going to see this year on account of the strike. It's a calculation that involves a lot of technicalities, or you'd see it at once."

So Mr. Consumer paid the extra 25 cents and said nothing—out loud. Awhile ago came the announcement from the United States geological survey that more coal had been mined in this country during the last year than ever before. This didn't quite agree with what Mr. Consumer had been told, but he thought of all those technicalities and said nothing. Perhaps there wasn't so much of a discrepancy as there seemed.

Now comes an official report by the United States bureau of labor showing that while the cost of getting out anthracite coal in this country was increased last year by some $4,000,000, Mr. Consumer was compelled to pay an increase of $13,450,000 for what he burned to warm his house and cook his meals.

Now when Mr. Consumer sits down to do some more calculating he will have an easy task. And the answer will be that he is once more the goat—and a $9,000,000 goat, at that.

Which, it might be remarked in passing, is "some goat."

It is noticeable that we hear no old timers complaining about the inadequacy of Saturday night's little weather demonstration.

Like a Pin Is Man.

From Hartley Coleridge's "Essay on Pines": Just like this pin is man. Once he was, while yet he was not, even in the earth, from whence the fiery spirit which pervades all nature, and contains in itself the form and living principles of all things, summoned him to life and consciousness. How various his subsequent fates! How high his exaltation! How terrible his valor! Yet still the poor human animal is the same old of earth, or the same mass of bullion, that is sown by the seeds that float in the atmosphere of circumstance, and stamped by the dies of education and example. See him in the decline, in the super-civilization of social life. He is sunk to a pin. His sole solidity is barren impudence. His outside mercurial glitter, a counterfeit polish, as deleterious as it is attractive; composed of changeable colors, that glide away like quicksilver, are excellent to denote the changes of the seasons.

PRE-ELECTION PROMISES.

To the Editor of The Herald:
One of the candidates for mayor came out a while ago with a few sarcastic remarks about would-be reformers and pious old ladies whose eagerness for political reform lasted for about two weeks prior to election. Even if that is the case it is an excuse for jaxity on the part of the successful candidate after election, such as Duluth has experienced.

When a man makes pre-election promises we expect, in spite of experience, that he will carry them out. It is a shame when a man is elected who is expected to enforce the laws the people have given, and do it impartially.

When a man says he stands for a "business administration" and hints as to what laws he will or will not enforce, it is a shame when he is elected and he does not do it.

APPEAL FOR SCOTT MEMORIAL FUND.

To the Editor of The Herald:
These rough notes and our dead bodies," wrote Capt. Scott in his last message to the world. We would like to see those who treasure the memory of the men who found victory in death and who left behind a noble and immortal example of devotion to the moral treasure of humanity, a most important task—the task of providing a permanent and worthy memorial.

England is doing and will do her share. The British government has set up a memorial fund for the purpose of honoring the memory of the men who found victory in death and who left behind a noble and immortal example of devotion to the moral treasure of humanity, a most important task—the task of providing a permanent and worthy memorial.

It is felt that something more remains to be done to fittingly commemorate the great tragedy of the Antarctic expedition.

It is to be noted that Senator Goff's name is Nathan B., the same as former Senator Scott, who would have liked to come back.

Representative George Loud of Michigan, who can recite the North Woods French dialect story in a way that is worth hearing, was defeated in the last election. But if he had numbered just a few more people among his constituents, like one Ferguson with whom he was associated in the lumber camps, he would not have been defeated.

Ferguson was and is a Swede. Briefly, this is what happened, shortly after he came to this country and went to lumbering: He was driving a team of oxen out of the camp through the woods, and stopped at a farm house to inquire the way. A little farther along the oxen began to plunge about, and he went to their heads. In the excitement they right-about-faced, and he never knew it. When he came to the same farm house where he had stopped some time before, Ferguson remarked to himself:

"Huh, all the houses on this road are alike!"
Foolishly, he told the story to Loud when he got to camp.
Then he promised Loud he would do anything in the world for him if only he would refrain from telling the joke to the other lumberjacks. Loud didn't know when, years later, Loud began to run for congress, Ferguson always dropped everything to help along the campaign. A few more workers like him would have kept Loud in congress forever.

Reformers Pay.
Cleveland Plain Dealer: "Yes, that's one of the leading lawyers for the reform movement."
"He looks like a man who would put his whole heart and soul into anything he undertook."
"You bet he does. Why, his bill for reform services during the last six months is $55,000."

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, March 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the pure food expert, has found a way by which he can collaborate with the pure food experts of the other states of one-night stands, and to keep in better touch with the home folks. When he goes on a lecture tour, Dr. Wiley usually is away from home for six weeks at a stretch, and does not stop at any one place long enough to get any laundry done. Now he has a great scheme. He sets out with a six weeks' supply of collars and shirts in his grip, and as he wears these he fires them home via parcel post to be rejuvenated. This not only saves the laundry, but saves buying souvenir cards on which to write home. Every day or so the postman carries to the doctor's wife and young son a token much more intimate than any souvenir card showing the city hall or union station in a distant city could possibly be. It may be a pink shirt or a pair of white socks, or a pair of white socks that he had on when he brought 'em to their feet in Sioux City.

Sometimes the bundle contains little but collars. One of these may have some little sentiment scrawled on it, such as "Dedicated to my dear wife, a quantity of benzoin of soda at a home here this evening rather than make a scene," or "Nearly every child one sees here has been in cold storage at some time."

The personal element about this form of greeting is the thing that counts. If the morning mail brings a striped blue shirt and a note penciled on the bosom saying, "Please mend this where it's torn," it is almost as if the sender were right at home. With a husband away lecturing, and not even his laundry coming home on Thursday to be put away in the chiffonier drawer, there is a gap in the household that no picture postal, no matter how ornate, can fill. But consider the joy of a wife who can go to the mailbox and pick up a shirt containing wrinkles in the sleeves formed by her husband's familiar gestures, and see with her own eyes a wrinkled collar that he has tucked at arm's length at only a night or two previous!

Also, Dr. Wiley says, there is great joy to be derived from seeing one's hand baggage growing less burdensome day by day.

John H. Patterson, the multi-millionaire cash register manufacturer of Dayton, Ohio, who has been sentenced to a year in jail, abhors dinky surroundings. He will never be content in a jail. His soul craves that which is slightly and suggestively of shift. In driving in his automobile, from the Dayton business center out a mile or so to a vast tract of land, he has noticed that a number of houses along the street were unpainted. These comprised a sour note. He wished he might go back and forth to his business with everything in sight looking spick and span and attractive.

In a day or two Patterson had a representative call on the people whose houses were unpainted and ascertain if they could afford to have them painted. The agent also sounded them out to learn if they would be offended if Patterson had their houses painted. The result was that practically every home in that stretch of a mile or so is now neatly painted, many of them at John H. Patterson's expense.

The two men who will represent West Virginia in the senate at March 4 will be in a funny little prank played by Time in its celebrated and ceaseless onward flight.

A few years ago Senator William E. Chilton was a page boy in the United States Federal court. Judge Nathan B. Goff, who now becomes the junior senator, was the district attorney. Goff once paused to pat little Chilton on the head and wish him well. If anybody had told Chilton right then that some fine day he would be the senior senator of West Virginia, scolding the learned Goff down the aisle to receive the oath as junior senator—if anybody had told him that, he would have run home to his mother screaming about the crazy man that tried to talk to him.

It is to be noted that Senator Goff's name is Nathan B., the same as former Senator Scott, who would have liked to come back.

Representative George Loud of Michigan, who can recite the North Woods French dialect story in a way that is worth hearing, was defeated in the last election. But if he had numbered just a few more people among his constituents, like one Ferguson with whom he was associated in the lumber camps, he would not have been defeated.

Ferguson was and is a Swede. Briefly, this is what happened, shortly after he came to this country and went to lumbering: He was driving a team of oxen out of the camp through the woods, and stopped at a farm house to inquire the way. A little farther along the oxen began to plunge about, and he went to their heads. In the excitement they right-about-faced, and he never knew it. When he came to the same farm house where he had stopped some time before, Ferguson remarked to himself:

"Huh, all the houses on this road are alike!"
Foolishly, he told the story to Loud when he got to camp.
Then he promised Loud he would do anything in the world for him if only he would refrain from telling the joke to the other lumberjacks. Loud didn't know when, years later, Loud began to run for congress, Ferguson always dropped everything to help along the campaign. A few more workers like him would have kept Loud in congress forever.

He Wanted to Know.

The State Legislature

Press Views on the Session.

Wall of a Postmist.
Blwabik Times: In the hodge podge of trying to get the progressive house and reactionary senate into line it is not likely that any needed state legislation will get through in satisfactory shape. You can rest assured that the senate will see to it that no good initiative, referendum and recall law is put in force. But it took time to get these laws in other states, and it will doubtless require another election to defeat reactionaries from places of influence.

Should Not Be Needed.
Mankato Free Press: Senator Rustad's scheme of bringing out the rural vote by imposing a uniform poll tax in the country districts, to be remitted where voters turn out to both the primary and the general elections, will be thrashed out on the floor of the senate. The senate committee on roads and bridges declined to decide the matter, reporting the bill out with three votes of a majority. The governor will appoint either Sanders or Lieut. Governor Botkin as senator.

Would Be Criminal.
St. Cloud Journal-Press: The house passed a reapportionment bill, which appears to be fair to all sections of the state. What the senate will do in the country districts, to be remitted where voters turn out to both the primary and the general elections, will be thrashed out on the floor of the senate. The senate committee on roads and bridges declined to decide the matter, reporting the bill out with three votes of a majority. The governor will appoint either Sanders or Lieut. Governor Botkin as senator.

New Constitution Needed.
St. Peter Herald: Minnesota's antiquated Constitution has outlived its usefulness. The legislature should make provision for the calling of a constitutional convention.

Where the Money Goes.
Ada Herald: It is proposed to increase the registration tax on automobiles to $5 a year, adding a large sum to the revenue derived by the state from this source. The money to be used in road building. Automobile owners, as a rule, would favor this could they feel assured that not more than one-half of the money thus raised would be paid out in fat salaries to useless officeholders, as is now the case.

Sees Breakers Ahead.
Preston Times: Indications are that the legislature will go the "whole hog" on the initiative, referendum and recall. The proposition must come up for indorsement at the general election next year, but with the present bent of the popular mind it will probably be adopted, although those who see in it a danger to the republic will no doubt protest manfully. In the meantime, twin institutions which have been large factors in making this the greatest country on earth.

Move in Right Direction.
St. Peter Free Press: There is one measure pending before the legislature that will attract a good deal of attention and that is the bill intended to place all telephone companies under the jurisdiction of the state railroad commission. It is a move in the right direction. If there ever was an occasion for state interference, it would seem that this is a move in the right direction. If there ever was an occasion for state interference, it would seem that this is a move in the right direction.

Some Names of Coins.
Philadelphia Public Ledger: Almost every coin in modern use has a name with a meaning and a history. It is easy to trace the eagle, the cent, the Latin centum, 100, a cent being the one-hundredth part of a dollar. The derivation of "dollar" is, however, less direct. The word is from the German, "daler," meaning valley. There is a little silver-mining city or district in Northern Bohemia called Joachimsthal, or Joachim's valley. The reigning duke of the region authorized this city in the sixteenth century to coin silver pieces which were called "Joachimsthalers." The word "Joachim" was soon dropped and only the word "thaler" retained. The piece went into general use in Germany and Denmark, where the orthography was changed to "daler," whence it came into English, and was adopted by the people and government of the United States.

The florin was first coined in Florence, but whether it received its name from that of the city, which is Firenze in Italian, or from the Italian word "fiore" or flower is a matter of dispute. The latter theory is borne out by the fact that the coin bore the stamp of the fleur-de-lis.

Everybody is familiar with the names "napoleon" and "franc" applied to a French coin and with the English "crown." "Franc" is easily referred to the name of the country where it is a standard coin. Livra (the old name for franc), lira and pound are French, Italian and English equivalents for the same thing, although the connection of the coins these represent with a pound weight is not so clear.

The franc is a standard coin in Belgium and Switzerland. Its hundredth part is called in France a centime, in Russia a kopeck, in Germany a pfennig, in Austria a kreutzer, and in Holland a cent. "Peseta" means little piece, and the Russian ruble gets its name from a word meaning to cut, from the fact that it formerly was stamped with an ornamental edge.

A Political Catchism.
Kansas City Star: While general information tests are popular, suppose you see whether you can answer these questions:
What is the name of your alderman?
What are the names of your state representative and state senator?
Who is the attorney general of the state?
Who is the state secretary of state?
Who is the lieutenant governor?

They barred a Hungarian immigrant from citizenship the other day because he had never heard of Col. Roosevelt. But really, Mr. Citizen, considering your advanced age, you ought to know better informed than this immigrant?

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1893.

A Bill Appropriating $100,000 for a state elevator at Duluth or Superior has passed both houses of the North Dakota legislature.

Capt. R. F. Parsons of Buffalo, who has made a great deal of money in the last few years out of Buffalo really and vessel interests, has bought the steamer Nyack. She is undergoing changes that will enable Capt. Parsons to take care of 300 passengers, and she will run between Buffalo and Chicago during the World's fair.

Miss Hannah Benoit, teacher in the Longfellow school at West Duluth, has been called to Manistee, Mich., by the death of her father.

The Montana legislature adjourned yesterday sine die without electing a United States senator. One ballot was taken and resulted: W. A. Clark, 32; Lee Mantle, 25; J. M. Dixon, 11; Thomas H. Carter, 1. Clark lacked three votes of a majority. The governor will appoint either Sanders or Lieut. Governor Botkin as senator.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hopkins have arrived here from their wedding trip and are at the Spaulding.

F. Singler, who is interested with the Merritts in Kentucky coal lands, arrived yesterday from Tennessee.

Capt. Harry Roberts of Crystal Falls, Mich., is in the city.

A marriage license has been issued to Norman D. Murray and Cassie C. Livingston.

W. J. Johnson will take in the inauguration of President Cleveland at Washington and started yesterday for the capital.

Leut. R. E. Peary will deliver his famous lecture on Arctic exploration at the Temple opera house on March 14.

R. M. Bell has been elected secretary of the Union Depot company, vice D. A. McKinley, resigned, and F. W. Wiley has been elected treasurer, vice G. G. Haven, Jr., resigned. President Clough has also announced the appointment of Mr. Bell as superintendent of the depot.

James Seirle has returned from a long visit in Minneapolis.

J. R. Marshall has been awarded the contract for building the Jackson school addition. His bid was $21,995.

Restaurant Man Must Pay.
: Not responsible for hats;
: coats and umbrellas unless left;
: with the cashier.

Philadelphia North American: The foregoing sign has started at you from the walls of most of the restaurants in which you have eaten, and you have taken for granted that it told you the truth. But it didn't. Restaurants that provide hooks for patrons to hang coats and hats on are responsible for such property, notwithstanding warnings to the contrary printed on the menu or placarded about the room.

The appellate division of the state supreme court made this ruling in affirming a judgment for $17 obtained by Reginald de M. Wentworth against Leon G. Riggs, a restaurant keeper, for the loss of a coat.
Wentworth hung his coat on a hook. "The coat," says the court, "was laid off at the defendant's invitation and was actually delivered to the temporary custody and exclusive possession of the defendant, as it had been deposited in a coat room provided by the defendant."

QUARREL ENDS IN SHOOTING

Frank Rossi Probably Fatally Wounded By Joseph Sprasoccia.

Key of Beer Opened in Connection With Card Game.

Joseph Sprasoccia shot and probably fatally wounded Frank Rossi, 30 years old, during a quarrel over a card game in the Sprasoccia home, 227 Eleventh avenue west, between 7 and 8 o'clock last night.

Rossi got a bullet in each arm and when he turned to flee to safety and shot through the middle of the back between the shoulder blades. He was still alive at St. Mary's hospital today, but no hope was held for his recovery. His death is expected at any hour.

Sprasoccia fled after unloading his 38-caliber revolver into the body of his countryman. He is still at large and is being sought by the police. A dragnet has been thrown about the city and descriptions of the fugitive have been wired to all nearby towns.

Sprasoccia is about 40 years old, 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs from 150 to 160 pounds, is of medium mustache, prominent lips, high cheek bones, a dimple in his chin, a large nose and heavy eye brows.

Rossi is a cook and single. He roomed at Ninth avenue west and Superior street.

Yesterday he went to visit at the Sprasoccia home. A card game for small stakes was started and a key of beer was opened. Both men are said to have drunk freely. After several hours of play, Sprasoccia, who had been accused of cheating, Rossi hotly denied the charge. The words between the two men grew heated and Sprasoccia drew his revolver. Opening fire upon his guest he shot him back and safety in flight when he was struck with the third bullet, which inflicted the wound which will probably cause his death. The lead bullet passed back between the shoulder blades and lodged in the unfortunate man's lung.

Grabbing his cap and coat, Sprasoccia fled into the night. No trace of him has yet been obtained.

Mrs. Sprasoccia, wife of the fugitive, was present and summoned the police.
Capt. Fisk, Detectives Thorne and Perry and Andre responded. They arrested the wounded man and took him to the hospital, where his wounds were dressed by Dr. Vogel. He is still being conducted for Sprasoccia.

MYSTERIOUS LOSS OF $41,000 BY TEXAS WOMAN IN CHICAGO

Steps, believing she had forgotten a purse containing her railroad transportation.

When the woman was found she was unconscious and her handbag was open.

Four women will be questioned by Chief Shaffer of the Evanston police department today in connection with the missing money.

The woman who drove Mrs. Mills from the home of Mrs. H. L. Stevens, a well-known railway station was closely questioned by the police early in the morning when it was alleged to go.

Money in $1,000 bills.
Notice has been given to watch for the $1,000 bills lost by Mrs. Mills. The money was lost or stolen from the victim was in $1,000 bills.

Mrs. Mills made the following statement today:

"I came to Chicago last Tuesday and deposited my money with the purpose of getting it back in $1,000 bills. I have form I always carry my money in the form of 1,250 acres on which I employ fifty men. On Monday I carried the money myself. When I removed the money from the bank on Sunday I had it placed in the safe of my hotel but took it out again last night, as I expected to take a train for home.

From the Stevens residence I took cab to a station on the elevated road.
I had ridden about twenty minutes when I discovered that I had been robbed. I immediately called the police and they came to my aid. I was in a small pocketbook and immediately left the train and started back to Evanston. Arriving there I started to walk back to the Stevens residence.
My feet got cold and I went into a store to warm them. Then I started again.

Remembering Falling.
After that I remember only falling.
I did not see anyone or anything following me from the station.

The small bag containing the $1,000 and the small bag containing the $1,000 were found at the Stevens home after search.

The larger bag which had contained $41,000, was empty. An envelope in which the money had been placed was lying nearby.

C. W. Morris, ticket agent at the elevated street station of the Northwestern and Chicago and North Western roads, told of seeing Mrs. Mills climb in about 10 o'clock.

"She came in about 10 o'clock," he said, "and she was carrying a large bag. She was climbing and acted so strangely that I watched her curiously. She took off her rubbers and warmed her feet at the stove."

DIGEST AND CANANEA PROPERTIES VERY RIC

BISBEE AND MANAHA PROPERTIES VERY BIG

Have just returned from the CALUMET & SONORA MINE. It is today one of the most promising properties in this country. The ore body on the 800-foot of the Sonora is 150 feet wide and 300 feet long. The plant in the 800-foot level is the largest in the world. The plant at Bisbee is working successfully; concentrates are steadily going for $30,000 net per car. It is estimated that this mine will produce 1,000,000 tons of ore. I believe that many of you who paid $40.00 for your stock will in time get your money back. The shares will certainly advance and that one is selling this time on. It looks like a sure thing. The Calumet & Sonora has only 200,000 shares issued, while the Bisbee has 30,000 shares out.

LEGAL NOTICES.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION—OF—W. M. PRINDLE & COMPANY.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, that we, the undersigned, have voluntarily associated ourselves together for the purpose of forming a corporation pursuant to the terms of Chapter 68 of the Revised Laws of Minnesota for the year 1905, and the Acts Amendment thereof, and supplemental thereto, and do hereby agree upon, adopt and sign the following Articles of Incorporation:

ARTICLE I.
(a) The name of the corporation shall be W. M. Prindle & Company.
(b) The general nature of the business proposed to be carried on by the corporation is as follows: to acquire, hold, improve, sell, mortgage, lease, and deal in lands, tenements and hereditaments in the State of Minnesota, or elsewhere, either for itself, or as agent for others, to loan money upon mortgage or other securities, or otherwise, to buy, sell, and otherwise dispose of, and deal in mortgages, notes, contracts, money obligations, railroad, corporation, industrial, or other bonds and securities, for itself, or as agent for others, in the State of Minnesota, or elsewhere; to act as agent for insurance, casualty, surety, and any and all other indemnity companies in selling or placing any and all kinds of insurance; and to do any and every business in the State of Minnesota, or elsewhere.

(c) The principal place of transacting the business of this corporation and its principal office shall be in Duluth, Minnesota.

ARTICLE II.
The period of duration of this corporation shall be thirty (30) years from the first day of March, 1913.

ARTICLE III.
The names and places of residence of the incorporators are: W. M. Prindle, Duluth, Minnesota; E. M. Dunbar, Duluth, Minnesota; and Carl A. Knutson, Duluth, Minnesota.

ARTICLE IV.
The management of the business and affairs of the corporation shall be vested in a board of directors, who shall be elected by the stockholders at their annual meeting, to be held on the second Tuesday in January, in each year, at the office of the corporation, in Duluth, Minnesota.

Until the first election of directors at the annual meeting, the directors shall be: W. M. Prindle, Duluth, Minnesota; George G. Newton, of Duluth, Minnesota; M. Dunbar, of Duluth, Minnesota; Carl A. Knutson, of Duluth, Minnesota; George T. Engling, of Duluth, Minnesota, who shall hold office until their successors are elected and qualified.

The officers of the corporation and of the board of directors shall be: President, Vice President, Secretary, Assistant Secretary, Treasurer, and such other officers as may be provided for in the By-Laws, which officers shall be elected by the Board of Directors at its first meeting after each annual meeting.

Until its first election of officers after the first annual meeting, the following named persons shall be the officers of this corporation, viz: W. M. Prindle, President; George G. Newton, Vice President; Carl A. Knutson, Secretary; E. M. Dunbar, Assistant Secretary; and George T. Engling, Treasurer.

The Board of Directors may adopt By-Laws and may amend or repeal the same as may be provided in the By-Laws; but the stockholders may at any time or from time to time amend or repeal such By-Laws or adopt new or additional By-Laws.

From and after the completion of the organization of the company, every director and officer shall be a stockholder in the company, or a subscriber to its stock.

The Board of Directors shall have full power and authority to do every act and thing that the corporation is authorized to do, and to delegate such power and authority as it may deem expedient to any officer or agent of the company.

ARTICLE V.
The highest amount of indebtedness of the corporation shall be fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00), and the By-Laws shall be so framed as to limit the amount of indebtedness of the corporation to the amount of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00).

ARTICLE VI.
The highest amount of indebtedness of the corporation shall be fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00), and the By-Laws shall be so framed as to limit the amount of indebtedness of the corporation to the amount of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00).

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hands and seals this 27th day of February, A. D. 1913.

W. M. PRINDLE, (Seal)

WOODROW WILSON INAUGURATED AS PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES WITH VERY IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES

THIRTY THOUSAND TAKE PART IN BRILLIANT PARADE FROM CAPITOL TO WHITE HOUSE

STANDS ARE PACKED WITH DENSE CROWD

Solid Masses Along the Curbs to Witness Great Pageant.

Splendid Tribute of Welcome to the Wilson Administration.

Great Display of Illuminations and Fireworks After Sundown.

Washington, March 4.—The army of inauguration, 30,000 strong, swinging with measured tread to the blare of a brigade of bands, marched in review today from the capitol to the White House, a magnificent tribute of welcome to the administration of Woodrow Wilson.

Historic Pennsylvania avenue, the path of other armies of peace and war, was like a valley between hills in a glory of color—with the simplicity of nature's green and white dominating the color scheme along the line of march, while the dazle of uniforms, the flash of guns, sabers, gold lace, brass buttons, and the confused roar of bands, bugles, lumbering artillery and tramping thousands added vividness and stirring activity to the brilliant scene. The solid ranks of the army, the brilliant uniforms of the military bands, the dense throngs in balconies, windows and store tops, all through this valley of humanity and color a martial host undulating and rolling along with the steady sweep of a great river.

The street pageant was the climax to the inauguration ceremonies at the capitol, adding the outward spectacular features to the formal ceremonies which had just taken place at the senate chamber and the east front of the capitol. Since early in the morning the ranks of the marchers had been lying in restive division waiting for the word to advance.

White President Wilson was solemnly repeating his oath of office, to the word to advance.

DECORATIONS AT CAPITAL

President Wilson's Desire for Jeffersonian Simplicity Is Reflected.

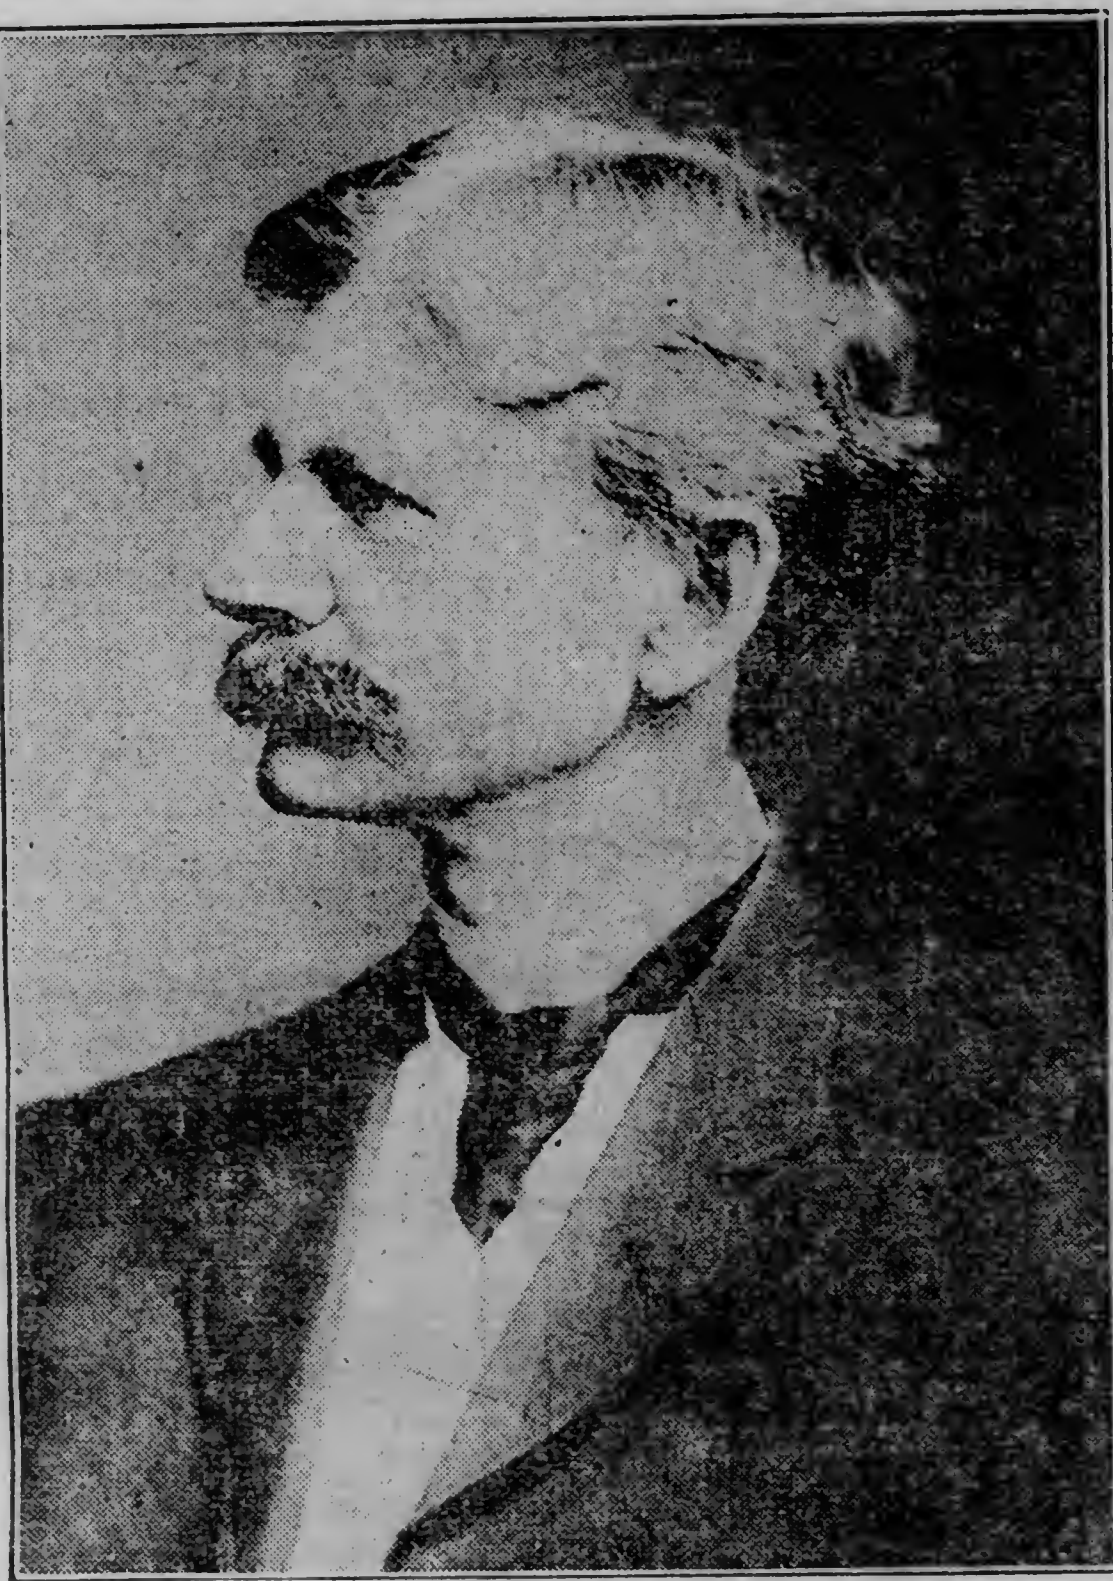

Dignity in Style and Color Observed Throughout the City.

Washington, March 4.—President Wilson's desire for Jeffersonian simplicity is distinctly reflected in the decorations of the national capital for his inauguration today. While the city is afluster with green and white—the color scheme adopted for the whole affair—and there are occasional blazes of red, white and blue from entwined flags, rosettes and streamers with here and there a touch of Princeton orange and black, yet the whole effect is one of simple dignity.

The central point of this decorative scheme is the court of honor, that wide expanse of Pennsylvania avenue immediately fronting and extending the entire length of the White House grounds. Grand great columns and arches of classical design, with shield and banners and the insignia of Roman triumph, have marked this precinct of chief activity. But today simplicity is the dominant note, with nature taking the place of art and great forest cedars replacing the classic columns and Venetian masts for past inaugurations. Before this wide arena usually stand out the monuments and trees of Lafayette square, but today these were shut by great tiers of seats, rising to the tree tops and sweeping along the whole front of the park.

In choosing the decorating scheme for this central point the court of

HOUSE DEFEATS BILL ON STATE LAND DEPARTMENT

Kills Bill to Take Lands From State Auditor's Office.

Wisconsin Man Talks on State Regulation of Utilities.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

St. Paul, Minn., March 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—By a vote of 32 to 65 the house this morning defeated the Kneeland constitutional amendment taking the state land department out of the state auditor's office—a measure backed by the Northern Minnesota Development association and regarded as an indispensable preliminary to reorganization of the state's methods of handling its public domain and putting them on a businesslike and efficient basis. The fight against the bill was led by H. C. Linn, former state auditor, and C. H. Warner of Aitkin, a former deputy auditor.

Representatives Kneeland and Sawyer strongly criticized the present method of handling the public domain, characterizing it as absurdly unbusinesslike and inefficient. Debate was cut off by a motion for the previous question offered by the opponents of the measure.

After the bill had been defeated, H. H. Dunn gave notice of a motion to reconsider and C. H. Warner promptly moved to reconsider, hoping that by the defeat of his motion the bill would be nailed down on the coffin of the bill.

The motion to reconsider was defeated, 49 to 42.

Bob Dunn, incidentally during his attack on the bill, mentioned Speaker Hines as a probable future state auditor, and the house cheered the motion to the echo.

Address By Wisconsin Man. Halford Erickson, of Wisconsin, public utilities commission addressed the senate this morning on the state regulation of public utilities at the invitation of that body. He described the methods used by the Wisconsin commission to fix rates and services, showing that the state has ample facilities for such work that are not available to communities.

The demands of just rates and adequate service involved an examination so intricate, he said, that it is impossible for a community to make it, so

TO PASS ON AMENDMENTS

Senate Committee Will Take Action on Reapportionment Bill.

Hope to Have It Made Special Order for Friday.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

St. Paul, Minn., March 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fight in the senate on reapportionment will begin this afternoon, when the senate committee on reapportionment, of which Senator Victor L. Johnson of Chicago county is chairman, will take up the house bill with the intention of passing upon it at this meeting if it continues all night.

There will be no direct fight against reapportionment, or even against the house reapportionment bill.

The fight will be made wholly on amendments. The purpose of this afternoon's meeting is to consider proposed amendments, several days having been allowed in which to prepare them.

It has been known for some time that an attempt would be made to reduce Hennepin county's membership

Minot Man Found Dead. Minot, N. D., March 4.—The body of Carl Miller, aged 47, track foreman of the Great Northern railway, was found Saturday in the oilhouse of the railroad yards. A bruise over his right eye and cuts on his left hand gave a suspicion of foul play. A large sum of money known to have been in his possession Friday night was also gone.

COLD AND GRAY AT CAPITAL FAILS TO INTERFERE WITH INAUGURATION CEREMONIES

IS NOT A DAY OF TRIUMPH, SAYS WILSON

President Appeals to All Patriotic Men for Counsel and Aid.

Vast Audience Listens to Inaugural Address of Executive.

Program of Arrangements Carried Out Without a Flaw.

Washington, March 4.—Woodrow Wilson became president of the United States amid imposing ceremonies and tumultuous scenes of popular greeting. Standing at the historic east front of the capitol he took the constitutional oath of office, and in his brief inaugural address, made a fervid appeal to all patriotic men for counsel and aid.

"This is not a day of triumph," he declared. "It is a day of dedication. Here must not the forces of party but the forces of humanity. Men's hearts wait upon us, men's lives hang in the balance, men's hopes call upon us to say what we will and who shall live up to the great trust? Who dares fail to try? I summon all honest men, all patriotic, all forward-looking men to my side. God helping me, I will not fail them, if they will but counsel and sustain me."

Vice President Marshall had been inaugurated in the senate chamber only shortly before, and at the conclusion of President Wilson's inaugural address the party hurried back to the White House, ahead of the inaugural procession, where Mr. Taft said goodbye to President Wilson and prepared to leave at once for Augusta, Ga. President Wilson shortly afterward took his place to review the procession.

Day Cold and Gray. Washington, March 4.—Inauguration day dawned cold and gray. A solid bank of heavy clouds completely shut off the sun and threatened to carry out the official prediction of "unsettled" in the afternoon or at night. With a temperature between 45 and 50 degrees, a light drizzle fell, fanned the city but no such discomforts as attended the inauguration blizzard of four years ago were threatened, though.

WHEREABOUTS OF WOMAN UNKNOWN

Mrs. Mills, Who Claims to Have Lost $41,000, Leaves Chicago.

Chicago, Ill., March 4.—Mrs. Mabel Mills, wife of a wealthy land owner of San Antonio, Texas, who mysteriously lost $41,000 presumably by robbery, in a Chicago suburb Saturday night, last night left the hospital to which she was taken, dazed and injured. Her whereabouts are as much of a mystery as that of the large sum of money which has so strangely disappeared.

Mrs. Mills left early in the afternoon without giving the police notice, although she had promised she would communicate with them when she decided to depart. The belief at present is that Mrs. Mills left Chicago last night for St. Louis, where she had previously told the police that she had some business to transact.

The hospital authorities told Police Chief Shaffer of Evanston that Mrs. Mills had an appointment with her bankers in Chicago and that she had gone to meet them.

The missing woman is said to have left the hospital at the rear entrance. A taxi-cab and a large limousine were drawn up side by side and Mrs. Mills is said to have entered the limousine car and then to have alighted on the other side and taken the taxi-cab. It is reported that her trunk, which was left in the limousine, was not taken with her.

A report last night was that Mrs. Mills had taken a train for Memphis. Her baggage, however, still remains at the hotel. All doubt that she had more than $40,000 in thousand dollar bills in her possession was ended tonight by a statement from the bank which said that the larger bills were specially procured for her from the clearing house.

VETOES BILL LAST THING

President Disapproves the Sundry Civil Appropriation Measure.

Senate Fails to Pass It Over Veto—Congress Adjourns.

(From The Herald Washington Bureau.)

Washington, March 4.—President Taft today vetoed the sundry civil appropriation bill carrying $113,000,000 because of its provision which prohibited the department of justice from using its anti-trust appropriation in prosecution of labor unions and farmers' organizations.

The house at once repassed the sundry civil appropriation bill over President Taft's veto by a vote of 270 to 50. Senate leaders did not believe an attempt would be made to repass the bill in the senate.

The house after repassing the sundry civil appropriation bill over President Taft's veto adjourned sine die at 12:34. The senate was then still in session.

The sundry civil bill which was repassed by the house, was rushed over to the senate and reached there at 11:55 o'clock. A sergeant-at-arms turned the hands of the clock back to 11:25 a. m. Senator Fall, however, still was filibustering.

Just before the house adjourned, Speaker Clark called Former Speaker Cannon to the chair, and an affecting scene of farewell took place.

Speaker Clark told the house that he had no confidences in saying: "I could have been sworn in as vice president of the United States if I had wanted to, but I preferred to stay with you."

Speaker Clark and Mr. Cannon received an ovation upon the adjournment of the house.

PROGRAM OF PRACTICALLY FIVE HOURS

Immense Crowd Witnesses Induction of New Chief Executive.

Oath of Office Administered By Chief Justice White.

Vice President Marshall Installed as Senate's Presiding Officer.

Washington, March 4.—Woodrow Wilson was today inaugurated as president of the United States, with Thomas R. Marshall as vice president, amid scenes of stirring animation and with impressive ceremonies, marked in the main by simplicity, and yet retaining that degree of dignity, with some of the pomp and spectacular display which inevitably attaches to the induction of a new chief executive of the nation.

The elaborate ceremonies of the day followed a fixed program covering practically five hours. It began in the morning with the drive of the president, president-elect and vice president-elect from the White House to the capitol, where until noon Mr. Taft was occupied with the measures passed in the closing hours of the Sixty-second congress.

The inauguration of Vice President Marshall was fixed to occur shortly after noon, along with the assembling of the new senate and the swearing in of new senators. Following this, toward 1 p. m., the chief ceremony of the day, the inauguration of President Wilson, occurred at the east front of the capitol. Then came the return of the presidential party to the White House and the review of the inaugural parade, lasting well along into the afternoon.

Met By Inaugural Committee. Mr. Wilson and Mr. Marshall had remained with their families at their hotel through the night. As the hour approached for opening today's ceremonies, they were joined by the inaugural committee of congress, made up of Senators Crane, Bacon and Overman, and Representatives Rucker,

POLICE FORCE IS CRITICIZED

Failure to Protect Suffragettes Characterized as a Disgrace.

Resolution Demanding Investigation Presented in the Senate.

Washington, March 4.—A resolution for the investigation of the Washington police force because of the riots during the suffrage parade yesterday, was offered in the senate and referred at once to a committee. Senator Nelson declared the scenes attending the suffrage parade constituted a "most disgraceful affair and a disgrace to the police force."

Hobson Makes Charges. Washington, March 4.—Charges that the police of Washington did not properly protect yesterday's suffrage parade were made in the house early today by Representative Hobson of Alabama, who later declared that he proposed asking for an investigation of the police department during the extra session of congress.

Mr. Hobson told the house that the congressional section of the parade, led by Representative Rucker of Colorado, comprised a score of senators and representatives, who, standing at arm's length and four abreast, finally were crowded into single file by the crowding of the spectators and that the police "scuffed with the ruffians."

"I have been called over the telephone," said Mr. Hobson, "and told by a lady that her daughter was on one of the floats in the parade and that a ruffian climbed on the float and insulted her daughter."

"Her daughter ought to have been at home," interjected Representative March of Illinois, the Republican leader. The remark aroused a number of members.

"She had as much right there as any one," shouted Representative Baker of

"GRANDMA" HOFFMAN WEEPS FOR JOY WHEN POOR FARM ATTENDANTS GIVE HER A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Out at the poor farm yesterday they had a party for Grandma Hoffman, who celebrated her 83rd birthday. The little old lady was presented with a birthday cake loaded with candles, and some good things to eat.

The party came in the nature of a surprise to her. When she was confronted with the cake, she laughed and then she cried. It was too much for her, she said, and then she tried to thank the attendants who planned the surprise for her.

Grandma Hoffman has been a country charge for years, and has been an inmate at the poor farm for the past three years. Her full name is Elizabeth Hoffman. People who knew her when she lived in a little shack on Garfield avenue say that her name was Taylor, and that she changed it to that of her son-in-law, whose name was Hoffman.

She was taken to the farm on Dec. 27, 1910, from her place on Garfield avenue. For years she had been living there, receiving $4 a month from the county. She took in 1910 found her destitute and unprotected from freezing weather. She was taken to the poorhouse, where she has a good, clean bed, plenty of warm clothing, good food and the proper attention.

Of her history before she came to Duluth twenty-five years ago little is known. She resided on Garfield avenue, then living with her daughter, who later married a man named leaving a son, Charles Hoffman, a boy of 6. Shortly after his wife's death, Hoffman left and was never heard from. The grandmother attempted to bring up the boy.

Mrs. Hoffman tried the best she could to make an existence for herself and her grandson. She took in washings and did other hard work by which she managed to earn enough money to keep body and soul together. The subject to be discussed is a recent sermon of Rev. Black's, "The Master and the Temple." Friday afternoon of this week the women's organization of the church will meet at the home of Mrs. S. C. Nelson, 24 1/2 East Fifth street. This will be the meeting for election of officers.

Steam Machinery.

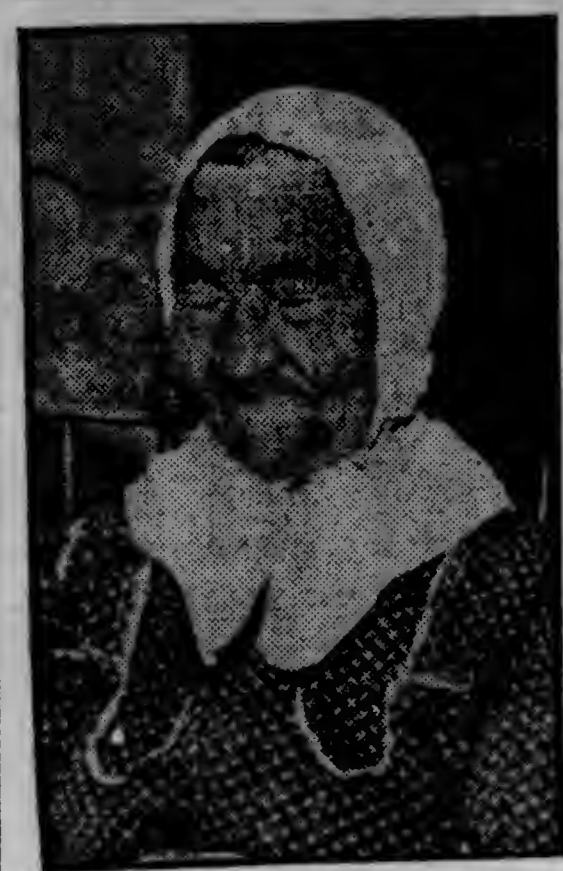

The second number of Steam Machinery, a monthly magazine of men, machinery and methods, issued by the Steam Machinery Publishing company of Duluth, subsidiary to the Clyde Iron works, has made an appearance. The magazine is a work of both literature and art, that reflects great credit on its managing editor, Charles A. Mackintosh. The information that the publication gives is abundantly seasoned with interesting fiction and jokes. The illustrations are sometimes serious, but more often humorous, cartooning, certain points brought out in the articles. All are highly entertaining.

The City Beautiful.

Rev. W. E. Hovis, pastor of the English M. E. church will speak before the members of the Park Point Improvement club this evening on "The City Beautiful." The meeting will be an open one, and women may also attend. It will be held in the Park Point mission at Twenty-eighth street.

tail Grocers' association in that city on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. About twenty of the grocers were of Superior, six were from Virginia and Hibbing and the rest were of Duluth. The party included Frank Gravel, sales manager of the Stone-Ordean-Wells company, Robert Burbridge of the Rust-Barker-Martin company, Edward Johnson of the Gowan-Peyton-Congdon company and A. E. Hathaway, city passenger and ticket agent of the Great Northern railway.

GOVERNOR FAVORS WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Henry Hatfield of West Virginia Surprises His Friends.

Charleston, W. Va., March 4.—Henry D. Hatfield, today succeeding William E. Glasscock, in his inaugural address the new governor surprised his most intimate friends by declaring himself for woman suffrage in these words:

"I solicit the support of the good women of West Virginia—and permit me to say here that I am an advocate of woman suffrage and feel that the

BOTH DENY ELOPEMENT

D. E. Cloutier Brought Back From Chicago to Face Desertion Charge.

Complaint Changed to Non-Support and Prisoner Furnishes Bond.

Attorney A. G. McKnight had a letter this morning from Miss Frances McBain, the nurse who was alleged to have eloped with D. E. Cloutier, recently brought back from Chicago on a warrant sworn out by his wife charging him with having deserted his five children.

Attorney McKnight said that Miss McBain strenuously denies that she eloped with Cloutier, who was formerly employed as janitor at the city contagious hospital, where she was lured as a nurse, or that their relations were improper in any way.

Further it is claimed by Miss McBain that she was not discharged at the hospital because she was so infatuated with Cloutier that she failed to properly attend to her duties, or for any other reason. She explained that in the past when the work was light she had been laid off for a time and that the circumstances of her leaving in February were similar. She is now said to be in bed because of the shock occasioned by the arrest of Cloutier in Chicago, the publicity which she received in connection with the case.

Cloutier also denies that their relations were improper and says that he went to Chicago to get a better position, having no other duties, or for his wife and their five children. When Cloutier was brought into police court yesterday afternoon, a charge of desertion was changed to non-support. Attorney McKnight, representing Cloutier, stated to the court that if the charge were made Cloutier would be ready to furnish the necessary evidence of his good faith. After the change was made Cloutier furnished bond of $100 to support his family. The bond will be in effect for one year.

SUICIDE WAS DUE TO SHAME

John Chop Driven Insane By Death of Oldest Son.

Imprisonment With Criminals Preyed Upon His Diseased Mind.

First driven insane by the death of his 3-year-old boy, John Chop was driven to suicide by association in the county jail with thieves, drunkards and other wrong-doers. Chop hanged himself with his suspenders in the county jail yesterday morning.

Joseph Chop, a brother of the dead man, said today that his brother complained bitterly to him of his incarceration last Friday. His diseased mind magnified his loneliness by being confined in jail with men who had committed crimes. He pleaded with his brother to effect his release. His pending deportation did not seem to worry him so much as the manner of his confinement before departure, according to his brother. The brother attempted to effect his release and place him in a hospital until he could be deported, but was unsuccessful in the effort.

Chop, who was a Slovenian, came to the United States from Lazeo, Carniola, Austria, four months ago, going to Chisholm. He left at home a wife and two children, 3 and 1 years old. When he had been in this country two months he was notified of the death of the older child, a boy. The shock over-burdened his mind, and he became insane. He refused to work, spent much time praying and his actions were such as to convince his friends of his insanity. He was taken in charge at Chisholm, Feb. 18 and was brought to the county jail Feb. 26 to await deportation.

Joseph Chop, who is foreman for a lumber company in Oak Grove, La., was notified by friends of his brother's plight. He came to Duluth, arriving Thursday, and visited his brother at the county jail Friday. Saturday he went to Chisholm to straighten up his brother's affairs. He arrived in Duluth yesterday morning to find his brother dead.

"I will sue the authorities for neglect of my brother," he said today. "They should have placed him in a hospital or some other place where he would not be confined with criminals. He was aggravated by worrying about his confinement in a common jail. That caused him to commit suicide."

Chop leaves his wife and one child in the old country, two brothers in Louisiana and two sisters in Austria. His funeral was held today.

The Inaugural Hat!

Why don't someone propose that presidents should be inaugurated in Duluth where we always have fine weather on March 4th?

Clouds—threatening rain—and raw winds made Washington uncomfortable today.

Nevertheless, there was quite a display of spring hats for when our milliner was in the market, she had a peep at some of the styles brought out for inaugural festivities.

And here at the store we are ready to inaugurate spring with some of the cleverest little hats that could be found this spring.

DR. F. F. FRIEDMANN IS INVITED TO MILWAUKEE

New York, March 4.—An invitation to visit Milwaukee and test his tuberculosis remedy in hospital clinics there was extended to Dr. F. F. Friedmann today by Dr. E. W. Kellogg, city physician of Milwaukee. The German physician took the matter under advisement.

Dr. Friedmann made no announcement today concerning his future plans. The board of censors of the New York County Medical society having ruled last night that he could not practice in this state, without a special license, the only course open to him is to seek recognition by some hospital duly incorporated, where he could treat patients under the auspices of the institution without receiving a fee. He has not said, however, whether he will adopt this course. Sufferers seeking relief continue to beseech him.

STRAFACCIA IS AT LARGE

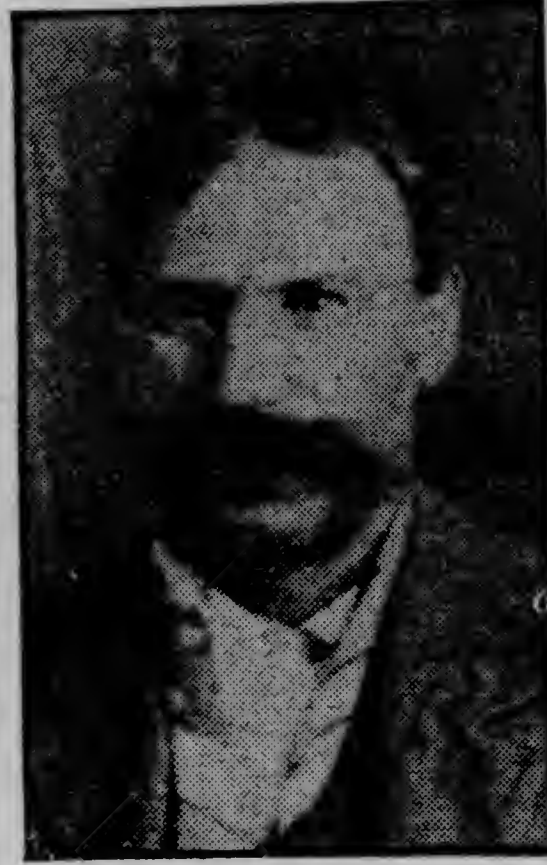

Police Making Determined Effort to Capture Assailant of Frank Rossi.

Wounded Man Thought to Have No Chance of Recovery.

Frank Rossi, who was shot and probably fatally wounded Sunday night by Joseph Straffaccia at the Straffaccia home, 227 Eleventh avenue west, is still alive at St. Mary's hospital.

Rossi is very low and the physicians hold out no hope of his ultimate recovery.

Straffaccia is still at large. No trace of him has been obtained since he seized his hat and coat and fled immediately after the shooting of his countryman. The police are making the city for him and have scattered his description and photograph broadcast throughout the country. A circular is being sent to all the lumber camps and towns and villages of Northern Minnesota and Wisconsin.

The police are confident that Straffaccia has not gone far and are inclined to the belief that he is hiding in Duluth, perhaps being aided by a sympathetic countryman. It is claimed that he was without money when he ran from his home after shooting Rossi. The low temperature, it is asserted, would prevent him from riding any great distance on a freight train or by blind barges.

The shooting was the climax of a quarrel over a card game in which Straffaccia accused Rossi of cheating. Three bullets are lodged in Rossi's body, one in each arm and one through the shoulder blades in the middle of the back, fired when he turned to flee from his assailant. Both men had been drinking considerably during the afternoon and up to the time of the shooting between 7 and 8 o'clock Sunday evening. Both men were laborers who work on the docks.

HEADS CROOKSTON COUNCIL OF U. C. T.

Crookston, Minn., March 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Crookston Council No. 88, U. C. T., held a big meeting Sunday evening, electing officers, initiating a big class and welcoming visitors from Grand Forks and many other nearby points. BRIEF INTERVIEWS WITH ZENITH CITY VISITORS

Loggers Are Busy.

HARLES LARSON, storekeeper for the St. Croix Lumber company, is registered at the Holland today. Mr. Larson stated that the majority of the lumber camps over the Northwest are doing capacity operations at the present time, the limit of their activity being set by the inability of some of the loggers to secure the number of men they could use.

According to Mr. Larson there is a heavy demand for lumber throughout the country at the present time, with the price holding firm and the demand apparently increasing rather than showing the least tendency to diminish.

Mill Working Full Time.

J. CUSSON, manager of the Virginia & Italy Lumber mill at Virginia, who was at the Spaulding yesterday, stated that the mill is at the present time running at capacity, and that the present feeling among the loggers is that the present very excellent business conditions surrounding the trade are to continue.

Good Roads Near Denver.

O. WICHERLY of Denver, Colo., who is a visitor at the Spaulding today, says hundreds of thousands of dollars are being spent on the bettering of roads around Denver. "The business men of Denver, not alone the owners of automobiles, consider good roads one of the best assets the city of Denver can have," said he, "therefore there has been united action in the voting of money for the making of the best roads that can possibly be constructed."

experience in the garb of a Salvationist, but it apparently did not curb his passions, when he was seized by police on the night of his escape. Smith was put in a place where he could continue his religious studies if he wished, but at the same time learn to become a useful citizen.

On Sunday, Feb. 23, Smith raided the collection box of the local corps of the Salvation army which had been placed at the home of Ebnig W. E. Graham on West Fifth street. The cashier told the police that about $30 was taken but Smith yesterday told the court that he had taken only $17.

After securing the money, Smith went to Rice Lake, Wis., where he remained for one night, and then returned to Superior. There he was recognized by one of the Superior officers of the army. He was arrested in a restaurant. After his arrest, Smith was brought to Duluth, arraigned in police court, examined and bound over to the grand jury.

REPORT ON ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE

House Committee Does Not Sustain All the Charges Preferred.

Bismarck, N. D., March 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The report of the house committee on the attorney general's office, finds that there is no law which prohibits an attorney general from engaging in private practice if he so desires, and condemns the partnership existing in the office of the attorney general as unbecoming and suggests that, if the legislature wants to confine the attorney general to public practice, it should raise the salary. With reference to the Stark county situation it is contended that there was no public dealing by Attorney General Miller in representation.

MARINE GIVES COURT PLAN FOR DISSOLUTION

Great Lakes Towing Company Tells What Concessions It Will Make.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 4.—Plans to avoid complete dissolution of the Great Lakes Towing company, recently held by a special district court to be operating in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, were submitted by attorneys for the company, by Attorney Warrington Knappen and Dennison here, in consideration of being permitted to continue its business, officers of the company offered to retain from the ownership of subsidiary companies; from demanding exclusive contracts; from preventing competitors bought out from re-entering the field and to submit rates to the commission of each port and agree to a commission to settle all disputes.

The three judges who heard the proposed settlement were the ones who, acting as a special United States district court, dissolved the company. It was announced that an opinion would be given on the plan offered within a few days. District attorney U. D. Denman of Cleveland, and his assistants attended the conference. He declared he would oppose any plan that did not call for complete dissolution.

SEAMEN'S BILL PASSES.

Wilson's Measure Regulating Vessel Service Goes Through.

Washington, March 4.—After saluting Representative W. B. Wilson of Pennsylvania as the "next secretary of labor," the house last night passed the Wilson seamen's bill as amended by the senate. The bill now goes to the president.

NEW STEEL STEAMER.

Will Be Placed in St. Ignace-Mackinaw Service.

Marquette, Mich., March 4.—The Mackinac Transportation company, which operates the car ferries between St. Ignace and Mackinaw City, in the Straits of Mackinaw, will soon place its new steel steamer, Sainte Marie, in service. Supt. C. E. Lytle of the Mackinac Island railway, who is chairman of the board of managers of the Mackinac Transportation company, which corporation is controlled by the South Shore, Michigan Central and Grand Rapids & Indiana railways, has arrived here from Toledo, Ohio, where he was called to make final inspection of the new ferry and to arrange for its trip to northern waters.

The new boat will probably not be brought to the straits before the ice breaks up in the lower lakes. It would be a long and expensive journey through the ice fields and in the dangerous channels of the Detroit and St. Clair rivers, the St. Clair ship canal and Lake St. Clair, and unless a complete relief is felt at the Mackinac and so of the three railways the maiden voyage will be put off until the opening of lower lake navigation.

LET FIRST CONTRACT FOR LUMBER DOCK.

The first contract has been let on the construction of the lumber dock at the Canadian Northern. The dock will be at the foot of Forty-eighth avenue west and will be 100 feet long and 10 feet wide. The one let today is for the driving of piles and the building of the dock. The dock is to be finished in a few days. The contractor who has taken the job, it is to be finished, is the Duluth Lumber Dock company, which is a subsidiary of the Duluth Lumber Dock company. The contract for dredging will be let in a few days.

The Inaugural Hat!

Why don't someone propose that presidents should be inaugurated in Duluth where we always have fine weather on March 4th?

Cloud—threatening rain—and raw winds made Washington uncomfortable today.

Nevertheless, there was quite a display of spring hats for when our milliner was in the market, she had a peep at some of the styles brought out for inaugural festivities.

And here at the store we are ready to inaugurate spring with some of the cleverest little hats that could be found this spring.

Have You Enjoyed the Lovely Wash Goods Show?

Come tomorrow—it's your last chance to see the display on the third floor.

Bear in mind we're not selling—but simply showing the goods on the third floor.

If you want to take advantage of choosing from the season's finest assortments—you can buy the goods down the main floor now—but you will not be asked to buy on the third floor.

The display is simply arranged to show you how charming the styles are—and how simply, yet effectively they can be made up! So come—you'll enjoy the display—everybody does. Why not bring your friends?

DR. F. F. FRIEDMANN IS INVITED TO MILWAUKEE

New York, March 4.—An invitation to visit Milwaukee and test his tuberculosis remedy in hospital clinics, was extended to Dr. F. F. Friedmann today by Dr. E. W. Kellerg, city physician of Milwaukee. The German physician took the matter under advisement.

Dr. Friedmann made no announcement today concerning his future plans. The board of censors of the New York County Medical Society having met last night that he could not practice in this state, without a special license, the only course open to him is to seek recognition by some hospital duly incorporated, where he could treat patients under the auspices of the institution without receiving a fee. He has not said, however, whether he will accept this course. Sufferers seeking relief continue to beseech him.

STRAFACCIA IS AT LARGE

Police Making Determined Effort to Capture Assailant of Frank Rossi.

Wounded Man Thought to Have No Chance of Recovery.

Frank Rossi, who was shot and probably fatally wounded Sunday night by Joseph Straffaccia at the Straffaccia home, 227 Eleventh avenue west, is still alive at St. Mary's hospital. Rossi is very low and the physicians hold out no hope of his ultimate recovery.

Straffaccia is still at large. No trace of him has been obtained since he seized his hat and coat and fled immediately after the shooting of his countryman. The police are taking ing the case for him and have scattered his description and photograph broadcast throughout the country. A circular is being sent to all the lumber camps and towns and villages of Northern Minnesota and Wisconsin. The police are confident that Straffaccia has not gone far and are inclined to the belief that he is hiding in Duluth, perhaps being aided by a sympathetic countryman. It is claimed that he was without money when he ran from his home after shooting Rossi. The low temperature, it is asserted, would prevent him from riding any great distance on a freight train or by blind baggage.

The shooting was the climax of a quarrel over a card game in which Straffaccia accused Rossi of cheating. Three bullets are lodged in Rossi's body, one in each arm and one through the shoulder blades in the middle of the back, fired when he turned to flee from his assailant. Both men had been drinking considerably during the afternoon and up to the time of the shooting between 7 and 8 o'clock Sunday evening. Both men were laborers who work on the docks.

BRIEF INTERVIEWS WITH ZENITH CITY VISITORS

Loggers Are Busy.

HARLES LARSON, stockkeeper for the St. Croix Lumber company and also the White River Lumber company, is registered at the Holland today. Mr. Larson stated that the majority of lumber camps over the Northwest are doing capacity operations at the present time, the limit of their activity being set by the inability of some of the loggers to secure the number of men they could use.

According to Mr. Larson there is a heavy demand for lumber throughout the country at the present time, with the price holding firm and the demand apparently increasing rather than showing the least tendency to diminish.

Mill Working Full Time.

J. CUSSON, manager of the Virginia & Rainy Lake mill at the Spaulding yesterday, stated that the Hines mill is running at capacity, and that the present feeling for lumber is rather good, the present very excellent business conditions surrounding the trade are to continue.

The dock will be 2,500 feet long, including the pier, and will be 100 feet wide. There will be two tracks on the dock, which will be used for the transfer of lumber and not for storage purposes. The lumber is now on the ground for building.

Good Roads Near Denver.

W. WEICHERLY of Denver, Colo., who is a visitor at the Spaulding today, says hundreds of thousands of dollars are being spent on the bettering of roads around Denver.

The business men of Denver, not alone the owners of automobiles, consider good roads one of the best assets the city of Denver can have, said he, and therefore there has been united action in the voting of money for the making of the best roads that can possibly be constructed.

The same plan has been followed at Los Angeles, with the result that many thousands of dollars have come in the way of increased tourists' travel to Denver and Los Angeles.

MARINE GIVES COURT PLAN FOR DISSOLUTION

Great Lakes Towing Company Tells What Concessions It Will Make.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 4.—Plans to avoid complete dissolution of the Great Lakes Towing company, recently held by a special district court to be operating in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, were submitted by attorney for the company to Judge Warrington. Knapp and Dennison, who are conducting the company, were permitted to continue its business, officers of the company offered to retain from the ownership of the company certain assets, from demanding exclusive contracts; from preventing competitors bought out from re-entering the field and to submit rates to the authorities of each port and agree to a commission to settle all disputes.

The three judges who heard the proposed settlement were the ones who, acting as a special district court, dissolved the company. It was announced that an opinion would be given on the plan offered within a few days. District Attorney E. D. Denman of Cincinnati, and his assistants attended the conference. He declared he would oppose any plan that did not call for complete dissolution.

Washington, March 4.—After saluting Representative W. B. Wilson of Pennsylvania as the "next secretary of labor," the house last night passed the Wilson seamen's bill as amended by the senate. The bill now goes to the president.

The measure provides strict regulations for the hours of labor of sailors and food and compensation on vessels, and includes a provision that officers must be able to make members of a crew understand orders.

NEW STEEL STEAMER.

Will Be Placed in St. Ignace-Mackinaw Service.

Marquette, Mich., March 4.—The Mackinac Transportation company, which operates the car ferries between St. Ignace and Mackinaw City, in the Straits of Mackinac, will soon place its new steel steamer, Sainte Marie, in service. Capt. E. E. Lytle, who is chairman of the board of managers of the Mackinac Transportation company, which corporation is controlled by the South Shore, Michigan Central and Grand Rapids & Indiana railways, has arrived home from Toledo, Ohio, where he was called to make his inspection of the new ferry and to arrange for its trip to northern waters.

The new boat will probably not be brought to the straits before the ice breaks up in the lower lakes. It would be a long and expensive journey through the ice fields and in the dangerous channels of the Detroit and St. Clair rivers, the St. Clair ship canal and Lake St. Clair, unless a date of relief is felt at the Mackinac and the three railways the maiden voyage will be put off until the opening of lower lake navigation.

It was said last evening that the Sainte Marie would be ready to leave the ship yards at Marquette today. The ship is practically complete at present, all that remains to be done being to put on the finishing touches, which is not a great job. A combination passenger and freight boat with a between-decks capacity of eighteen railway cars.

The steamer Pendennis White, which was released from the ice a few days ago in the ship of elevator of the Unadilla group, took on 22,000 bushels of wheat, and may take on more before the opening of navigation and her initial trip down the lakes. However this is problematical as she is now in the hands of the draft, prescribed in the warning sent out by President Livingston of the Lake Carriers' association, which is 17 feet 6 inches. Her draft forward is 17.5 and at the stern 17.7. The depth of water to get over the "sill" at the Soo is always the problem in the spring.

"C. O. D." REGULATIONS WILL FURTHER POPULARIZE THE NEW PARCEL POST

ONE WAGON LOAD FOR PARCEL POST.

That the parcel post is growing is demonstrated every day in the Duluth postoffice, and that it will be more generally used by local patrons in the near future and especially after the C. O. D. regulations are installed, is a foregone conclusion.

In evidence of the growth of the parcel post industry, the accompanying picture is given. It shows one delivery on one wagon. And, it might be added, the assignment as shown in the picture, is not yet complete.

The C. O. D. delivery will not become effective until July 1, according to the latest advice from Washington. After that, it is claimed, there will be keener competition for the express companies than ever before. Special deliveries are now allowable, and an order is in effect now that when an express delivery has been made, no further effort is necessary. After that one attempt notices will be left and the express companies have, and it is expected that it will be observed generally for the reason that the rate is less, and that only individuals are affected, as always, at business houses, there is somebody to receive the package.

CLEANED ALONG THE POLICE RUN

LEAVES FROM A REPORTER'S NOTE BOOK BY X

Albert J. Mason, bound over to the grand jury this morning on a charge of having attempted to indecently assault Catherine Scott, a pretty 15-year-old girl, in the North Star lodging house Sunday night, vented a pique when he took the witness stand in police court today.

The paper did me an injustice when it said that I am playing a piano in a place in the Superior red light district, averred Mason in substance, referring to the statement of the case in this column last evening.

"I haven't played the piano there for five days," was the enlightening explanation, Mason, who is 23 years old, said that previously he worked in a sawmill for his livelihood. He did not elucidate upon his reasons for turning from laborer to musician.

From the evidence submitted at Mason's hearing today the state appears to have a stronger case against the erstwhile piano player than developed upon the first presentation of the case Sunday.

On the witness stand Mason practically admitted the allegations against him. Miss Scott is a comely, neat and pleasant appearing young woman. Friends who had heard of the case were in the courtroom this morning and declared that they had always known her as a highly respectable, quiet and home-loving girl. The woman, who employed her at Woodland, said she always remained indoors, at night.

She told the story of her attempted betrayal and narrow escape in the flower lodging house in a low-toned, convincing manner this morning.

She told how Mason had induced her to leave the home of her employer by sending another man to her with a message that he wanted to take her to Bayfield to visit his mother, and that she had followed him to meet her. The three boarded a street car which took them to Flax Avenue, west and Superior street, from which corner they proceeded directly to the Union station.

In the station she asserted that she gave Mason $1 with which to buy the ticket to Bayfield. That was early in the evening. He went to the ticket window and came back with the information that there would be no train until morning. She said he had prevailed upon her to wait until the train left about 8:15 o'clock. She stated that he then advised her that she had better go to a hotel for the night and that they would take the train in the morning. She said that he had asked him about the hotel and that he had assured her that it was "all right."

Acting upon the suggestion she said she accompanied him to the North Star lodging house at 504 West Michigan street, directly across the street from the station. Having no place to go she said that she retired after Mason and the clerk had shown her to the room.

About half an hour later she stated that Mason walked into the room without knocking, and that she must have forgotten to lock the door. Against her protest, he said that he would take her to the room. When he refused to desist she screamed, attracted the attention of the people running the rooming house. Fearing that something was being done to her, she fled to the street and was told that it was "all right." Later they heard threats to force her to keep quiet. It is alleged that they heard the girl begging for mercy.

Knowing then that something was decidedly wrong they called the police and both Mason and the young woman were taken to headquarters.

Mason tried to excuse himself this morning by stating that he was under the influence of liquor. He said, "or I wouldn't have done what I did." He claimed at first that he did not remember anything of what had transpired after he went into the room and Assistant County Attorney Mason M. Forbes he recalled considerable of the details mentioned by Miss Scott.

The police have been getting busy on the blind pigs recently. Yesterday two men were arrested at West Duluth on charges of running "speakeasies," and this morning a woman was brought in from Smithville on a charge of selling liquor without a license.

The men were Tony Grappo of 124 South Fifty-sixth avenue, west and Mike Vachek of 34 South Fifty-seventh avenue west. Both entered pleas of not guilty and will be tried Thursday morning.

The woman was Mrs. Mary Mark. She denied her guilt and will be tried tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Mark is the same woman who was arrested some time ago for furnishing two bottles of beer to two men who came to her home in the guise of hunters. She was shown to have given them beer at the rate of 12 cents a quart. As it seemed that she was not in the business for profit, she was given her liberty after promising that never again would she open her heart to the extent of furnishing foaming beakers to any one outside her own household.

But it seems that she did not abide by her determination, although there appears to be no more evidence now than before that she was trying to make money by selling beer.

It is that she gave the two stool pigeons two meals for 50 cents and furnished them with lager instead of cooking coffee or tea for them.

After being about nine months the husband of Annie Peeler returned to Duluth and found his wife living with John Korda as man and wife. He caused their arrest on charges of adultery. In police court yesterday afternoon they were bound over to await the action of the grand jury, after a preliminary examination.

In some manner Maurice E. Teeples, a machinist 26 years old, divided that he was wanted by the police. This morning he walked into headquarters and announced that he understood they were looking for him.

Only a short time ago Chief Troyer had received a wire from the sheriff of a county in Michigan stating that he held a warrant for Teeples. Teeples was booked as a fugitive from justice.

He told the police that he does not know what the charge is unless it is that he is alleged to have deserted his wife. The measure did not give the nature of the charge.

Ernest Nystrom was arrested last evening on a charge of having stolen $25 from Sam Levenson. The allegation is that Nystrom extracted $30 from Levenson's pocket. When Levenson discovered the "mug" of his cash, it is asserted that Nystrom gave him $25 but refused to come across with the other $5. Whereupon Levenson caused Nystrom's arrest. He pleaded not guilty to petty larceny in police court today and will be tried this afternoon.

Anthony J. Henriksen, arrested on a charge of having stolen a watch from Old Thompson, was found not guilty and discharged after a trial in police court this morning.

Two women giving their names as Mrs. Andrew McLean and May Nelson, were arrested last night shortly before 12 o'clock on disorderly charges. McLean pleaded not guilty when arraigned in police court this morning and was committed to the city jail. The Nelson woman forfeited $25 bail.

"Please, judge, please do not send me back to the county jail," pleaded Frank McLean when he was arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of second offense drunkenness.

"C. O. D." REGULATIONS WILL FURTHER POPULARIZE THE NEW PARCEL POST

ONE WAGON LOAD FOR PARCEL POST.

That the parcel post is growing in popularity every day in the Duluth postoffice; and that it will be more generally used by local patrons in the near future and especially after the C.
O. D. regulations are installed, is a foregone conclusion.

In evidence of the growth of the parcel post industry, the accompanying picture is given. It shows one delivery on one wagon. And, it might be added, the assignment as shown in the picture, is not yet complete.

The C. O. D. delivery will not become effective until July 1, according to the latest advice from Washington.

After that, it is claimed, there will be greater competition for the express companies than ever before. Special deliveries are now allowable, and an order is in effect now that when an officer for delivery has been made, no further effort is necessary. After that one attempted delivery will be left and the receiver must call for the package.

This eliminates the trouble that the express companies have, and it is expected that it will be observed generally for the reason that the rate is less, and that only individuals are affected, as always, at business houses, there is somebody to receive the package.

LEAVES FROM A REPORTER'S NOTE BOOK BY X

Albert J. Mason, bound over to the grand jury this morning on a charge of having attempted to induce assault on the Scotts, a pretty 16-year-old girl, in the North Star looking house Sunday night, ended a noon when he took the witness stand in police court today.

The paper did me an injustice when it said that I am playing a piano in a place in the Superior red light district," advised Mason in substance, referring to the statement of the case in this column last evening.

"I haven't played the piano there for five days," was the enlightening explanation. Mason, who is 23 years old, said that previously he worked in a sawmill for his livelihood. He didn't graduate upon his reasons for turning from laborer to musician.

From the evidence submitted at Mason's hearing today the state appears to have a stronger case against him than the prosecution of Sunday. On the witness stand Mason practically admitted the allegations against him.
Miss Scott is a comely, neat and pleasant appearing young woman.
Friends who had heard of the case were in the courtroom this morning and declared that they had always known her as a highly-respectable and home-loving girl. The woman said she always remained indoors at night.

She told the story of her attempted betrayal and narrow escape in the Bowers looking house in a low-toned, altered but straight-forward and convincing manner this morning.

She told how Mason had induced her to leave the home of her employer by sending another man to her with a message that he wanted to take her to his home to visit his mother.

She said she had been asked to meet him. The three boarded a street car which took them to West Michigan street and Superior street, from which corner they proceeded directly to the Union station.

In the station she asserted that she gave Mason $14 which he took to buy tickets to Duluth. That was early in the evening. He went to the ticket window and came back with the information that there would be no train until morning. She said she had pre-
about 8:15 o'clock. She stated that he then advised her that she had better go to a hotel for a night and that they would take the train in the morning.

Acting upon the suggestion she said she had been given, she went to a hotel about one block away from the station.
The hotel and the clerk had asked him about the hotel and that he had assured her that it was "all right."

Against her protests she said she tried to take money from her pockets when he refused to desist she screamed, attracting the attention of the people running the rooming house.
Saying that something was wrong they made inquiry at the door and were told that it was "all right." Later they heard threats to force her to keep quiet. It is alleged that they heard the girl begging for mercy.

Knowing then that something was decidedly wrong that night she decided to leave the rooming house and both Mason and the young woman were taken to headquarters.

Mason tried to excuse himself this morning by stating that he was under the influence of liquor. "I was full of whisky," he said, "or I wouldn't have done what I did. I claimed that I was a doctor and boasted to any one outside her own household."

But it seems that she did not abide by her determination, although there appears to be no more evidence now than before that she was trying to make money by selling beer. The state is that she gave the two stool pigeons two meals for 50 cents and furnished them with liquor instead of cooking coffee or tea for them.

After being absent nine months the husband of Annie Posner returned to Duluth and living with John Korda as man and wife. He caused their arrest yesterday afternoon when they were charged with selling beer in police court over to await the preliminary examination.

In some manner Maurice E. Teeple, a machinist 26 years of age, living at he was wanted by the police. This morning he walked into headquarters and announced that he understood they were looking for him.

Only a short time ago Chief Trog-er had received a wire from the sheriff of a county in Michigan stating that he held a warrant for Teeple's arrest. Teeple was looked as a fugitive from justice.

He told the police that he does not know what the charge is unless it is that he is alleged to have deserted his wife. The message did not give the nature of the charge.

Ernest Nystrom was arrested last evening on a charge of having stolen $25 from Sam Levenson. The allegation is that Nystrom extracted $25 from Levenson's pocket. When Levenson demanded the return of his cash it is asserted that Nystrom gave him $25 in return for the same amount with the other "V." Whereupon Levenson caused Nystrom's arrest. He pleaded guilty to petty larceny in police court today and will be tried this afternoon.

Anthony J. Hoppe, arrested on a charge of having stolen a watch from the Thompsons, was found not guilty and discharged after a trial in police court this morning.

Two women giving their names as Mrs. Anna McLean and Mrs. Nelson, were arrested last night shortly before midnight on disorderly charges. Mrs.
McLean pleaded not guilty when arraigned in police court this morning.
The Nelson woman forfeited $25 bail.

"Please, judge, please do not send me back to the county jail," pleaded
Mrs. McLean when she was arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of second offense drunk-ness.

"Judge, I'll do anything you want me to, if you only won't send me back over the hill," she begged, with such deep feeling that the tears in her eyes pleaded for her release. She said she had been in the county jail for two weeks and that she was going to work in the city.

"Your honor, I'll do anything you want me to, if you only won't send me back to the county jail," pleaded
Mrs. Nelson when she was arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of second offense drunk-ness.

"Judge, I'll do anything you want me to, if you only won't send me back over the hill," she begged, with such deep feeling that the tears in her eyes pleaded for her release. She said she had been in the county jail
for two weeks and that she was going to work in the city.

raigned in police court this morning

RAILROAD EARNINGS GAIN.
Indianapolis News: In spite of the complaints of hard times for the railroads, the statistics show that they have made a relative gain in the last decade. In 1900 the percentage of net return to the railways on their capital was only one-quarter as great as that on manufactures. In 1910 the percentage had increased to nearly one-half. Manufactures in 1900 returned 17.19 per cent profit, railways 4.50; in 1910 the figures were 12.04 per cent for manufactures and 6.72 for railways.

There is "something missing" at the party when a cool, refreshing glass of beer is not served during the evening. No other liquid refreshment can take its place, for none has such genuinely satisfying results.

When a host serves Fitzgerald's Beer there's satisfaction in serving the best. Keep a case in your cellar and you will always be ready for emergencies.

CLEANS THE HAIR AND MAKES IT BEAUTIFUL---25 CENT "DANDERINE"

In a Few Moments Your Hair Looks Soft, Fluffy, Lustrous and Abundant—No Falling Hair or Dandruff

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanser" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few moments you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance, the healthy and shimmer of true hair health.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of Dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

store, preparing and serving free samples of canned fruits, meats, fish and vegetables to any one who cares to try them. Furthermore, during that week there will be sales of certain kinds of canned goods that dealers are especially desirous of bringing to the attention of the public. Many of the stores will make use of special window displays, which they will receive from the National Canned Foods week committee.

An effort is being made to get the hotels, restaurants and cafes to put on canned food menus during that week.

WILL ENTERTAIN G. A. R. VETERANS

Members of Local Posts Will Be Guests of Theater Manager.

Members of both of the local posts of the G. A. R., the 10th and 11th, will be guests of honor at the Orpheum theater Thursday afternoon. Manager Billings has invited every member of the two societies to attend the Thursday matinee free, and to meet the Old Soldier Fiddlers at a reception given following the performance. A G. A. R. membership button will be the only passport needed to the theater.

The five old soldiers appearing at the Orpheum are veterans of the Civil war, two Confederates and three Union men, and in every of they visit they make it a practice to entertain their former comrades and to meet as many of them as possible.

HONOR MEMORY OF ROBERT EMMET

Annual Celebration Under Auspices of Division No. 1, A. O. H.

The annual observance of Robert Emmet's birthday by Division No. 1, A. O. H., will be held this evening at the Cathedral auditorium. Every year on March 4, Duluth people of Irish birth and descent gather to do honor to the memory of the young Irish patriot, whose life was taken when he was but 23 years of age. The youth, ardent patriot and heroic soldier, whose death brought about the death of the Irish patriots, and all over the world his birthday anniversary is observed by the Irish people.

John Dwan of Two Harbors and P. E. Dowling will be the speakers at the Cathedral auditorium tonight. The program follows:

Reading—"Sentenced to Death" by Mrs. A. V. Kelly.
Address—"Robert Emmet" by John Dwan.
Violin solo—"Sweet Vale of Avoca" by Miss Elizabeth Sullivan.
Vocal solo—"Sweet Vale of Avoca" by Miss Elizabeth Sullivan.

"SKY PILOT" HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Breaks Through the Ice While Crossing Moose River.

Frank L. Higgins, "Humberjack" sky pilot, probably owes his life to Matt Daly, a fellow evangelist.

While crossing the ice on Moose river yesterday afternoon, Mr. Higgins broke through. His struggles attracted the attention of Matt Daly, who had crossed ahead of him. The latter hurried back and pulled him out.

The men were conducting meetings in the lumber camps and were traveling from Scott-Graft camp No. 5, to Algonquin camp No. 2.

Both men came into Duluth last night. Mr. Higgins with his clothes more or less frozen. Today he had not recovered from the ill effects of the cold.

RANDALL HEAD OF ROTARIANS

Duluth Rotary Club Elects Officers at Annual Meeting

Gold Watch Presented to E. J. Filiatrault, Retiring President.

Duluth Rotarians met in annual session last evening at the Commercial club and elected Frank E. Randall president of the Duluth Rotary club for the ensuing year. The meeting was one of the largest and best in the history of the local organization.

The other officers elected were George A. Sherwood, vice president; G. H. Bates, secretary; H. Dight, treasurer; A. J. McCulloch, statistician; George Fairly, sergeant-at-arms; E. J. Filiatrault, director for three years; William Burgess and E. W. Russell, directors for two years; and D. Goodman and E. F. Berg, directors for one year.

E. J. Filiatrault, retiring president.

Mr. Randall was presented with a gold watch as a token of appreciation for his work as president during the past year. J. T. Armistead made the presentation speech.

A committee consisting of George M. Peterson, William F. Henry and G. H. Bates was appointed to frame a resolution to be presented to Governor Eberhart, endorsing E. J. Filiatrault as a member of the state reclamation commission.

La Brosse's orchestra furnished a musical program during the dinner hour, which met with the appreciation of the Rotarians. Some pleasing selections were also rendered by Charles O. Appelhagen, soloist.

After the election of officers, the new president, Frank E. Randall, was conducted to his chair, and was called upon for his talk. Mr. Randall made an impressive and appropriate response.

The purpose of the proposed bill in the senate under the proposed bill from nine senators to eight. Hennepin county (Minnesota) and on a population basis it would be entitled to ten. The Orpheum is the only theater in which the Hennepin county members consented; but now an attempt is being made to reduce it to eight seats, which chances seem to be that this attempt will be successful, though it will be vigorously opposed.

There has also been during the last twenty-four hours evidence that an attempt also might be made to reduce St. Louis county's representation in the senate from five to four. St. Louis county, with Lake and Cook, now has a total of ten seats in the senate, which this attempt will go far.

Those who have analyzed the situation believe that the eight-seat forces have control of the reapportionment to reduce it to four seats. If the bill is made a special order for as early a date as possible—probably Friday.

Notwithstanding these signs of trouble, the plan will be fought on the floor.

The friends of reappointment is to bring a report on the bill before the senate tomorrow, and ask that the bill be made a special order for as early a date as possible—probably Friday.

day afternoon without a word of debate or dissenting vote.

The bill provides that in presidential years there shall be held a presidential primary in the second Tuesday in March, at which the voters may elect their choice for president and vice president, nominate presidential electors and elect delegates and alternates to the national convention.

This election is to be governed by the primary election laws, except that no registration of voters prior to the election is to be required.

Two presidential electors and the delegates at large are to be voted upon throughout the state. Delegates from each congressional district are to be voted on in such district.

Names of candidates for president and vice president are to be placed upon the ballot by petitions of 500 legal voters. Anybody wishing to become a candidate for state elector or delegate may file his affidavit at least thirty days before the election with the secretary of state. If he is voted upon in more than one county and with the county at large, among other things, the candidate's pledge to carry out his own political party.

In the election of delegates the persons having the highest number of votes are to be elected delegates, and those having the next highest vote are to be alternates.

The persons receiving the most votes in their party for president and vice president are to be declared the choice of the party in that state, and the delegates must vote for such successful candidates in the national convention. Delegates are to get their expenses on their trip to the national convention, up to $200 each, and are to be immediately after the nomination of early candidates for president and vice president and to pick a national committeeman for four years.

The House put in a busy afternoon yesterday passing bills, including the following:

By Representatives Harrison and Volmer—Joint resolution asking congress to construct a canal from Lake Superior to the Mississippi by way of the Brule and St. Croix rivers. Passed under suspension of the rules without dissent.

By Representative Bjornson—Providing that proposed constitutional amendments shall be published in every newspaper in the state instead of in three in each county selected by the secretary of state, as at present.

By Representative Spooner—Directing the state board of control to proceed to the manufacture of farm machinery at the state penitentiary, and setting aside $250,000 for that purpose out of the state prison revolving fund.

By Representative W. W. Brown—Prohibiting the introduction of liquor on school grounds.

By Representative McCarty—Requiring licensees to give notice of intended operations in the woods, before starting work. The bill was passed by a vote of 16 to 10.

By Representative Volmer—Providing that one-sixth of the mortgage registry tax receipts shall go to the state revenue fund, one-sixth into the county revenue fund, and the balance be equally divided between the school district and the municipality.

By Representative Spooner—Proposed constitutional amendment doing away with the requirement that the state treasurer publish a detailed financial statement annually in a newspaper at the state capital.

By Representative Spooner—Increasing the gross earnings tax on corporations from 5 per cent to 6 per cent.

By the house committee on taxes—Providing a gross earnings tax of 5 per cent on sleeping car companies.

Reducing the mortgage registry tax from 50 cents per $100 to 15 cents, and the tax on the mortgage tax running for more than five years.

By Representative Spooner—Providing that the list of bills to be introduced April 1 instead of May 1.

The following bills came into the legislature yesterday afternoon:

Senator Dale—Requiring school boards to furnish transportation for pupils living more than two miles from the schoolhouse, or to furnish board and room if transportation is not possible. Limited to pupils in the eighth and lower grades, and between 8 and 18 years of age.

Senator Benson—Requiring the county to share a part of the cost of maintaining insane patients, now borne wholly by the state. Each county is to pay $10 a month toward the support of its patients, and it may recover this amount from the relatives of the patients if they have property.

Senator Boyle—Providing means for consolidation of the villages of Hibbing and Alice.

Senator Boyle—Providing a clerk of the juvenile court, the term of office to be 12 months.

Senator Boyle—Providing an additional probation officer for the range juvenile court.

Senate committee on banks and banking—Creating a state charter board, composed of the superintendent of banks, the public examiner and an attorney general, to examine into the organization of proposed new banks, loan and trust companies, building and loan associations, etc.

House committee on labor—Regulating governing machinery so as to require more adequate protection of employees against accident.

Representative Spooner—Allowing discounts for cash payments on sales of prison-made binding twine in large quantities.

Representative Sundberg—Proposed constitutional amendment providing that no increase in salary shall be made effective during the term of the incumbent of the office where the raise occurs.

Representative Conley—Allowing home rule charter cities of the fourth class to levy a tax half as high as to provide municipal entertainments.

Representative Campbell—Providing that the anti-pass law shall not prevent the postoffice from contracting with street railway carry mail carriers for less than the regular rates.

The most economical of all Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

Royal Baking Powder is made from pure grape cream of tartar, and is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder is more economical than any other leavening agent, because of the superlative quality and absolute wholesomeness of the food it makes.

Mixtures made in imitation of genuine baking powders, but containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or advertised and offered at a low price. Such are mixtures of unwholesome ingredients. In England, France, Germany and some sections of the United States the sale of alum baking powder is prohibited by law. Alum is a corrosive mineral acid, and physicians condemn baking powders containing it.

The label upon baking powders must show the ingredients.

The Senate grain investigation committee was engaged yesterday in looking into the business of the Loftus-Hubbard company, the Equity Co-operative exchange of Minneapolis, and the Independent Grain exchange of Minneapolis.

A. A. Trovaten of Fargo was on the stand most of the time. He said that he was a solicitor and publicity agent with tax of 25 cents on the dollar for the Equity concern. He was examined as to advertisements of these concerns in the organ of the American Society of Equity, and copies of this magazine were introduced in evidence. One advertisement showed a picture of what appeared to be a large elevator, labeled "Our own terminal elevator in St. Paul. This was shown to be the elevator of the Loftus-Hubbard company. An article about the concern in the Equity magazine was also introduced in evidence. The committee was told that the Loftus-Hubbard company, as the Equity exchange's general counsel, and picture of the Corn Exchange building in Minneapolis, labeled "Independent Grain Exchange."

The attorneys for the Equity exchange strenuously to this line of examination, but their objections were overruled.

Mr. Trovaten testified that last October there was a meeting to consider a suit against the Minneapolis chamber of commerce, and that as counsel they had Mr. Manahan and Louis D. Loftus, got into the record as an "offer of proof" his own statement, that Mr. Brandeis looked into the rules and practices of the chamber, and that it was a monopoly and in restraint of trade, and that suit ought to be brought to break it up. The committee did not take Mr. Trovaten's testimony on this subject, however, as it was hearsay and irrelevant anyway.

Mr. Trovaten's testimony showed that the Independent Grain exchange has a trading room about 12 by 15 feet, on a second floor, where the Equity Co-operative exchange, a corporation, and that three persons have desk room in this room. Mr. Manahan has offices on the same floor.

At least three members of the house grain committee, Representatives Bendixen, Pelgen and Schwartz, will leave tonight for Duluth, where the investigation of the Duluth board of trade will begin tomorrow. It was expected that the inquiry will run longer than two or three days. Representatives of the board of trade have been able to get to Duluth or not.

Appraisers Removed.—President Taft last night summarily dismissed from office Theodorus S. Sharroto and Roy H. Chamberlain, members of the board of United States general appraisers at Duluth, "because of malfeasance in office."

KILL IT, QUICK!

Sudden death, quick burial, and the blackest oblivion should be the fate of the constitutional amendment offered by Representative W. T. Stone of Park Rapids to abolish the ninety day restriction on the length of the legislative session.

There is no earthly reason why the legislature should be allowed an indefinite time in which to do its work. There is every reason why it should be compelled to be as expeditious as possible in what it has to do.

Nothing could be gained by lengthening the session. The meeting of the legislature is a heavy expense to the state. It is not a matter of the salaries of the members, for these remain the same whether the session be long or short. Even an extra session brings them no extra recompense. But there are the items of clerk hire, printing, furnishing of supplies, and the numberless other small bits that go to make up the total cost of a session, besides that of proper heating and care of the legislative chambers.

If any change at all is to be made in the length of the sessions of the state lawmakers, they had better be cut to sixty days. That would give all the time actually necessary for the enactment of legislation, and would save the state money. Even with the ninety day limit there is too much time for lobbying and logrolling and juggling in general.

If Representative Stone wants to do something to the legislative limitation provision, he should initiate an amendment to cut down the time instead of lengthening it. We don't want to have the legislature liable to continue all summer, as it has sometimes done in Wisconsin. Sixty days would be long enough.

"President Wilson"—It doesn't sound so badly, after all.

THEIR OWN MEDICINE.

Poetic justice is not dead, as witness the necessity under which the English militant suffragettes have found themselves of appealing to the police for protection from mobs.

It is too bad to see women the victims of such attacks under any circumstances, but there is no denying that in this case they have brought the trouble upon themselves. They have sown, not merely the wind, but the whirlwind, and they are now harvesting the natural crop.

It was only a question of time when such tactics as they have adopted would bring about such a result as this. Perhaps the adoption of their own methods by those about them will open their eyes to the folly of their course. At least, it is to be hoped that that will be the outcome.

The women are fighting in a just cause, but they have taken vile means to accomplish their end. It has been said that they have set back the granting of suffrage to women in England by a quarter of a century by their violence. How true that may be it is of course impossible to judge. But it seems safe to say that they have injured rather than helped by the destruction of property and attacks on human beings. Now they are taking their own medicine, and apparently they do not like it. But perhaps it will do them good and lead to the adoption of saner and more effective methods.

The annual influx of immigrants to the state is in full swing. Which helps to demonstrate that people outside of Minnesota are continuing to garner wisdom.

BOOM ITASCA STATE PARK.

From Bemidji there has emanated a movement to boom the Itasca state park. It is proposed to secure co-operation on the part of the state, the Great Northern railroad and the Red River Lumber company, and have the park put on the route for tourists. The movement has received impetus from the proposal that the state turn the park over to private interests for exploitation.

Itasca park is one of the beauty spots of the Northwest. It is the birthplace of the mighty Mississippi river, and has within its borders very nearly 300 separate lakes. Its scenery is second to none in the state, and the park is capable of accommodating many thousand visitors annually.

In letters to Governor Eberhart and to H. A. Noble, general passenger agent of the Great Northern, a direct plea has been made by J. J. Opsahl, chairman of the special traffic committee of the Bemidji Com-

"A DAY OF DEDICATION."

Today Uncle Sam turns his affairs over to a new set of officials. They are of a different type from those who leave office; some of them are of a different type from any who have been so trusted in the past. And it is but right and natural to consider for a moment the characteristics of the old set and the promises of the new.

During the Taft administration, which today reaches its conclusion, the most notable development so far as national feeling is concerned has been that of unrest. From first to last during the four-year period there has been growing up throughout the country a discontent with affairs as they are and as they have been. This discontent found its culmination in the retirement from office of the highest official in the land and the reversal of the majority in the national senate, and its spirit continued through this last session of the Sixty-second congress, where it was exemplified in the repeated efforts, successful in one instance, to overthrow the will of the president by action of congress.

It is a remarkable fact that through all this William Howard Taft retained to an almost unimpaired degree the personal regard of the people of the country. To an extent almost unknown in human history, his official acts have been considered apart from his personality. He has been viewed as the victim of honest misjudgment, of unfortunate environment; not, as have so many men in similar circumstances, as wrong-intentioned or deliberately opposed to what the rank and file of men believed to be right. Even his bitterest critics have assailed, not himself, but his policies, and it was in this spirit that a majority of the voters of the nation voted against him when he appealed to them for another term in office.

What history will say of the Taft administration it is impossible to forecast. We have not yet reached the point where we can get a fair perspective of that period. It is quite possible that, in spite of the weaknesses that they developed, those four years will ultimately be known as years of great progress, for they have seen the extension of governmental regulation over industry to the end that human life may be better safeguarded and the conditions of working people bettered; they have seen definite steps taken to curb the greed of commerce; they have seen marked advance in the putting of national business on sounder business basis through unexampled extensions of the principle that meritorious service shall be sufficient ground for continuance in office; and they have seen two great public services organized in the postal savings bank and the parcel post.

But in spite of all these distinct advancements, the spirit of unrest has thrived and grown. Perhaps it is the highest possible tribute to Mr. Taft personally that the people have regarded the causes of their dissatisfaction as completely apart from his individual character. He retires from the presidency, not admired, it is true, but respected. And truly that must be a wonderful character that can bring any man to such a position when his official acts have been repudiated and condemned.

What is to be said of the administration that opens today? Predictions of disaster have not been wanting since the election of last November. Certain interests that deemed themselves challenged or even threatened by the change have not hesitated to assert that the country was bound to suffer from it. Will the man who is to be the leading figure in national affairs prove equal to the task before him? Will the congress elected to work with him prove to be all that was hoped by the people who determined on its makeup?

Seldom if ever has an administration taken hold of national affairs with more momentous problems to face and solve. The tariff matter is to come first before the new congress, but there are national currency and financial affairs; some puzzling questions in foreign relations that must be handled with the extreme of delicacy and tact, particularly as regards the Mexican republic; the completion of details as to management and operation of the Panama canal and the government of the canal zone; and the vexed problems of regulation of business and the handling of public lands and natural resources.

While the presidential office is not equipped with power to insure obedience to the president's will in all these things, there is an unmistakable force behind that will, particularly when, as is the case with President Wilson, the people of the country have confidence in their executive and stand willing to back him up if he appeals to them for support. It is, therefore, of the utmost significance that the new president should accept his high office in the spirit shown by President Wilson's words in his inaugural address in which he says:

"Our duty is to cleanse, to reconsider, to restore, to correct the evil without impairing the good, to purify and humanize every process of our common life without weakening or sentimentalizing it. * * *

"We were very heedless and in a hurry to be great. We have come now to the sober second thought. The scales of heedlessness have fallen from our eyes. We have made up our minds to square every process of our national life again with the standards we so proudly set up at the beginning and have always carried at our hearts. Our work is a work of restoration. * * *

"This is the high enterprise of the new day: To lift everything that concerns our life as a nation to the light that shines from the hearthfire of every man's conscience and vision of the right. It is inconceivable that we should do this as partisans; it is inconceivable we should do it in ignorance of the facts as they are or in blind haste. * * *

"This is not a day of triumph; it is a day of dedication. Here muster, not the forces of party, but the forces of humanity. Men's hearts wait upon us; men's lives hang in the balance; men's hopes call upon us to say what we will do. Who shall live up to the great trust? Who dares fail to try? I summon all honest men, all patriotic, all forward-looking men, to my side. God helping me, I will not fail them if they will but counsel and sustain me."

If the phrase had not been so bandied about as to lose its force and meaning, one would say that this was the spirit of Lincoln, speaking in words that Lincoln himself might have used. If President Wilson lives up to the standard he has thus set for himself—as his record makes it reasonable to expect that he will live up to—it will see the time, and that soon, when "the nation shall, under God, have a new birth of freedom," with new assurance that "government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

merical club, for the co-operation sought by that club. The object is entitled to support from all quarters of the state.

It is not a complicated project. Already there is a line of railway, operated by the Red River Lumber company, to within two miles of the park house. This line could be connected with the Great Northern at Akeley, Minn., if desirable, and there

SAYS THE SALOON IS AN OUTLAW

To the Editor of The Herald:
I would not enter into an argument with anyone who would claim respectability for any saloon keeper or his business. The highest courts of our nation have declared that liquor as a merchandise and the sale of it have no legal standing. In other words it is an outlaw article and the sale of it is an "outlaw" business. So the respectability of a man selling or carrying on an "outlaw" business is far fetched.

The saloon man is just as respectable in selling liquor as is the United States government in collecting "a rake off" called revenue, and permitting its citizens to enter into an "outlaw" business. This revenue is simply blood money, gathered in from drunken fathers and paupers and children. As to men who do not allow him to sell and soon never becoming drunk, reminds me of a story told by a fisherman.

He was being himself with a lunch and a small bottle of liquor. After eating his lunch he soaked some of the smaller fish and soon he had all of the smaller fish drunk and floating on the surface of the water.

He then took the smaller fish and soaked them in the same results as on the day previous. He determined to find out if possible what kind of a fish he was dealing with.

So he took a spear and with a little man-eating succeeded in landing the big fish. He said the fish looked just like the smaller fish, but he was not so sure.

So he opened up the fish and made a thorough examination. Everything appeared normal. He then split the fish's head open and said, there was not a sign of a brain there.

THE ELECTION OF 1876.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Will you please explain fully the election of 1876 and how it was declared that Hayes was declared elected president, when the return showed that Tilden was elected? A full explanation will be appreciated. Yours respectfully, FRED O. DAY.

International Falls, Minn., March 1.

Following the election of 1876 there were 184 undisputed votes in the electoral college for Tilden and 163 for Hayes. There were two votes cast by South Carolina, Florida, Louisiana and Oregon. Congress for the first time, appointed an electoral commission to pass upon these disputed electors, and all of them were given to Hayes, giving him a majority of one vote. The cause of dispute in the Southern states was that it was claimed the "carpet baggers" had thrown out enough colored voters on the plea of intimidation to elect Hayes electors, although Tilden had a popular majority. Oregon Democrats in retaliation threw out one Hayes elector in order to offset this. A complete account of this dispute will be found in any encyclopedia. If Mr. Day desires the details.—The Editor.

SHALL THE TEACHER LIVE OR EXIST?

To the Editor of The Herald:

Your Open Court is a great boon to big people and little people who want to know and do not always have an opportunity.

Just now the question of salaries is quite to the front in the minds of Duluth teachers. We are asking for a salary that is somewhere near adequate to our reasonable needs. Duluth has a high reputation for a savings bank account. We are often met with the objection that Duluth is not in the same class with the larger cities, but we pay higher salaries than the teachers of Duluth are receiving, any equal to that paid in larger cities. These same people do not consider the fact that in most of the larger cities good board and lodging are furnished for $20 to $25 a month, while in Duluth it ranges from $30 to $35 or more.

Many other expenses, for it is farther from the large centers. We might mention in this connection that purchased of amateur theatricals, dry goods stores, restaurants, etc. Church expenses are large in Duluth, as are concerts, theaters and must be interested in all good things in a community. The civic banquet, the best plays should be within reach of a teacher, for we all know the result of all work and no play.

I thank you for the opportunity to add a word to explain the teacher's problem. Respectfully, A TEACHER.

Origin of a Famous Song.

Indianaapolis News: The song of "Home, Sweet Home," written by John Howard Payne, was first given to the world in a play called "Clari, or the Maid of Milan," of which Payne was the author. Charles Dickens, who was fond of amateur theatricals as a young man, appeared in this play, in which his elder sister, Fanny, took the part of Clari.

The original playbill is of about the year 1835:

"HOME, SWEET HOME!"

Sung by Miss M. Tree in "Clari, or the Maid of Milan," at the Theater Royal, Covent Garden;

Miss Stephens at the Musical Festival.

Composed and Arranged by Henry H. Bishop.

Composer and director of the music to the Theater Royal, Covent Garden.

The poetry by John Howard Payne.

The play has been forgotten for nearly three-quarters of a century, but the song has in it a heart throbs that gives it everlasting life.

The Military Look.

Chicago Post: When Sir John French was in command of the cavalry at Canterbury he chanced one day to meet a rather blotchy young recruit in the "king's" kitchen and only four in the laundry, indicating that washing was not of much account in those days. From House to Senate, No. 2

By Sanford.

Washington, March 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—In discussing this subject, the mind inevitably reverts to the careers of J. Proctor Knott, Edward W. Carmack and Robert Taylor. Knott entered congress in 1887 at the age of 37 and retired in 1888, though there was a hiatus in his tenure of four years, 1871-75. He could have held the seat until his death in 1910, but the senate was his proper theater, and it is a pity—and was a calamity—that he did not succeed Thomas C. McCreery in that body in 1879. He was a lawyer of the very first rank; a political philosopher he was not surpassed by any statesman of his day; he was deeply read in all sorts of letters; he was a poet, an orator, a debater, a humorist. Judge Jeremiah S. Black, the leader of the American bar, pronounced Knott's speech against the Fourteenth amendment as the greatest treatise on the American system of government as ever came from any political thinker of our history. In my poor opinion his speech on the bill of rights in the constitutional convention of Kentucky, 1880-81, is the finest political production in the English language.

He joined the study of political principles and had a conscience that would not allow him to serve in the light of the high ideals he conceived. In congress there never was any doubt as to his position. He was not in any question that involved a political principle. He was a man of the most sterling moral force. For example: When Hayes was president the Democrats sought to engraft on the army appropriation bill a repeal of the Reconstruction measure providing for soldiers at the polls, and placing John Tilden as censor of elections in New York city.

It was over this question that Joe Blackburn made the great eloquent speech in which he decried the southern "reconstruction." He was a man of the highest caliber and he who doubts is damned.—A South Carolina production, by the way, of nullification and secession passed both houses and Hayes vetoed it. Knott held that the cause of the row between Charles I. and parliament was the refusal of the legislature to grant supplies without a redress of grievances, and he carried his party with him in both houses. The senate also being Democratic, "Old Roman" Tilden presided.

In the congress last preceding, the forty-fifth, John G. Carlisle delivered his maiden speech on this question in a masterly argument that established his reputation as one of the most powerful debaters in congress ever knew. Garfield repelled, and each foe man was repelled. Hayes vetoed the bill, and when the Democrats sought to attach to the Reconstruction measure, Garfield fired the Northern heretic with the declaration that the rebel brigades, having failed to shoot the government to death, were in a conspiracy to starve to death.

It had tremendous effect. The principle of the thing was lost sight of, that congress is the purse-holder. There was a joint caucus of the House and Senate, and some of the leaders were dismayed. "Old Roman" Tilden was elected. "Old Roman" as did Lamar, Voorhes, Vest, Kernan, Beck, Garfield, and nearly all the other Democrats except Knott, W. B. Eaton, the Successionist Democrat from Connecticut. As for Knott, he would have stood "till death had made him marble."

They walked out of the caucus, Knott remarked to his colleague from Kentucky, "Great God, John, did you ever before see such a topping of tall timber as there was tonight." It was not until the second term of President Cleveland that the vicious Republican Federal election laws were repealed.

And again, in the Forty-fourth congress Knott led the filibuster, which, had it been successful, would have vetoed the assent of the Democratic house to the findings of the eight to seven electoral commission. Had it prevailed, Grant would have held over until a special election, and have been elected. But Sam Randall, the Democratic speaker, exercised some very vigorous exclamation, the filibuster was defeated, and Hayes inaugurated.

What a pity it is that Knott with his mind, scholarly tastes, studious habits and poetic temperament did not have the magnetic and captivating individuality of Joe Blackburn! What a man it would have been—these two fused! But such a dual personality is impossible. It would have been a greater Crichton. The two natures would have been at eternal and relentless warfare.

His very opulence was a flaw in the strength of Proctor Knott; that it was a marvelous command of language. What a wizard he was to sport with an adverb! How ornate his sentences! When he had finished it! On the other hand, John G. Carlisle seemed to take a malicious delight in murdering the words in the styles employed by the two. In clothing a thought as there is in the architecture of a Moorish mosque and a castle—no one splendid and the other strong.

William Wirt in an address on John Marshall held that the great chief justice had a vocabulary pitiable for its poverty, that he groped about for words and was actually with it when, after laborious thought, he found it, and maybe that accounts for the strength of the productions of that remarkable man.

And maybe it was his radical difference in the matter of style that led Marshall to pronounce William Pinkney of Maryland, who had a most coherent vocabulary, the greatest lawyer who ever pleaded at the bar of the supreme court while he presided over that tribunal.

I'll try Carmack and Taylor in my next.

Dependency of Man.

Judge: At Pepperdine had called upon his niece to unburden his marital woes. One of his chief grievances was that he often had to help around the house—carry water or coal or build fires.

"Cynthia, I'm just plumb wore out havin' them women folks depend on me for everything, and they don't seem to think I'm doin' anything extra. I tell you, them women folks of mine are as dependent as a child on me. They're soon gone to find out how dependent they are; then they'll appreciate me."

"Why, Uncle Al, are you going away?" inquired Cynthia. In surprise, "I am going to become a recluse," announced Pepperdine portentously. "I'm going miles into the country and live all alone in a cabin for six months, and Susan and them girls will see who's been doing all the work."

But, Uncle Al, exclaimed Cynthia, "who will do your washing and such like?"

"Why, I'll bring that to Susan on Saturday night, when I come in to get my bread."

And This Is England?

London Telegraph: A state paper of the time of William Rufus, describing the royal household, mentioned 100 servants in the king's kitchen and only four in the laundry, indicating that washing was not of much account in those days. Even so late as 1864, the reign of Charles II. Pepys thought it worthy of record in his diary that on Feb. 24, 1664, his wife took a bath

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, March 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—This may throw a bit of light on the ways of political bosses and help to explain how bosses of the Boies Penrose type maintain their hold.

A young newspaper man struck Washington not long ago and got on the trail of a story that led him to the office of Senator Penrose. But Penrose said he didn't know anything about the facts the correspondent wanted.

"I have heard of the matter," he went on to say, "and there's a clerk in one of the offices about the capitol here who knows the whole story. I think I'll ask him to hunt you up and tell you what he knows. I'm leaving town today, but the first chance I have I'll ask him to tell you all about it."

"Huh! you better make a note of it," suggested the correspondent, dubiously.

Oh, no. I'll remember it all right," said Penrose.

So the newspaper man went his way, believing that the incident was closed.

Three weeks later a young man came to his office and said: "You're Mr. So-and-so, aren't you? He went a great way and asked me if I would hunt you up and tell you the facts about some story you were interested in."

Penrose had actually carried the thing around in his head for three weeks until he got a chance to keep his promise.

Oscar W. Underwood, ways and means committee chairman, has a colored doorkeeper who owns and operates the most wonderful smile now extant. The man does not reserve the smile for state occasions either, but bestows it with great impartiality to all comers, regardless of political, racial, religious, baseball or other differences. He smiles and smiles.

But the other day he cracked his first joke.

A man with a gaudy set of whiskers desired to see Underwood, but would not state what his mission was about. Underwood was busy and did not give time to visitors who merely came to discuss current literature or satisfy morbid curiosity.

"What does the man want?" he inquired.

"I don't know, sah," replied the Cerberus with the gorgeous grin, "but he has an idea he wants to try to keep whiskers off the free list."

"The finest tribute to the American Indian I know of is a meeting of our committee," remarked a member of the senate committee on Indian Affairs, "two members of the committee, Senators Owens and Curtis, are part Indian. And they run things just to suit themselves."

Senator Gamble, who is the nominal head of the committee up until the expiration of his term, is a mild mannered man. Senator Owens is not. Thus each has been a good foil for the other at committee meetings.

"The meeting will now stand adjourned," said chairman Gamble.

"We'll not adjourn until a couple of other matters of mine have been taken up," suggests Owens.

"A motion to adjourn will be in order," says Gamble later on, after Owens seems to be through.

"I have one or two matters yet to be considered," murmurs Owens, in his tense manner. And he gets 'em considered.

When Owens sees everything cleared up to his satisfaction, he leans back in his chair and Gamble adjourns the meeting.

As everybody knows, or will know after they get through reading this interesting little paragraph, Representative Dick Hobson is a great fellow to get up in the house and make speeches. He'll make a speech and then the next day he'll make another one—and so on.

Dick returned to Washington not long ago, after a lecturing tour, but when he entered the house for the first time since his absence, Representative Tom Crago of Pennsylvania turned to Representative George Whitely of Ohio and says he:

"George, I'll bet you Dick Hobson gets up and makes a speech inside of five minutes."

"Cut it to four minutes," says White.

"And I'll take the bet."

So Crago took a chance even at four minutes.

In exactly three minutes and a half Hobson arose and submitted some remarks on certain matters appertaining to naval affairs in this country.

Senator "Swanee" Webb, the Tennessee schoolmaster and bad boy trainer, who is in public life until noon, March 4, has made a great deal of the last twenty years. He's here the word and case matter of how much such work had paid him.

"This," replied "Swanee," holding up small pocket knife, "that's all I've got out of it. One day a hardware merchant in Knoxville gave me that at the close of my lecture. It's all I ever managed to collect."

Representative General Dupre of Louisville got a request the other day from a man who desired to get hold of a government work on the subject of goats. Dupre got his request mixed up with a number of others and sent him a copy of the Congressional directory.

Senator Ollie James sat down to a big dinner with a party of friends the other day, looked it over, sighed contentedly, sank back into his chair, and remarked solemnly: "I certainly do like food."

Making an Impression.

Harpers Weekly: Bob Dwyer, fresh from college, opened a real estate office in an attractive suburban neighborhood and hoped to make his fortune. For days he sat undisturbed in his little office, staring out at the dusty roads or twiddling his thumbs. On the afternoon of the fourth day he saw a man crossing Oden boulevard diagonally, headed for his door. Surely this was a customer. He must be made to feel that business was flourishing.

As the man stepped over the threshold Bob had the telephone receiver at his ear and was talking earnestly into the transmitter.

"That's correct," he said as the man stood before him. "Right. We will stand on a ten-year mortgage. What? Yes. Bob hung up the receiver and turned an important look at the door around at 11 tomorrow morning. Good-by."

"Now, sir," he said, "what can I do for you?"

"Why, I just came over," said the man, grinning. "To connect your telephone instrument with the wires."

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1893.

"Grover Cleveland of New York, twice nominated for president of the United States and twice elected, was today inducted into that high office for his second term, with all appropriate ceremonies and the gathering of a mighty multitude, and with the accompaniment of a blinding snow-storm. Forty thousand men took part in the parade. Had the atmospheric conditions not been as bad as could possibly be, there would probably have been 50,000 men and a number of ladies accompanying or riding in the parade. They were all here waiting to fall in line, but at the last moment many of the organizations were compelled to desist from participation. The governors of eleven states, from the North East, South and West, participated in the ceremonies and thereby emphasized the complete restoration of national unity.

"The Great Western Manufacturing company at West Duluth has received several carloads of machinery for the manufacture of dynamos. After this department is put in running order, the company expects to have nearly 400 hands, some of whom will be girls, at work by July.

"C. Osborn has purchased the hardware business of the Chapin-Weiss company at West Duluth.

"Messrs. Nelson and McGregor, both graduates of the state normal school at Geneseo, N. Y., have arrived in Duluth and will at once enter upon their duties as teachers in the public schools.

HEALTH & HAPPINESS

By Dr. R. D. Scott.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit, or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper illustrations and when a stamped addressed envelope is enclosed.

Dr. Scott will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases, and requests for such service cannot be answered.

City Housing.

The low-wage portion of the population of every big city is always at a great disadvantage in the general movement for the preservation of health, and it is in this class that the practice of hygiene is most important. The practice of hygiene is most important in the low-wage portion of the population, which is the principal stumbling block in the way of practical hygiene becoming popular with these people. It has been said, not without reason, that the practice of hygiene was only possible to the fairly well-to-do. This statement is hardly correct, although it may be admitted that much of the advice given by hygienists and sanitarians can only be followed by those in comparatively comfortable circumstances.

The proper housing of the low-wage earner is a problem which is beyond his unaided ability to master, and it is necessary that assistance be given by those in a better position, in such a way that it will in no way interfere with the self-respect of the individual assisted. In connection with a housing exhibition to be held in Chicago this month, the City Club of Chicago has prepared a program of a prize competition for a scheme of development for a theoretical quarter-section of land within the limits of the city of Chicago. This scheme contemplates the development of an element of land with houses instead of apartment buildings; and the conditions of the competition require the submission of plans showing the streets proposed to be laid out in respect to direction, width, garden, tree size and arrangement of lots, and the location of dwellings on them; the provision of public open spaces other than streets, and the designation of spaces for business, educational, religious, recreational and other social requirements. The plans are to be submitted by a population not greater than 1,250 families for the quarter section, and competitors will be furnished by the City Club with literature concerning similar projects and the housing of wage-earners in this and other countries.

An effort will be made to secure through this competition the best practical plans for the housing of the working portion of the community, conforming to modern standards of hygiene and sanitation, without involving too large an investment in real estate. The City Club will not doubt be productive of many ideas concerning the housing problem and what may be of greater importance, it will call the attention of a wider circle of people to the fact that there is a housing problem, and that it has an extremely important bearing on the health and welfare of the community.

The best time for any city to tackle the housing problem is when it is in its infancy; the next best time is now, and the city of Chicago may have passed beyond the infancy of infancy, but it is still sufficiently undeveloped that the prompt solution of this question will tend to make it one of the healthiest industrial centers on this continent.

How to Keep Sick.

By way of variety, and for the benefit of those who may have become weary of the daily reading in this department of how to keep well, we publish the advice given in the Chicago Board of Health Bulletin on how people may manage to keep sick. In spite of the efforts of boards of health, doctors and gratuitous advice given by the newspapers, etc., this advice has been gathered from many sources and is in a number of instances the result of long observation and experiment; hence, those who have a prevalent desire to remain sick, need fear no failure in the suggestions maintaining the reputation already earned. Here they are: "Keep the windows closed all the time, when you sleep; fresh air will keep you healthy."

"Keep the sunshine out of your house, germs do not like sunlight. Never take a deep breath; that would give your lungs some needed exercise, and besides you might catch a hutton of your vest. Don't disturb the flies—they mites a part of fifth of dirt. Eat any kind of food, regardless of its nutritive value; sawdust and excelsior are good. Yell."

Swallow your food without chewing.

It will surely help you. Try a bottle today.

DR. R. D. SCOTT.

If your stomach has no teeth. Eat irregularly—by all means keep your stomach disordered. Never take a bath—soap and water are enemies of disease. Never exercise in the open air; with foul air be your most violent form of exercise—your body craves exercise and fresh air. Get very little sleep—your nervous system will soon collapse under the strain. Drink any old water, the dirtier the better—you'll often find typhoid in the water. Keep a dirty house—dirt and disease go hand in hand. If you get diphtheria, don't use antitoxin—antitoxin is likely to cure you. If you want smallpox don't get vaccinated. Don't get particular about your milk supply—that's a good way to get sick and to keep the baby sick.

Questions and Answers.

Baby's Weight.
Mrs. E. B. writes: My baby is 3 weeks old and weighs exactly what it did at birth; that is, eight pounds. Should it not have increased somewhat in three weeks?

REPLY.
An eight-pound baby at birth will lose about 12 ounces to one pound during the first two or three days of life. If this initial loss is made up by the end of three weeks, there is likely nothing wrong with the child. Weigh the baby every week for a short time, then every month, and if the increase is about one pound a month for the first six months, it is doing as well as can be expected.

Ingrowing Toe-Nails.
J. F. W. would like to know what to do for ingrowing toe-nails.

REPLY.
If the condition is serious you should consult a surgeon. It is usually necessary to remove a part of the nail. The prevention of this condition is, however, comparatively easy and, if your case is not severe, may be cured by the use of a nail file. The common causes of ingrowing toe-nails are improper method of cutting the nails.

If the nail is cut too short, especially at the angles, while at the same time the shoe is too short, or too narrow, the skin on the toe is forced over the nail. Then by the further growth of the nail, the flesh is pushed still further over until a point is reached where inflammation is set up. To prevent this, cut the nail straight across, and do not cut at the angles. Do not push the flesh back and bury it under the nail. If the nail, placing a small wisp of cotton between nail and flesh, a saturated solution of acetic acid will serve for an antiseptic nail dressing.

EAGER FOR INSTRUCTION

Farmers Hungry for Agricultural Knowledge, Says County Agent.

Is Arranging a Series of Short Courses and Institutes.

Farmers in the vicinity of Duluth are hungry for agricultural instruction, according to Fred Ward, county agricultural agent under the extension department of the state college of agriculture.

Mr. Ward is arranging a series of short courses and institutes in the farming communities of the county. He says the demand for dates and speakers is so great that he is unable to supply that an effort will be made to take in all the communities making application for meetings.

The series will open with two short courses of three days each, the first at the church near the Jackson school on the Swan Lake road, March 17, 18 and 19, and the second at the Canosa town hall, March 20, 21 and 22.

March 29 an institute will be held at Alborn, and the speakers will go from there to Gresham, where an institute will be held March 31. No one will be visited April 1 and 2, April 3. A short course of two days will be given at Menominee April 4 and 5.

After the conclusion of the series of short courses and institutes already arranged, Mr. Ward and the speakers will go into the northern part of the county, giving institutes at Cook, Green and water points.

The short courses at Jackson and Canosa will cover dairying, study of the soil and potato growing. The same ground will be covered in brief form at the one-day meetings. Prof. A. D. Wilson, head of the extension department of the state school, is watching operations in St. Louis county with interest. He has promised to supply the speakers for the instructive work now being conducted by Mr. Ward and some of the best men available will be sent into the county.

Mr. Ward says that the interest shown by the farmers is the most encouraging sign. He has been out among the people only two weeks, but in that short time he says he has been able to gather enough information and to become sufficiently in touch with the attitude of the farmers to become convinced that St. Louis has a great agricultural future ahead.

"The farmers are keenly alive to their opportunities and are anxious for instruction in scientific methods of agriculture," said Mr. Ward today. "The extension department has arranged short courses and one-day institutes and I am arranging matters so that all of the communities will be visited before the opening of the spring work."

FIRST CHANCE TO REGISTER

Voters Will Have Opportunity to Get Names on Books March 11.

The Second Registration Day Will Be Saturday, March 15.

City Clerk C. S. Palmer is preparing for the first registration day for the city election April 1. The judges of election will sit as boards of registration next Tuesday, March 11. The second registration day will be Saturday, March 15.

Although those who fail to register on one of the two days will not be barred absolutely from voting, voters will save themselves much trouble by registering on March 11 or 15. The charter provides that a voter who fails to register may vote on election day by filing with the election board an affidavit of residence, attested by the election district in which he lives. There is little noise to it, but the campaign is well under way. Flocks of candidates may be seen at every corner, in the cigar stores and at other places where men congregate. They are well supplied with campaign cards, which they hand out with smiles and affable mien. Placards have made their appearance on the telephone posts and in the windows. He who runs may read that there is a campaign on in Duluth.

The chances are that the campaign will not assume much warmth until the last two weeks before election. The charter provision which limits expenditures to $500 for each candidate is acting as a curb on those who would make a plunge to attract the voters. The candidates are all practicing conservation of resources in order that he may find sufficient coin in his purse at the close of the campaign to carry him through the rushing times just before election.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

COMMISSION FORM WANTED

Brainerd Charter Commission Petitioned to Put It Into Charter.

Socialists of Brainerd Are Planning to Nominate City Ticket.

Brainerd, Minn., March 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The charter commission has been presented petitions signed by 5 per cent of the voters of the city asking for the commission form of government. Drawn up by W. W. Harrows, the petitions ask that the commission government consist of two commissioners and a mayor, for the nomination of these officers by petition, for the distribution of the administrative powers among these officers, for the recall and the initiative and referendum, the charter commission of fifteen is divided in sentiment. Some favor the commission form as mentioned, others wish to amend the old charter of the city and another section desires the municipal managing plan.

Socialists to Have Ticket.
The Socialist city central committee is planning for the April 1 city election. They propose to have a ticket in the field. Literature is to be circulated and in addition the committee contemplates the publishing of a paper to be gotten out on the two Sundays preceding the election.

BIG STONER DAM IS NEARLY READY

Power Plant on Crow Wing River Soon to Be in Operation.

Brainerd, Minn., March 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The big Stoner dam at the Crow Wing river is nearing completion. It is approximately 450 feet long and about twenty-five feet high. On the north side is the powerhouse, a concrete building about fifty feet square and forty feet high. The power is generated by two large turbines measuring eight feet in diameter. The dynamo will produce 35,000 volts. In the building of the dam 150 carloads of cement were used. Current will be furnished all the towns on the Cuyuna range, including Pillager and Motley. It is expected to be in running order early in April.

PATIENT RUNS AWAY.

Man Being Treated in Valley City Hospital Taken After Chase.

Valley City, N. D., March 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Clad only in his night clothing, a schizophrenic patient in a local hospital escaped in the night by way of the fire escape, took a sprint through the snow to the river, treated himself to an ice-cold bath then trotted along the Sheyenne river bank.

STRONG YOUNG CALF

Knocks Down North Dakota Woman Who Lies Suffering in Cold.

Donnybrook, N. D., March 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attacked by a young calf, Mrs. D. McKenzie was thrown to the ground and rendered helpless while returning from the hen house to her home on the farm near here. She lay there until both hands were frozen. The woman was rescued by her daughter on her failure to return to the house, and has badly sprained ankle.

WANT ALL MONEY.

Another Demand in Ward County, N. D., Superintendent's Case.

Minot, N. D., March 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—A new development in the recent investigation into the office of county superintendent of schools of Ward county, E. G. Warren, is the demand of Burke county for a share of the money which Warren is supposed to have failed to turn into the teachers' institute fund. Burke county was at one time a part of Ward and Warren was superintendent for a part of that time. It has developed that the Ward commissioners only demanded such money as has been illegally placed in the county division, but Burke county commissioners believe they also are entitled to pay back to Ward county that which he had appropriated for his own use.

ADDING MACHINE MEN PROMISE TO BE GOOD.

Detroit, Mich., March 4.—A civil anti-trust suit filed here yesterday by order of Attorney General Wickersham charging the Burroughs Adding Machine company with monopolizing interstate and foreign trade in adding machines and appliances was terminated immediately by the entry of an agreed decree terminating alleged unfair practices to stifle competition. The $5,500,000 company was ordered to instruct its agents in writing to desist from interfering with competitors and to refrain from acquiring controlling interest in any competing concern without the consent of the court.

NORTH DAKOTAN DIES.

Col. T. D. Baldwin, Pioneer, Expires Suddenly at McVillie.

McVillie, N. D., March 4.—Col. T. D. Baldwin, a pioneer of Nelson county, died suddenly at his residence on the Baldwin farm Sunday. He was 72 years old. He was born in Scotland, son of Dr. L. B. Baldwin of Minneapolis, superintendent of the hospital of the University of Minnesota, who was formerly superintendent of the state insane asylum at Jamestown. Dr. W. Baldwin of Casselton, N. D.; Frank M. Baldwin of North East, Pa.; and E. C. Baldwin of McVillie, N. D., are his sons. He came from New York state and settled in Nelson county, Minn., where he became prominent in political matters as well as in farming circles. The funeral will be held here this afternoon and the remains will be taken to Bemus Point, N. Y., for interment.

ENDING IN FRICTION.

Close of Montana Legislature Marked By Bitter Feeling.

Helena, Mont., March 4.—The Montana legislature will adjourn next Tuesday, after a session marked by bitter feeling. It was brought with some bitterness, judging from the wrangles that are in prospect. The Missoula members are the ones who are the most bitter. As introduced, for the support of state institutions, given the state university less money than the committee agreed it should have, and that it gives the agricultural college more money than the legislature has ever given it. Kibben's license tax bill on copper, lead and zinc, and Anna's bill submitting a constitutional amendment relative to the taxation of the mines, are the next measures on general orders in the house, and promise to be productive of a stormy session, as also the bills creating Wilkes and Phillips counties, which will come up today.

ITCHING AND SCALES IN HAIR

At Back of Head. Scales Would Form with Scab-like Crust. Two Boxes Cuticura Ointment and Two Cakes Cuticura Soap Cured.

741 Jackson St., Grand Rapids, Mich.—"My trouble was an itching and scales in the hair at the back of my head. It would itch beyond description and when I scratched it would come out and a scale would form with a scab-like crust. Little bunches would raise and these would be mounted with the same form of scale or crust. It would keep my clothes covered with white specks. I had been bothered for years and tried several remedies with no relief. I finally tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment which gave instant relief. I only used two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and two cakes of Cuticura Soap and was cured completely." (Signed) Mrs. M. A. Boardman, Apr. 9, 1912.

PIMPLES DISFIGURED FACE

2547 So. Lincoln St., Chicago, Ill.—"My case began with eruptions on the body, face and arms. The pimples disfigured my face very badly. I was induced to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After using them for about a month I was entirely rid of pimples, blackheads, sores and everything which had bothered me so much for nearly a year." (Signed) Andrew Potts, Apr. 9, 1912.

Pertile—Two cases of smallpox are reported on the other side of Mendota by local doctors. Mentor has just been going through a severe epidemic of that sickness, but the cases there are reported to be under control.

Park Rapids—Fire totally destroyed the farm house west of town occupied by William Euse, Mr. Euse was away from home but most of the contents of the first floor was saved, while that upstairs and in the cellar was lost. The house carried $750 insurance.

Baudette—Real estate taxes for Baudette and the township of Baudette and Spooner may be paid at the First State bank, the lists having been secured for the convenience of the residents of this section.

Atkins—County Superintendent Hall is in receipt of quite a number of enrollment for the agricultural school. Plans are being made to have at least four instructors and the prospects are that this year's course will be even greater than that of last year.

Crookston—The condition of the city water supply of Crookston, as reported by Prof. Reudiger of the University of North Dakota, after a chemical analysis of samples sent to him by a citizen of Crookston, is reassuring.

Moorhead—Martha Beckmann, aged 19, who was so seriously burned about the body on Thursday night at the Ole Parler farm near Georgetown, died Friday at Northwestern hospital where she was brought at an early hour Friday morning.

Brainerd—Valentine Enkelhart, the 2-week-old child of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Enkelhart, died of acute pneumonia March 1. The funeral was held from the residence, 605 South Ninth street, of a serious nature.

Beer Exposed to Light for 5 Minutes Becomes Undrinkable

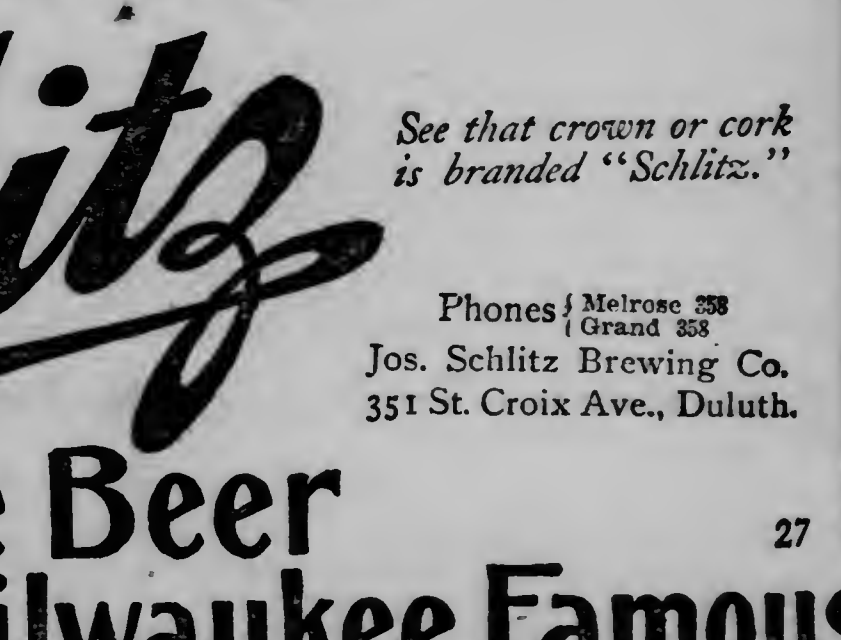

This is not our statement, but the deliberate opinion of one of the most renowned scientists in the world. Read the entire statement:

"We have tested beers repeatedly, placing the bottles in the direct sunlight, and testing the same after one, two, three and five minutes exposure, found that the beer with three and five minutes exposure became undrinkable on account of the peculiar odor developed. The detrimental effect of light upon beer can be successfully counteracted by the employment of brown or dark colored glass bottles, and such bottles are, therefore, commendable."—Wahl-Henius Institute of Fermentology.

It is not enough that beer be brewed pure, it must be kept pure.

Many Americans prefer beer in a light bottle. Most brewers follow the course of least resistance.

Light starts decay even in pure beer. Dark glass gives the best protection against light. Schlitz is sold in Brown Bottles to protect its purity from the brewery to your glass.

See that crown or cork is branded "Schlitz."

NEW CHARTER SAVES MONEY

City Treasurer Disposes of Certificates of Indebtedness By Private Sale.

S. R. Hatch Appointed Manager of Water and Light Department.

The city council last night approved the sale of $124,000 of certificates of indebtedness to the First National, American Exchange National and Northern National banks.

The sale was engineered by City Treasurer Fred J. Voss, following the rejection by the council last Monday night of all bids which had been made for the certificates.

Besides saving the city $2,480 by selling the bonds over the counter, Treasurer Voss demonstrated the value of that provision of the new charter, which authorizes the sale of the certificates at private sale.

Under the old charter the bids, which were quite unsatisfactory, would either have been rejected or the most favorable accepted. If rejected, other bids would have had to be advertised for, as no provision was made for their private sale.

Taking advantage of this feature of the new charter, the city treasurer negotiated for the sale of the bonds to private individuals or corporations and the banks. He first took the bids for $100,000 of water and light bonds, the last of the block of $300,000 of bonds authorized at the city election of 1910.

Whereas a premium was paid upon them when the first allotment of $250,000 was placed, the bidders last night asked commissions of $1,990 to $5,750 for placing them. City Treasurer Voss stated that he was confident that he could dispose of them in Boston at par without any commission. The matter was referred to the finance committee, per cent. This was saved by Mr. Voss, thereby making $2,480 for the city. Another feature of the transaction is that the certificates are placed with local institutions, which keeps them at home and gives the local institutions the interest which will be paid upon them.

The certificates are issued against the permanent improvement revolving fund. They are necessary because of the provision in the charter which spreads the payments of improvements over a period of three years. The city gets the money to carry the cost of the improvements through the sale of certificates.

The engineer estimates the cost of the underground crossing and the grading at $18,923.30. As the subway would be of decided advantage to the railroad, he believed that it could be induced or compelled to pay for the subway while part of the cost of the grading might be assessed to the property owners along the route whose holdings would be benefited by the improvement.

Hatch, Appointed Manager. The water and light board proceedings which were filed with the council last night showed that at the last meeting of the water and light board S. R. Hatch was made manager of the department at a salary of $3,000 per year.

Mr. Hatch was made acting manager of the water and light department upon the retirement of L. N. Case, the

FRED J. VOSS.

While the city pays 5 per cent interest on them, the municipal treasury comes out even or slightly better as the property owners pay interest upon them at the rate of 7 per cent.

No action was taken last night upon the bids which were submitted for $100,000 of water and light bonds, the last of the block of $300,000 of bonds authorized at the city election of 1910.

Whereas a premium was paid upon them when the first allotment of $250,000 was placed, the bidders last night asked commissions of $1,990 to $5,750 for placing them. City Treasurer Voss stated that he was confident that he could dispose of them in Boston at par without any commission. The matter was referred to the finance committee, former manager. He has acted in that capacity since that time. Previous to the resignation of Mr. Case, the new manager was assistant. He had acquired much experience during his years with the department and his term as manager showed that he was capable of handling the affairs of the department, whereupon he was made manager.

At the request of the Lester Park Improvement club the council directed the city engineer to make an examination of the rustic bridge over Lester river. The club fears that it is in an unsafe condition. The park is one of the most popular in the city and the rustic bridge is used by thousands every summer.

Upon the recommendation of the legal department, the city settled the damage claim of S. B. Gerard against the city for $50. The claim was because of injuries sustained by Gerard's 8-year-old daughter who broke her arm when she slipped upon an icy walk.

The resolution directing the health department to take steps to cause the disconnections with the storm sewer in Commonwealth avenue at New Duluth was laid over until April 1.

The assessment of $28,846 for the paving of Twenty-third avenue west from the dock line to Third street was confirmed, as was that of $70 for the new sanitary sewer connecting with that in Lake avenue north at Seventh street.

An ordinance providing for the expenditure of $750 for the improvement of the East Duluth and Lester river road, as recommended by S. F. Snively, had its first reading in the city council last night.

A petition for a sanitary sewer in Fifty-ninth alley west between Tacony and Olney streets was received.

which will probably make a report next Monday night. At that time the city treasurer may be authorized to go to Boston to sell the bonds.

City Engineer John Wilson submitted a more detailed cost of building a subway under the Northern Pacific tracks at Smithville and of grading Grand avenue from its present terminus to Commonwealth avenue at New Duluth.

By taking prompt action, the engineer expressed the opinion that the work might be completed early enough to enable the street car company to finish laying its rails this summer or fall.

The engineer estimates the cost of the underground crossing and the grading at $18,923.30. As the subway would be of decided advantage to the railroad, he believed that it could be induced or compelled to pay for the subway while part of the cost of the grading might be assessed to the property owners along the route whose holdings would be benefited by the improvement.

GAYLORD WARNER Assistant General Passenger Agent, Rock Island Lines 1018 Metropolitan Life Building, Minneapolis, Minn.

Washington, March 4.—Five thousand women marching in the woman suffrage parade yesterday practically fought their way foot by foot up Pennsylvania avenue, through a surging mob that completely defied the Washington police, swamped the marchers, and broke their procession into little companies.

The women struggling stoutly along under great difficulties, were able to complete their march only when troops of cavalry from Fort Myer were rushed into Washington to take charge of Pennsylvania avenue. No inaugural procession has ever produced such scenes which in many instances amounted to nothing less than riots.

At an indignation meeting later resolutions were passed asking congress to investigate the responsibility for the indignities which the marchers suffered. Miss Helen Keller, the noted deaf and blind girl, was so exhausted and unmoved by the experience in attempting to reach a grandstand where she was to have been a guest of honor, that she was unable to speak later at Continental hall.

Scenes Repeated. The scenes which attended the arrival of "General" Roselle Jones, and her hikers on Thursday, when the bedraggled women had to fight their way up Pennsylvania avenue, swamped by a mob with which few policemen struggled in vain, were repeated but upon a large scale. The marchers had to fight their way from the start and took more than one hour in making the first ten blocks.

Many of the women were in tears under the blows and insults of the mob that lined the route.

Although wire ropes had been stretched up and down Pennsylvania avenue, the enormous crowds overstepped them or crawled beneath. Apparently no effort was made to drive back the trespassers in the early hour with the result that when the parade started it faced at almost every hundred yards a solid wall of humanity.

Hostile Crowds. On the whole, it was a hostile crowd through which the women marched. Miss Inez Mithelland, herald of the procession, distinguished herself by adding in riding down a mob that blocked the way and threatened to disrupt the parade. Another woman member of the "petticoat cavalry" struck a hoodlum a stinging blow across the face with her riding crop in reply to a scurrilous remark as she was passing. The mounted police rode hither and yon, but seemed powerless to stem the tide of humanity.

A group of hoodlums gathered in front of the reviewing stand in which sat Mrs. Taft and Miss Helen Taft and a half dozen invited guests from the White House. They kept up a running fire of caustic comments, apparently no effort being made to remove them, and evidently disgusted, the White House party left before the procession had passed in its halting and interrupted journey toward Continental hall where a mass meeting was held.

The tableaux on the steps of the treasury building, framed in the great columns and the broad stairway of the government of the treasury house, were begun when the parade started from the base of the capitol. Beautiful in color and grouping, the dramatic symbolism of women's aspirations for political freedom was completed long before the head of the parade was in sight. In their thin dresses and bare arms, the performers waited, shivering, for more than an hour until finally they were forced to seek refuge within the big building.

Police Helpless. Around the treasury department the crowds were massed so tightly that repeated charges by the police were seemingly ineffective. It was as if the bluecoats charged a stone wall. When the cavalry suddenly appeared there was a wild outburst of applause in the reviewing stand. The men in brown virtually brushed aside the mounted and foot police and took charge. Evidently realizing they would be ridden down, the mobs found their way back. When they hesitated the cavalymen under orders of their officers, did not hesitate. Their horses were driven into the throngs and whirled and wheeled until hooting men and women were forced to retreat. A space was quickly cleared.

The parade in itself, in spite of the delays, was a great success. Passing through two walls of antagonistic humanity, the marchers for the most part kept their temper. They suffered insult and closed their eyes to blows and jeers. Few faltered, although several of the older women were forced to drop out from time to time.

The greatest ovation probably was given to "General" Roselle Jones, who led her little band of "hikers" from New York over rough roads and through snow and rain to march for the "cause."

Why Suffer With Eczema or Any Other Skin Disease When You Can Cure It With S. S. S.

Recent astonishing cures of Eczema and other skin afflictions show there is no question but what we now have the exact remedy for this distressing plague.

And whether it be the dry or weeping form, even though it has driven you to distraction and has defied a hundred salves and lotions, you are going to be cured completely, absolutely, permanently.

Nature put some marvelous healing elements into the products from which is extracted S. S. S. These are readily assimilated, they get right into the blood and actually bathe all these tissues with a most wonderful healing influence.

It is a well-known fact that the body strives to throw out through the skin in the form of perspiration the excess of acids and acids that accumulate in the blood. When you take a hot bath you know how the sweat stings if it drops into the eyes. This same effect goes on at various different spots on the skin and results in sores, rash, salt rheum, terrible itching and a general plague of the skin. Now, the action of S. S. S. is just as if you were continually perspiring only there is no evidence of the fact. The remedy enters the blood through the intestines and in five minutes is hard at work. It follows the law of circulation by which, having served its purpose, it seeks out an outlet and at once is caught in the myriad of small blood vessels that reach the skin pores all over the body.

A wonderful work is now going on instead of these poisons collecting in the form of crusts and irritating, itching eczema, they dry up and new blood elements, made possible by S. S. S., form new skin and the disease is completely banished. It is remarkable how quickly this results. Get a bottle of S. S. S. of any druggist, and fill out the coupon on this page for the most instructive medical advice ever given.

Be Sure You Are on the Right Road.

Blood diseases are so varied and break out in such a strange and peculiar manner that it is wise to consult an expert. Be sure to fill out the coupon below. Advice is absolutely free and will be worth hundreds of dollars to anyone who, mistaking their trouble, begins the wrong method of treatment.

Do not fall write to the Swift Specific Company. Fill out the coupon below and thus you can solve the mystery of articular rheumatism, sciatica or any other form of this painful malady.

It sounds queer to take a blood bath but that is precisely the effect of a most remarkable remedy known as S. S. S. It has the peculiar action of soaking through the intestines directly into the blood. In five minutes its influence is at work in every artery, vein and tiny capillary. Every membrane, every organ of the body, every emulsion becomes in effect a filter to strain the blood of impurities. The stimulating properties of S. S. S. compel the skin, liver, bowels, kidneys, bladder to all work to the one end of casting out every irritating, every pain-inflicting atom of poison; it dislodges by

Dear Sirs: I am in receipt of your letter of recent date and appreciate same. I was thinking some time ago that I would like to be able to reach some of the unfortunates who do not know what your remedy will do, and advise them of it and steer them clear of those who size them up, find out what they are worth and what they are making, and then, as so often happens, proceed to get it until the victim gives up in despair.

In this I know of what I say, but I do not get in touch with men who need assistance for they keep their troubles to themselves, but I always intend to advise any that I may have the privilege.

I wish you could see a photo of me now and one a year or so ago. I tell you the treatment I took nearly ruined my stomach. And I am willing to write to anyone you refer to me and will be glad to feel like having my name and photograph published.

Thanking you very kindly for what you have done for me, I am, guidance; to whom the knowledge and medical wisdom of world-wide experience is priceless and yet can be had for the asking. All who are in any way afflicted with blood disease, eczema, lupus, catarrh, rheumatism, psoriasis, mucous patches, copper spots, falling hair, fading eyesight or any other external or internal effect of blood disease are urged to at once procure a bottle of S. S. S. at any drug store, department or general store and immediately fill out the coupon on this page for private, personal and confidentially sealed instruction and advice for successful home treatment. This matter is so important and of such great value that it should be attended to at once. But of all things do not permit anyone to sidetrack you on to any of the myriad of blood tonics. Ask for S. Scientists Discover Potent Antidotes for Blood Disease.

In one of the greatest private laboratories in all the world there is prepared a remarkable remedy known as S. S. S. And an army of men and women bear testimony to its marvelous effect in curing blood disease.

There is not a stage or condition of any form of blood disease but what a similar case has been completely and radically overcome, utterly banished and cured by the use of S. S. S.

And these facts have been put to the most severe tests—they have withstood the sternest test of all—the test of time. They have met the most rigorous, the most searching of all blood tests—the scientific and accepted Wasserman test.

And these wonderful results have been accomplished by a scientific method that has completely overthrown the vicious and destructive use of mercury, iodide of potash, arsenic and all other mineral poisons.

A New Era Dawns.

To what extent articular rheumatism, locomotor ataxia, neurasthenia, and pernicious anemia owe their origin to the use of mineral drugs is a matter of speculation, but it is generally agreed they are legion. And yet the wonderful S. S. S. not only drives the impurities out of the blood but so repairs the function of nutrition throughout the body that the destructive influences of even the mineral drugs are overcome. The material which S. S. S. is made, are gathered by expert botanists and the great Swift laboratory has been visited and commended by men of national fame, both in statesmanship and in business life.

Not one ounce of drugs enters this famous laboratory. The medicine is prepared from the native roots; the virgin elements are extracted by a comprehensive and extremely scientific process; and thus is given to the world the greatest antidote for blood disease to be found anywhere on the face of the earth.

An Institution of Learning.

But the Swift laboratory does not stop the preparation of S. S. S. It has resolved itself into an institution for the instruction of those who need irrigation all accumulations in the joints, dissolves acid accretions, renders them neutral and scatters those peculiar formations in the nerve centers that cause such mystifying and often baffling rheumatic pains.

And best of all, this remarkable remedy is welcome to the weakest stomach. If you have dragged yourself until your stomach is nearly paralyzed, you will be astonished to find that S. S. S. gives no sensation, but goes right to work. This is because it is a pure vegetable infusion, is taken naturally into your blood just as pure air is inhaled naturally into your lungs.

The great Swift Laboratory has spent millions of dollars in perfecting, producing and placing in the hands of the public this wonderful remedy. So give your blood a good bath with S. S. S. for it knows the worst forms of rheumatism every time.

This Great Laboratory is Devoted Entirely to the Preparation of S. S. S.

Words That Ring True.

January 11, 1913. Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sirs: I am in receipt of your letter of recent date and appreciate same. I was thinking some time ago that I would like to be able to reach some of the unfortunates who do not know what your remedy will do, and advise them of it and steer them clear of those who size them up, find out what they are worth and what they are making, and then, as so often happens, proceed to get it until the victim gives up in despair.

In this I know of what I say, but I do not get in touch with men who need assistance for they keep their troubles to themselves, but I always intend to advise any that I may have the privilege.

I wish you could see a photo of me now and one a year or so ago. I tell you the treatment I took nearly ruined my stomach. And I am willing to write to anyone you refer to me and will be glad to feel like having my name and photograph published.

Thanking you very kindly for what you have done for me, I am,

Very truly,

(Name given upon application.)

to seek refuge within the big building.

Police Helpless. Around the treasury department the crowds were massed so tightly that repeated charges by the police were seemingly ineffective. It was as if the bluecoats charged a stone wall. When the cavalry suddenly appeared there was a wild outburst of applause in the reviewing stand. The men in brown virtually brushed aside the mounted and foot police and took charge. Evidently realizing they would be ridden down, the mobs found their way back. When they hesitated the cavalymen under orders of their officers, did not hesitate. Their horses were driven into the throngs and whirled and wheeled until hooting men and women were forced to retreat. A space was quickly cleared.

The parade in itself, in spite of the delays, was a great success. Passing through two walls of antagonistic humanity, the marchers for the most part kept their temper. They suffered insult and closed their eyes to blows and jeers. Few faltered, although several of the older women were forced to drop out from time to time.

The greatest ovation probably was given to "General" Roselle Jones, who led her little band of "hikers" from New York over rough roads and through snow and rain to march for the "cause."

Why Suffer With Eczema or Any Other Skin Disease When You Can Cure It With S. S. S.

Recent astonishing cures of Eczema and other skin afflictions show there is no question but what we now have the exact remedy for this distressing plague.

And whether it be the dry or weeping form, even though it has driven you to distraction and has defied a hundred salves and lotions, you are going to be cured completely, absolutely, permanently.

Nature put some marvelous healing elements into the products from which is extracted S. S. S. These are readily assimilated, they get right into the blood and actually bathe all these tissues with a most wonderful healing influence.

It is a well-known fact that the body strives to throw out through the skin in the form of perspiration the excess of acids and acids that accumulate in the blood. When you take a hot bath you know how the sweat stings if it drops into the eyes. This same effect goes on at various different spots on the skin and results in sores, rash, salt rheum, terrible itching and a general plague of the skin. Now, the action of S. S. S. is just as if you were continually perspiring only there is no evidence of the fact. The remedy enters the blood through the intestines and in five minutes is hard at work. It follows the law of circulation by which, having served its purpose, it seeks out an outlet and at once is caught in the myriad of small blood vessels that reach the skin pores all over the body.

A wonderful work is now going on instead of these poisons collecting in the form of crusts and irritating, itching eczema, they dry up and new blood elements, made possible by S. S. S., form new skin and the disease is completely banished. It is remarkable how quickly this results. Get a bottle of S. S. S. of any druggist, and fill out the coupon on this page for the most instructive medical advice ever given.

Fought With Hysterics.

Three days after the riot broke out at the capital were scheduled to be held at the end of the week at the Hotel Raleigh. Scenes about the Shoreham hotel and the White House became the Princeton students and University of Virginia students who were expected to pass on the way to the White House.

He noted Essex troop, Mr. Wilson's escort and the Culver.

Mr. Wilson instructed his secretaries to inform the press that he would not attempt to transmit his cable ineluctably to the senate.

He would be composed of the men who have been.

Mr. Wilson came out of his room on the newspaper correspondents.

civil bill presidential party waited for the word to enter the chamber. The speaker, after a brief announcement of the senate to make a record of the passage of the bill, recognized which attended the suffragette parade yesterday and declaring an adjournment until tomorrow. The adjournment should be made before any more money was appropriated.

Incidentally.

While Senator Folger continued to talk with the members of the senate, the sundry civil bill from coming to a vote, the house of representatives adjourned to the rear door, impatiently awaited entry. The diplomatic corps in full court dress, in the hall, waiting with Mr. Folger still speaking, the house adjourned.

Folger gave up the fight with the understanding that no attempt would be made to pass the bill. The diplomatic corps was ushered into the chamber while all the assembled rose.

The justices of the supreme court, having their robes of office, presented a marked contrast to the brilliant and colorful diplomats.

Escort Arrives
At that time Senators Crane, Bagley and Overman, and Representatives Raker, McKimley and Garrett, the congressional committee in charge of the investigation, arrived in the Wilson and Mr. Marshall to the White House.

Many Tumultuily meanwhile spilled across Lafayette park and palisades, and the police were unable to determine when President Wilson's nominations should be sent to the senate. The Wilsons, however, would not be in session immediately after Mr. Wilson takes office. The senate would not be sent in tomorrow. The cabinet sailed, however, at 11:30.

At 9:45 Mr. Wilson and Mr. Marshall accompanied by the congressional escort, left the White House for a short drive to the White House.

Culver and Essex troops at the side of the Wilsons, and the Prince and Virginia, in long lines on either side of the Wilsons, followed the procession and followed it to the White House.

Mr. Marshall entered the chambers for the first time at 12:45 and took his seat, prepared to be called to the bar to appear before the committee. He now thirty minutes later, behind schedule.

While Vice President Beeson was making old ones, the remainder of the senate staff were the main part of the stands on the east front where the inauguration of Mr. Wilson was to take place. The new senate staff were greeted with loud cheers as they came out the main door.

The Princeton band played and the student body sang "Old Nassau." The official party quickly passed into the White House to await the beginning of the new administration.

The troops were prepared to give away when the delivery of the inaugural address began so that the crowd might close in to hear the new president. There was a lull in the ceremonies as the company assembled.

every preparation had been made for them. It looked, however, as if a drizzle might begin almost any time.

Daylight found things moving swiftly toward the climax of the day's program—the inauguration ceremonies at the

A burst of applause and greeted Champ Clark as he passed on the inaugural stand at the head of the line of house members.

Maj.-Gen. Wood directed the closing in of the troops before the guests had been seated and the crowd gradually edged inward toward the inaugural platform.

Speaker Clark leaned toward President-elect Wilson and the two shook hands bringing more applause from the crowd.

Then came Maj. Gen. Wood, chief staff of the army, and grand marshal carrying the flag, accompanied by thirty-five "readers" in full tribal regalia. They were marching at the inauguration of the first Democratic president in twenty years.

Foremost in this civic division came the Woodrow Wilson club of Trenton. And then came fully 3,000 college students from all parts of the country. Princeton, in honor of its former president, had 1,000 men in line, wearing in cap and gown, each wearing a Princeton badge on his left arm.

The Duckworthy club of Cincinnati with 600 marchers in white overcoats and dark red umbrellas, was a noteworthy patch of color in the whole scheme.

Other notable organizations in the line were the Jefferson club of Philadelphia, the Frénois club of San Francisco, the Mose Green club of Louisville, the Berks Country club of Pennsylvania, with its famous band enlisted during the war, the Indiana club of Indianapolis, and countless other clubs, many in showy uniforms and with striking devices.

Governors in the Procession.

Some of the governors who rode in the inaugural procession were with the military organizations of their state, and of course, with their brilliant uniformed staffs in the fast division.

REVIEW STAND AT WHITE HOUSE

Go to President's Room.
President Taft and Mr. Bryan, who had been in the president's room, were in the president's room, where Mr. Taft at once took up the subject of the proposed amendment. The vice president's room, accompanied by members of the committee and the president's secretary, was the problem of the senate. The two topics remained on the agenda. The program was ready for the inauguration of the vice president in the room.

When President Taft and Mr. Bryan approached the president's room, the president and Mr. Bryan said:
"Mr. President, here's the room."
The two men passed inside a room. Mr. Taft said Mr. Bryan was outside in the corridor and invited him to enter.
"I don't know whether I can go in there or not," said Mr. Bryan, "but I'll try."
"Well, I'm still president," retorted Mr. Taft, "and you can go in."
Mr. Bryan entered.

DUMB CHILLS AND FEVE

Douglasville, Tex.—“Five years ago I was caught in the rain at the wrong time,” writes Miss Edna Rutherford of Douglasville, and from that time on was taken with dums and chills and suffered most of the year. She has tried everything that she can tell, but never had any relief. “I thought would, and had four different doctors, but no relief, so I began to take Cardui. Now I feel better than many months.” Cardui does one thing, and does it well! That’s the secret of its 50 years of success. As a tonic, there is nothing in the drug store like it. As a remedy for women’s troubles, it has no equal. Try it.

DEATH FOR LIFERS WHO COMMIT ASSAULT UPON KEEPERS IS PROPOSED

Senate Passes Bill Modifying Law Against Capital Punishment.

Distance Tariff Comes Up for Final Vote in the Senate.

Point of Rocks Bond Bill Favored By House Committee.

St. Paul, Minn., March 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The senate today passed a bill modifying the law against capital punishment to the extent of providing the death penalty for life prisoners who commit assaults upon their keepers. The vote was 49 to 9. The convention based its case on the claim that this is the opening wedge for the return of hanging to this state.

Distance tariff is up for a vote in the senate this afternoon, with the issue in doubt, though the chances seemed slightly to favor its passage.

The report of the public committee on general legislation recommending for indefinite postponement the Sargent Cookers bill, providing for a whole investigation of campaign expenditures in this state was unanimously adopted by the house this morning.

Point of Rocks Bill Favored. The senate bill to issue bonds to issue the Point of Rocks, was favorably recommended by the house committee on cities.

Senator Cheade and Representative Hillman introduced bills allowing Cookers to issue bonds up to 5 percent of its assessed valuation in aid of railroad construction.

Representative Lee introduced a bill in the house today to amend the law prohibiting dancing in any public school building.

Representative Dindorf of St. Paul is the author of a proposed constitutional amendment prohibiting the legislature from passing laws limiting the number of terms any legislator may serve.

HEARING ON TEIGEN BILL

Duluth Men Talk to Committee in Opposition to Measure.

Benefits Which the Farmers Derive From Future Trading.

St. Paul, Minn., March 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the present very narrow margin between producer and consumer in the grain trade is maintained by the speculative side of the market, that the abolition of future trading, as proposed in the Teigen bill, would prevent millers from protecting their dealings and so widen the margin in their business that farmers would get less for their wheat; that without future trading the market would be extraordinarily low when the harvest reaches the trading centers, and extraordinarily high outside the crop season—these were some of the facts told the house grain and warehouse committee at a public hearing in the house chamber last night on the Teigen bill.

Among those who spoke in opposition to the bill were E. E. Lindahl of Duluth, representing the Duluth Chamber of Commerce.

OFFER MADE TO SOUTHERN MINNESOTA

Tentative Compromise in Order to Pass Reapportionment Bill.

First and Second Districts May Each Get Additional Senator.

House Committee Opposed to Inquiry Into Campaign Expenditures.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

St. Paul, Minn., March 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The result of the meeting of the senate reapportionment committee yesterday afternoon was the offer of a bargain to Southern Minnesota.

Many appeals to permit that part of the state to retain more than its share of the representation came before the committee.

These finally resolved themselves into a motion, made by Senator Julius A. Collier of Shakopee, that the First and Third congressional districts each be given a senator more than was allowed them in the bill as it passed the house.

And the committee made a tentative agreement that will concede this favor, providing the senators from these districts will agree to support the reapportionment bill as it would be amended.

FRIEDMANN ABANDONS PLANS FOR TESTS

German Discoverer of Tuberculosis Serum Is in a Quandary.

New York, March 5.—Dr. F. F. Friedmann of Berlin today abandoned all plans of testing his tuberculosis serum in any New York hospitals with the sanction of the board of health.

This had been suggested by the New York County Medical society as the only course to pursue inasmuch as he has no license to practice in this state.

The board of health considered the matter last night and although Dr. Friedmann said that in his opinion the serum was harmless, the advisory committee of the board voted against making tests on patients.

Dr. Friedmann said that he would do this himself.

On the advice of the advisory committee it has been decided not to undertake at the present time any official clinical tests of any specific method of tuberculosis.

DEMOCRATS HOLD CAUCUS TO ORGANIZE

Members of House Meet Informally to Consider Committees.

A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania Succeeds Burleson as Chairman.

John W. Kern Is Chosen Leader at Caucus Held By Senators.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, March 5.—Democratic members of the new house of representatives—the majority, which will shape legislation on the tariff and other important measures—gathered here for the first time today, in formal session as part of the new congress, but in caucus to organize for the work of the coming session.

The meeting was held at the call of Representative Burleson of Texas, the caucus chairman, who becomes postmaster general in President Wilson's cabinet.

Mr. Burleson's successor as caucus chairman is Representative A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania, who is closely identified with the new administration and will be in a measure its exponent in the lower house.

Changes in Personnel. This first gathering of the new Democratic members brought out the marked change in personnel which came into effect yesterday noon. Among the new Democratic members who succeeded well-known veterans are Representative Frank T. O'Hair of Illinois, who succeeds "Uncle Joe" Cannon; Joseph Danaher of Connecticut, who succeeds Ebenezer Hill; Lazarus of Louisiana, who succeeds Mr. Padgett; and the successors of Representative Longworth and Cox of Ohio, the latter having become governor. Representative Herman A. Metz, former controller of New York and Representative Lathrop Brown, who succeeds Martin Littleton of New York, are among the new Democratic members.

Some of the new members were not here for the caucus, but a reasonably full quota was on hand to map out the work ahead. In all, there are 290 Democratic members of the new congress, or a majority of 145.

Ways and Means Committee. The caucus met to designate the Ways and Means committee.

MADERO BROTHERS SAID TO BE SAFE

Emilio and Raoul, Reported Killed, Have Reached Marathon, Texas.

San Antonio, Tex., March 5.—Emilio and Raoul Madero, brothers of the late president of Mexico, who were reported to have been killed by federal troops in Coahuila, reached Marathon, Tex., late yesterday, according to a telegram received by their brother, Gabriel Madero, late last night.

The dispatch said that the two men, who made their way over a circuitous route, would come to San Antonio today.

On the advice of the advisory committee it has been decided not to undertake at the present time any official clinical tests of any specific method of tuberculosis.

A. PALMER MITCHELL.

FORMALLY OFFERED AN AMBASSADORSHIP

WILLIAM F. MCCOMBS.

LIPTON SENDS CHALLENGE

British Sportsman to Make Another Attempt to Lift Cup.

Will Build New Yacht Ready for the Test in 1914.

London, March 5.—A challenge by the Royal Ulster Yacht club for a series of races for the American cup, to take place in 1914, made on behalf of Sir Thomas Lipton, is on its way to America. It will reach New York on the Oceanic today or tomorrow. The challenge is for competitions under the old rules.

Sir Thomas Lipton, who has just returned from America, when questioned on the subject today, said there was no doubt of the acceptance of the challenge. The New York Yacht club, he added, has been notified both by the Royal Ulster Yacht club and Sir Thomas Lipton of the dispatch of the challenge.

Sir Thomas Lipton expressed considerable surprise when asked about the truth of the report that a challenge for the cup would be made.

M'COMBS TO GO ABROAD

President Offers His Campaign Manager Post in Diplomatic Service.

Will Be Given Ambassadorship to France If Desired.

Washington, March 5.—President Wilson made formal announcement today that he offered an ambassadorship to Chairman William F. McCombs of the Democratic national committee.

"Mr. McCombs told me he did not wish a cabinet appointment. I have offered him one of the principal diplomatic posts and, hope he will accept. I desire men of cabinet size for the chief foreign appointments," said the president.

It is known that the ambassadorship to France has been offered to Mr. McCombs.

President Wilson will reappoint Edgar E. Clark of Iowa a member of the interstate commerce commission. Mr. Clark was reappointed by Mr. Taft, but his nomination failed of confirmation in the senate contest over other Taft appointments.

Others Considered. The president has not decided upon an ambassador to Great Britain, but for other European posts, it was stated on reliable authority that Thomas Nelson Page, Henry M. Morgenthau of New York, Frederick C. Penfield of New York, were practically certain to be chosen. Definite information is lacking as to which posts they will occupy.

Augustus Thomas, Col. Thomas H. Birch of New Jersey, and Charles E. Crane of Chicago, it also was learned, are being considered for the foreign service.

It is said that Louis D. Brandeis of Boston, who was initially mentioned as a cabinet possibility, will be offered and probably will accept the post of solicitor general.

To Succeed Lane. Washington, March 5.—John H. Marble of California, secretary of the interstate commerce commission, formerly its attorney, will be appointed member of the commission to succeed Franklin K. Lane, who became secretary of the interior.

GARRANZA WOULD DIGTATE PEACE

Wires American Ambassador Terms Under Which He Will Surrender.

Mexico City, March 5.—Claiming to have 11,000 men under his command, Venustiano Carranza, the rebel governor of Coahuila, has telegraphed to the American ambassador the terms on which he says he will restore peace.

Carranza demands that President Huerta resign and that Senator Latorre, the former minister of foreign relations, succeed him, and also that Gen. Felix Diaz leave the country.

Ambassador Huerta, who submitted the message to President Wilson, who laughed, saying that Carranza had fewer than 2,000 men and was practically surrounded in the hills.

The proposals made by Jose Cordova, representing General Orozco, were discussed at a cabinet meeting, but no decision was reached. It was announced, however, that it had been decided that the government should make no payment to the rebels except in the way of wages, should they enter the army.

The government believes Orozco will not insist upon representation in the cabinet.

Aldape, minister of agriculture in the Huerta cabinet, left for the north last night. It is thought that this is the first movement of the government to end the war by beginning operations against Carranza.

Port Ripley Nonagenarian Dies. Brainerd, Minn., March 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Hannah Brainerd, born in England, died at Brainerd at the age of 91. She had been a resident of Minnesota forty-one years and of Brainerd ten years. The funeral took place at Fort Ripley.

NEW FACES IN EVERY ROW IN THE SENATE

Roll Call Shows Eighty-Three Present Out of Ninety-Three.

President Sends in Cabinet Exactly as Has Been Published.

Issues First Order Relative to Seeing Applicants for Office.

Washington, March 5.—With new faces in every row, the senate prepared for its first real work under Democratic control. Vice President Marshall, new to the intricacies of senate procedure, picked his way carefully through the maze of preliminary organization with the aid of experienced parliamentary clerks. A roll of the roll showed eighty-three present out of the existing membership of ninety-three. Senators Kern, Smith, Martin, Lodge and Root were appointed to notify the president the senate was ready to receive any communication from him.

President Wilson sent the names of his cabinet to the senate today for confirmation. As the nominations left the White House it was officially announced that the senate was exactly as published yesterday.

Statement By President. Washington, March 5.—In the first statement he has issued from the White House since he became president, Mr. Wilson announced today that he would decline to see applicants for office in person, except those he invited.

Charles H. Crane, Chicago, vice chairman of the senate committee of the Wilson campaign, was the first to have an appointment with the president. He called, he said, merely to pay his respects, and he was leaving to-morrow for Chicago where he expected to hear the speech of Walter L. Fisher before the commercial club. Mr. Crane said he believed it would be an important utterance.

Mr. Crane has frequently been mentioned since the campaign for a diplomatic post. Though the president has made no offer as yet it is considered probable that Mr. Crane will become ambassador to Russia.

SIXTY-SIX MEN ARE DROWNED

German Torpedo Boat Destroyer Sunk in North Sea By Cruiser.

Attempts to Pass in Front of Ship and Is Cut in Halves.

Heligoland, Germany, March 5.—Sixty-six of the crew of the German torpedo boat destroyer S178 were drowned when the little vessel was rammed by the cruiser York in the North sea last night. Among the dead are the commander of the torpedo boat, Lieut. Koch, and his first officer.

The surgeon and engineer and fifteen men of the crew were saved. The torpedo destroyer sank immediately.

One of Newest Boats. Torpedo boat destroyer S178 was one of the newest destroyers in the German fleet. It displaced 434 tons and carried a complement of 84 officers and men.

S178 was returning during the night from maneuvers in which it had participated with the German battleship fleet, the cruiser squadron and six other torpedo boat destroyers.

The destroyer attempted to pass through the interval in the column of warships while the latter were steaming ahead at full speed. The commander of the S178 calculated the distance incorrectly and his boat was cut completely in halves by the cruiser York and sank instantly.

Others Aid in Search. The York signalled the accident to the other vessels of the fleet, which slowed down and cruised round in the vicinity, flashing their searchlights in the darkness. Small boats were lowered from all the vessels and succeeded in picking up two of the officers and fifteen of the crew of the sunken destroyer.

Disaster Worth in Many Years. Berlin, March 5.—The loss of S178, secretary of the American embassy, today went to the ministry of marine to express to Admiral Von Tirpitz the condolences of America in connection with the sinking of destroyer S178. The disaster is the worst that has happened in the annals of the modern German navy.

Mr. Grey afterwards called on Foreign Minister Von Jagow on a similar errand.

BIG GUNS FOR CITY CAMPAIGN

Socialists Will Bring Dr. Lunn, Seidel and Berger to Duluth.

Will Make Determined Effort to Control the City Commission.

Dr. Lunn, mayor of Schenectady, N. Y., and former Mayor Seidel and ex-Congressman Berger of Milwaukee are among the big guns with which the Socialists will bombard their opponents in the present municipal campaign.

The Socialist campaign committee intends to make a determined effort to capture the commission. The two candidates are to be the most active campaigners of the city.

candidates for the commission. They will be busy every day until the election April 1.

The first meeting will be held tonight at the Duluth Heights fire hall. Mr. G. Towne, long term candidate, will preside, and the speakers will be Dr. Lunn, Seidel and Berger.

Mr. Phillips, long term candidate, and Morris Kaplan, candidate for mayor, will be the speakers at a meeting tomorrow evening at Toveria hall at 438 Lake avenue south. E. N. Eales, candidate for the short term, will preside.

The dates for the appearance of Lunn, Seidel and Berger have not been set. All three are certain to draw big crowds. Mr. Lunn has been a picturesque and effective mayor of the New York city. Mr. Berger was the only socialist ever to see service in congress and Mr. Seidel gained fame among the Socialists, with him as their candidate, captured the municipal government of Milwaukee two years ago.

August, Ga., March 5.—A welcome as democratic as William H. Taft ever received in Augusta while president-elect or president of the United States, was given him today upon his arrival here. One thousand school children, cheering, 1,500 Richmond academy cadets, and several hundred citizens, including the mayor and members of the city council, were at the station to greet the former president.

MARINE REGULATIONS ON WHISTLES

Lake Carriers' Association Issues Important Bulletin to Vessel Men.

The Lake Carriers' association has just issued a bulletin which will be of interest to marine men in general. It is a result of a discussion of steam whistles by the fleet engineers' committee of the association. The bulletin, which follows, contains a number of suggestions as to kind of whistles and their use.

The recommendations of the fleet engineers as expressed below have the hearty endorsement of the Lake Carriers' association.

While the majority of steam vessels on the lakes are equipped with good whistles, there are many of poor design or in bad condition. Whistles which are not properly proportioned, or which are not properly maintained, are a source of danger to the vessels which use them.

It is recommended that a steam whistle should be of such size and quality that it should be replaced by others of approved design.

It is of the utmost importance that every steam vessel be equipped with an adequate steam whistle and that the whistle be properly maintained.

CLEANED ALONG THE POLICE RUN

police departments at different times to aid in ridding a city of masher. This morning in police court Mrs. Anderson McLean was convicted of a disorderly charge on the testimony of two "stool pigeons" who had been sent out to ascertain whether the city had any women who would reverse the usual order and start serious flirtations themselves. She paid a fine of $25.

Mike Grappo and Joe Plasha testified that they had encountered Mrs. McLean and another woman, May Nelson, who forfeited $25 bail, in the rear room of a second or third-class hotel. After they left the place the women were arrested by two uniformed policemen.

Mrs. McLean denied that she had acted improperly in any way. She asserted that she was alone in a booth when the two plain clothes "detectives" forced themselves upon her. Later, she said, the other woman joined them. She declared that she refused to take any drinks and that she became quite indignant when one of the men hired by the police tried to show his affection by kissing her.

The case against William Abrahamson, proprietor of the Empress theater, and Mrs. A. Wilson, charged with allowing a minor to appear upon a public stage after 7 o'clock in the evening was dismissed. Police court fails morning. The child was the daughter of Mrs. Wilson. It was stated that the case had been disposed of in juvenile court last week.

Ernest Nyström testified that he was only "cooling" when he took a roll of bills from Sam Levinson in a flower shop Monday evening. He asserted that he asked him for it. He denied that he retained a $5 bill for his own use. The judge said that he was engaged in proper indoor pastime and found him guilty of petty larceny. The case was continued until this afternoon for disposition.

Otto Thiry will be arraigned in police court this afternoon on a charge of assaulting Emma Peterson, a Swedish woman, and a Swedish woman last Saturday night. His attorney stated that he would enter a plea of self-defense.

Alma Berg stated that Thiry ran up behind her while she was on her way home from work and threw her to the ground. Her screams attracted the attention of a pedestrian and he ran to her assistance. In the scuffle Thiry lost his cap and mitten, which led to the arrest.

Thiry says his actions to the fact that he had been drinking. His attorney said that he is not naturally bad and hoped to have him placed on parole.

Steve Blomquist, a new Duluth was arrested this morning on a charge of selling whisky without a license. He was taken to the police station and his trial was set for this afternoon.

The wife of Nels Nordman wouldn't let him in when he came home at 2 o'clock this morning, but called a policeman. Nordman admitted in police court this morning that he had been intoxicated. Sentences was suspended.

OLD LAKE MASTER DIES.

James Freeman, Who Used to Sail Into Duluth, Is Called.

Marquette, Mich., March 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—James Freeman, a pioneer business man and for years one of the well known lake masters is dead at his home here.

Mr. Freeman is survived by four children—three daughters and one son. They are Mrs. E. A. Johnson and Mrs. James H. Bennett of this city; Mrs. P. C. Peacock of Brainerd, Minn.; and George W. Freeman of this city.

James Freeman was born April 4, 1827, in Cornwall, Ont. At the age of 23 years he took to sailing, and when only a little more than 20 years old, only a little more than 20 years old, he was made regularly as master of the schooner "Rescue." At the age of 23 years, Mr. Freeman married Miss Emily E. Costello at her home in Cleveland, Ohio. The same year, 1850, he came with his wife to Marquette. At the same time his brother, George, who was also a sailor, came to this city, and the two young men established what has since been a flourishing business.

Freeman was fifty-two years old, one year after they came to Marquette.

TAFT'S REASONS FOR VETOING SEAMEN'S BILL.

Washington, March 5.—Although Mr. Taft exercised the pocket veto in expressing disapproval of the seamen's bill, he left with congress a short memorandum giving his views of the measure. The memorandum said: "This bill is so important and conflicts in its operation with the treaty obligations of the United States and in its possible friction with the commerce and foreign countries that in the short time that I have had since it has been presented to me, I do not justify in assuming the responsibility of allowing it to become a law."

The bill was designed to improve conditions of labor and living in the American merchant marine and to abolish involuntary servitude of seamen.

ACCEPTANCES BEING FILED

Thirty-Eight Candidates Formally Accept Their Nomination.

Thirty-eight candidates have filed their acceptances of nomination for mayor and long and short term commissioners.

All the others for whom petitions were filed will likely file their acceptances as they still have a week in which to do so.

James W. Preston, who announced his withdrawal as a candidate for long term commissioner a week ago, has reconsidered his determination to drop out of the race. He stated yesterday that he would file his acceptance before the expiration of the time limit.

The Socialist party is planning an active campaign and have announced that public meetings will be held until the close of the campaign. Other candidates also expect to make several addresses as part of their campaign.

The who have filed their acceptances with City Clerk Charles Palmer are:

For mayor eleven candidates named:

inated)—Henry Nesbit, Marcus L. Fay, David Silverstein.

For long term commissioner (eleven candidates):—William J. McCormick, Frederick J. Vos, John T. Armstrong, L. J. Phillips, J. C. Wesen, Leonard Merritt.

For short term commissioner (thirty-eight candidates):—John Jordan, Cashin, W. A. Hilden, Frank Jordan, Henry J. Mullin, Charles E. French, John Hogan, Bert N. Wheeler, James A. Farrell, Neil B. Morrison, Charles A. Hoot, John A. Macdonell, William B. Bernard, H. P. Curran, Adolph M. Halfany, Otto Koeller, C. E. Rose, M. Fitzgerald, Darwin E. Stevens, Alexander Kennedy, William H. Smalwood, Thomas Dillon, Frederick Tischer, Martin J. Murray, L. A. Larsen, J. Scott Cash.

For assistant municipal judge (three candidates):—William H. Quinn, Harry W. Lammers, Newton H. Wilson.

For special judge of municipal court (two candidates nominated)—Frank H. Cutting.

MAY PUT ON BOAT.

Duluthians Considering Running a Craft Out of Brainerd.

Brainerd, Minn., March 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Duluth parties may place a boat on the Mississippi capable of carrying forty people, to ply between Brainerd and Riverport on Little Rabbit lake. It is quite possible that two boats will be placed in commission if the quantity of freight and passengers well warranted.

Mayor Wallace G. Nye of Minneapolis will speak at a commercial club dinner to be served in the clubrooms the evening of March 11.

The city council has voted to buy three lots on the northeast corner of South Fifth and Laurel streets, the site to be used for a city hall, and the purchase price to be $1,500.

The largest mouse head that has been seen in Brainerd for some time was shipped by the Fraser of East Brainerd to G. S. Gold of Campbell, Minn.

A crate of birds was also mounted by Mr. Fraser. Mr. Nye is a well-to-do business man of Campbell and took his family, consisting of his wife and two sons, on a hunting trip near his father's last fall, where each shot a deer and he bagged a monster of a mouse.

BIG CROWDS HEAR NOTED EVANGELIST

Rev. Joshua Gravett of Denver Conducting Revival Meetings.

The evangelist meetings being conducted this week at the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street, by Rev. Joshua Gravett of Denver, Colo., are proving more popular each day with local residents. Rev. Mr. Gravett will preach every evening during the revival.

Rev. Mr. Gravett is also conducting an afternoon meeting each day at 2:30 o'clock and he has extended an invitation to all the residents of the West end. The subjects for the next few days are "Imputed Blessings," "Impaired Blessings," and "The Fullness of the Holy Spirit." At 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon he will preach on "The Second Coming of Jesus Christ."

Last evening Rev. Mr. Gravett preached on "The Marks of Sonship," in which he discussed the possibility of knowing that men mind to be. Rev. Mr. Gravett is at present pastor of the Galilee Baptist church of Denver and is one of the most prominent evangelists of the country. He was formerly associated with the world-renowned evangelist, Dwight L. Moody of Chicago, and also directed a number of Gospel meetings throughout the country. This is his first visit to Minnesota. He has taken part in the Mid-Continent Bible conference held at Minneapolis last week. Rev. Mr. Gravett will leave Duluth on Monday morning for Chicago after leaving here. From there he will return to Denver.

During his stay in the city Rev. Mr. Gravett is the guest of Rev. Mr. Flah, 502 North Twenty-fifth avenue west.

J. W. PRESTON IS BACK IN THE RACE

James W. Preston, who was defeated last year, is back in the race for the office of city clerk.

Upon the request of a large number of voters, Preston last evening announced his intention of re-entering the race for the office of city clerk. Preston had dropped out about two weeks ago. In regard to the election, he said this morning: "Some time ago I announced that I would not make the campaign for the term of office, because of a press of business. Local citizens, however, have been very kind to me and have finally induced me to re-enter the race. I have made up my mind to do everything in my power to make the city a better place, and I will do it."

The petition nominating Mr. Preston was one of the first filed and is still at the city clerk's office.

Mr. Preston was a member of the board of public works under Mayor Haven.

WEST END PEOPLE USE LIBRARY

Good Circulation Reported Among People of All Ages.

The West end library branch, in the Mohaupt building at 2024 West Superior street, has had a phenomenal growth since it was moved into the present structure last November, according to the circulation figures given out each month by the librarian.

During the past month the total circulation at the library was 1,066, with an attendance each day of 125.

A feature of the report completed yesterday is the total fiction and non-fiction books, showing that the adults of the West end are entirely partial to the fiction books. During the month but seventy-five non-fiction books were taken out by the adults, while in the same time over 850 fiction books are credited to them.

The children during the month of February took out 545 fiction books and nearly 800 non-fiction books, showing that the child is much more in favor of a book of history, science or literature.

The total number of cards in circulation at the local branch is 2,286.

Close Monitor Land Office. Great Falls, Mont., March 5.—Home-owners and attorneys interested in land office business got a shock Monday when telegraphic messages were received from the interior department at Washington, directing the register and receiver to close their offices and keep them closed until the new appointees present their credentials. This is the result of vacation appointments made by President Taft, but which failed of ratification in the senate. James W. Roberts was receiver and Julius C. Peters, register.

PROPOSAL IS TURNED DOWN

North Dakota Senate Opposes Building Terminal Elevator at Duluth.

Bill for State Bonding Department Signed By the Governor.

Bismarck, N. D., March 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The proposition of establishing terminal elevators at Duluth and Minneapolis will not be approved by the present legislature, the proposal to levy a mill tax for the purpose of constructing such elevators being turned down by the senate after it had been acted upon favorably in the house.

Yesterday the teachers' pension fund bill passed the house and goes to the governor for his signature.

Today a special committee of the senate reported back a mechanical lien bill, amended very materially.

Any appropriation which may be made by the state for immigration purposes will have to come in the bill providing for the creation of an immigration bureau, under which is the commission of agriculture and labor. Hereafter the funds have been expended by the commissioner under the direction of the auditing board, but such appropriation was not allowed this year.

Hall Insurance. The most important change in the manner of administering the affairs of the state hall insurance department, as provided for in amendments voted by the senate and which are now before the house committee on insurance, is the transfer of the department from the control of the commissioner of insurance. As directly affecting the farmers, the greatest change is the advance in the insurance rate from 20 to 30 cents an acre. Another big change is in the adjustment of hall losses. The bill makes it obligatory upon the county commissioners to appoint a county auditor.

Bonding Department Is Sure. The creation of a bonding department as provided for in the bill by Senator Ellingson is now certain. Governor Hanna has signed the bill. It is currently reported that bonding companies will seek to have the measure declared unconstitutional, and suit to prevent any operations by the new department is anticipated. The insurance commissioner is placed in charge of the department, the former to receive not more than $200 per month, and the clerks to receive $75 per month. All county officials, except justices of the peace and constables, all assessors required by law to furnish a bond, all city treasurers, all town treasurers, all school district treasurers and all township treasurers must be bonded with the state department. The state will not bond any official for a greater amount than $50,000. The premium is fixed at 75 cents per $100.

Under the fire marshal law as passed by the senate, and as it likely will be passed by the house, the department is made a part of the insurance commissioner's division. The fire marshal and chief assistant shall be appointed by the governor, and they shall be under the management of the insurance commissioner. The officers will hold for two years. Provision is made for the appointment of a deputy by the commissioner of insurance.

North Dakota Mine Sold. Nodan, N. D., March 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Edward Evanson mine, half a mile from here, has been sold to a Hamilton, Minn. company, Messrs. McDonald, Leonard and Loreski. The latter will have the active management. The mine is regarded as the best in this section, having a particularly high grade of coal.

Rochester Banker Dies. Rochester, Minn., March 5.—John R. Hall, aged 41, cashier of the Rochester National bank, member of the Rochester board of education and prominent in the social and civic life of the city, died after a brief illness from pneumonia. His death has caused deep sorrow throughout the city. He had commenced his association with the Union National bank as clerk. Mr. Hall is survived by his parents and a widow.

FOUND DEAD ON THE FLOOR

Aged Man Dies With Only Neighbor's Son in House.

Child Is Found in Bed Crying By His Mother.

Francis James Hantz, 78 years old, was found dead about 10 o'clock last evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Marshall, 216 South Fifty-eighth avenue west, by Mrs. Jennie Lutka, a neighbor, who happened to call at the home.

Mrs. Lutka lives at 224 South Fifty-eighth avenue west, and had sent her 7-year-old son, Harold, over to play with Mr. Hantz, as was the child's custom. The child would usually have lunch with his old playmate and then return home late in the afternoon. Yesterday Mrs. Lutka noticed along in the afternoon that there was no smoke rising from the chimney, and it was not until 6:30 o'clock that she went over to get her son. She found the body of Hantz wrapped up in a blanket on the floor of the front room. Her son had attempted to wake Mr. Hantz, and after a short time went to bed, where he was found crying. Mrs. Lutka notified the police headquarters and Patrolman Bading was sent to the home.

Officer Bading lifted the dead man to the bed and called Dr. Grover, who after an examination, declared that he had been dead for several hours. The body was taken to the Filtravault undertaking rooms, where the funeral arrangements will be made this afternoon. It is expected that the funeral will be held Saturday.

Mrs. Marshall, the dead man's daughter, left her home early in the afternoon. Her father-in-law, who was employed by Dr. Grover, the child, who was found crying, and some time after being unable to awake Mr. Hantz. Hantz is survived by three sons and one daughter. His son-in-law, Mr. Marshall, is employed in the clothing business and is out of the city this week. The deceased was the son of Edward Proctor, Frank of International Falls and Joseph of Duluth.

PROCTOR WILL HOLD ELECTION TUESDAY.

The village of Proctor will hold its annual election of city officials next Tuesday. The voters of the village are divided on the candidates, two factions now fighting for control. The citizens' party is back of the present officials and is campaigning for their re-election. They are: J. T. Preston, president; John Caruthers, Carl Green and Noble Downey, trustees; and J. H. Bossett, recorder. The following committee was appointed yesterday to campaign for the present officers: Thomas Derbyshire, H. P. Simpkins, F. J. Pauls, Frank Hatch and Gilbert Brayden. The opposition party has appointed a committee consisting of H. M. Rivers, Thomas Grimes and Charles Shabert to campaign in behalf of the present officers. William Chisholm, for president; Thomas Grimes, Charles Shabert and W. J. Green, trustees; and Herbert J. Schell, recorder.

Birthday Surprise.
Mrs. T. Bourdeau of 1117 Roosevelt street was pleasantly surprised at her home yesterday afternoon, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. The afternoon was spent in cards, the favors being won by Mrs. J. Young. Those present were: Mesdames N. Carter, Charles C. Tremble, J. Young, W. Bortz, L. Cayo, J. Theberge, W. Fisher, W. Patley, E. Gonsau, L. Rowe, R. Wood, T. Theberge, F. Thibault, J. Guesen, R. Soucier, E. Prevost, J. Rivard and J. Lessard.

Lobbies for Hatchery.
M. J. Filtravault, chairman of the fish hatchery committee of the West Duluth Commercial club, spoke yesterday before the members of the state legislature at St. Paul in behalf of the bill to establish a hatchery in Duluth. Mr. Filtravault represented the local club at the meeting. He will return late this evening.

Attorney in Sued.

Attorney Joseph W. Reynolds is made defendant in a suit brought by J. T. Milder in district court, in which a judgment of $1,923.80 for services in securing witnesses and gathering evidence in a Pine county damage case is asked. Milder asserts that he had a contract with Reynolds for one-third of the recovery in the case. The judgment obtained was $5,939.40. Milder wants one-third.

Positions For Teachers.
Applications for appointment of school teachers in the rural schools to take effect in September, are now being received by County Superintendent of Schools, N. C. A. Young. There will be about 120 positions to be filled. A school for teachers will open in the Duluth normal building on June 16. To a large extent, the selection of teachers will be made from the classes that attend this school.

MAY BE THE NEXT SECRETARY OF ELKS

JOHN J. FISHER.
John J. Fisher's friends are urging him to run for the secretaryship of the Elks club to succeed John L. Fuller, for years the revered holder of that office. They express their determination that he will be the next secretary. Much regret has been expressed that Mr. Fisher, through ill-health, has felt that he must resign, but with him out of the field, Mr. Fisher is wanted. Mr. Fisher's entrance into Elksdom dates so many years back that it is felt that he is one of the initial ones, although that is not the case for his years previous. But he is "some Elks." He is employed in the city passenger office of the Northern Pacific.

the corps of reporters who will take the testimony at this trial. He received his appointment from the government recently as a special examiner to take testimony at this trial. Edward P. Grosvener and Joseph H. Darling will represent the government in the Harvester trust case.

Wife Asks Divorce.
Lizzie M. Boyle, 63 years old, is made defendant in a divorce suit filed in district court this morning by Martin Boyle, aged 56. The decree sought for on the grounds of desertion. They were married at Stanley, Wis., July 17, 1902. In his complaint, Boyle alleges that his wife deserted him on March 31, 1907, and left for parts unknown. The summons will probably be served on her by publication.

The City National bank has also taken part of the $124,000 of certificates of indebtedness which were sold by City Treasurer Fred J. Voss last week at The Big Duluth. The certificates, which were received for the city over the counter, the city saved $2,480 in commissions.

Elks Will Elect.
Duluth lodge, No. 135, B. P. O. E., will hold its annual election of officers this evening at the lodge rooms on West First street. Unusual interest has been caused by the campaign which has been precipitated for the secretaryship by the resignation of J. L. Fuller a short time ago. The two leading candidates have many supporters and it is expected that it will result in an unusually large attendance at tonight's meeting.

Sends Resignations to Wilson and Clear Desks for Successors.

Washington, March 5.—Officials of the Taft administration, having sent their resignations to President Wilson, cleaned their desks today and prepared to turn to other walks of life.

Carmel Thompson, treasurer of the United States, returns to his home in Ohio; Robert O. Bailey and Sherman H. Fisher, assistant secretaries of the treasury department, have business offers; Assistant Secretary Curtis returns to Boston to practice law.

Postmaster General Hitchcock plans to visit with a visit to Panama; Attorney General Wickersham will start on a trip around the world; Robert J. Tracewell, comptroller of the treasury, returns to Indiana; Secretary Knox declined appointment at the hands of Mr. Taft to be assistant secretary of state, plans a trip abroad.

HEARINGS BEGIN IN THE HARVESTER TRUST SUIT

Omaha, Neb., March 5.—Many witnesses presented themselves today to testify for the International Harvester company and others in the suit brought by the government charging violation of the Sherman anti-trust law by the alleged illegal restraint of trade. The hearing is before Special Examiner Robert S. Taylor of Duluth. The government is represented by Edwin P. Grosvener and Joseph H. Darling who recently had charge of the prosecution of the "bathub" trust in Detroit. Eight different firms and eighteen individuals, including Corrus H. McCormick, Harold F. McCormick, George W. Perkins and Judge Elbert H. Gary are named as defendants. They were represented by Judge William D. McHugh of Omaha and a number of other attorneys. Gray Reappointed. Washington, March 5.—President Taft, just before he went out of office yesterday, reappointed Judge George Gray, of the United States circuit court of Delaware, a commissioner at The Hague, and appointed John Bassett Moore, another commissioner, to fill an existing vacancy. Mr. Moore had been advanced as a candidate for assistant secretary of state.

HILLMAN BILL IS DENOUNCEDPublic Affairs Committee Declares Vicious Legislation Is Proposed.Courtenay Dinwiddie Talks on Work of Public Welfare Board.

The public affairs committee of the Commercial club last evening endorsed the bill providing for county aid for development associations, gave a qualified endorsement to the Dunn good roads bill, approved the bill providing for a fish hatchery for Northeastern Minnesota and denounced as vicious legislation the Hillman bill providing for the abolishment of employment offices as vicious legislation.

Members of the committee came to the defense of the much maligned labor agent, J. D. Mahoney declared that the bad labor agents do is given wide publicity, but the good is kept under cover. He said the labor agent goes to the train at 6 o'clock in the morning, puts his men on the train, sees that they get away all right and otherwise gives the business his personal attention. On the other hand, he said, the state employment bureau opens at 8 o'clock in the morning and closes at 5 in the afternoon, and the agent draws his salary whether he does anything or not.

"When a man comes in from the woods and doesn't want to go to a saloon to cash his check, the labor agent who sent him out comes up to the bank and identifies him that he may get his money," said Mr. Mahoney. "The lumberjack can't get that kind of service from a state agency. There is a mistaken impression out in regard to labor agents. There are many good honest men in the business. There are too many self-constituted protectors of the people's health, wealth and morals. The lumberjack isn't a child. He is a grown man and usually he doesn't need a guardian."

Three Crews Needed.

"There are frauds, practiced, undoubtedly, but they can be righted, I believe in the city regulating the employment offices, but I don't believe in putting them all out of business. Any employer of men in the woods will tell you that in good times he always has three crews, one coming, one going and the other on the job. The men keep moving, and if it weren't for the employment offices, the employer couldn't keep up his crews."

George R. Reed said that for seven years he had to employ about 500 lumberjacks and keep that many recruited always. He declared that he had never been done if it had not been for the labor agents.

The men go where there are employment bureaus, said Mr. Reed. They know what they are doing. Usually the employer pays the fees so as to be sure of getting the men, and the men's interests are protected, and the men must be wanted or there would be no object in sending them. He believed in regulation to prevent frauds, but I believe fee employment offices are necessary. You can't get the right service from the state."

The recommendation of the legislative committee against the Hillman bill was based on the principle that the regulation of employment offices should be left for the municipalities. Members of the public affairs committee also spoke against the principle of making a felony of what was previously a legitimate business. The Hillman bill provides that the acceptance of a fee for obtaining work for anybody shall be a felony.

Change in Dunn Bill Asked.

The principle of the Dunn good roads bill was approved, but it was pointed out that whereas in other counties the increase in the amount that may be raised for county purposes is only 50 per cent, in St. Louis county it is 200 per cent. C. E. Adams explained that St. Louis county is working under special law, allowing the county to raise only 1 mill on the assessed valuation. The limit in other counties is 2 mills. The Dunn bill proposes a limit of 3 mills for all counties, and the public affairs committee recommended that the principle of the special law be retained by increasing the St. Louis county limit only 50 per cent, or to 1 1/2 mills. On 1 1/2 mills, the county would be able to raise approximately $150,000 for county road purposes. Last year, $290,000 was raised.

The feature of the meeting last evening was an address by Courtenay Dinwiddie, secretary of the board of public welfare, on the work of the board. Mr. Dinwiddie said there is a wide difference between what people expect the board to do and what it can and will do. He outlined the program including a work farm, municipal lodging house, social centers, work test, legal aid bureau and providing desirable legislation. He said that what has been done already demonstrates the need for the work and that it can be done by a city board.

Mr. Dinwiddie said that the principal work that can be done by business men is in assisting the superintendent of the lodging house and the probation officer in the municipal court in giving employment to men and women who have committed some slight indiscretion which puts a stigma on their character or reputation.

Mr. Dinwiddie said that little can be done in organizing for social center work until the status of the board is determined. He said the board now has no standing, and can work only in an advisory way. He urged business men to give the board their moral support, that its work may be made easy.

Committees Appointed.

Vice Chairman Julius H. Barnes, who presided last evening, announced the appointment of the legal aid and legislative committees authorized at the last meeting of the public affairs committee. The legal aid committee is made up of A. T. Manning, Jr., A. Mack, Washburn and F. C. Elston. The legislative committee is made up of Henry Nolte, W. E. Richardson and C. E. Adams. The legal aid committee will give advice and assistance to people who cannot pay for legal services.

The special road committee, whose report was referred back at the last meeting, reported again, standing by the original recommendations. The committee recommended that the public affairs committee urge the county board to make an appropriation for the building of a road from the boulevard extending to the lake and use it as its best efforts to have a road constructed from Fond du Lac to Wrenshall. The committee also recommended that the president of the Duluth Automobile club get in touch with committees from Carlton, Pine, Chisago and Washington counties and arrange on a route between Duluth and the Twin Cities. The report was adopted and the special committee discharged.

The special committee on Chautauqua reported that it would be impossible to arrange for a Chautauqua this year as the season discussed at the last meeting. The normal board will not meet until May 1, and the approval of the board is necessary for the use of the normal school facilities. It was also reported that most of the educators of national reputation have already made

CANANEA IN NO SERIOUS DANGER

Duluthian Has Little Fear of Interference With American Interests.

There is no cause for apprehension of serious trouble at Cananea and vicinity, according to John A. Percival, who with a party of Duluth men, has recently returned from a trip to Mexico. "I left Cananea a week ago today," said Mr. Percival yesterday, "and at that time there was no reason for believing that disturbances in Mexico would extend to that locality. The garrison at Cananea has 400 soldiers."

A number of Duluth people are interested in the report that Cananea is soon to be the scene of fresh trouble in view of the fact that they have mining interests there. The Greene-Cananea and the Calumet-Sonora mines are practically American owned.

OLEOMARGARINE SUITS SETTLED FOR $102,000.

Washington, March 5.—The government's $100,000 claim against Chicago packers and others for taxes alleged due on oleomargarine sold as uncolored was compromised by Secretary Mac-veagh today for $102,000. A spirited controversy surrounded these cases. United States Judge Landis started a grand jury investigation which was later suspended pending the treasury department's action and the house committee on expenditures in the treasury department inquired into the subject.

The compromise was made, it was explained, because the government had no evidence to sustain the $100,000 claim. One hundred and two thousand dollars, it was said, was all the government could get through litigation. The treasury held the test case was impracticable because it could not be decided for two or three years, and in any event the government could not expect to sustain anything approaching its maximum claim.

Yes, you can buy it cheaper at one place than at another—if you couldn't there would be no need of more than one store.

HEALTH & HAPPINESS
By Dr. R. D. Scott.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit, or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations and when a stamped addressed envelope is enclosed.

Dr. Scott will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases, and requests for such service cannot be answered.

Address all communications to "Health and Happiness" department.

Universal Medical Inspection.

Large sums of money are spent every year by the state, in the inspection of cows, elevators, and various forms of machinery. People with foresight spend large sums each year in insuring their property against fire, and their lives against disease, and most of us allow the dentist to inspect our teeth at least once a year. All of these expenditures have been found to be wise investments; thoughtful people now look upon them as a necessary, and not by any means unwarranted expense.

The editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, in a recent number, inquires: Why would it not be a good idea to have a further in the above direction, and invite the doctor to be an inspector of the family and home? The Chinese have done this for centuries and the custom is gaining rapidly in England and Germany. To have the doctor inspect the home and the family every year, to pay the doctor to keep us well, rather than to only call when one foot seems to be slipping into the grave.

This is the essence of present day preventive medicine, the prevention of which we preach in this column every day. To know that one is well, however, will be of little avail unless the knowledge is made practical and useful. More than the science of the things on this earth, but health and efficiency, although comparatively easy to retain, are exceedingly hard to regain when once lost. Therefore, health and efficiency would seem more desirable than even life itself; and there is a growing desire among intelligent people to become better acquainted with the principles of preventive medicine.

Pain in the back is not a distinctive symptom of kidney disease; in fact the most serious kidney disease gives no pain whatever. The symptoms develop in the back, and the most common is a dull, aching pain, which is not relieved by rest or change of position.

Consult a Physician. "Sufferer" writes: I am troubled much with pain in my back and joints. It is from kidney trouble. I always feel tired, and feel like lying down; but after lying down for a time, the pain comes back as bad as ever. A trained nurse advised me to take aurotopin, or any other drug, until you know exactly what you are taking it for.

Have your head shampooed with a perfectly neutral soap, and warm water, or with tincture of green soap and warm water, about two or three times a week, and always after the shampoo have some bland oil rubbed into the scalp, not on the hair.

If the condition does not rapidly improve, consult a good skin specialist.

and other subjects for these evening meetings, and the older children accompanied by their parents could with advantage attend some of the lectures. A child coming to maturity with a sound knowledge of general hygiene has a great advantage over those not so often, to suggest sanitary, physical and hygienic measures for improvement. In fact, Mr. Bok considers it better "to pay the doctor to keep us well" than to only call when one foot seems to be slipping into the grave.

What that he has served over the seas throughout the world for so many years that he has almost forgotten when he enlisted his good-bye was a smile. A handshake for the members of his cabinet, a courtly bow to the women friends who bowed the inauguration discomforts to bid him and Mrs. Taft goaded in the union station; a wave of the hand and another smile for the people who stood in the train-shed and watched his train pull slowly out for the South. The last that was seen of the twenty-sixth president was the dim outline of a big smiling figure in a frock coat, with hair a little awry, riding the rear platform of a private car as it was swallowed in the curling smoke of the tunnel that leads under the city to Dixie. His last glimpse of the city where four years ago he became chief executive, and yesterday a private citizen by the people's will, was from the platform of his private car as it was swallowed in the Washington monument lifted its gray, pointed peak to the gray sky. Today he is in Georgia, to rest and play as the guest of the city of Augusta for three days. On March 27 he plans to go north again to New Haven to settle down under the elms of Yale to the peace and quiet of life as professor of law. He left with no bitterness in his heart, he told friends, but only with thankfulness that he had been given the opportunity to serve.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

Activities of Other Municipalities, Which Might or Might Not Be Copied in Duluth.

AN official city spanker is in prospect for Appleton, Wis. The functions of this office are to be combined, not so much for the correction of the city's faults, but for the discipline of the father. The plan is to engage a man of more than average physical power, large in stature, and amply able to execute any threat of chastisement he may deem wise or necessary to get results. The city commissioners have been advised by those behind this movement that such a man is available, and they are giving the proposition serious consideration. If appointed, he will be instructed to hunt out the truants and then investigate their homes, and in the case of truants, if he finds the father of said truant is a shiftless, indolent loafer or a man addicted to drink and spending much of his time and money in saloons, he is to go to him, order him to mend his ways, and give him reasonable time to change his habits. The plan is an outgrowth of an agitation in Appleton a couple of weeks ago to combine the duties of visiting nurse and truant officer, which has been fostered upon by a considerable number of men who have interested themselves in the matter. Among those behind the new movement are three pastors and several educators.

Between the welfare board, the probation officer of the juvenile court, the humane officer and other semi-official or official officers, the shiftless parents should get considerable attention in Duluth. Physican and mother's union are not overlooked in efforts made to induce them to mend their ways, but violence is not countenanced by the law. Some of them have remarked, however, that they have wished at times that they could use the whipping post for some men whom they believe nothing else would benefit.

For Sprains

Sloan's Liniment is the best remedy for sprains and bruises. It quiets the pain, relieves congestion and reduces the swelling very quickly.

HERE'S PROOF

Mr. HENRY A. YORRL, 24 Somerset St., Plainfield, N.J., writes: "A friend sprained his ankle so badly that I told him I would have him out in a week, but I soaked his foot and then applied Sloan's Liniment, and in four days he was working, and said that was a right good liniment."

Mr. J. H. HARRISON, of Solms, N.C., R.F.D. No. 4, writes: "My daughter sprained her wrist and she applied Sloan's Liniment and it has not hurt her since."

is unequalled as an antiseptic—heals cuts, wounds and burns, and will draw the poison from stings of poisonous insects.

At all dealers. Price 25c., 50c. and $1.00.

DR. EARL S. SLOAN, BOSTON, MASS.

For Three Years' Service.

Paris, March 5.—The supreme war council, presided over by President Poincaré, yesterday pronounced unanimously for three years' military service without exemption as the only means of assuring national defense. This decision was reached after a long and exhaustive examination into the military situation.

Would You Like to Be a Strong, Husky, Healthy Fellow Once More?
New Method Without Drugs

The attached coupon entitles you to one illustrated copy of our pocket compendium and guide for the self-restoration of lost strength. (See description below.) Upon hearing from you, this valuable little book of private information for men will be sent by return mail in plain, sealed envelope. Please call or write today.

There is a new and marvelous method for restoring lost manly strength, for renewing vigor, which every man should know of, a self-restoration which operates without the use of drugs or medicine, a new way to treat yourself for your ill health and weakness. See description below.

Please remember that a man is not a day older than he actually feels, and therefore no matter what your age, if you are young or elderly, married or single, large or small, if I can show you, reader, how you yourself may actually add to your system, nerves and blood the very nerve force or vigor which may have been drained away and which is necessary to make you strong, vigorous and capable again, then I have shown you the real secret of perpetual strength, and how you can again be filled with vigor, and again be just as powerful in your influence and just as thoroughly manly in your capacity as the biggest, fullest bloomed, most successful fellow of your acquaintance.

The new self-restoration for the restoration of manly strength, to which I refer above, is a little book called VITALIZING APPLIANCE, of my invention, which is now meeting with a tremendous demand, and being used by men everywhere all over the world. This little VITALIZER, weighing only several ounces, is comfortably buckled on the body and worn all night. It is so small and so compact that even a room mate would not suspect that you were wearing it. If, however, this VITALIZER, small in size, it is not small in power, for it generates a great, tangible FORCE, which can be measured on scientific instruments—a FORCE which I call VIGOR or NERVE ENERGY, and it sends this marvelous FORCE into your blood, organs and nerve while you sleep. All you have to do is to lead a decent, manly life, free from excesses and dissipation, then use the VITALIZER, nothing more. If this is followed out and the VITALIZER does for you what these others say it does for them, then all the pain or weakness will disappear from the result of your back—possibly from the first night's use—and you will be restored to a strong, vigorous, manly, capable man, without a single ache, pain or weakness. Please remember, I am not asking you to buy one of these VITALIZERS, but merely request you to first send for the free book described below, a section of which is devoted to an explanation of this VITALIZER, and give you its whole wonderful story, so that you may know what intelligent young and elderly men everywhere are saying about it.

This is the Book You Get Free

My 24-page illustrated booklet (pocket size) was compiled by me to answer fully and correctly those questions which are asked privately by any man needing new strength and who seeks personal advice pertaining to the ailments and weakness he wishes to overcome. The book, fully illustrated, with photo reproductions, contains much that a single or married man should know. It also fully describes my VITALIZER and tells you how you may secure one in your own case, should you decide you want to use one. Remember the book is sent absolutely free, in plain, sealed envelope. Why not write for a copy today? Or, if nearer, please call. Hours—9 to 4. Sundays—10 to 1.

PREHISTORIC BONES FOUND IN COAL.

Alexander, N. D., March 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bones supposed to be those of some prehistoric animal were found ten feet underneath the earth's surface by O. D. and Harry Canfield, while blasting coal. The vein of coal was six feet below the surface and was four feet thick. The bones were underneath the coal. The bones were completely petrified and will be sent to some expert for classification.

USE FOR RESINOL IN EVERY HOME

Keep That Soothing, Healing, Ointment Always Ready for Use.

The same soothing, healing, antiseptic medicament which makes Resinol Ointment so successful for eczema and other skin eruptions, makes it also the ideal household remedy for a score of troubles that constantly arise in every home. It quickly heals burns, scalds and wounds; cures an excellent dressing for ulcers, boils, and abscesses; stops itching at once; gives prompt and permanent relief from piles, and is invaluable for many minor skin troubles such as cold-sores, pimples and chaffings.

Resinol Ointment positively contains nothing of a harsh or injurious nature. It is absolutely pure and so gentle, yet effective, that it can be used freely on the most inflamed surface or the tenderest skin, even of a tiny baby. Doctors have prescribed it for eight years. You can test it free by writing to Dept. 3-S, Resinol, Baltimore, Md., for a generous sample and a miniature cake of Resinol Soap. Every druggist sells Resinol Ointment in two sizes, opal jars, fifty cents and a dollar.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWESTWOULD WORK IN HARMONY

Towns Interested in Improving Upper Mississippi to Pull Together.

Meeting at Cass Lake of Delegates From Interested Points.

Cass Lake, Minn., March 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Cass Lake Commercial club has issued a call directed to the Commercial clubs of Walker, Deer River, Grand Rapids, Bena, Federal Dam, Bemidji, Pillsbury and Aitkin, inviting them to send delegates to a convention here having for its object the furthering of improvements near the headwaters of the Mississippi, between Lake Itasca and Aitkin.

The idea is to form the organization permanently and have concerted action behind all moves for improving the state. Much legislation affecting this section was recommended by the engineers, but failed of passage by the legislature. It is believed because there was not concerted action. All persons who reside along the Mississippi as far south as Aitkin are welcome to come to this meeting. It will be held Thursday evening, March 20, at 8 p. m. in order to have the handiest train connections for the majority of the delegates.

To Lease City Dock.

The commercial club has instructed its dock committee to try to secure the services of a good man for a term of years or to a practical boatman who will be able and willing to add to the equipment of the dock in several small boats and more rowboats than there are now. The inquiry for a permanent man is now being made.

Board of Education Plans to Keep Nearby Farmers Posted.

Cass Lake, Minn., March 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The board of education has re-elected Prof. E. T. Fitch for another year. The patrons of the school were generally much pleased at the action of the board. Prof. Fitch has been superintendent of the high school here for the past two years, and his work has been such as to merit the highest praise. W. C. Hicks, a graduate of Ames college of Iowa, was elected agricultural teacher for the next year. Mr. Hicks has purchased land near the community and will use his knowledge of scientific agriculture for the benefit of the community. He expects to make his permanent home here, and will teach only which he will devote himself entirely to farming.

Will Please Farmers.

The farmers in the neighborhood of Cass Lake will be pleased at the action of the board in arranging for the agricultural course, and will reap great benefit therefrom. The course will be held at the Cass Lake high school. All of Pike Bay township will be invited to the district to get the benefit of this teacher's instruction as well as other teachers. The course will not be held next year, as the work of the past year ought to be sufficient to keep the old teaching force well re-elected at the next meeting of the board.

LAURIUM HOTEL

FIRE IS FATAL

Domestic Killed By Jumping and Six Others Are Injured.

Laurium, Mich., March 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—An fire broke out in the Laurium hotel here owned by Bosch Brewing company of Lake Linden, Minn., at 11:20 p. m. today. It began in the third floor, breaking her back. Six others were killed, one, Mrs. Brown, seriously. The property loss is $25,000. A faulty furnace is blamed for the fire.

CLOQUET MASONS WILL BUILD HOME

Rendered Homeless By Fire

Order Must Provide Meeting Place.

Cloquet, Minn., March 5.—Because of the burning of the Mason's lodge room last Sunday morning the Old Fellows have given the Masons and Order of Eastern Star the use of Odd Fellows hall until the Masonic order shall make other arrangements.

For a year past the Masons have been building and several locations have been considered, but nothing definite decided. Now that the lodge is homeless it is probable that within a few months the city will boast of a fine Masonic temple as the order here has been organized many years and has a large membership.

There is a special meeting Saturday night to discuss the subject of building permanent quarters.

HEALTH BOARD FEES

For Two Years Have Been Turned Into State Treasury.

St. Paul, Minn., March 5.—All fees received by the state board of health during the fiscal year ending July 31, 1911, and July 31, 1912, have been paid to the state treasurer, according to the report of the public examiner.

It is reported that the vouchers covering disbursements with the exception of a few covering insignificant amounts agree with the books of the state auditor.

The receipts of the board during 1911 under the general fund were $17,709.70, including the appropriation of $12,000. Disbursements for the same year were $16,011.82, leaving a balance of $2,697.88. In 1912, general fund receipts were $14,768, including the $14,500 appropriation; disbursements, $14,568.63, leaving a balance of $709.70.

EARLY DAY RELIC.

Document Showing Pioneer of Cook County Officials Dug Up.

Grand Marais, Minn., March 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The workmen on a tearing down the vault of the old courthouse uncovered a sealed fruit jar containing a paper giving a list of the first officials of Cook county, which was deposited there by John M. Millar, the first county clerk, in 1831. The paper is a full sheet legal cap, upon which is a complete list of officers of the county at that time, and is a valuable relic, bearing the county auditor's card and endorsed as follows:

Deposited Aug. 6th, A. D. 1853.

CANNOT GET DRIVERS.

So Lumbermen Are Getting Rid of Their Horses.

St. Paul, Minn., March 5.—Because the various lumber companies operating in the northern woods of Minnesota and Wisconsin are unable to secure drivers, they are disposing of nearly all their horses. A. H. Anderson, proprietor of a local labor agency, says four companies have written him to secure drivers. J. H. McDermott, who also conducts a labor agency, says the lumber firms are looking for more than 500 lumberjacks are wanted it is said.

CROOKED GRAIN SCALES.

Unearthed and Confiscated By Inspector in Small Minnesota Town.

St. Paul, Minn., March 5.—C. C. Neale, state commissioner of weights and measures, has uncovered a new weighing fraud, which he says is the most novel and subtle device to deceive he has ever seen.

On a recent trip, J. R. Methven, one of the weights and measures inspectors, found two elevator scales in a small town. This was the first time a wagon filled with grain would always be too much. This is a new kind of scale, which is placed against the actual grain sold by farmers. The scales have been condemned and confiscated.

MOTHER HEARTBROKEN

When She Learns of Son's Crime at Frederic, Wis.

Menominee, Wis., March 5.—Mrs. J. Menominee, aged 70 years, died of a broken heart, resulting from the confession of her son, Hugh Swenson, that he had committed murder. She had been told by her son, George Swenson, that he had killed a man named Fredrick, Jan. 28, and was given a life term in the state prison. She was not told to his mother until after his death. She died of a stroke of apoplexy. Physicians said the direct cause of the aged woman's death.

QUITS ASHLAND JOB FOR MILL CITY ONE.

Ashland, Wis., March 5.—C. W. Kline, who has been superintendent of the poor at Ashland, has resigned and left today for Minneapolis where he and his wife, Mrs. Kline, have accepted a position with the city of Minneapolis. Mr. Kline has been in the position of superintendent of the poor at Ashland for the past two years. He has been very successful in his work, and has been very popular with the people of the city.

Clears Skin of Worst Eruptions

Remarkable Action of a Remedy That Drives Every Speck of Poison From Body.

There is a strange, mysterious power in a remarkable blood medicine that finds its way through the circulation by what is known as Dr. Swift's Sure Specific, or S. S. S.

Science cannot explain just why certain elements in the blood feed the bones, others nourish the hair roots, and so on. And it is this same mysterious action of S. S. S. that attacks all diseased spots, drives away all germs, heals all sores and suppurates the activity of disease germs with the powerful healing action of leucocytes. Remarkable testimonials have been written that prove beyond question there is no blood disease but what can be cured by S. S. S. And in all those cases that were treated with mercury, iodides, arsenic, copper and other minerals with no permanent recovery have been made by S. S. S.

There is not a blood taint of any nature that can remain in a system fortified by this most wonderful remedy, for it is absolutely pure and contains only those elements that the blood naturally assimilates, and which the tissues gratefully accept. It agrees with the most delicate stomach, even in those cases where the use of strong drugs has so weakened the digestive system that medicine cannot be given. Get a $1.00 bottle of S. S. S. at any drug store and thus be assured of a complete cure of any eruptive blood disease. If you desire a special advice write to The Swift Specific Co., Medical Dept., 127 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

BURGLARS SOUGHT.

Three Youthful Mill City Robbers Flee When Woman Screams.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 5.—The police are searching for youthful robbers who attempted to hold up an elderly woman and her daughter in their home in a thickly-populated residence district of the city late Monday night. The woman, who was about 70 years old, called at the home of Mrs. L. G. O'Brien, and when the daughter responded confronted her with a revolver and proceeded to ransack the rooms.

When the younger woman screamed and the door opened, the robbers became frightened and ran.

CHIPPEWA INDIANS END THEIR DEVOTIONS.

Cloquet, Minn., March 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The forty-day devotion among the Indians at the Church of the Holy Family in the Indian village of Cloquet, Minn., concluded yesterday. Devotions were carried on by Father Simon, the parish priest, who has been a missionary among the Chippewa for thirty years. Most of the services were conducted in Chippewa, with the exception of the morning mass, when Father Simon, of the Cloquet parish, preached in English.

SELLS SHERIFF BEER.

Then Ambrose, N. D., Man Finds Himself Under Arrest.

Ambrose, N. D., March 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. I. Darling made a rather serious error when he sold Sheriff Ambrose beer. The sheriff, who was under arrest, was found in the room of the sheriff's office. The sheriff, who was under arrest, was found in the room of the sheriff's office. LATEST SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

Gossip, Comment and Sporting Editorial Review as Written By Bruce.

TAKING the dusty diary of time from the shelf and perching under the green shade of the student's glimpse, one reads with interest of the old codgers of the stone age, when men went forth with rocks tied at their ends and battled over various and diverse matters. There were no salaried men in these days, the amusements being of a decidedly simple nature. There were also no nerve specialists; they did not need them, Bill, there were no millinery bills or bill collecting agencies; there were no lobster salads or Salome soirees; the nerves were free and easy and heaved without the aid of doctors or the patent medicine.

All this is merely a prelude, so to speak, and is leading you, gentle reader, up the news lane to the fact that in this day and generation the modern athlete is exceedingly liable to those various ills that fill our fashionable sanitariums and make nerve medicine the best little business in the world. It is paid for doing it, in fact—he is a regular manager.

If the trip to the Pacific coast is acted upon, as has been hinted, the news from the Cub camp, is on the nerve and is already getting the mental jiggers and the physical twitching that goes with the wild rampage of the modern nerves. At the moment they are whispering that the successor to iron-willed Frank Chance can't stand the fidgety pace of managing a major league baseball team. It is a nerve affliction, they say, like an ailment affected with an aggravated case of St. Vitus dance. When he shouldn't be doing anything, he is; and when he should be doing lots of things, he is doing a multiple of duties outside the signal sent by the office.

He is the nervous type of athlete, Wendel, dear, and as the complications of the modern way of living, or attempting to live, increase, so do the number of this type of performer grow apace. One can see—if he is blessed with imagination—large Roger Bresnahan, one of the stone age type; heavy of limb, large of jaw and bulky of person, being sluggishly amused at the sensibility of livers. Roger is to be the next manager of the Cubs, and while the Trojan crumies at the press, at the captions critics and the seers and steel world in general, are lecturing to and worrying himself into the bantam weight division at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, this Bresnahan brute—for euphonious results only—smiles the smile of the large king with a large foot inside, and wonders when he will be wearing the title and bullying the players of the Cub machine and calling inspirations names that were not even listed at during the baptismal ceremony.

As we stated yesterday, she is a great old life, and one must have fortitude.

There is an umpire in one of the Southern leagues by the name of Riquelmont. He is called cheese for short and general reasons.

OUT of the mist of the great beyond comes the story of the early ordering of uniforms for Tyrus Raymond Cobb and Wahoon Sam Crawford by Owner Navin of the Detroit Tigers. And this, kind friends, in the face of the repeated refusal of two stars to affix their signatures to the little document by charitable interpretation called a contract.

If this fact became the property of the two disgruntled players they probably promptly laughed and grew exceedingly chummy over the belief that they were indispensable to the owner of the team.

It is probably a matter of oral fact that Mister Navin believes that eventually these two players will be swathed inside of the two uniforms he has ordered for them, and in purchasing uniform for his athletes, he probably added the "why not now," to the eventually.

IT is said that the umpires, some of them at least, are to wear head gears, knee pads, shin guards and other means of life and limb protection during the coming season. How nice. This suggests the little thought regarding the players of the bygone days. Old Silver Flint and some of the others of that brave band of pioneer backstop men stood behind the plate day after day and took the shoots and the knocks without pad, mask or protector. Behold, Geraldine, now we have the unholy umpire, who sets the crowd in a perfect frenzy of delight when he stops a foul tip with his unhappy person, guarded and armored like one of our cruisers sent down Venezuela way on some troublesome mission with the lordly Latin.

Someone please complete this little article by rising and crying, "Oh how the dear old game has changed."

PAL BROWN, came through great in Milwaukee, Monday night, as many predicted he would if the range kid loose was not interfered with. After the Chicago effusions about the "Ketchel victory" it is pleasant to see and comment upon the true showing of the abilities of the two boys. Trust Larry Litcher for the old alibi, for, kiplidly trust us, this is one of the best things he does. He is paid for doing it, in fact—he is a regular manager.

Duluth Loses Another Game to Crack Portage Lake Team.

Two Sevens Are Forced to Play Ten Minutes Overtime.

Houghton, Mich., March 5.—After playing ten minutes overtime the Portage Lake hockey team defeated the Duluth seven here last night by a score of 7 to 3 in a game which showed a marked improvement in every department over the contest of the previous night. Both teams worked hard, especially in the latter part of the play when Portage Lake secured two goals in less than a minute, closing the first five minutes closing 5 to 3 for Portage Lake.

The second period opened with a rush and the play fluctuated repeatedly until nine minutes after play opened Chaput caged a goal for the locals. A few minutes later Mahan scored for Duluth and he repeated three minutes later, equalizing the score with but six minutes to play. The half closed with the score 3 to 3 and a 10-minute extra time was decided upon by the managers of both teams. Reynolds, for Portage, opened the scoring in the first two minutes after play began and Chaput followed a quarter of a minute later. Under the puck line in a vain effort to effect a score but he was unsuccessful, the first five minutes closing 5 to 3 for Portage Lake.

A combination play, Reynolds to Chaput, added another to the locals' score two minutes after the play opened in the last five minutes of the game. Reynolds closed the game by a shot from a scrimmage one-half minute before time, the score being 7 to 3.

The game for a fast one, was remarkably free from rough work, only two penalties were given and these for tripping. The only accident that occurred on the ice was a broken skate for Hogan.

Monette, in goal for Duluth, played his usual cool game and he was well backed up by H. H. Chaput, did most of the advancing. For the locals, Haug, in goal, was the bulwark of the defense, receiving excellent assistance from Hogan.

The line-up: Portage Lake—Olsen, Chaput, Reynolds, Mahan, Exley, Scotte, Eshley, Murphy, Hogan, Throhan, Monette, Haug.

Duluth—Olsen, Chaput, Reynolds, Mahan, Exley, Scotte, Eshley, Murphy, Hogan, Throhan, Monette, Haug.

FOUR GOOD MIDDLEWEIGHT FIGHTERS AT HEAD OF LAKES

Four of the best middleweights, barring Mike Gibbons, who ever placed a glove on that arm as it is today at the American Head of the Lakes awaiting the contest tonight in the "squared circle" at the Superior opera house.

They are Eddy McGorty, claimant of the middleweight championship of the world, and willing to meet Frank Klaus, Billy Papke or Mike Gibbons at any time; "Young Mahoney" of Racine, Wis., who has boxed three times in the world, and is willing to meet worse than a draw; Billy Perkins, recently defeated by the Chicago Italian, Tony Camont, but a corner and conceding to have "the goods," and stocky Arthur Godfrey, well known here, who meets Perkins in the semi-final of the world's championship.

Art Godfrey is "coming back" with some other good boys will supply the curtain raiser. The three bouts will be shown on a rare to see, and the excitement is assured. The house, aside from a bunch of jokers and the "late arrivals," is said to be sold out.

Eddy McGorty today spoke of Mike Gibbons. "Mike is a wonder," said Eddy. "He is a sliver. It is as hard to place a glove on that arm as it is today at the American Head of the Lakes awaiting the contest tonight in the 'squared circle' at the Superior opera house.

DROP SECOND TO HUGHTON

Duluth Loses Another Game to Crack Portage Lake Team.

Two Sevens Are Forced to Play Ten Minutes Overtime.

Houghton, Mich., March 5.—After playing ten minutes overtime the Portage Lake hockey team defeated the Duluth seven here last night by a score of 7 to 3 in a game which showed a marked improvement in every department over the contest of the previous night. Both teams worked hard, especially in the latter part of the play when Portage Lake secured two goals in less than a minute, closing the first five minutes closing 5 to 3 for Portage Lake.

The second period opened with a rush and the play fluctuated repeatedly until nine minutes after play opened Chaput caged a goal for the locals. A few minutes later Mahan scored for Duluth and he repeated three minutes later, equalizing the score with but six minutes to play. The half closed with the score 3 to 3 and a 10-minute extra time was decided upon by the managers of both teams. FRANK BRYANT TO RACE FOR THE WORLD'S TITLE

Duluth Roller Skating Champion Will Meet Champion Clarence Hamilton at Milwaukee.

Little Frank Bryant is at last to have his chance. On Thursday and Friday nights of the present week the Little Duluth holder of the Northwest roller skating championship will skate Clarence Hamilton at the Elite rink of Milwaukee for the world's title. Hamilton is the man whom Harley Davidson has persistently avoided meeting. Hamilton is also the holder of the world's mark for one mile, doing the distance with motor cycle pace makers in the fast time of 2:47. It is only necessary to state that Bryant skated his winning mile against Joe Munch in the extraordinary time of 2:49 to show the speed at which he is traveling right now.

For some years this little kid has been skating around these parts with no one in particular paying any attention to him. Bryant closed with the locals easily and without undue exertion. He then journeyed to the nearby towns and beat the local stars with the same ease. But still those who hurt the shaft of doubt against the home bred held firmly to the opinion that the reputation of the little speed merchant was part of boasting and was not the pure fabric of speed.

Harley Davidson has refused to race Hamilton, who is generally considered the champion of the world. If I beat him at second time, he will be a right as any of the present skaters to be called the champion of the world. When Davidson returns from his Australian trip it is my desire to force him into a race and wipe out the legend he gave me when I was only a green horn at the game.

BILL FOR NEW NORMAL SCHOOL IS ADVANCED TO CALENDAR OF HOUSE

Motion to Kill Dunn's Anti-Trust Bill Is Nearly Carried.

New Measure Regulating Women's Working Hours Introduced in House.

Spooner Suggests Impeachment of the Game and Fish Commission.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., March 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The house in committee of the whole this morning, after a very brief debate, advanced to the calendar the bill for the committee on normal schools providing for the location of a new normal school in Northern Minnesota, north of the Northern Pacific line between Duluth and Moorhead, and west of Carlton county.

The house advanced to the calendar, after considerable debate, former Speaker Dunn's drastic anti-trust bill, which would place in place of those providing definite locations, and if it passes the school is to be located by a committee appointed for the purpose. Representative D. P. O'Neill of Thief River Falls carried the bill up and advocated its advancement.

Anti-Trust Bill Advanced.
The house advanced to the calendar, after considerable debate, former Speaker Dunn's drastic anti-trust bill, which would place in place of those providing definite locations, and if it passes the school is to be located by a committee appointed for the purpose. Representative D. P. O'Neill of Thief River Falls carried the bill up and advocated its advancement.

Similar action was taken by the house with the bill by Representatives Lyndall and Preston, requiring that employees in practically all lines of work shall be given one day's rest a week, and prohibiting them from working on that day.

The Judiciary committee introduced, as a substitute for the Preston bill limiting the hours of labor of women to eight, a bill limiting the hours to ten a day and fifty-eight a week in all stores, restaurants, and mechanical, manufacturing, telephone and telegraph establishments, and requiring ventilation and sanitary conditions where women work.

Talk of Impeachment.

QUARTET ARRIVES IN CAR OF POTATOES

One Duluth Woman Among Those Arrested in St. Louis, Mo.

St. Louis, Mo., March 6.—Two men and two women who say they have beaten their way from Staples, Minn., arrived in St. Louis today in a car loaded with potatoes. All four were arrested.

FOR TARIFF BILLS ONLY

House Leaders Want Special Session Confined to Them.

President Wilson Urged to Use His Influence for Plan.

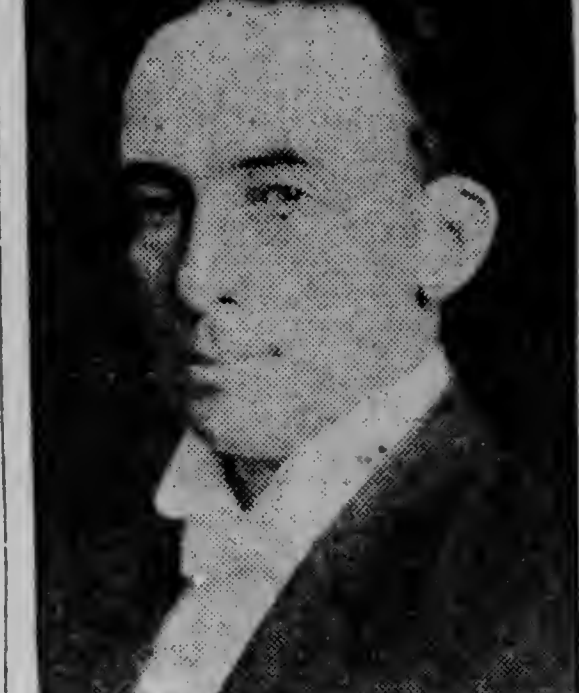

Washington, March 6.—President Wilson was strongly urged by house leaders to use his influence for and agree to a plan which would confine congress at the special session called for April 1 to the enactment of tariff legislation and the passage of the two appropriation bills which failed in the closing days of the last congress.

The house leaders want to pass the tariff bills as quickly as possible, send them to the senate and then instead of taking up other legislation, such as currency reform, have the house adjourn for periods of three days at a time. Their object in this is said to be to have the senate the only body doing business, so that the eyes of the nation could be focused upon it and attention would not be diverted to other subjects.

In the opinion of some house leaders, this would enable President Wilson and the Democrats in the senate, through their own power and the force of public attention, to get such tariff legislation as they desired.

WINS FIGHT IN SENATE FOR DISTANCE TARIFF

SENATOR T. E. CASHMAN OF OMAHA, WHO STARTED FIGHT FOR DISTANCE TARIFF BILL IN 1907 AND HAS FINALLY WON OUT IN SENATE.

Similar action was taken by the house with the bill by Representatives Lyndall and Preston, requiring that employees in practically all lines of work shall be given one day's rest a week, and prohibiting them from working on that day.

FOR DISTANCE TARIFF BILL

Cashman Measure Through Senate and Likely to Pass House.

Bill to Remove Limit on Legislative Sessions Is Killed.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., March 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Cashman distance tariff bill, in its fourth trial in seven years, passed the senate late yesterday afternoon by a vote of 35 to 25, which was somewhat larger than had been expected.

CLOSE WATCH ON SUFFRAGETTES

Women Have Threatened to Destroy Ballots at Election.

London, March 6.—The keenest interest was taken today in the triennial election for members of the London county council, not only because of the divided opinion on municipal issues at stake, but also because of the threats of militant suffragettes to destroy the ballot papers.

Special precautions were taken by the police to prevent any interference with the ballot boxes by the women, many of whom are entitled to vote at municipal elections. The aperture through which the voting papers are dropped into the boxes was made very narrow and policemen were posted to keep a sharp lookout on every woman entering the polling booths.

The campaign was spirited, many members of the cabinet taking a prominent part on behalf of the progressive candidates. While the suffragists did not become very active in the fight, they advised all women voters against the progressives, "because they have accepted the support of a government which refused to enfranchise women for parliamentary elections."

SECRETARY TUMULTY BREAKS PRECEDENTS.

Washington, March 6.—Joseph P. Tumulty, President Wilson's secretary, started a small precedent-shattering campaign of his own today. Mr. Tumulty got to work at 8 o'clock. Nobody in Washington in the government service ever heard of any one who got to work so early. Most government officials get to work between 9 and 10. Mr. Tumulty found few clerks in his office when he arrived.

Young Widow Murdered.
New York, March 6.—Mrs. Katherine Godfrey, a young widow, was found murdered early today in her flat. Her head and face had been battered presumably with a club. The police attributed the crime to gangsters.

UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR KILLS MAN

Oscar Olson of University of Minnesota Shoots Clyde Darling.

"Simply the Unwritten Rule" Only Comment of Murderer.

Prof. Olson's Wife Away at the Time of the Shooting.

St. Paul, Minn., March 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prof. Oscar M. Olson, a demonstrator of the University of Minnesota's school of agriculture at St. Anthony Park, today is in a cell here awaiting arraignment on the charge of shooting and killing Clyde N. Darling, driver for a local laundry. Olson surrendered to the police early today, and according to them, confessed that he waited for his chance and deliberately shot Darling.

"It was simply the unwritten rule," Prof. Olson is quoted as saying in reply to the questioning of the police, and is said to have declined to talk further concerning the case, until he appears in court.

Wife Away Visiting.
Mrs. Olson, with her 4-year-old daughter, now is visiting friends at Montevideo, Minn., where Olson formerly lived.

Darling, according to the police, was shot just as he entered the rear door of a small summer kitchen of the Olson home. Two shots were fired, both of which entered Darling's breast.

Immediately afterward Olson is said to have gone to the home of A. L. Anderson, a government employee, and a friend, and asked him to come to his home where there had been "some trouble." Just as they reached the Olson home, Olson remarked, "I shot a man; he's dead." With Mr. Olson consenting, Anderson then called the police, who took the professor to the Prior avenue station where he spent the remainder of the night.

STRONG OPPOSITION TO RYAN'S ELECTION

Many Iron Workers Do Not Want Him as President.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 6.—The International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, which is holding its annual convention, postponed from last September, probably will close its sessions late today with election of officers who will remain until next September. The business of the convention is being transacted behind closed doors.

All officers of the association hereafter will be elected by referendum vote and the election of officers who will succeed those elected today will be held during the coming summer. This was decided at yesterday's session.

Frank M. Ryan, president of the association and one of the labor leaders convicted in the dynamite conspiracy, is said to be the only officer seeking re-election. Strong opposition of his candidacy has developed, it is said.

FORMER VICE-PRESIDENT IS DANGEROUSLY SICK

LEVI P. MORTON.

New York, March 6.—The condition of Levi P. Morton who is critically ill was pronounced unchanged this morning. He is suffering from hardening of the arteries and has been in a precarious state for several days.

THAW WRIT WITHDRAWN

Hearing on Habeas Corpus Proceedings Comes to Sudden End.

Lawyer Claims He Has Been Denied Free Access to Client.

New York, March 6.—The writ of habeas corpus obtained in behalf of Harry K. Thaw, suddenly was withdrawn at the request of his counsel in the supreme court today. No explanation was offered. Thaw was in court.

William Travers Jerome was ready to proceed with the argument when one of Thaw's lawyers notified Justice Gorgorich that he desired to withdraw the proceedings.

Subsequently it was explained that the move was made because Dr. Charles Kennedy, the lawyer who obtained the writ for Thaw, had been denied the privilege of consulting privately with his client at Matteawan, and for this reason was not ready to go ahead with the case.

Thaw was taken back to the asylum and the right of his lawyers to see him in private there will be thrashed out in court.

Thaw was brought down to New York from Matteawan today and appeared in the supreme court to fight his release on a writ of habeas corpus. A proceeding in which he has been defeated on several previous occasions. He was represented by Dr. Charles Kennedy, a lawyer-physician. William Travers Jerome appeared for the state.

ENGINE CREW LOSE LIVES IN TRAIN WRECK

N. P. Winnipeg Freight Is Thrown From Rails Near Davidson, Minn.

Engineer McGowan and Fireman Gust Sagen Are Scalded to Death.

Tank Car of Kerosene and Other Merchandise Consumed By Fire.

East Grand Forks, Minn., March 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joseph McGowan and Gust Sagen, engineer and fireman on the Northern Pacific Winnipeg freight were killed when the train was derailed near Davidson, a few miles east of here this morning. Both men were pinned underneath the engine, when it toppled over.

They were scalded to death and their bodies badly burned. The train immediately caught fire and the East Grand Forks fire department was rushed to the scene on the wrecking train.

Both dead men resided in this city. Mr. McGowan has been an engineer on the Northern Pacific for a number of years and is survived by his wife and several children. A defective rail is said to have caused the wreck.

One kerosene car was burned making a terrific fire. Two cars of coal and one car of gasoline cans, one can of merchandise and one car of wire were burned.

The bodies of the men are still under the wreck. Engineer McGowan spoke to his comrades who were powerless to release him before he died. He begged piteously for help.

FIERCE RIOTING BY GARMENT WORKERS

Rochester Strikers Smash Taxicabs and Pelt Those Who Work.

Rochester, N. Y., March 6.—The striking garment workers here opened the day today with rioting in which 1,500 persons participated. The clothing district was thronged with the demonstrators who wrecked the taxicabs and pelted the workers in the streets with ice and snow. Hundreds of windows were smashed and broken glass littered the streets.

Numerous arrests were made, including those of several young girls. Police Justice Chadsey announced that he would mete out penitentiary sentences to all disturbers.

WOOD TO CONTINUE AS CHIEF FOR A TIME.

Washington, March 6.—Secretary of War Garrison today ordered Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood to continue under his original designation as chief of staff of the army until further orders. The purpose of Secretary Garrison's action was to enable President Wilson to have time fully to consider the question of a permanent designation.

GREEK ARMY CAPTURES THE FORTRESS OF JANINA AND 32,000 SOLDIERS

RECEIVED SURRENDER OF JANINA FORTRESS

Surrender Preceded By a Fierce Bombardment Lasting Two Days.

Greek Commanders By Skillful Feint Mislead the Ottomans.

Athens, Greece, March 6.—The Turkish fortress of Janina, the key to the possession of the province of Epirus, with its garrison of 32,000 men surrendered to the Greek army today after a defense which forms one of the most brilliant episodes of the Balkan war.

The surrender was preceded by a fierce bombardment, lasting without cessation, for two days and two nights. Every available gun including a number of heavy howitzers lent by the Serbian artillery, was brought to bear on the forts defending the beleaguered city.

No fewer than 30,000 shells were fired by the Greek guns during the first day. Gradually the Turkish batteries at Bisani, Manolara, Sakni and elsewhere were silenced.

The Greek commanders, by a feint, led the Turks to believe that their attack would be made from the right. As soon as the attention of the defenders had been distracted, the Greeks hurled large bodies of infantry against the Turkish left. The Ottoman troops, utterly surprised, fell back in disorder.

The batteries on the heights of Bisani, the mainstay of the defense, had been unable to stand the pelting of the shells and were reduced to silence. (Continued on page 6, second column.)

CABINET HAS FIRST SESSION

Breaks Records of Taft's Official Family By Meeting Early.

The Remaining Members Subscribe to the Oath of Office.

Washington, March 6.—President Wilson's cabinet met formally today for the first time. The conference yesterday was held before the nominations were sent to the senate and the meeting had no official standing.

No provision had been made today for Vice President Marshall, although President Wilson has been quoted as saying that he saw no reason why the vice president should not sit with the official family.

Attorney General McInerney, Secretary McAdoo of the treasury department, and Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce took the oath of office today. Mr. McAdoo was sworn in by Associate Justice Hughes of the supreme court.

President Wilson's cabinet today broke some of the records established by Mr. Taft's official family. The Taft advisers usually reached the White House offices much after 11 o'clock, the hour set for the meeting. All Mr. Wilson's cabinet were in the offices within a few minutes of the meeting hour ready to sit for a dozen photographers and several moving picture men.

Secretary Bryan was again a center of interest when he entered the executive offices. He had a hard time getting through the crowd and was stopped several times to be introduced by senators and congressmen to their constituents. Several women in the waiting room began to clap their hands and sing out, "Including Bryan" when the secretary entered at a rapid walk, doffed his hat and smiled.

NEW PATRONAGE RULE ENFORCED

President Sends Senators to Member of His Cabinet.

Washington, March 6.—President Wilson gave a practical demonstration of the application of his new patronage rule today to two senators. Senators Bryan and Fletcher of Florida called at the White House to discuss appointments of a district judge and a United States attorney in the Southern district of Florida. The president received them courteously, but asked them to make their recommendations to the attorney general.

MAJORITY OF CREW FROZEN TO DEATH

Men Who Were on "S178" Not Drowned, But Perish in Cold.

Berlin, March 6.—The total number of killed as the result of the ramming of torpedo boat destroyer "S178" by the York off Heligoland, was given officially today as 71, including two officers and 69 men. It is stated by the admiralty that most of these did not die by drowning but were frozen to death while clinging to loose spars after their vessel had sunk.

The official account of the disaster states that "the destroyer while crossing the bow of the York, became unmanageable owing to the terrific seas and was cut in two" by the bigger vessel, which was going at full speed. The storm made the rescue of the men almost impossible and many of the corpses were not picked up until today.

THOUGHT TO BE JOKER'S WORK

Check Signed By Mrs. Mills Found in Streets of Chicago.

For $41,000, Same Amount Woman Claims to Have Lost.

Chicago, March 6.—A small, black purse, containing a check for $41,000 on the State Bank of Elkhart, Ind., made payable to H. L. Stevens and signed "Mrs. Mabel Mills," was found on the sidewalk at North Clark street and Center avenue last night by William J. Dibos, a saloon keeper at 2100 North Halsted street.

While the find appeared on the surface to be genuine, the police could not disregard the theory of a hoax. It was learned that Mrs. Mills has no account at the Elkhart bank and that she and Stevens have had no business relations.

Acting Chief of Detectives Tobin pronounced the find as valueless and sent the check back to the finder.

Turned Over to Police.
Dibos turned the check over to the police. It is dated March 1, 1913, the date on which Mrs. Mills, now at Kansas City, claims to have lost or been in some manner deprived of $41,000 in $1,000 bills.

Mrs. Mills had taken dinner with Mrs. H. L. Stevens, wife of the man whose name is the same as that appearing on the check found by the saloonman. She is supposed to have lost the money that evening after leaving the Stevens home in Evanston, several miles north of where the check was found.

In the purse also were a number of newspaper clippings recounting real estate offers, some of which had been checked off. Mrs. Mills is in the real estate business at San Antonio, Tex., her home.

Over the long distance telephone Frank A. Sage, assistant cashier of the First State Bank of Elkhart, Ind., stated that Mrs. Mills has no account there.

Absolute Nonsense.
Kansas City, Mo., March 6.—"That is absolute nonsense," said E. W. Mills, husband of Mrs. Mabel Mills, when it was told that a check for $41,000 signed by his wife had been found on a street in Chicago.

"This report is based on false information or the check is the work of a joker,"

CAN ALMOST SEE PIMPLES GO

The New Calcium Sulphide Treatment Does Wonders to Every Kind of Skin Eruption

You don't want to wait forever and a day to get rid of your pimples and other skin eruptions. You want to get rid of them right now. Next week you may want to go somewhere where you wouldn't like to have to take the pimples along.

Pimples Quickly Disappear from Face. Arms, Neck and Back, and Insure a Beautiful Complexion.

You can get rid of them just in time by taking Stuart's Calcium Wafers. These wonderful little workers have cured bad boils in three days, and some cases of skin diseases in a week.

They contain as their main ingredient most thorough, quick and effective blood cleanser known, calcium sulphide. Remember this, too, that most pimple treatments risk with poison. And they are miserably slow besides.

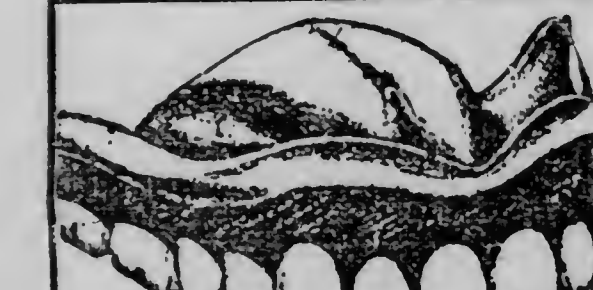

Stuart's Calcium Wafers have not a particle of poison in them. They are free from mercury, killing drugs or venous ointments. This is absolutely guaranteed. They cannot do any harm, but they always do good—good that you can see in the mirror before your own eyes a few days after.

Don't be any longer humiliated by having a spotted face. Don't have strangers stare at you, or allow your friends to be ashamed of you because of your face.

Your blood makes you what you are. The men and women who force ahead are those with pure blood and pure faces.

Stuart's Calcium Wafers will make you happy because your face will be a welcome sight not only to yourself when you look into the glass, but to everybody else who knows you and talks to you.

Stuart's Calcium Wafers are sold by all first class druggists at 50 cents a box. They are very pleasant to the taste and in results are truly remarkable.

How to Avoid Those Pains and Distress Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered.

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. Here is a remedy that softens the muscles, enables them to expand without any strain upon the ligaments and enables women to go through the ordeal without pain, nausea, morning sickness or any of the dreaded symptoms so familiar to many mothers.

There is no foolish diet to harass the mind. The thoughts do not dwell upon pain and suffering, for all such are avoided. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are inevitable when they know better. For in Mother's Friend they have found how easy it is with this wonderful penetrating remedy to banish all those dreaded experiences which have been talked about ever since memory began.

It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even though she will not require such a remedy, she will now and then most sensibly prove the need of it. Write to-day to the Bradfield Dispensary, 127 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most valuable book to expectant mothers.

NEW OFFICERS CHOSEN AT ANNUAL MEETING OF DULUTH LODGE OF ELKS

E. J. FILIAUTRAULT, Exalted Ruler.

NEIL B. MORRISON,
Leading Knight.

GEORGE V. HEATHCOTE, Secretary.

The Duluth lodge of Elks, No. 133, held its annual election of officers at the club rooms on West First street last night at one of the largest meetings of the year.

E. J. Filiault was chosen exalted ruler to succeed Frank L. Young, the retiring presiding officer. During the past year Mr. Filiault served as leading knight. Not only has the newly-elected head of local Elksdom been through the chairs but he has been one of the most enthusiastic members of the ancient tribe at the Head of the Lakes.

Neil B. Morrison was advanced from the chair of loyal knight to that of leading knight. John E. Samuelson was chosen loyal knight, having served as lecturing knight since the last annual meeting.

William S. McCormick, grand exalted ruler of the national lodge and one of the most prominent members of 23, was escorted to the platform by Esquire Frank Wegman and made the principal remarks of the evening. The grand exalted ruler has a wide reputation as "some speaker" and last evening he extemporaneously delivered one of the brightest talks that it has been the pleasure of local Elks to hear.

The meeting last night was attended by several hundred members. A specially appointed committee had arranged a musical program and a tasty buffet luncheon. At the close of the business meeting a social session was inaugurated which lasted until midnight.

It was announced at the meeting last evening that Frank L. Young, exalted ruler for the last year, will remove from Duluth next month. He will take up his residence in Florida. Nevertheless the members were unanimous in choosing Mr. Young as their representative at the grand lodge, which will hold its annual convention at Rochester, N. Y., the week of July 7. Plans are already under way for a large delegation of local Elks to attend the "big doings" at Rochester.

The next dance will be given the evening of March 26 and will be limited to members and their families.

GREEK ARMY CAPTURES FORTRESS OF JANINA

plete silence at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

The Greeks pushed their forward movement of the afternoon and occupied the Turkish batteries on the Sakni and Elia hills, capturing all guns and 110 artillerymen. Then the Greek battalions gradually deployed upon the plain in front of the city itself.

Flight Becomes General.
The Turkish flight immediately became general, despite all efforts of the Ottoman officers to rally their men. Whole detachments succumbed to panic and joined in a mad race into the city. The Greek troops followed in hot pursuit almost to the walls.

With all the defending batteries in the hands of the Greeks and the Hellenic soldiers at the gates of Janina, the Turkish commander at 6 o'clock this morning sent messengers under a flag of truce to Crown Prince Constantine of Greece announcing the surrender of the city and all the troops under his command.

Fall of Janina Announced.
The fall of Janina was announced by the crown prince to the Greek war office in the following dispatch, 6 a. m. The Greek army have occupied the city from the front of the city of Janina and also Bisari and Castiliza having been surrounded by our troops. Esmond Pasha has just informed me that his troops surrender as prisoners of war.

Wild enthusiasm reigned in the streets of the city on the announcement of the news. All houses were decorated with flags. The excited people thronged the thoroughfares singing the Greek national anthem while joyous peals rang out from every church steeple in the capital.

Great Rejoicing.
London, March 6.—There was great rejoicing in this city over the important Turkish stronghold of Janina, which hitherto had offered stout resistance to the Greek attack. The success of their army places Greece in a much stronger position to deal with Bulgaria when the time comes for the division of the spoils of war.

"STAG" PARTY HELD BY CLAN STEWART

Last night was the occasion for a "stag" party at the clan Stewart in the city hall, corner of Fourth street and First street, and it was attended by a large number of the members of the clan who have enjoyed in a long time.

A program of exceptional excellence was given, even though most of it was of an impromptu nature. A paper on the derivation of Scottish names, which was very interesting and gave Mr. Thomson an opportunity to twist members present on the meaning of their names.

A black and white photograph showing a landscape. In the foreground, there is a fence with several vertical posts. Beyond the fence, there is a body of water, possibly a lake or a wide river, which stretches across the middle ground. The background is a hazy, light-colored sky or distant land. The overall tone is somber and reflective.

PUBLIC SERVICE WISDOM.

Some thoroughly wholesome advice is given to public service corporations by the Electric Railway Journal agent the street car situation in Washington—some advice that applies not only to the Washington service, but to every corporation in the country that is concerned in supplying public needs in any form. And the advice is all the more forceful from the fact that the publication that gives it is not conducted in the interests of the public, but strictly and absolutely in those of corporations that operate public utilities.

The Washington dispute arose over the refusal of the transit company to comply with a law requiring exchange of transfers between unallied lines.
The public has demanded such an exchange, and a law has been enacted requiring it. The company is fighting the law through "a fear that it may be construed as establishing a precedent that would menace adequate revenues for the railways."

"Refusal to obey until it is adjudicated a law conferring privileges valued by the public and not in themselves burdensome upon the railways is not a good way to secure justice and good will from public opinion," says the Journal, and it might have added truthfully that that is in fact the surest way to lose justice and good will from public opinion. The Journal further says:

That good feeling between utility companies and the public can be brought about and maintained only by the honesty, fairness, and public efficiency of these companies is plain to all. Frequently injustice is done to the public service corporation even when it is not at fault; frequently the sins of the fathers are visited upon descendants who are not only free from blame but who are free from the effort to reform the faults and mistakes of the past. But how can this condition be remedied? How can confidence gained if fresh cause is given for legitimate complaint and new tests are provided for the anti-corruption sermons of reasonable citizens as well as unreasonable critics?

The Journal's advice is addressed primarily to the Washington transportation companies, but it is applicable to every public service company in the country. Managers will do well to heed its warning and follow its advice.

The secretary to the president is to receive a salary of $7,500. And if he succeeds in handling the publicity and anti-publicity matters of the new administration as well as his chief has done, you can bet he'll earn it.

SOMETHING TO AVOID.

President Wilson's administration will have plenty to accomplish, but there are some things that it must avoid if this country is to keep the respect of its own people and of the world at large. And that is the appearance of being too strongly influenced by the selfish interests of large capital.

There have been instances in the past when the government at Washington was not above criticism of that sort, and one of the most prominent developed during the last administration, in the attitude of Washington toward the new Chinese republic.
To be sure the United States was not the only nation to fall under criticism.
England was equally accused. And as yet there has been nothing to indicate that the criticism of both was not well founded.

It all arose from the question, Why has not the republic of China been officially recognized? To be sure there are many things that must be taken into consideration before recognition is accorded to a new government. But principal of these is the existence of a de facto government.
With evidence that it is to continue.
In the case of China there seems to have been such a government for some months. Affairs in China have been developing steadily and peaceably. And yet there has been no recognition. Why?

Rumor says—and points to various incidents to justify its charge—that it is because China has refused to make terms for loans that are satisfactory to American banking interests; that recognition by the United States has been made dependent on the acceptance by Pekin of terms not actually acceptable there, but laid down by Anglo-Saxon bankers. If this charge is true, the governments that are withholding recognition for any such reason as that are perpetrating a great injustice. They are extending the power of finance far beyond its legiti-mate province, and making nationally a commodity in the market instead of an inherent right to be accorded to such governments as can prove themselves worthy of it.

If American recognition of the Chinese republic has been withheld for any such reason, recognition should be accorded at once and a stigma of shame removed from the name of our nation. And if recognition is withheld for some other reason, that reason should be made public, that the world may understand that the United States is not demanding that any nation part with its financial liberty to obtain something to which it is justly entitled.

mittee says that the power of the Harvester trust is due to its power, or words to that effect. Astounding.

KEEP THE BUDGET PLAN ALIVE.

Though the submission of the Taft budget plan to congress came too late to make action or even consideration possible by the body then in office, the principles involved in the president's message on the budget are not confined to that one administration, but apply to our continuous national life. Perhaps it was more a gain than a loss that the message on the budget should come at the time when it did, since it got favorable emphasis from the fact that it was contemporaneous with the passage by congress of the monster supply bills whose faults it pointed out.

President Wilson's administration will do well to take up the budget plan with a view to accomplishing the reforms suggested. The plan as outlined by President Taft may not be perfect. There may be some points that can be improved upon in working out an application of the system. But that the general principle is good, and that a reform of that character is needed, there can be no question.

Uncle Sam's finances have been run in haphazard fashion too long already.
It is time to change, and the Wilson administration will have accomplished much for the nation if it can bring about the needed reformation.

Speaking of income taxes, in Peru all incomes are taxed that amount to or exceed $146 a year, and the tax is 5 per cent. Oh you Peru!

TEN-JUROR VERDICTS.

Nothing could emphasize more strongly the present discontent with the operation of our jury system than the passage through both the house and senate at St. Paul of a bill providing that ten men out of a jury of twelve may return a final verdict in civil cases. The house bill was amended in the senate, and so will have to go to conference in case the house declines to accept the amendments, but the passage of any bill of that character is in itself recognition of the wideness of the demand for some sort of a change.

The reduction of the number necessary to determine civil cases ought to prove a strong move in favor of more expedition in jury cases, and also should operate in the interests of justice. It has been possible heretofore for one party to a suit to exert influence over one member of the jury and thereby bring about a mistrial of the case, even though all the jurors were convinced that a verdict convinced that to that party should be given.
With the ten-jury system in operation such a thwarting of justice would be more nearly impossible. And really, there is no good reason why ten men should not be as competent to decide a property right as twelve.

Probably it is just as well to specify that the jury must deliberate for a given length of time before a ten-juror verdict shall be returned. We have become so accustomed to the unanimous verdict idea that to break away from it altogether would be certain to cause distrust and dissatisfaction. But, even with the time clause in the statute, the theory of the ten-jury verdict would be given full play, and it is not unreasonable to believe that it will result satisfactorily.

A. J. L. Toole Joke.

Westminster Gazette: The late august Van Blene had a liking for practical jokes, and it was perhaps only poetic justice that he came into the orbit of that prince of practical jokers, J. L. Toole. The actor had apparently conceived an extraordinary craze for distributing safety razors broadcast among his friends, and, meeting the "cellist, promptly begged his acceptance of one. Van Blene acknowledged the gift with thanks, but when he met him was poor testimony to the "safety" of the razor. Toole gravely asked to see the razor. "Dear me," he then said. "And you actually tried to send to send you the blades!"

Insuring an Audience.

London Globe: Billie Blinn, at Manheta, was the scene recently of the production of a play, written, staged and acted by prisoners in a theater specially built by prisoners and before an audience composed of prisoners. This is one way of making sure of an audience.

favorite illustrated paper?" asked the Cheerful idiot. "The ten-dollar bill," replied the Boob.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of this Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their views upon topics of general interest, but discussions should not exceed 200 words—less shorter the better. They may be written on one side of the paper, and may not be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

AN APPRECIATION OF B. SILBERSTEIN.

To the Editor of The Herald:

As a former citizen, and one who is still deeply interested in everything pertaining to what I believe to be for the city's best interests, will you kindly permit me to speak a word of commendation for a gentleman who is allowing his name to be used in connection with the office of mayor under the provisions of your new home rule charter, lately adopted? He is a gentleman with whom I was closely associated for nearly twenty years in the work and management of the park department, and who was never found wanting any emergency.

When it came to the performance of his duties as a park commissioner, and vice president of the board of parks, he proved himself a man of great ability and of high character. He was ready and willing at all times to have his own private business assisted in promoting that of the city, all without compensation or reward, except such as was given to him as a public spirited citizen working for the common good, and to further emphasize the manner of man that he was, will say that in the early days, when the city park fund would be sometimes depleted, he would go good to the bank and borrow the money to meet the payroll in order to keep the work of the department going until such time as the regular funds would be replenished from regular sources.

In November, 1901, the property that is now known as Fairmont park, was sold to the city for a very low price, $4,000 for forty acres, and the deal had to be closed. Dr. Burns, who was then in charge of the park, had Silberstein and myself inspected the ground on the afternoon of Thanksgiving, and the site was picked out in favor of the park.

He was a man of great ability and high character. He was ready and willing at all times to have his own private business assisted in promoting that of the city, all without compensation or reward, except such as was given to him as a public spirited citizen working for the common good, and to further emphasize the manner of man that he was, will say that in the early days, when the city park fund would be sometimes depleted, he would go good to the bank and borrow the money to meet the payroll in order to keep the work of the department going until such time as the regular funds would be replenished from regular sources.

missioners, and Superintendent of Parks,

The Doctor's Advice

by Dr. Lewis Baker

"Elizabeth" writes: "Kindly publish again the prescription for stomach disorders and constipation. I have misplaced the letter giving the ingredients."

Answer: Go to your drugstore and ask for tablets triopline and take according to directions and you will soon be entirely cured of all stomach trouble and constipation. This is the best treatment known for all kinds of stomach trouble.

"Anna" says: "I am nervous, hysterical and very thin due to overwork. What can I take to regain my original vitality?"

Answer: You will gradually regain your original strength by using syrup of hypophosphites comp. 5 ozs., tincture cadomene comp. 1 oz. Mix and take a teaspoonful before meals. This is the best system tonic that I know of.

Mrs. P. R. asks: "I am troubled with a large goitre and am very fleshy. So much so that I am uncomfortable. What do you advise me to do?"

Answer: Five-grain arbolene tablets should be taken regularly. If this is done your goitre and abnormal fat will gradually be reduced. These tablets are sold in sealed tubes, with full directions for home use.

"Edna T." writes: "I wish you would recommend a remedy for kidney and liver trouble. I have dark spots before my eyes, dizzy spells and also twinges of rheumatism."

Answer: I have received many letters from people who have used the following remedy and been cured of all trouble such as you mention. Get three grain sulphur tablets (not sulphur tablets), and take according to directions given. They are sold at any well-stocked drug store and are thoroughly reliable.

"Louise" writes: "Get the following prescription filled and give 10 to 15 drops in water before meals to cure your little boy of bedwetting. Oregan, fluid balsam, 1 oz.; tincture rhubarb, 2 drams; tincture cubeb, 1 dram. This should be given one hour before meals."

"Helen" writes: "My nostrils and throat are badly affected with catarrh and my breath is very offensive. I suffer a great deal with headache and pain in my eyes. Can anything be done to help me?"

Answer: Antiseptic Vaseline powder has been prescribed with great success and the number of letters received daily from the hundreds of grateful people who have been cured of catarrh would indicate its curative value. Get from the drugstore a two ounce original package of Vaseline powder, mix a level teaspoonful with an ounce of vaseline or lard and apply well up in the nostrils twice a day. Also use the following in connection with the above to thoroughly cleanse the nostrils: Use one-half teaspoonful of the Vaseline powder to a pint of warm water, sniff the water through the nostrils several times a day and your catarrh should soon be cured. To prevent a return this should be used occasionally.

"Tom M." writes: "I am only twenty years old but my hair is falling out very rapidly. My scalp is covered with dandruff. What can I get to cure it?"

Answer: To cure dandruff and stop falling hair use plain yellow mixing. This you can get at any well-stocked drug store in 4 oz. jars, and it will cure any scalp disease and prevent premature baldness. Many people have reported a cure by using two or three applications.

"J. W." writes: "I should be the happiest woman in the world if I could find a true remedy to help me gain flesh. I have regular features but I am so thin that I am hungry. Can you give me a prescription?"

Answer: I receive daily so many gratifying letters from users of three grain hypo-nucleic tablets. These little tablets can be bought at any up-to-date drug store in sealed packages. Full directions are given. I advise that you begin taking them at once and continue their use for several months and you will gain flesh. Many people report that a two months' treatment will increase their weight from 15 to 30 pounds. Hypo-nucleic tablets will also improve your complexion, giving you rosy cheeks and lips and an increased sparkle to the eyes.

"American Girl" writes: "For some years I have been troubled with rheumatism. I have tried almost every 'cure' but they did not help me."

Answer: The best known prescription for the cure of rheumatism is: iodide of potassium, 4 drams; sodium iodide, 4 drams; tincture of cod liver oil, 4 oz.; comp. essence cod liver oil, 1 oz.; comp. fluid balsam, 1/2 oz.; and syrup of marshmallows, 5 ozs. Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take a teaspoonful at meal time and at bed time, and you will not only be relieved, but cured, if you continue its use for a short time.

"Frank S." writes: "I would like to have a cure for my cough and cold which is becoming very annoying."

Answer: The best remedy that I know of for cough and cold is made by mixing a 2 1/2 oz. bottle of concentrated essence mentho-insene, with a home-made sugar syrup. You will find full directions on the bottle how to make and use. This will make a full pint of the finest and cheapest cough medicine obtainable.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

Activities of Other Municipalities, Which Might or Might Not Be Copied in Duluth.

NICE, warm room, with plenty of ventilation, equipped with sanitary mattresses, in the new police station building in America, is provided for the reception of homeless men during the winter months by Fire and Police Commissioner Uley of Memphis, Tenn. Every big city police station has its "bun room," but the standard has been raised in Memphis, and an example has been set for other progressive cities to follow.

The room which has been fitted up in the Duluth police station for unfortunate men who seek shelter there all that winter is desired. It is well ventilated and equipped with modern washing facilities. It is a vast improvement over the old system of turning the lodgers in with the prisoners of the bull pen. The new room will be available for use within the next week or two, or as soon as the remodeling of the bull pen has been completed.

GROWS BEAUTIFUL, HEAVY HAIR, WE PROVE IT--25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Destroys Dandruff—Stops Falling Hair—Cleans and Invigorates Your Scalp—Delightful Dressing.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine. It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance; freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable lustre and soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.

will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing out all over your scalp. Danderine is, we believe, the only hair grower; destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and never fails to stop falling hair at once. If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, notice a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.

RASH ON WRISTS AND ARMS BURNED

Pimples Broke Out all Over Face, Itched Terribly, Would Scratch and Scratch. Could Not Sleep. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In Two Weeks Would Never Know Had Had Pimples.

R. F. D. No. 1, Marquette, Neb.—"The trouble I had began with pimples breaking out all over my face and they would itch terribly. The pimples would break out and swell up. I would scratch and scratch and I always had big sores on my face. I had a peculiar rash on my wrists and arms which burned so that I could not sleep. My clothing would stick on the eruption and when I would take my clothes off they pulled the skin with them and made it bleed. I used several kinds of salves and tried several remedies but nothing helped until I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The first application gave instant relief. The sores all dried up and in two weeks I would never know I had pimples on my face. I have not been bothered with them since." (Signed) Miss Nina Miller, May 14, 1912.

proponents of the distance tariff plan, while Minnesota has grown up under conditions vastly different.

In view of the probability that unless sentiment in the house changes materially in the next few days, the state will presently be subjected to a trial of the distance tariff idea.

Minnesota will have to be prepared to defend its interests, and to prepare itself for those effects which it may have to bear.

Providing, of course, the bill stands the test of the courts, a test which it is certain to be subjected to.

The senate bill will reach the house tomorrow, and it is probable that it will be substituted for the house distance tariff bill, which is now in several orders.

The debate yesterday afternoon lasted more than four hours. Senator Cushman, the author of the bill, spoke for almost half the time, and the speeches for the bill were also made by Senators Julius A. Collier of Idaho and Leonard J. Saunders of Idaho.

Opposing speeches were made by Senators W. S. Dwinell and J. E. Paul of Minnesota, and J. Rockne of Minnesota, and J. D. Denegre of Idaho.

The fight for the distance tariff principle was begun in the session of 1907 by Senator Thomas B. Cushman of Iowa, and it has been continued by him ever since.

He has been steadily and persistently pushing the bill through the house, and he has been successful in getting it passed in the last session.

The vote on the bill yesterday afternoon was as follows: For the distance tariff bill—Ahmanson, Anderson, Bedford, Benson, Clark, Cushman, Dwyer, Egan, Gurnea, Harbo, L. O. Donaldson, Duce, Duxbury, Gurnea, Hanson, Johnson, Lende, Mendenhall, Peterson, Roderick, Putnam, Rustad, Sagoe, Sangstad, Scholten, Stebbins, Thoe, Cheadle, Clague, Denegre, Dunn, Dwinell, Elwell, Johnson, V. L. Klein, L. Herault, McGrath, Paul, Pugh, Rockne, Sullivan, Swanson, Van Haven, Wallace, Wilson, Workman—25.

Against the bill—Buckley, Handman. Absent—Klein, L. Herault, McGrath, Paul, Pugh, Rockne, Sullivan, Swanson, Van Haven, Wallace, Wilson, Workman—25.

Killed No Limit Bill. The house yesterday afternoon killed the proposed constitutional amendment which was introduced by Representative Cushman of Iowa, and which would have removed the limit on the length of ninety-day sessions.

The amendment was introduced by Representative Cushman of Iowa, and it was defeated by a vote of 131 to 119.

AMERICANS HAVE BEEN RESCUED

Report That Borge and Taylor Are Safe Has Been Confirmed.

Official advice received at Caracas, Venezuela, yesterday confirm the report that Guy N. Borge of this city, who, with Leslie Taylor of Duluth, was captured by wild Mittones Indians, are now safe.

The young men are mining engineers who were making exploration in the vicinity of Lake Maracabito for petroleum.

For a time, considerable anxiety was felt here for their safety. Tuesday unofficial reports had it that they had been rescued. This rumor has since been confirmed by official advice.

Zero Temperatures Make Buttoling Voters Unpleasant Work.

The cold weather has put a damper on the exuberance of the candidates and they are getting around with persistence, though without enthusiasm.

It is hard work buttonholing voters and they are getting around with persistence, though without enthusiasm.

Placards are appearing in greater numbers and thousands of campaign cards are being distributed.

Most of the candidates are depending on personal work, though there are indications that many meetings will be held to attract the voters before the campaign is over.

Next Tuesday is the first registration day and efforts will be made to get a large percentage of the qualified voters to the polls.

"I've been selling Studebaker Wagons and Buggies for over 30 years."

"I've sold them because my reputation as a dealer was at stake and from experience I have found that Studebaker means the best."

That tells the story. Farmers bought Studebaker wagons before the Civil war and they have been buying them ever since.

Because they had confidence in the name Studebaker and in the sturdy dependable wagons and buggies they build.

And that confidence has been upheld. Studebaker wagons are built on honor and the Studebaker guarantee goes with every one. There's a Studebaker for your needs—whether you live in city, town or country.

Farm Wagons, Business Wagons, Trucks, Runabouts, Contractors' Wagons, Delivery Carts, and many more.

—And Studebaker harness also—as well and carefully made as Studebaker vehicles.

LUMBER DEAL MEANS MUCH FOR PEQUAMING.

Pequaming, Mich., March 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—By a deal closed with J. H. Rice, president of the Houghton National bank of Houghton, the lumber manufacturing firm of Charles H. Rice & Sons of Philadelphia, Pa., has obtained a large additional supply of standing timber, and the town of Pequaming has added to its industrial life fully a decade. Mr. Rice has sold to the Houghton company nearly 7,000 acres in towns 50-53 and 51-53, Baraga county, estimated to contain 100,000,000 feet of lumber. All of this will be sawed here.

For a time, considerable anxiety was felt here for their safety. Tuesday unofficial reports had it that they had been rescued. This rumor has since been confirmed by official advice.

COLD WEATHER DAMPENS ARDOR

Zero Temperatures Make Buttoling Voters Unpleasant Work.

The cold weather has put a damper on the exuberance of the candidates and they are getting around with persistence, though without enthusiasm.

It is hard work buttonholing voters and they are getting around with persistence, though without enthusiasm.

Placards are appearing in greater numbers and thousands of campaign cards are being distributed.

Most of the candidates are depending on personal work, though there are indications that many meetings will be held to attract the voters before the campaign is over.

Next Tuesday is the first registration day and efforts will be made to get a large percentage of the qualified voters to the polls.

The second registration day will be held on Tuesday, March 12.

TARIFF ONLY IS APPROVED BY PRESIDENT

Agrees That It Alone Should Be Considered at Special Session.

Concurs With House Leaders and Will So Recommend to Congress.

Ways and Means Committee Begins Real Work on the Tariff.

Washington, March 7.—President Wilson's present purpose, it was learned today, is to accept the proposal of the house leaders and recommend that the tariff alone be acted upon at the extra session of congress.

Tariff Work Begins.

Washington, March 7.—With the house ways and means committee meeting to organize the real tariff work of the sixty-third congress began today. With only three new members on the Democratic side of the committee, it seemed practically certain that the tariff measures framed under the supervision of Majority Leader Underwood during the last session would be accepted by the new committee and laid before the caucus before the extra session begins April 1.

In addition to its tariff work, the committee is confronted by the problem of reorganizing the entire Democratic side of the house through its functions as committee on committees. The committee appointed some lively contests, and the leaders are inclined to defer action on them as long as possible. Representative Underwood and his associates are of the opinion that Democrats should get down to work on the tariff, and let all other questions (Continued on page 11, first column.)

POPULAR LEADER TURNS TO HUERTA

Rafael Tapia, Who Espoused Madero's Cause, Surrenders.

Mexico City, March 7.—Rafael Tapia, an officer of the rural guards, who took the field against Huerta after the death of Madero, surrendered to the government authorities today. The surrender took place at Guadalupe Hidalgo, where the treaty of peace between Mexico and the United States was concluded. Tapia formerly was chief of rural guards in the state of Coahuila. His decision to surrender is regarded as a great gain for the government, because of his popularity in the southern states. It was feared he would be able to muster a formidable body of men.

News reached here today that a majority of the members of the legislature of Coahuila have signed a proclamation favoring the rebel cause, and entreating the citizens of the state to join in opposition to Huerta. Carranza received the news as a contribution to the revolutionary camp from the state of Coahuila.

Manuel Mascareñas of the state of Sonora, who is a candidate for the governorship, arrived here last night and expressed great optimism in regard to the plans of the government to put down the uprising there.

TWIN HOLD-UP MEN ARE UNSUCCESSFUL.

Chicago, March 7.—Twin hold-up men who were dressed and looked so much alike that their intended victims were unable to tell them apart, made an unsuccessful attempt to rob a saloon on the West side today.

The men appeared to be about 22 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall and each wore a gray overcoat, gray cap and tan shoes.

LOFTUS FIRM IS HIT HARD

Grave Charges Made By Representatives of a Farmers' Elevator.

Testimony Arouses the Ire of Loftus and His Attorneys.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

St. Paul, Minn., March 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred Schmidt and H. G. Bundy, manager and treasurer respectively of the farmers' elevator at Voltaire, N. D., gave testimony before the senate grain investigation committee yesterday afternoon regarding their dealings with the Equity Co-operative Grain exchange of Minneapolis that involved charges of a grave character. Both testified that they had come to Minneapolis to get a settlement with the Equity concern on grain handled some time ago, and that they had no idea whatever when they came here of being called as witnesses.

Fred Schmidt testified that at the direction of the directors of his elevator he began shipping grain to the Equity concern Nov. 1, 1912, when twenty-one cars were shipped from Voltaire to be sold and arranged for.

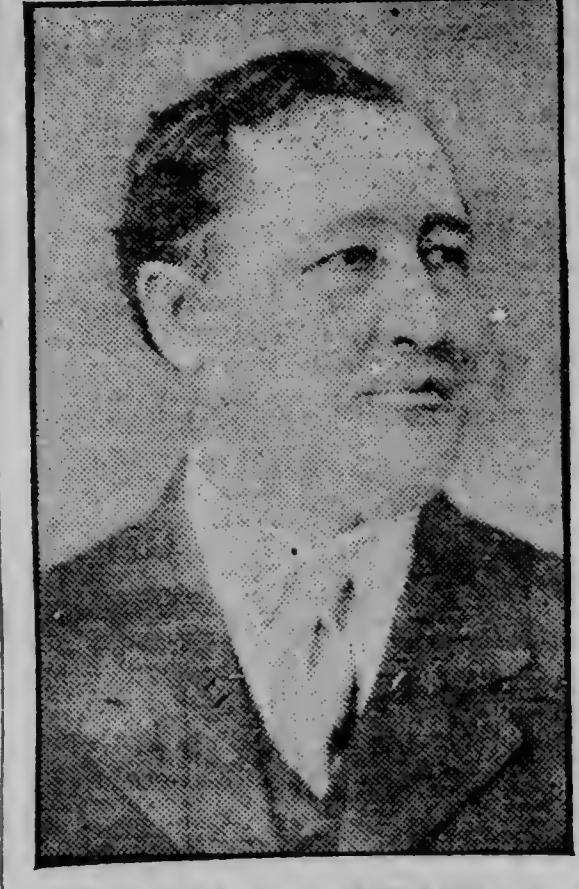

Beginning Dec. 13, they shipped ten (Continued on page 7, second column.)

House Committee Would Prohibit Dancing in School Buildings.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

St. Paul, Minn., March 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because of the inability of the first and third congressional districts to agree on the disposition of the reapportionment bill, the senate committee on reapportionment was unable to take action yesterday afternoon.

An adjournment was taken to Wednesday afternoon to give the two districts a further opportunity to decide where to put the extra senators, and it was unanimously agreed by the committee that it will ask to make the bill a special order for next Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

On motion of Senator J. D. Sullivan, the committee added another house member to the Morrison-Crow Wing county district, so that it will have one (Continued on page 6, fourth column.)

SUFFRAGETTES WIN IN HUNGARY

Parliament Adopts Reform Bill Enfranchising Many Women.

Budapest, Hungary, March 7.—The woman's suffrage cause won a notable victory here today when the lower house of the Hungarian parliament adopted the government's suffrage reform bill by which a large number of women are enfranchised.

The Hungarian capital was crowded with troops during the debate, in consequence of threats by the Socialists to begin a general strike throughout the country. This was to be a protest against the government's attitude unfavorable to complete universal suffrage. No disturbances occurred during the early part of the day.

On several occasions during the past year riotous scenes have occurred in the lower house, culminating several times in free fights. On Sept. 17, police were called into the chamber to expel the opposition led by Count Apponyi and Count Zichy. A desperate struggle ensued before they were finally ejected.

On Oct. 30 further riots occurred when the opposition led by Apponyi and Count Zichy, unsuccessfully attempted to force their way through a military guard surrounding the parliament.

Count Tisza, the speaker of the lower house, is the special object of the hatred of the opposition owing to his strong objection to universal suffrage. On June 7 last Deputy Joly Kovacs attempted to assassinate him while he occupied the chair.

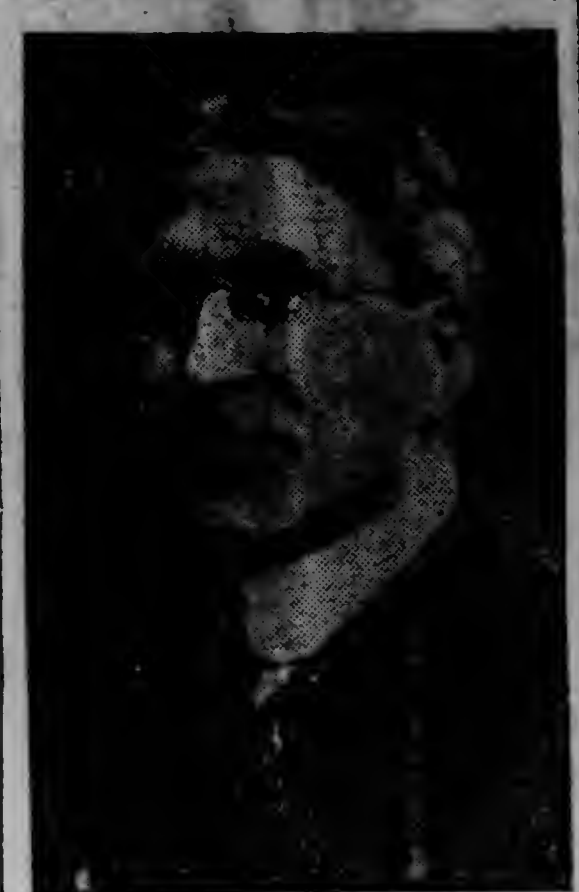

SENATOR CLARKE TO BE PRESIDENT PRO TEM.

Washington, March 7.—Democrats of the senate today chose Senator James P. Clarke of Arkansas for president pro tempore of the senate over Senator Augustus O. Bacon of Georgia, by a vote of 27 to 14. The outcome was a great surprise, as it was considered Senator Bacon would be elected. The caucus choice is equivalent to an election in the senate.

Governor Mann having refused to commute the sentence to life imprisonment. The prisoners were to have died today, but the governor granted a respite of three weeks and this had been accepted by the Al lens as an indication that the government would extend mercy.

Miss Nellie Water, a mountain girl, to whom Claude was engaged, made an unsuccessful effort to see Governor Mann with a final plea for commutation.

FIFTY THOUSAND GIRLS IN CHICAGO EMPLOYED AT $5.00 OR LESS PER WEEK

Statement Made By Lieut. Governor O'Hara of Illinois at Hearing.

Leading Merchants of Chicago Called Before Vice Commission.

One Concern Employs 4,732 Girls at Average of $9.12 Weekly.

Chicago, March 7.—Leading merchants of Chicago were called before the state senate's vice commission today in an endeavor to ascertain the relations of low wages paid to women to the vice of the underworld. It is asserted by Lieutenant Governor Barrett O'Hara that in Chicago alone 50,000 women are employed at a wage of $5 a week or less.

Julius Rosenwald, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., referring repeatedly to notes, testified that that company employs 4,732 women and girls whose average wage is $9.12 a week. The lowest salary of $3 is given to girls of 16 years of age, the witness stated. After three months they are advanced to $5.50.

The company hires only girls who live at home. The concern employs 1,465 girls and women who receive less than $5 a week.

Greatly Interested.

Mr. Rosenwald, a broad-shouldered, quietly clad man, peered intently through heavy lenses at his interrogator, the youthful lieutenant governor, evincing the greatest interest. From time to time he remarked: "Perhaps Mr. Miller can tell," and (Continued on page 11, third column.)

MEMBER OF "ARSON TRUST" CONVICTED

Jury Returns a Verdict Against Kahn After Long Deliberation.

South Bend, Ind., March 7.—Benjamin Kahn was found guilty of arson by a jury in the circuit court this morning. The jury had been out since last Wednesday afternoon.

Kahn was found guilty of setting fire to his establishment, the Farmers' Friend store in this city, last April. It was charged by the prosecutor that Benjamin E. Kahn, who was indicted with Kahn, and whose trial is set to begin Monday, was paid by Kahn to set fire to the store.

Kahn's conviction is the outgrowth of the investigation of the gigantic "arson trust," which is supposed to have operated over the Middle West for several years. Prosecutor Montgomery began his investigation which resulted in Kahn's conviction today more than a year ago and has been assisted by Chicago officers. Pink is alleged to have been one of the "torches" of the so-called "trust." Kahn will be sentenced Monday.

GERMAN CURE ADMINISTERED

Dr. Friedmann Gives Demonstration of Serum for Tuberculosis.

New York, March 7.—The first demonstration in America of Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann's treatment, which the visiting Berlin physician declares is a cure for tuberculosis, was given by Dr. Friedmann himself yesterday in the presence of physicians representing the city, the state, and the staffs of hospitals of several cities.

Three patients, two men and a woman, were selected by Dr. Friedmann from fifty tuberculosis sufferers, all hopeful that they would receive treatment. The woman has been ill three years. Hers is a chronic case of the disease at the knee and was the most serious of the three chosen. The two men have tuberculosis of the lungs. At present stage, according to the authorities of the People's hospital, the institution where the demonstration was held. Each of the men patients has been showing improvement and gaining weight since beginning several months ago, the best recognized tuberculosis treatment of the day, it was stated.

Physicians who were present brought forward a dozen persons suffering with the disease in all stages. The medical history of each was available for Dr. Friedmann's use. Statistics have been prepared at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. for his part in the dynamite conspiracy; James E. McElroy of Cleveland, Ohio, who has been acting secretary-treasurer, first vice president, and J. Morris, St. Louis, second vice president.

TO URGE MINIMUM WAGE SCALE LAW

States to Be Asked to Co-operate in Suppressing White Slavery.

Chicago, March 7.—Hoping to make the inquiry nation-wide in its scope with the possibility that other states, which have not already done so, will enact minimum wage scale laws for women workers and stringent legislation intended to stamp out trafficking in women, Lieutenant Governor Barrett O'Hara, chairman of the senate vice commission, has addressed letters to more than forty states asking co-operation on the part of executives and legislators.

The commission was to resume its hearings here today into the question of wages paid working women in Chicago, and the relation between the wages paid and the cost of living. The heads of all the large department stores and mail order houses have been summoned, besides a large number of young girls and women employed as salespeople and employees in other departments.

In order to ascertain conditions in the "underworld" of this city, nineteen witnesses from the prescribed districts of Chicago also have been subpoenaed to appear.

The commission is going to the bottom of this "white slave" business," said Lieutenant Governor O'Hara today. "We will get at the truth, no matter what it hurts. The people of Illinois are going to know against what fearful odds their daughters and sisters are struggling for existence in the hope that really remedial legislation may result."

EXPLOSION OF DYNAMITE KILLS SCORE

Three Hundred and Forty Tons of Explosive on Barge Let Go.

Dead Estimated at Twenty and the Injured at Forty.

Houses Damaged for Miles Around By Terrific Concussion.

Baltimore, Md., March 7.—The British steamer Alum Chine, loading dynamite for use on the Panama canal was wrecked by an explosion followed by fire this morning in the lower harbor off Hawkins Point. According to the police four men were killed and 25 injured on the steamer and more on nearby boats.

A barge lying alongside, containing 340 tons of dynamite being transferred to the Alum Chine, was completely destroyed and sank. It is believed the explosion occurred on the barge.

Three Killed on Collier.

The force of the explosion swept away the upper works of the United States naval collier Jason, killing three men and injuring twenty-nine others. The Jason was about 730 feet away at the time. She had just been completed by the Maryland Steel company and was soon to have had her government trial trip.

Six of the crew of the tug Atlantic lying alongside the Alum Chine were killed and the tug practically destroyed.

Dead, 20; Injured, 40.

The latest reports place the number of dead at 20 and the injured at 40. Of the latter ten of the Jason's people are said to be fatally hurt.

Forty stevedores are unaccounted for. If they were on the steamer it is considered certain they perished. The tremendous explosion shook the country for miles around. Windows were broken and chimneys knocked off houses a dozen or more miles from the scene of the disaster.

At Sparrow's Point a schoolhouse was partly destroyed and several children hurt.

Baltimore was shaken as if by an earthquake and tall buildings in the center of the city were rocked by the shock.

RYAN RE-ELECTED BY IRON WORKERS

Labor Leader, Convicted of Dynamite Conspiracy, Again President.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 7.—Frank M. Ryan of Chicago, one of the leaders convicted in the dynamite conspiracy trial here, was re-elected president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers at its session here yesterday.

The convention passed a resolution to raise $50,000 with which to care for families of the men convicted for conspiracy in the dynamite trials and voted to raise money to defend only convicted men in case a new trial is granted.

Other officers elected at the session, which was held behind closed doors, were Harry Jones, secretary-treasurer, succeeding Herbert S. Hockin, who now is serving six years in the Federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. for his part in the dynamite conspiracy; James E. McElroy of Cleveland, Ohio, who has been acting secretary-treasurer, first vice president, and J. Morris, St. Louis, second vice president.

CONFERENCES WITH LEADERS

President Wilson Puts in Busy Day With Consultations.

Cabinet Ready to Consider Appointments of Bureau Heads.

Washington, March 7.—President Wilson today began conferences with some of the leaders of his party in congress. He was in his office shortly after 9 o'clock. The cabinet, ready for another special session today, was prepared to consider appointments of bureau heads.

The first visitors today were Senators Culberson of Texas and Tillman of South Carolina. Former Governor of North Carolina came later and Chairman Fitzgerald of the house appropriations committee followed.

Late today President Wilson was to meet Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader.

While House officials announced today that the president had decided to hold regular cabinet meetings on Tuesdays and Fridays of each week as has been the custom for many years. Many special sessions, however, are likely to be called before April 1, when congress is to convene in extra session.

CLEANSE YOUR LIVER AND BOWELS WITH DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS"

Removes the Sour Bile, Gases and Clogged-up Waste Without Griping or Nausea. No Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Biliousness or Coated Tongue.

Foul breath, coated tongue, dull, throbbing headache, stomach sour and full of gases, indigestion, biliousness and a sallow complexion, mean that your thirty feet of bowels are clogged with waste matter; that these drainage organs of the body are obstructed; liver stagnant and stomach full of poisonous gases, sour bile and undigested, fermenting food not properly carried off.

Most of our ills are caused by constipated bowels. We all need a laxative sometimes; nobody can doubt that. The only question is, which one is the best? and that isn't a question any more. Syrup of Figs, being composed entirely of licorice, figs, senna and aromatics, must act in a harmless, gentle and natural way. Syrup of Figs can be constantly used without injury. Its action is the action of fruit—of eating coarse food—of taking exercise. It is a true and effective liver and bowel cleanser and regulator. Most folks dread physic—they shrink from the taste and after effects. Syrup of Figs is delicious, and, besides, you don't realize you have taken anything until morning, when all the clogged-up waste of the system is gently but thoroughly moved on and out of the bowels without griping or weakness. Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna." This is the old reliable and only genuine. Beware of cheap imitations. Syrup of Figs is recommended as good. They are imitations meant to deceive you. Read the label carefully and look for the name California Fig Syrup Company.

VASSAR GIRLS MAY NOT GO TO MOVIES.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., March 7.—The faculty of Vassar college has decided that the movies are not necessary to the higher education. The girls are posted in the halls and on the press boards, calling upon the students to aid in upholding the dignity of the college.

Vassar college students will aid the faculty in upholding the dignity of the institution by refraining from attending vaudeville and moving-picture exhibitions in Poughkeepsie for the remainder of the term. Infractions of the rule will not be tolerated.

BIRTH OF TRIPLETS ENDS NAME PLIGHT.

St. Louis, Mo., March 7.—Mrs. Thomas Burns celebrated the 131st anniversary of the birth of George Washington by presenting to her husband triplets.

The triplets—two boys and a girl—weigh 3½ pounds each. The mother, who is the mother of four other children, and is 28 years old, is proud of her Washington's birthday children, and aided in selecting names for them. The two boys rejoice in the names of Arlington and Edgewood, while the baby girl is to be christened Mary. There had been some discussion in the Burns family before the arrival of the triplets as to the name that should be applied. In the event it was a little girl, the question was easily settled. Mary, mother and father had agreed, is a grand old name. But in the event the father should bring a little boy, there was a disagreement. The father wanted the name of Edward Washington, while Mrs. Burns thought Arlington Washington would be better. When the triplets arrived, the matter was readily adjusted, as there were babies enough to utilize all the names favored.

Burns, in view of the fact that the birth of his boys occurred on the anniversary of the birth of the Father of his Country, would have liked to name one of them George Washington Burns, but this was impractical, as he had already bestowed that name on a son that arrived several years ago.

THE PEACE CENTENARY

Canada, England and the United States Preparing for Celebration.

Canadian Parliament Has Just Had Another Unique Experience.

Ottawa, Ont., March 7.—Everything is progressing to make great the observance of a century of peace in 1914. Not only in the United States and Canada, but in England, the leading citizens are all working enthusiastically and earnestly to make the arrangements complete. Among those in the old land none is more zealously at work in the cause than Lord Grey, who had but recently left Canada after a successful career as governor general. In this connection it is worthy of mention that the first Earl Grey was a general who fought against Gen. Washington. Gen. Grey commanded a brigade at Germantown in 1777 and captured New Bedford and Martha's Vineyard in 1778. At Germantown the first Earl Grey defeated the British. The fourth Earl Grey, that is, the former governor general of Canada, has made a proposal which is of importance at a time just after the celebration of Washington's birthday. What Earl Grey wants and works for is to see the English speaking people, including the United States, brought into the most friendly relations. To do this he thinks that one of the best ways of celebrating the 100th anniversary of peace on Dec. 24, 1914, will be to erect a monument to him in Westminster Abbey. It is suggested that the Washington statue erected beside that of Oliver Cromwell, as the acts of each have resulted in the adoption of principles of liberty.

The Washington Home. Earl Grey appealed to the British in a Mansion house speech for $300,000 to carry out the proposal for the purchase of Washington's ancestral home in England, and to found an education scheme for promoting Anglo-American friendship and good will. If the two nations adopt each other's heroes as heroes of our race, there will be little chance of any future ill will or misunderstandings between them.

At the old city of Quebec, where France made its last stand to retain Canada, there has been erected a monument for the two great generals who faced each other on the plains of Abraham. If English and French Quebec were able to set such a good example as this, surely the Anglo-Saxons ought to come together and carry out the excellent plan set forth by Earl Grey. The British admit that it was a blunder, on the part of the government then, in England, that caused the United States to Great Britain. The last reason left why there should be anything but a harmony and concord between the two peoples has, therefore, long ago disappeared. In Canada, there is a committee of the leading men, representing both sides of politics, who are carrying all the necessary arrangements to see that this country will be well and truly represented in the celebration of the hundred years' peace.

Miller's Good Time. The Canadian parliament has had an other unique experience during the last session. One has to go back years to find a precedent. And to look for this precedent one has to go to the mother of parliaments. Over a year ago a man named Miller was summoned before the public accounts committee to give evidence in connection with the price of certain goods he sold the government. There was nothing particularly wrong about the price because the goods were bought under contract. Miller's firm being the lowest tenderer. It, however, turned out that Miller had sold the goods at a price of $14,000 to get some $17,000 business from the government. The directors of the firm wanted to know who got the money and have an action against Miller. Miller did not turn up last year; he was not in the country when wanted. A warrant was issued for his arrest this year, so he came to the committee. Asked as to whom he gave the $41,000, he refused to say, as the case was in the civil courts. He, however, swore that none of it went to a member of parliament, a senator or a government official or anyone connected with the government. That did not satisfy the committee and he was summoned before the bar of the house.

Miller Obstinate. Generally this in the past has been sufficient to make all delinquents come to terms with the parliament authorities. The government is in power. Not so Mr. Miller. He went to the bar and having again refused to give up his money to the parliament, the committee took the sentence. The new lower is used for official purposes, and has any means of keeping it there, and the deputy sergeant-at-arms had to give up his quarters to the parliament. For a couple of days Mr. Miller was having a pleasant time in the library and enjoying his meals at the parliamentary restaurant. In the old days of monarchy the king's prisoners of the commons were hospitably entertained and had the right to have a dinner at the expense of the government. These old authorities were investigated and discussed. It was also discussed that the British house about the time referred to had sent those who had incurred its displeasure to Newgate. Miller was, therefore, again brought before parliament and this time sent to the county jail on remand—of course, he again refused to give the necessary information about the $41,000. He is still in the jail, getting his meals served from one of the hotels and lacking nothing in the way of comfort except his freedom.

As soon as he answers the questions put to him, he will be liberated, but if he still persists in his refusal, he will have to remain where he is until prorogation. Parliament cannot hold him after the house has prorogued.

There were only four instances of persons being summoned to the bar since confederation, but there were no commitments the last one before Miller was a newspaper man. In England the other day an editor was reported to the house by one of the committees for refusing to answer certain questions, but Premier Asquith dropped the matter, and nothing was done.

JAPANESE VESSELS VIA PANAMA CANAL.

Honolulu Star-Bulletin: Japanese shipping men are actively preparing for the new Panama canal route. The directors of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha are rushing construction of a new line by that company between Japan and New York, via Hongkong, Manila, Honolulu and Panama. It is expected that the new vessels will all be ready to go on the new run as soon as the canal is open. An official of the company, on route to the United States, stated at Honolulu that the new line will have six very large freight vessels, two of which have already been acquired in Europe, and each vessel will have accommodations for twenty or thirty passengers. Four of the vessels will be constructed in Japan. The opening of the Panama canal will considerably reduce the time between the Orient and New York. The trip to the western mouth of the canal should not consume more than thirty-five days, and the distance between the canal and New York can be covered in six days.

POETRY'S HIGHEST PRICE.

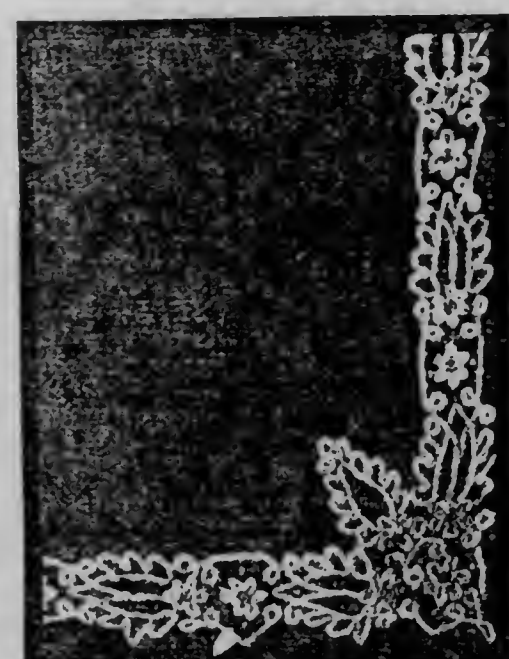

London Chronicle: The highest price ever paid for poetry was $1,875 a line. James Smith of "Redeemed Address" fame was the recipient. One evening at dinner he met Richard Strachan, the king's printer, who, although badly crippled with gout, conversed so brilliantly that Smith sent him the following tribute:

Your lower limbs seemed far from stout
Who said I saw you walk.
The cause I presently found out
When you began to talk.
The power that props the body's strength, I saw spread,
In your mounts upwards, and the
In your strength.
All settled in the head.

On receiving this, Strachan added cordially to his will, leaving the author $15,000 as a reward for his poem.

COUNCIL'S ACTS LEGAL

Supreme Court Sustains
Judge Dibell in Test
Case.

Old Body Permitted to Do Business Under New Charter.

Every act of the council since the first week in January in the way of taking the initiative in the matter of legislation has been rendered legal beyond dispute by the affirmation by the state supreme court yesterday of Judge Dibell's decision in a friendly restraining suit of a taxpayer of Duluth against the city. This suit was brought in order to determine the status of the city council in regard to taking the initiative in the new, or commission form of charter, went into effect last January. The suit was brought to restrain the city in three ways, namely:

First—From levying $100,000 worth of bonds for water and light improvements, authorized in an ordinance on Dec. 23, 1910, and approved by popular vote in February, 1911.

Second—From levying a $100,000 tax on the purchase of an automobile for the fire department.

Third—From awarding a contract for the purchase of an automobile for the fire department.

The case came up before Judge Homer B. Dibell in district court some time ago on a demurrer by the taxpayer. He sustained the complaint. Judge Dibell held:

"It is of no significance that the council is called 'the city council' under the new charter and 'council' under the old one, or that a different number compose it. It is still the legislative body of the city."

The case was appealed and yesterday the supreme court handed down a decision affirming the order of the lower court to dispense with the proceedings. This means that all acts of the present council from the time the new charter went into effect until the newly elected commissioners take office on April 14, are legal. Considering the fact that assessments amounting to over $100,000 have been confirmed and other matters of equal statutory importance have been decided, the decision is considered a most important one.

OIL FEVER RAGING IN PENNSYLVANIA

High Price of Crude Oil
Sends Prospectors
Out Again.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 7.—Demand for gasoline, coupled with the discovery that some of the oil wells in the northwestern section of Pennsylvania, are again producing in a small way, has sent speculators and prospectors into the oil fields in this state and produced feverish conditions. Men who own land in Venango, Warren, Butler, McKean, Bradford, Erie, and other counties in the petroleum district have either refused to sell or disposed of 40,000 barrels for $2.60 a barrel. The sale was the most successful in a region that has not many years ago made a barrel of oil now sells at $2.50 a barrel.

The highest price reached since April 15, 1905, when Michael Murphy, president of the Pure Oil company and a resident of Erie, Pa., sold a transaction that astonished the oil exchange. The sale was the most successful in a region that has not many years ago made a barrel of oil now sells at $2.50 a barrel.

Prospectors are roaming the hills, glens and valleys of Western and Northwestern Pennsylvania, buying land at prices that would have been deemed fabulous a year ago, sinking wells and tapping every place where they suspect a pocket of petroleum may be hidden. A well recently drilled on the B. L. Darnett farm, near Greentown, Butler county, is running fifteen barrels a day, which is considered a rich find at this time. Other new wells are producing smaller amounts, but are making very satisfactory profits.

Pumping machinery has been set many of these are showing a yield of a quarter barrel a day, but as from 20 to 30 and sometimes 50 wells are pumped by a central plant with the services of only two men, this production, although far below the average of a few years ago, is proving highly profitable.

As crude oil is a currency as good as gold, the owners of new and old wells in Pennsylvania have been enabled to do some financing that has brought quick and amazing profits. A large prospecting party in this city told of a prospector who operated some old wells, collected a considerable quantity of crude oil in his tanks, took out oil certificates, used them as collateral, and sold it in a short time and cleared $15,000 on a small original investment, while retaining his wells and plant.

PROPER STUDY OF WOMANKIND. Bookfellow (N. S. W.): That the race of husbands knows its wives may be doubted. That the race of wives knows its husbands is undoubted. The man goes flourishing forth on his path of many interests. The woman sits at home and broods over her single interest—the man. By dint of brooding, she absorbs, and accepts or rejects him. No man can hope to escape from the serious study of a woman, continued for sixteen hours a day. Every piece of evidence for her senses have observed is scrutinized, analyzed, classified, and a lump of sugar. The sugar is dissolved; the man is solved. Most men, it is true, are simple enough. But the most complex men become simple when subjected to the concentrated and continued scrutiny of brooding woman. They are cooked with the dinner; they are washed up with the crockery; they are stitched into the children's pinafores. From that prolonged dissection no man's anatomy can hide its secrets.

NO BUTTONS ON WAISTERS NOW. Indianapolis News: The king of Spain has ordered the buttons on the sleeves of servants who wait at his table cut off. This is because of an awkward happening at a dinner given by the king at the palace at Madrid to two eminent financiers. One of the guests wore a peruke. One of the waiters, as he was serving the financier, poked his peruke on a button of his sleeve and carried it away to the kitchen. Spanish etiquette is of too severe a character to permit laughter at such an incident. When the servant discovered what he had done he fled, carrying the peruke with him, and the financier left the palace bewildered and in a very bad humor.

COUNCIL'S ACTS LEGAL

Supreme Court Sustains
Judge Dibell in Test
Case.

Old Body Permitted to Do Business Under New Charter.

Every act of the council since the first week in January in the way of taking the initiative in the matter of legislation has been rendered legal beyond dispute by the affirmation by the state supreme court yesterday of Judge Dibell's decision in a friendly restrain-ing suit of a taxpayer of Duluth against the city. This suit was brought in order to determine the status of the city council in regard to taking the initiative after the new, or commission form of charter, went into effect last January. The suit was brought to restrain the city in three ways, namely:

First—From levying $100,000 worth of bonds for water and light improvements, authorized by an ordinance passed on March 18, 1910, and approved by popular vote in February, 1911.
Second—From extending the thirty-fifth avenue trunk sewer.
Third—From awarding a contract for the purchase of an automobile for the fire department.

The council was before Judge Homer B. Dibell in district court some time ago on a demurrer by city attorney furnished to the complaint.
Judge Dibell held:

"It is of no significance that the council is called 'the city council' under the new charter, and common consent under the old one, or that a different number compose it. It is still the legislative body of the city."
The case was appealed and yesterday the supreme court handed down a decision affirming the order of the lower court to dispense with the proceedings. This means that all acts of the present council from the time the new charter went into effect until the newly elected commissioners take office on April 14, are legal. Considering the fact that assessments amounting to over $100,000 have been confirmed and other matters of importance have been handled, the decision is considered a most important one.

OIL FEVER RAGING IN PENNSYLVANIA

High Price of Crude Oil
Sends Prospectors
Out Again.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 7.—Demand for gasoline, coupled with the discovery that some of the oil wells in the northwestern section of Pennsylvania are again producing in a small way, has sent prospectors and prospectors into the oil fields in this state and produced feverish conditions. Men who own land in Venango, Warren, Butler, Me-kan, Crawford, Forest and other counties in the petroleum district have either refused to sell or demand high prices for their land. The result is that prospectors are again being made in a region that not many years ago made oil a very profitable industry.

Crude oil now sells at $2.50 a barrel.
The highest price it has reached since April 18, 1905, when Michael Murphy, president of the Pure Oil company, was killed at the oil exchange. The sale was at the time a transaction of $100,000, and the price of the oil was
$1.00 a barrel.

Producers in this city say the price is almost certain to advance unless the higher price is reached since April 18, 1905, when Michael Murphy, president of the Pure Oil company, was killed at the oil exchange. The sale was at the time a transaction of $100,000, and the price of the oil was
$1.00 a barrel.

ORE SHIPPING TO BEGIN SOON

Open Pit Mines Will Begin Operations About April 15.

Ore From Stockpiles May Be Forwarded By April 1.

Operations in the open pit mines of the Oliver Mining company will begin about April 15, and in a very short time preparations to that end will be started.

It is also announced from the headquarters of the company that shipping will likely begin about two weeks before the opening of navigation. There are plenty of stockpiles on the ranges, for the company has been working nineteen underground mines on the Mesaba range and two on the Vermilion, so stockpiling has been going on pretty briskly during the winter months. Per month the output on the Mesaba range has been in the neighborhood of 50,000 to 60,000 tons, and on the Vermilion about 30,000 to 40,000 tons. The mines that have been producing all winter are as follows:

Mesaba range—Burt, Dale, Harold, Mace, Mississippi, Uno, Winnifred, Clark, Chisholm, Leonard, Munroe, Toner, Mayors, Adams, Spruce, Fayal, Genoa and Sauter-Alpena.

Vermilion range—Savoy, Sibley, Zenith and Soudan.

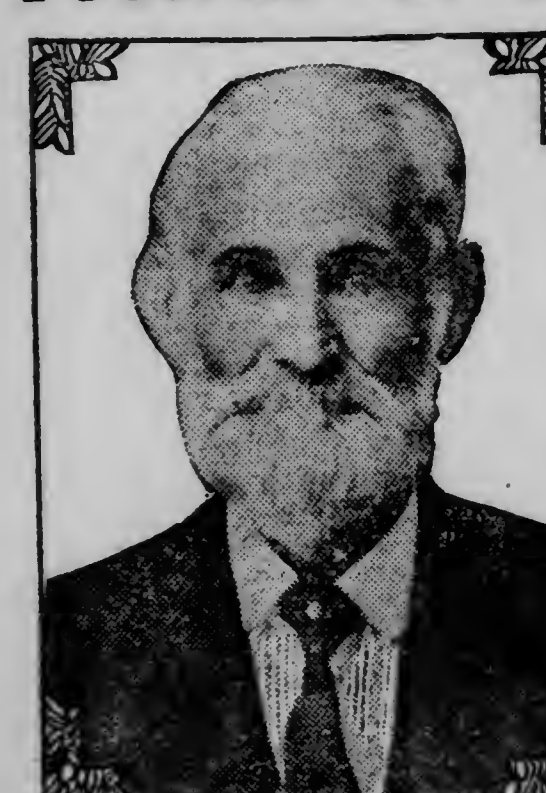

About 7,500 men have been employed during the winter and with the beginning of operations in the open pit propositions many more will be added to the list.

It is predicted that about 37,000,000 tons will be shipped from the head of the Lakes during the coming ore shipping season and that about 50,000,000 or more tons will go from the Lake Superior district. Prediction is made that 1913 will be the banner year in the way of shipping of ore.

Pudding Furnace Explodes. Sharon, Pa., March 7.—With a report that could be heard for several miles and scattering molten metal in every direction, a pudding furnace at the Wilkes rolling mill here exploded today.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is a safeguard in winter against serious diseases, if used as directed. You can break up a cold with Duffy's before it becomes deep-seated and dangerous. For men and women who are exposed to wintry blasts and raw, wet weather it is an effective protection. It is pure and dependable in throat, lung and stomach troubles. It overcomes weakness, wasting and run-down conditions of body, brain and muscle. Makes the old feel young and keeps the young strong and vigorous.

CAUTION—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, be sure you get the genuine. Sold in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY—never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark—the "Old Chemist"—the man in a white coat with the red cross on his chest. It is a large bottle. Write for a medical booklet and doctors' advice, free. AITKIN "DRY" TICKET.
Nominations Are Made of Candidates Who Are Against Saloons.

Aitkin, Minn., March 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a caucus of the dries held Wednesday evening the following were nominated for a "dry" ticket: For village council, J. N. Maer, Andrew F. H. Olson, W. A. Tully; clerk, J. C. Hestian; treasurer, Victor Erickson; justice, F. W. Hall; assessor, George Morrison; constable, Tim Maden. The present committee has made a splendid record in village finances the past "dry" year, having cleaned up $3,744.93 of floating indebtedness.

DEATH ENDS SUFFERING.
Mrs. William Byerla of Aitkin, Long Ill., Is Summoned.

Aitkin, Minn., March 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. William Byerla, who for many years has been ailing with complications, died early yesterday morning. Mrs. Byerla had been a patient sufferer all these years, for the last seven or eight years being unable to walk and confined to a wheel chair when able to leave her bed. During all this time she has displayed great fortitude, ever trying to avoid being a care upon those about her. Besides her husband, she leaves three children, Carl, Mrs. Pearl Spaulding and Irene. Funeral services will be held Sunday. Burial will be made here.

DULUTH CONCERN'S PLANT REMODELED.

International Falls, Minn., March 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Contractor Frank La Gash has completed remodeling and enlarging the Duluth Brewing company's cold storage plant, which has been removed to the M. & I. yards. As it now stands, the plant is a model one and contains a flat which will be occupied by Fred Shaw, the local agent, as soon as the sewer extension is completed to it.

MINNESOTA INSPECTION AND VELVET CHAFF UPHELD

Exporter Tells House Committee Minnesota Grading Is Freely Accepted.

Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce Does Not Dominate Local Board.

Balm was applied to the wounded soul of A. F. Teigen of Montevideo this morning. Velvet chaff wheat is a hobby with Mr. Teigen, who is a member of the Bendixen house committee investigating the Duluth board of trade. During the investigation into the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce and since the hearing opened at the Commercial club Wednesday morning Mr. Teigen has ridden his hobby so persistently and so valiantly that for all practical purposes of conversation, his initials have been changed to V. C. Up to this morning Mr. Teigen's high regard for velvet chaff wheat was not given much encouragement. True, under the Minnesota grades, velvet chaff must be graded up to No. 1 northern and is entitled to that grade, but there has been evidence introduced to show that at Minneapolis there was discrimination against velvet chaff, since Minneapolis is primarily a domestic market and American millers do not bid for velvet chaff.

When Julius H. Barnes, president of the Ames-Brooks company, stated on the stand this morning that last fall he had offered 1/2 cent premium over No. 1 northern for 50,000 bushels of velvet chaff, delivered in one lot, Mr. Teigen was at least vindicated.

"I think the American miller is honest when he says he doesn't like velvet chaff as well as blue stem, but I think he is wrong in the opinion of export," Mr. Barnes said. "We have found no trouble in selling velvet chaff in foreign markets. We can export it and get as good a price as for any other northern wheat. For its uniformity of kernel and if it could be obtained in sufficient quantities it could bring a premium over No. 1 northern."

Wide Range of Grades. The hearing this morning covered a wide range, going into inspection, weighing, the commission business, exporting and a comparison between Minnesota inspection and that of other places. The committee has shown a disposition to open the investigation as far as to get all the light on the matter. The greatest fairness has been shown in the hearing here. Everybody interested is invited to ask questions of witnesses, and there is no objection made to explanations interjected during the hearing of testimony. Some formality is observed, but the hearing takes on the character of a court, or an inquisition.

H. C. Emerson, deputy chief grain inspector at Duluth, was recalled to the stand at the opening of the session this morning. He told of the methods of taking samples at outlying points and of the manner of shipment to and from the Duluth sampling bureau, maintained by the state inspection, were explained. Mr. Emerson says that only one grain miller in a car at one time and that there is no chance of state samples being mixed in transit with those taken by the sampling bureau.

"Has any employee of your department ever been approached by any member of the Duluth board of trade with a request for special favors?" Mr. Russell asked.

"Never," was the reply.

Mr. Grettum, on taking the stand, testified that he has been connected with the grain business since 1899 and has operated on the Duluth board of trade as a commission man since 1906.

Not in That Business. "Information has come to this committee that it is a practice of some men on being ordered to store grain for the shipper, to sell the grain contrary to orders when the shipper orders them to sell, he buys it back to fill the order, meanwhile charging the shipper interest on loans made to him of the original shipment. Do you know anything about that?" Mr. Russell asked.

"I do not engage in that business," said Mr. Grettum. "I can see whereby it can be done."

"I do not," said Mr. Grettum. "The commission man is required to give the state a bond to protect the shipper against any such dealings."

Mr. Grettum said that it is impossible to store barley ordered to store grain for the shipper, to sell the grain contrary to orders when the shipper orders them to sell, he buys it back to fill the order, meanwhile charging the shipper interest on loans made to him of the original shipment. Do you know anything about that?" Mr. Russell asked.

system of grades. A question was raised as to no-grade wheat here and in Canada. Mr. Barnes explained the difference between the designations of no grade in Canada and on this side of the border.

Mr. Barnes in reply to a question said his firm is the largest wheat exporter in the United States or Canada and exports 40 to 50 per cent of all the durum wheat exported from the United States. In answer to questions by Mr. Lind, Mr. Barnes said that Minneapolis is not an export market in regard to no grade. Mr. Barnes said that the amount of moisture taken from no grade wheat in drying varies from 3 to 5 per cent, amounting to a difference of 3 to 5 cents per bushel. Mr. Barnes testified that there is strong competition in bidding for wheat on the Duluth board and that there is competition and business rivalry between the firms doing business in Duluth and those in Minneapolis.

Duluth Independent. "Does the Minneapolis chamber of commerce dominate the election on the Duluth board of trade?" Mr. Russell asked.

"Absolutely not, and I would know if any such attempt were made," Mr. Barnes said. "We differ often as to market policy, but just now we are changed in a contest with the Minneapolis people as to grain rates, taking the amount of moisture taken from no grade wheat in drying varies from 3 to 5 per cent, amounting to a difference of 3 to 5 cents per bushel. REVIVAL SERVICES AT BETHANY CHURCH

Port Arthur Pastor to Assist Rev. C. G. Olson in Conducting Meetings.

Rev. C. G. Olson of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, will conduct a week's series of revival meetings, beginning next Monday evening.

Rev. Mr. Olson will be assisted at the meetings by Rev. E. P. Olson of Port Arthur, Ont., who will arrive here next Monday morning. He will be the guest of the local pastor at the parsonage, 2305 West Third street.

The meetings will be held every evening and will be open to the general public.

REV. C. G. OLSON.

The church choir and soloists will assist in the services each evening. The two pastors will alternate in taking charge of the meetings.

Rev. Mr. Olson of Port Arthur is in charge of the Swedish Lutheran church there and at Port William. He interchanges in conducting services in the two cities. He is very well known in that section of the country as an evangelist.

CHORUS TO SING EASTER CANTATA

Special Musical Program at Norwegian - Danish
M. E. Church.

The Easter cantata, "Light Out of Darkness," by Adam Gabel, will be sung on Easter Sunday evening by a chorus of seventy-five voices at the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church,
Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street.

The large chorus is being directed by A. O. Anderson, who is conducting rehearsals every Thursday evening.
The rehearsal of the chorus and the soloists was held last evening. The soloists are Misses Millie Olson and Nora Ostrum and Messrs. John E. Jensen and H. O.
Hanson.

The chorus will be the largest of any in the city, and it is expected that the church auditorium will be packed on Easter Sunday evening. A feature of this cantata, "Light Out of Darkness," is the large number of solo selections, duets and quartets.

Among the principal numbers in the cantata are:

For Gray Hair

It Can Be Darkened Very Effectively By Using This Simple Formula.

In this age, when one's personal appearance counts for so much, and when both the social and business world puts a ban upon everything that denotes the approach of age, it becomes a matter of duty to those whose hair is turning gray to adopt some rational means of darkening it, thus hiding the traces of Time. An excellent, yet very simple solution of the problem is to procure at the drug store an ounce of bay rum, a quarter ounce of glycerine and a small box of Barbo Compound, and at home you can dissolve the Barbo Compound in 7 ounces of water, afterward adding the other two ingredients. This makes a remarkably effective mixture for darkening gray hair, and at the same time removing dandruff and other ills of the scalp, besides making the hair soft, glossy and "young-looking." It darkens the beard as well as the hair.
It is applied once a week until the hair is darkened, then every two weeks. It does not rub off or color the skin and is much more satisfactory than the common dyes and stains.

Very Low Fares To California and North Pacific Coast

These low fares are in effect via Rock Island Lines and tickets will be on sale daily, March 15th to April 15th, 1913.

The Rock Island is the logical route to take—one has the choice of three interesting routes. Through tourist sleeping cars every Tuesday from Minneapolis to St. Paul, via El Paso—the direct route effluent altitudes—the line of least resistance. Connecting service via Colorado and Salt Lake—the scenic route of the West.

Come Out of the Darkness."

ONEOTA CLUB MEETING.

Plans for Affiliation of Improvement Clubs Will Be Discussed.

The Oneota and Hazewood Improvement club will hold its regular semi-monthly meeting this evening at the Merritt school, Fortieth avenue west and Sixth street.

A feature of the evening will be the report by the committee recently appointed to conduct a campaign in behalf of a proposed central club. The members of the committee have been taking the matter up with all the civic and commercial bodies in Duluth and their report this evening will decide on the future work of the local organization.

Roderick Murchison, secretary of the board of public works, will give an address on "Tax Assessments" during the evening.

The preferential voting plan will be explained following the regular business meeting by Bert N. Wheeler, candidate for the short term commissioner.

Salvation Army.

Capt. Marinius Fjestrup of the Scandinavian Salvation army, 1631 West Superior street, will conduct a holy meeting this evening in the local hall.
The meeting is one of a series Capt.
Fjestrup has been conducting since the beginning of Lent. They are held every Friday evening and will be continued until Easter Friday.

Lenten Sermons.

Rev. E. Wulfsburg of St. Paul's English Lutheran church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, will preach Sunday the fourth of Lent, the subject Sunday will be "Why Hast Thou Forgotten Me?" The subjects up to Easter are as follows: March 16, "I Thine," March 20, "It Is Finished," March 21, (Good Friday), "Father, Into Thy Hands I Commend My Spirit."

Revival to End.

The three weeks' series of revival meetings at the First Swedish M. E. church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, will come to a close with the final service Sunday evening. Rev.
C. W. R. Werme, pastor of the church, is in charge of the meetings for the remainder of this week. Rev.
J. A. Eklund of Ironwood, Mich., who assisted in the local pastor, left for his home early this week.

Evangelistic Meetings.

Rev. Edward Erickson of the First
Norwegian-Danish M. E. church,
Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street, will conduct a two weeks' evangelistic campaign. The meetings started last Sunday evening and are being held each evening. Rev. J. Beckstrom of Deer Park, Wis., will arrive here next Tuesday to assist the local pastor for the remainder of next week.

Naturalization Club.

The French Naturalization club will hold its regular monthly meeting this evening at the St. Jean Baptiste hall, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. An invitation has been extended to local candidates for commissioner to address the meeting, which will be open to the public.

Haugen Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Ellen Haugen, 21 years old, wife of Carl Haugen of Korhonen township, who died last Monday, will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the Olson &
Crawford undertaking rooms, 2118 West First street. The body was brought here yesterday. Rev. W. E.
Harmann of St. Peter's Episcopal church will officiate and interment will be at the Park Hill cemetery.

Dr. Ishkanian Speaks.

Dr. A. T. Ishkanian of Turkey spoke on the proposed union of the Prohibition forces in Minnesota at the meeting of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Grace M. E. church, held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. E. Wellington, 217
North Thirty-fourth avenue west.

Revival Services.

The men of the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street, will have charge of the revival services this evening. Rev.
Joshua Gravett of Denver, who is in charge of the meetings in the city, will preach this evening on "A Man's Gospel." Following the sermon a men's chorus will sing several selections.

Surprise Party.

Elmer Jentoft of 2321 West Fourth street was given a surprise last evening by the members of the Norwegian male chorus. Mr. Jentoft was presented with a gold watch chain, in which was inscribed the children of the chorus and his initials. Gust Olson, another member of the chorus, was presented with a similar gift.

West End Briefs.

Mrs. George M. Jensen and daughter, Constance, of 2117 West First street are spending several days with relatives in the Twin Cities.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Peterson of 510 North Twenty-fifth avenue west are visiting with relatives in Minneapolis, where the former is attending the annual state grocers' convention.

Miss Irene Carlsson of Carlton has left for her home after visiting with West end relatives for the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Johnson of Virginia have left for their home after spending the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swanson, 2214 West
Third street.

The Young People's society of the Norwegian Lutheran church, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street, will meet in the church parlors
this evening.

Rev. George E. Siloway of the Grace
M. E. church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, is assisting in an evangelistic campaign at Two Harbors this week.

The Rebecca guild of St. Peter's Episcopal church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street, met in the guild hall last evening.

There's Individuality About Our New Dresses that you will appreciate. Why not see them? The present gathering is far ahead of our best previous efforts. Some of the dresses are in novelty and fancy effects, others are handsome simple tailored styles. In fact, between both kinds you are offered choice that simply discounts anything heretofore shown. Many of the types are the Bulgarian and Balkan type models, others equally pretty dresses, for reception of street gowns. Materials are Charmeuse, Crepe de Chine, Crepe Meteor and fancy effects. Prices range from $14.50 to $49.50.

Striking Novelty Suits

styles, plain tailored and dressy affairs—suits to meet the requirements of every woman.

The New Season Ushers in Some of the Smartest & Nattiest Coats

Since the separate coat became a necessity, we are showing scores of the new garments, swagger cutaway types, others in the latest Balkan models, the new Johnny and full length coats that are always so smart and so stylish.

The coats are made from Mixtures, Coverts, Serges, Bedford Cord, Rat-ine, Wide Wale, Eponge, etc., all in the leading shades; coats suitable to wear for any occasion. Prices range from $17.50 to $42.50.

Smart Tailored Suits

Wash your dishes with

GOLD DUST

Ordinary dish-water only cleans the surface. Put a dash of Gold Dust into the water and it will go to the bottom of things, drive out every bit of dirt, every germ, every hidden particle. Gold Dust cleanses as well as cleans.

We promise you this if you use Gold Dust: Your dishes will be sweeter and cleaner than ever before and you will save at least half the time ordinarily consumed in washing them.

Gold Dust does better work than soap or any other dish-washing product—and saves half the time.

Gold Dust is sold in 5c size and large packages. The large package means greater economy.

FAVORABLE CONDITIONS

In Business Shown By Earnings of Rich and Poor.

Increased Dividends for the Stockholders of Leading Corporations.

New York, March 7.—The first month of spring finds business in the city in full swing, and business men, outside of the speculative circles of Wall street, are very enthusiastic over the prospect for trade during the next ten months of the year.

The mild winter has been a Godsend to the poor of the city, as they have suffered very little, as compared with former winters, and the days fit for outside laboring work have been much more numerous.

Their earnings by reason of the favorable weather have been greater, sickness has not been so prevalent and expenditures, especially for fuel, have been far less than in prior years.

The laboring people of New York enter the spring months with plenty of employment offering, and their savings, scant, though they be in many instances, generally of greater amount than usually is the case at the close of the severe winter weather, the season dreaded by the poor.

This bettering of conditions among the poorer classes of the city was strongly evidenced by the annual report of the Provident Loan society of New York, for the year closed Dec. 31, 1912.

While the outstanding loans of this society increased more than $500,000 as compared with the amount outstanding Dec. 31, 1911, the heavy increase in the loans was made in the first half of the year, while the latter half showed very large redemptions, thus indicating a much more prosperous condition among the working people.

Real Aid for the Poor.
The funds of the society in employment at the close of the year amounted to $7,258,353 and an additional sum of $1,000,000 was subscribed to provide new capital for future operations.

Managed as this society is by good business men with practical ideas of aiding the borrowers by temporary loans at comparatively low interest rates, it is saving millions of dollars annually to the poor in standing as a barrier in the way of usury and extortion.

The total amount of money loaned during the year was $14,724,563 and the number of loans made was 437,493.

This report of the loan society may be classed as the short and simple analysis of the poor of this city, an exhibit of their financial weakness, and yet, as compared with prior reports, very encouraging as to improvement.

The payment of the Pennsylvania railroad dividend told a far different story, as far as the financial condition of the persons who received the money are concerned.

Checks for dividends were mailed to 75,492 stockholders, a total distribution of $5,907,169.

The number of stockholders was the greatest ever carried on the books of the railroad company, and the fact that 15.9 per cent of the loan society may be classed as the short and simple analysis of the poor of this city, an exhibit of their financial weakness, and yet, as compared with prior reports, very encouraging as to improvement.

Thirty-six thousand four hundred and fifty-seven women hold shares in this great railroad company, and money mailed to them as dividends was a testimony as to their correct and sane financial judgment, selection of an investment.

While the average holding of stock is 129 shares, there are 12,534 shareholders who own less than ten shares each.

The subway contracts, which have caused such a struggle in this city, are still uncompleted, and with George J. Gould refusing to consent to the arrangement, thus favoring the speedy letting are in quite a dilemma.

Increase in Dividends.
The subway is being built at the present time; there is no delay in their construction, the notorious contracts being only for their operation.

The action of Mr. Gould was unlooked for and has thrown the contract seekers completely in the air. The total dividend payments by railroad, industrial and traction companies for March, it is said, will amount to $65,857,000, an increase of $2,852,000 as compared with those of the same month in 1912.

This is a gain of nearly 15 per cent and it is difficult to understand why men pay any attention to pessimistic utterances as regards business profits and earnings when they have before them such exhibits of unparalleled prosperity in these most important lines of affairs.

It is presuming too much upon the intelligence of the American people for men to talk dull times and depressed business in the face of reports which completely destroy their assertions.

The preliminary report of the Baldwin locomotive works for 1912 (a presidential year with remarkable production conditions) forecasting November results, shows net earnings of $3,698,000, out of which dividends amounting to $1,800,000 were distributed, and the remainder, $1,898,000, was carried to the account of undivided profits.

The president, A. B. Johnson, in his report states that the undivided profits for 1912 are larger in amount than at any time since the acquisition of the property, and that the outlook is favorable for a continuance of the present prosperous conditions.

The directors of the American Can company on the 27th ult. declared a cash dividend of 24 per cent, payable April 1, on the preferred stock. The regular quarterly of 1 1/2 per cent on the preferred was also declared.

Big Earnings Reported.
The back dividend gives the shareholders $3,698,000 in cash, while nearly $1,900,000 in accumulated dividends still remains in the company's treasury for future distribution. One of the directors of this company, stated that earnings kept up well and were better than at the same time last year and he believed that financial results of the company would be even better in 1913 than in 1912.

The New York Telephone company reports net earnings for 1912 as $17,317,000, an increase of $2,090,150 over last year.

The Underwood Typewriter company reports net profits in 1912 at $1,738,118, an increase of $455,521 over 1911.

The net profit is equivalent to 16 1/2 per cent in the common stock, as against 10 1/2 per cent in 1911.

These figures do not denote any lessening in business activity, do not presage bad times, but just the opposite. These results speak with far greater force than assertions of disappointed politicians or predictions of men fearing enforcement of the Sherman anti-trust law.

From Philadelphia comes the statement that Charles M. Schwab is perfecting extensions, expansions and improvements in the Bethlehem Steel works that will cost more than $10,000,000.

That does not look like dull trade in iron and steel.

"Curing through the nerves." Address Dr. Franklin Miles, 1422 Main St., Elkhart, Ind.

way to decrease the "high cost of dying" has been devised here by the board of managers of St. Xavier's church, one of the Catholic parishes in Southern Ohio. Announcement has been made that in the future no funerals to which flowers are permitted to be sent will be held in the church.

It was also announced that in the place of flowers, the parish, at its own expense, will issue the memorial cards to all the friends of the deceased, announcing the death and giving a brief biography.

One of the managers stated that it was the beginning of a nation-wide movement that has been started in the last month.

DOG LEADS CHILD HOME.

Little Wanderer Guided to Parents By Four-Footed Pet.

Kansas City, Mo., March 7.—A white Spitz dog, with a slender string tied to his collar and that same string held in the chubby hand of 5-year-old Harry Colbert, led the little boy back home after he had wandered from the yard and lost his way.

Harry decided to take his pet for a walk. Holding firmly to the string at the animal's collar, he wandered far away from the neighborhood. When his absence was learned the police were informed and asked to find the missing boy.

If his way, however, it was not so with the dog. The Spitz, growing hungry at about 8 p. m., started home with his small master. Harry held to the string as if fearful the dog might escape, relinquishing his grip only to rush tired and sobbing into his anxious mother's arms.

Identified as Wisconsin Man.
Regina, Sask., March 7.—That the dead body found on Sunday in a boxcar here is that of Charles Quigler of Vaucluse, Wis., is the statement of W. Minor, who was acquainted with Quigler. Police, suspecting murder, are making an investigation. Quigler is said here to have belonged to a family prominent in Wisconsin.

HATPIN ORDINANCE.
Milwaukee to Prevent Women Wearing Pins Protruding Over Half Inch.
Milwaukee, Wis., March 7.—Mayor G. A. Bading has signed the famous hatpin ordinance, and no more will Milwaukee women be allowed to wear pins which protrude more than one-half an inch from the crown of the hat. If the point is covered with an "effective" guard, the pins may exceed this limit, but unless so guarded, the wearers will be subject to fines of $1 for each offense to three, and after that, three days in the county jail.
Chief of Police Janssen has given his men orders to arrest all violators found in public, and Milwaukee police are looking for much business because of the fact that there is no considerable competition among the women as to who will draw the first fine.

GASSY STOMACH ENDANGERS THE HEART

Gas and Other Forms of Indigestion Are Quickly Relieved By Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Undigested food forms gas in the stomach, which causes the walls of that organ to expand and press against the heart. If this pressure should be allowed to become heavy it might result very seriously, as the heart must be kept perfectly free in order to perform its duties.

If the stomach is overworked, its muscles become tired and gradually grow weaker and weaker, until they are unable to take care of the food properly. The glands fail to provide the juices necessary to digest the food. Gases form and cause all sorts of pain, misery and weakness, as well as extreme danger to the heart.

It is then that the stomach calls for help. Ordinary medicines are impossible. They not only fail to help the stomach but injure the entire system. Medical men have studied the stomach and have discovered that the digestive juices consist largely of pepsin, hydrochloric acid and nitrogenous ferments. What, then, would be more natural than to supply these properties artificially when the stomach is unable to produce them?

That is the object of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. These powerful little agents relieve the stomach of its burden, thereby giving it an opportunity to regain its normal strength. They tone up, strengthen and revitalize the secretory glands, mucous membranes, absorbing glands and muscular walls. They restore to the stomach its lost powers of digestion so that it can again do its work without assistance. They contain in a tablet each meal, the element necessary to digest all sorts of food, whether acid or alkaline.

If you experience an oppressive feeling just inside the lower end of your breast bone and extending upward toward your heart, do not hesitate an instant. Get Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets from the nearest drug store at once and take one. In a few minutes the pain will leave you and you will feel better. Take a tablet after each meal for several days and your stomach will once more perform its duties. All druggists sell them at 60c a box.

STATE HIGHWAY TO FLOODWOOD

Project Will Be Given Hearing By County Board April 8.

The county board, at its meeting on April 18, will conduct a hearing on a petition for the establishment of a state rural highway between Duluth and Floodwood, a distance of fifty miles. The cost of the improvement is estimated between $60,000 and $75,000. Those who are urging the road claim that it will mean much to the commercial interests of the city as it will open up a new country to Duluth for a distance of twenty miles east of Floodwood. It also claims that it will give the farmers in the west end of the county a more direct route from the Itasca county line to Duluth.

CHOSEN LOYAL KNIGHT OF THE DULUTH ELKS

JOHN E. SAMUELSON.

John E. Samuelson, elected loyal knight of the Duluth lodge of Elks, is one of the well known members of the entered herd in this city, now numbering close to 1,000 members. He has been one of the most enthusiastic workers of the lodge in 1912 and has served during the current year as lecturing knight. "J. E." is always an Elk and when he isn't busy with lodge affairs he practices law, having been a prominent member of the local bar for some years. His elevation from the chair of lecturing knight to loyal knight has met with universal approval among the lodge members.

cars of wheat to be stored. Mr. Schmidt said that the Equity concern advertised its ability to store grain, and had a picture of an elevator on its stationery. After these cars had been shipped the witness received a letter stating that the cars had been received, but no storage tickets were sent.

On Jan. 3 the witness wrote the Equity concern to sell 5,000 bushels of the stored wheat. He got no answer. He wrote again, and still failed to get an answer. He telegraphed Jan. 10 ordering the Equity concern to sell all of the stored wheat. Four days later, the witness said, he got this telegram, which he produced:

"Your instructions carried out. Mailed account sales on five of them yesterday. George Loftus."

A day or two after, the witness said, he got some account sales. He got but one confirmation. He sent the witness a letter on the 20th of February, and got one. It was still short that same day. I demanded a check for the balance due. I didn't get it. I think there was about $3,500 due at that time.

The witness stated that the statements did not show as much credit as the account sales, and that in at least one case there were charges for storage and for unloading, charges which were not shown on the account sales. The witness, with Mr. Bundy, came to Minneapolis at the direction of the directors of the elevator to have a settlement. They talked with one King, bookkeeper for the Equity concern, who declared that the ten cars had been stored and that they were entitled to storage charges. Later Mr. Loftus admitted that the wheat had not been stored, but sold, and that the storage charges were added "because the wheat had been sold at a better price."

The witness stated that in February he had a letter from the Equity concern stating that pursuant to his order they had sold 5,000 bushels of wheat to arrive, and that as no cars of wheat appeared, they had charged him up with a loss of $500. When he asked Loftus about that, the witness said, Loftus said that he needed money about that time, and that he would be fixed up.

The Equity people said that our balance on their books was about $4,100. We claimed $3,500 of $4,600, but we were told to wait until Loftus came. An appointment was made for 1 o'clock that night, but nobody showed up. We waited till we were tired, and then demanded $4,600. He said he had no money, but had authority from Loftus to pay us $2,000. Finally they got Loftus on the telephone, and we got our $4,600. We were promised the missing account sales in the morning, and we went back after them. King said he had had no time to get them out, and that we should come back later. We did come back, but we haven't got them yet, and we asked for them again. The witness stated that while we had no account sales on half the cars, he had received two on the same car, which he produced. They were on different dates, and stated different prices, different charges and different totals.

Discrepancies in Statement. Mr. Schmidt also pointed out discrepancies between the account sales and the statements rendered by the Equity people. On one car the report showed $334.02, on another the statement showed $344.02, on another the report showed $446.92, on another the report showed $383.25 due, and the account sales $340.89.

The witness said that on the one car which was omitted from both statements furnished by the Equity concern he received no account sale until Tuesday, and didn't know until then what he had been credited with on this car.

that he would have it sent as soon as he got back. He sent the account," said the witness, "but no check." On this occasion, the witness said, there was an Equity society meeting, and Loftus made a speech, showing how the railroad and the Minneapolis chamber of commerce were robbing the farmers, and that he was going to have or had had an investigating committee appointed. When I was trying to get a settlement with Loftus Tuesday he said that we mustn't let E. L. Welch & Co. get hold of this. The witness said, he had checked up his accounts with the Equity concern as soon as they were forthcoming.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

Activities of Other Municipalities, Which Might or Might Not Be Copied in Duluth.

SIX clergymen have been put on the rolls of the police department of Los Angeles, Cal., as special officers. They wear stars and are empowered to make arrests. Their special duties being the enforcement of the juvenile laws and the regulation of dance halls. The minister-policemen are members of the Juvenile Protection league. They have been commissioned not only to safeguard the young and prevent the exploitation of girls, but to arrest and prosecute parents who neglect their children.

Chief Troyer has stated that he will be glad to wear in prominent citizen as a special policeman to aid in the cleaning campaign this spring. Should it be deemed necessary he would undoubtedly be willing to do the same for clergymen who wish police powers and the authority which comes with wearing a shiny star in order to aid in the enforcement of juvenile laws or the purification of dance halls.

President Arthur L. Ryberg and the other officials have set the membership mark at 1,500 and when the work of perfecting the various details of the association has been further advanced, a large committee will be sent forth to secure members for the club. Practically every citizen of Lakeside is behind the new club. The present plans call for a large and well equipped gymnasium and the placing of strong athletic teams in the field. Lakeside, its citizens declare, has long been in need of just such a club, and the bringing of this evening promises to bring out the true enthusiasm of those instrumental in its organization.

A day or two after, the witness said, he got some account sales. He got but one confirmation.

Asked if he got pay for the twenty-one cars sent to be sold on arrival, the witness said that he got drafts for $500 each on four cars, and $500 on each of the other cars. When he came with the drafts that the balance would be sent the other cars were not delivered. For the stored grain the Equity concern sent about $500 per car. It didn't, the witness said, send anything to show the balance still due. He presented account sales on eight of the ten cars, stating that he only received the last one day before yesterday. The rest came in one at a time, straggling along, a month or so after shipment.

Did Not Get Return.

The witness said that when he ordered the sale of the stored wheat he demanded payment of the money due. He did not get return. He shipped some grain to the Equity after that, and got in a little cash that. The last shipments were of ten cars in December and January. He asked for a statement of the balance, and got a report about Feb. 1, but it was one car short. "I called their attention to it," the witness said. "I got no reply. I demanded a statement again at the end of February, and got one. It was still short that same car. I demanded a check for the balance due. I didn't get it. I think there was about $1,000 due at that time."

The witness stated that the statements did not show as much credit as the account sales, and that in at least one instance there were charges for storage and for unloading, charges which he did not know of. Last Tuesday the witness, with Mr. Bundy, came to Minneapolis at the direction of the directors of the elevator to have a settlement. They talked with one King, bookkeeper for the Equity concern, who declared that the ten cars had been stored, and that they were entitled to storage charges. Later, Mr. Loftus admitted that the wheat had not been stored, that said that the storage charges were added "because the wheat had been sold at a better price."

The witness stated that in February he had a letter from the Equity concern stating that pursuant to his order they had sold 500 bushels of wheat to arrive, and that as no cars of wheat appeared, they had charged him up with a bill of $200. When he asked Loftus about that, the witness said, Loftus said that he needed money about that, as it would be fixed up. The Equity people said that our balance on their books was about $4,000. We claimed $1,000 of $4,000, but as we had no account sales, we were told that the grain we couldn't figure in accurately. Tuesday we asked for our money, and we were told to wait until Loftus came. An appointment was made for 3 o'clock that night, but nothing showed up. We waited till we were tired, and then demanded that they should pay us. They only had authority from Loftus to pay us $2,000. Finally they got Loftus on the telephone, and we got our $4,000. We were promised the missing account sales in the morning, and we went back after them. King said he had had no time to get them out, and that we should come back later. We did come back, but we haven't got them yet, and we asked for them again as at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The witness stated that while he had not had account sales on half the cars, he had received two on the same car, which he produced. They were of different dates, and stated different prices, different charges and different totals.

Discrepancies in Statement.
Mr. Schmidt also pointed out discrepancies between the account sales and the statements rendered by the Equity people. On one car the account showed $534.02; on another the statement showed $614.92 due, an account sales showed $688.92; on another the report showed $839.25 due, and the account sales $814.81.

The witness said that on the one car which was omitted from both statements furnished by the Equity concern he received no account sales until Monday, and that he knew until then what he had been credited with on this car.

The record on one car, where a charge of half a cent was made for storage and half a cent was made for unloading, was sold three days after its arrival, so there could have been no storage charge. Mr. Schmidt said that when he asked Loftus about this, Loftus said that he had sold the wheat at an extra high price.

At Duluth, N. D., he asked Loftus about a car shipped Dec. 13, from which he had received no account sales. Loftus said that it must be an oversight, and

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

Activities of Other Municipalities, Which Might or Might Not Be Copied in Duluth.

SIX clergymen have been put on the rolls of the police department of Los Angeles, Cal., as special officers. They wear stars and are empowered to make arrests, their special duties being the enforcement of the juvenile laws and the regulation of dance halls. The minister-policemen are members of the Juvenile Protection league. They have been commissioned not only to safeguard the young and prevent the exploitation of girls, but to arrest and prosecute parents who neglect their children.

Chief Troyer has stated that he will be glad to swear in prominent citizens as special policemen to aid in the cleaning campaign this spring. Should it be deemed necessary he would do so. The minister-policemen are wearing a shiny star in order to aid in the enforcement of juvenile laws or the purification of dance halls.

President Arthur L. Ryberg and the other officials have set the membership mark at 1,500 and when the work of perfecting the various details of the association has been further advanced, a large committee will be sent forth to secure members for the club.

Practically every citizen of Lakeside is behind the new club. The present plans call for a large and well equipped gymnasium and the placing of strong athletic teams in the field. Lakeside's citizens declare, has long been in need of just such a club, and the meeting of this evening promises to bring out the true enthusiasm of these instrumental in its organization.

LAKESIDE CLUB WILL HOLD MEETING

Plans for Securing Gymnasium Will Be Taken Up By Officials.

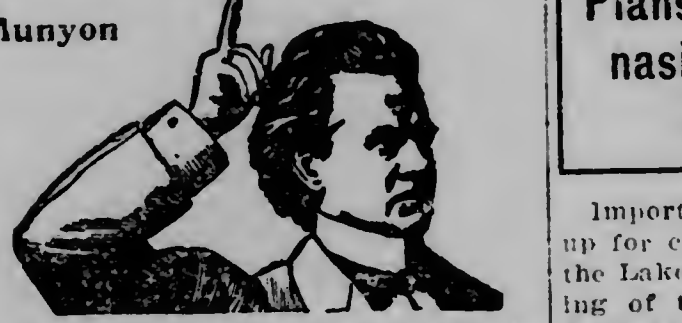

Important matters are due to come up for consideration at the meeting of the Lakeside Athletic association meeting of this evening. The details regarding the securing of the old fire hall at Lakeside for the use of a club gymnasium as well as the matter of getting grounds for the new organization, are two of the most important matters that will come before the members.

From the enthusiasm and energy that has been displayed from the start it is believed that the Lakeside Athletic association will become the largest athletic organization in the city.

MANNING, N. D., HAS NO FIRE PROTECTION.

Manning, N. D., March 7.—(Special to The Herald).—There will be a mass meeting of the business men of this place to discuss some form of fire protection. At present there is no apparatus of any kind. The courthouse and the county records and the property of the business men could not be saved if fire would ever get under headway. A fire engine of some kind is badly needed and some of the business men want the town to purchase a chemical at once.

IT HEALS ECZEMA

Just Give Resinol a Chance and See Skin Humors Vanish.

Don't stand that itching eczema torment one day longer. Go to the nearest drugstore and get a jar of Resinol Ointment and a cake of Resinol Soap. Bathe the eczema patches with Resinol Soap and hot water, dry, and apply a little Resinol Ointment. The torturing itching and burning stop instantly, you no longer have to dig and scratch, sleep becomes possible, and healing begins. Soon the ugly, tormenting eruptions disappear completely and for good.

Resinol has done this for thousands upon thousands of sufferers from all sorts of itching, scaly skin troubles. Give it half a chance and it will do as much for you. You can try Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap at our expense, if you want to. Just write to Dept. A-S, Resinol, Baltimore, Md., and we will send you generous samples by parcel post. Resinol is sold by every druggist and has been prescribed by doctors for eighteen years. Resinol Ointment, in ointment jars, costs 50 cents and $1; Resinol Soap, 25c a cake.

Without An Operation

Wonderful Healing of Rupture.

How a New Jersey Man Got Rid of a Severe, Obstinate, Right Inguinal Hernia Without the Slightest Trouble.

Below is a picture of Eugene M. Pullen, a well-known carpenter of Monmouth, New Jersey. If you could see him at his work, particularly when he handles heavy timber, jumps and climbs around like a youth, you would scarcely imagine that he had formerly been afflicted with a rupture.

Ruptured in Right Side.

At an early age, Eugene Pullen was an express driver. He handled railroad baggage. One day after delivering a heavy trunk on an upper floor he felt a pain in the right groin. The suffering increased and it was not long before the young man noticed the swelling.

The doctor told young Pullen that he was ruptured and that he must either wear a truss throughout life or submit to a drastic operation. All surgeons know that hernia operations, with anesthetics, etc., are dangerous; they may end fatally. Moreover, it is a well established fact that many rupture operations are not successful; the bowel soon breaks through the sewed-up opening and protrudes worse than ever.

Afraid of Operation.

Like most others, Mr. Pullen declined to take the risks of an operation; the expense and loss of time had to be considered, too. Hoping he might get a little better encouragement, he went to another physician who, to his surprise, gave him even less hope. It was hinted out to the young man that unless the rupture were perfectly held all the time or the surgeon's knife successfully used, he might expect an increase or doubling in the rupture with further complications, or the dreaded strangulated hernia which kills so many ruptured people.

Victim of Trusses.

The victim bought a truss, a hard, spring-like affair, the best he could get. It tortured him. He tried another—still no relief. He was compelled to give up his express business. The hard tasks of ordinary men were forbidden him. He became an insurance agent, in which position he did not need to do bodily work.

For six years Mr. Pullen dragged around, using various trusses, hard, elastic, etc., with never any contentment. One day his mother told him something she had just found out. It was a simple and easy thing for him to do. He lost no time.

Discarded His Truss.

Relief came at once; he almost forgot that he had any rupture. Afterward came a cure—a complete healing and, although years have passed and Mr. Pullen is an expert carpenter, working on buildings, climbing over roofs, lifting lumber and such like, he is absolutely free from the old hernia. He knows he is completely, lastingly cured. There was no operation, no long time, no trouble—comfort and contentment from the very start. He is a strong, cheerful-minded man.

Valuable Information Free.

The valuable information which Mrs. Pullen read in a newspaper many years ago and gave to her son, together with further important facts, will be sent free to any reader of this paper who writes to Eugene M. Pullen, 53 Mercantile avenue, Monmouth, N. J., enclosing a stamp for reply. Mention the kind of rupture you have, whether on right or left side and what you have already done in your effort to cure it. A legion of cases of all kinds of rupture in men and women, including inguinal (groin), femoral, navel, scrotal, etc., have been reported completely healed. Age seems to make no difference.

OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN

Cullum Talks to Meeting of Voters in West End.

Socialists Are Busy Holding Meetings—Eleven More Acceptances Filed.

M. B. Cullum, former mayor of Duluth, last evening opened his campaign for election to the same office under commission government. He talked at the Woodmen hall at Twenty-first avenue west and First street, to a fair crowd.

Dr. Cullum impressed upon the voters that he is not the candidate of any party or organization, but is running as a citizen of Duluth on his record in the mayor's office. He pointed out that his experience in municipal government is a desirable asset of a candidate for the commission, as the problems to be met will be difficult of solution.

Dr. Cullum expressed himself in favor of municipal ownership of public utilities, and declared he would stand for the enforcement of the liquor laws as the people demand. He said that the real issue in the campaign is the fitness of the men for the offices to which they aspire. He said he believed his record in office was sufficient proof to the voters that he would serve them faithfully if again elected.

He spoke in part as follows: "I am not the candidate of any party, of any organization or of any interest. I am the candidate of a system by which the things you wanted done and that I was sufficient proof to the voters that he would serve them faithfully if again elected.

He proposed a better system three years ago. Divided responsibility between the council and the mayor's office, of co-operation, jealousies, bickerings, delays, waste of money and time were inevitable. I believe the coming commission should be organized solely with a view to developing efficiency, whereby they could deal fairly and capably with the many problems that confront them in the everyday management of public affairs; that they enforce the laws; that they make new laws, if necessary, to expedite public business; that they advise the public from time to time in what direction any improvement may be made that will be for the public's general benefit; that in the business and of your government.

The real democracy of the charter is embodied in the initiative and referendum, by which the public, which is in fact the governing body, may determine the course to be pursued in any of the enterprises that involve a large expenditure of the public money.

Municipal Ownership. "I believe in municipal ownership; I believe the public, that pay the bills directly or indirectly, should always be given the right to say how far we shall go towards such enterprises."

"In regard to the laws surrounding the liquor traffic, there is no doubt of the public's attitude on this question; and no commissioner that is assigned to the department of public safety could afford to ignore this demand, but would promptly enforce the law."

Moral Question. "In regard to the social evil, I believe that with conscientious co-operation between the public official and the moral forces, the commercialized nature of vice making of more modern development, could be done away with. The remaining features can only be dealt with by removing the cause. It was the study of this question that led to the realization of the pitiful conditions from which vice results—conditions of poverty and environment, industrial and social laws, I believe that vice in its present aspect is no more necessary than extreme poverty. I believe that if the latter were removed the former would soon disappear. In seeking to do any share toward the removal of these causes, I proposed the organization known as the 'Welfare Board.' I conceived this to be such a humanitarian enterprise as would appeal to the community, so that there might be speedy development. The public, in fact, has shown very little interest in this matter. I believe that when communities, from whatever cause, develop conditions of human depravity and human suffering, the care of those unfortunate is a legitimate charge against the community. In the way of justice and not of charity."

Other candidates who have short addresses were Alex. Kennedy, John Cashin and Dr. C. B. French, all candidates for the short term.

The Socialist campaign shifted last evening to Lake avenue. Morris Kaplan and P. G. Phillips speaking at the hall at 338 Lake avenue south. Mr. Kaplan advocated a municipal food sales department and a municipal loan agency.

Mr. Phillips spoke on his record in the council and advocated a municipal employment office. The Socialist meeting tonight will be at Victory hall, with Mr. Kaplan, Ed Blackwood and J. G. Phillips as speakers.

The cold weather has put a damper on the campaign and it is not assuming the expected warmth. The candidates are busy but the voters do not seem to be ready to take an active part in the campaign. There is interest enough as the campaign is receiving wide discussion, but the voters are not out to political meetings and causes them to seek for light on the candidates.

As the election is nearly three weeks away, there is plenty of time. The last two weeks of the campaign will be the warmest, and as election day approaches, there will be hardly a citizen who will not be on edge in anxiety as to the members of the new commission.

The municipal ownership league will take a hand in the campaign. A meeting will be held tomorrow evening in room 8, Kalamazoo building, for the purpose of reorganization and discussing candidates.

Another meeting will be held at Woodmen hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street, tonight, Marcus L. Fay, candidate for mayor, speaking on "Law Enforcement and Its Effects."

Eleven additional acceptances were received yesterday by City Clerk C. S. Palmer. They were filed by Dr. D. H. Day and Morris Kaplan for mayor, John Brown for special judge, J. W. Brown, Carroll E. Graf and W. E. Towne for long term, and W. B. Ardoun, George W. Power, Joseph W. Cumming, J. C. Myron and E. N. Edes, short term.

Man Who Worked on Lake Boat Admits He Deserted Wife.

Houghton, Mich., March 7.—George Cook, who claims to be wanted in Rochester, N. Y., for wife desertion, gave himself up to Sheriff Cruse Thursday with a request that he be taken in custody and the officers in Rochester communicated with. Cook says he left his wife three years ago because she was paying too much attention to others. He took a position on a lake boat and remained here last October when the investigation season ended. Sheriff Cruse has him in custody, awaiting word from the east.

AMUSEMENTS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS

LYCEUM—Paul J. Rainey African Hunt Pictures last evening at the Lyceum.

Amusement Notes.

More than 100 children were guests of The Herald at the Paul J. Rainey African Hunt Pictures last evening at the Lyceum. Owing to the educational value of the Rainey pictures The Herald instituted a contest among the school children of the city by which 100 free tickets were distributed among them. The winners were announced in the Herald Wednesday and the prize winners, to gether with about a score of additional guests, attended the Lyceum last evening and witnessed the pictures. The pictures give a glimpse of wild animal life such as no zoological garden could give. In the pictures they show the wild animals in the jungles of Africa and give an insight into their habits that no show of the animals themselves in their cages can give. The pictures have greatly interested Duluthians this week and the attendance has been growing since Monday. They will remain at the Lyceum until Saturday night, a daily matinee being given. A lecturer is present to explain the pictures as they are thrown on the canvas.

There is an act at the Orpheum this week which has been a feature of the act for several seasons and has also been one of the big attractions at the New York Hippodrome. It is the act presented by the two Curzon Sisters, and it is in many ways a sensational act of an aerial nature presented in that theater. The sisters hang by their teeth to a revolving apparatus, and give an aerial Lole Fuller dance.

Only three more performances of this week's bill will be given this evening and tomorrow afternoon and tonight. The old soldiers' matinee yesterday was attended by fully 300 members of the G. A. R. posts and the Women's Relief Corps, and following the performance a reception was held by the Old Soldier Pioneers. Next week's bill will be headlined by Lydia Barry and George Felix and the Harry Girls, two acts which have been most successful over the Orpheum circuit this season.

Vaudeville is holding the boards at the Empress theater for the last half of the week. There was a change of bill last evening, and "The Pink Widow" gave way to the vaudeville bill.

Pearl Brothers and Burns provide the comedy bit of the bill. They are a versatile trio and have a very lively and entertaining act. Probably the best feature of the act is their burlesque on grand opera. While the burlesque is funny, it also serves to show what excellent voices the three members of the troupe possess.

Belle Carmen and Jack Clifton have an excellent act which is a mixture of music, singing, scenic effects and comedy. Miss Carmen plays the violin and plays it as if she had learned it in the cotton fields of the South. Mr. Clifton plays the violin and the guitar. Their most enjoyable fifteen minutes of entertainment.

The Goyt trio consists of a man and two most remarkable dogs. The dogs are wonderfully little acrobats, and rather the wonder of the human member of the trio, clever as he is. The act is a very novel one and is well worth a look. Mr. and Mrs. Colby complete the bill with an interesting act featuring some phases of "the black art."

Mr. and Mrs. Colby, who appears in clown costume, adds a good touch of comedy to the turn.

Some good photoplays complete a high class vaudeville entertainment, which will continue until Saturday night, the new bill opening Sunday afternoon.

EARNED 4.67 PER CENT ON COMMON STOCK

The annual report of the Duluth-Superior Traction company shows earnings of the company last year to have been 4.67 per cent on its common stock after the regular dividend of 4 per cent on its preferred stock had been paid. The gross earnings amounted to $1,042,250, which is just $52,440 less than the previous year. The difference is attributed to the cost of operating expenses amounting to $620,000. Interest and taxes $28,226 was paid, the dividends amounted to $235,000, $70,114 was charged off for depreciation, and a deficit was then shown of $71,238. The year before there was a surplus of $26,715. The statement of assets shows the following: Roadway and equipment, $24,219; reserve fund, $24,483; accounts receivable, $13,576; materials and supplies on hand, $3,833; cash on hand, $23,273. Liabilities show: Common stock, $3,500,000; preferred, $1,500,000; outstanding bonds, $333,000; bills payable, $171,500; outstanding accounts, $71,859; accrued interest on bonds, $7,123; renewal funds, $339,779, leaving a surplus of $427,015 as against a surplus at the close of 1911 of $65,123.

Elected in Two Votes. Bemidji, Minn., March 7.—The contest instituted by John Gibbons, Democrat, and M. Crowell, Socialist, for the office of municipal judge has ended with the official record giving Crowell the office by two votes. He got 132 votes to 130 for Gibbons.

OLIVE Tablets OIL the Bowels

A Physician's Substitute for Dangerous Calomel

When you feel that your liver and bowels need help take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Substitute for Calomel. Calomel is effective, but dangerous—causing bad after-effects.

Olive Tablets are especially made to take the place of Calomel. Dr. Edwards for years has been Calomel's foe. He saw its dangers and its disadvantages in 17 years' practice, treating patients for all kinds of liver and bowel complaints. In his efforts to do without Calomel he developed his now famous little olive-oil-colored tablets. Olive Tablets are mild but effective. Safe and sure. Pleasant to take but unfailing in results.

Olive Tablets oil the bowels just enough to start Nature's own action, and they tone up the liver at the same time. They are made from rare combination of vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

If you want to regain that feeling of joyous buoyancy and clear thought that Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets give you like a vacation. 10 and 25 cents per box.

Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own. The Olive Tablet Co., Columbus, O.

VICTORY DUE TO MISSIONARIES

Teaching of American and European Ministers Helped Balkan Allies Overcome Their Ancient Enemy.

"The recent crushing defeats inflicted on the Turks by the Balkan nations was due in large measure to the influence of foreign missionaries, especially American. They brought to these Balkan people not only religious ideas, but also new ideas of modern education, and from these missionaries the Balkan governments learned much in the way of proper organization and drilling of their armies. Military affairs were conducted along the lines of American methods and that is why the Turks were so utterly crushed.

"The Italian war led to the attack that the Balkan states made upon Turkey. They saw a good opportunity to crush the power of their old enemy."

The foregoing statement was made today by Dr. Antranik Ishkanian, a Turkish physician who is in Duluth at the present time.

Dr. Ishkanian is of Armenian parentage and a native of Adrianople. At his early childhood days an American missionary converted his father to Christianity. This was in the year 1870, when he was then 13 years of age, the missionary brought him to New York. This was thirty-five years ago. The boy was adopted by the widow of Dr. Charles Nott, who had gained wide celebrity as the president of Union college. The young Armenian remained with this kindly guardian until he died ten years later, leaving him a legacy. He then took up the study of medicine, and worked up a flourishing practice.

Some years after his arrival in this country he sent for his father and mother to come to this country. Both complied and the father remained here until he died. The mother is still living at her home at Schenectady, N. Y.

"About a year before the great Turkish massacre of Armenians, which occurred in the year 1905," said Dr. Ishkanian today, "I was warned of it by many of my Armenian friends and by my mother. I had been intending to go back to Armenia as a medical missionary, but I received letters continually cautioning me not to do so. Nevertheless, I decided to go, and after I had made all necessary preparations, I went to see the Turkish consul at New York, thinking I best to get his permission to go to this country. He told me that I had broken the Turkish law, that he could not give me a passport, and that I could not be admitted to Turkey. So I decided to remain in America."

"The present movement in which Dr. Ishkanian is engaged has for its object the union of all the anti-clerical people of the world, and the purpose of appeasing them, actually instigated and planned the massacre. The bloody work commenced for three days and ended when it did only because the Turks themselves grew sick of it."

BANQUET AT LESTER PARK

Improvement Club Members Listen to Many Interesting Speeches.

School Board Member Declares for Increase in Teachers' Salaries.

Flashes of wit and humor enlivened the banquet board in the parlors of the Lester Park Methodist Episcopal church last evening throughout a long session of the Lester Park Improvement club. About 125 were present. A supper was served by the ladies of the church.

The speakers were many, and none spoke for any great length of time. James A. Wharton, chairman and toastmaster, was the busiest man there, as he had so many to present, and was obliged to say something about each one of them. The large number of clergymen for municipal office at the coming election was the joke of the evening, and every speaker presented his phase.

Andrew F. Nelson, member of the city school board, declared in favor of raising the salaries of the teachers in the public schools. He said the schools should be run like any business enterprise, keeping abreast of the times, being competent help and paying the proper price for it. He declared that teachers had to struggle along on the small salaries they drew.

Bert Foster was on the program to speak on "Lester Park Problems," but as he was absent, W. I. Prince spoke in his place on the subject of wealth. Mr. Prince said that on the best authority the material wealth of the United States aggregated the enormous sum of $125,000,000,000.

"Duluth's Transportation Problems" was the subject handled by Julius Barnes, who declared that five years hence Duluth would be one of the great cities of the Northwest. Mr. Barnes emphasized the absolute necessity of improving the facilities at the American Head of the Lakes for transferring merchandise of all kinds from the railroad cars to the boats, and the boats to the railroad cars, if Duluth was to play its proper part in the commerce of North America.

Charles P. Craig, general manager of the Lakeside Land company, spoke of the improvements that concern was making in the Lakeside district, saying that the investments of the company there aggregated a total of about $450,000, and that this year alone the company expected to put up twenty-five to thirty new houses.

Elmer P. Blu addressed the gathering in the character of "A Rank Outsider." His speech was humorous from first to last and he carried off the honors as the comedian of the evening. The meeting was also addressed by M. M. Hanna, L. A. Larson, P. B. Dowling, J. W. Cumming and others.

COUNTY'S SHARE OF FUND IS APPORTIONED

St. Louis county's share in the $300,000 apportioned to the current school fund to be distributed about April 1 by the state will be $35,632.70, and is apportioned at the rate of $2 per pupil. This county has 28,841 pupils, who are entitled to be counted for apportionment purposes. The subdivision of the St. Louis county share of the fund to the principal districts in this county will be as follows: Duluth, $25,138; Virginia, $5,408; Hibbing, $4,242; Eveleth, $3,240; Ely, $2,894; and Chisholm, $2,512.

MINSTREL SHOW SCORES A HIT

Boys' Department Entertainers Please a Large Audience.

Every number on the program of the minstrel show given last night at the boys' department building of the Y. M. C. A. was a hit, and it is asserted that the many shows which the boys have given that of last evening was far and away the best. It will be repeated this evening.

Some very clever stunts were pulled off by the real minstrel orchestra, entitled "An Easy Mark." The work in this and other parts of the show showed some good talent. There were popular songs and some first class dances.

The interlocutor was Norman McLeod and the emcee was Stanley Leath and Laurence Inman. The music was furnished by the Y. M. C. A. orchestra. The show was supervised by the business managers, Harry Bracy and the show will be repeated this evening and it is expected that it will again be well attended. The hall was crowded last evening and the audience was most enthusiastic.

TIMBERS IN BRIDGE SOUND

Pavilion Over Lester River May Be Ordered Removed.

City Engineer John Wilson has completed his examination of the rustic bridge over Lester river in the park at Lakeside and will submit his report to the council Monday night.

The engineer found that the timbers of the structure were in good condition, although the bridge had sagged considerably. He recommended that the pavilion which it now supports be removed, as it seems to be used but little. He points out that this would lighten it considerably. The council requested the engineer to ascertain the condition of the bridge in response to a communication from the Lester Park Improvement club.

PLANS LONG VOYAGE.

Naval Officer Going From Lake Itasca to Gulf in Open Boat.

Park Rapids, Minn., March 7.—(Special to Herald.)—Andrew Koehn, quartermaster United States navy, will make a trip from Lake Itasca to the Gulf of Mexico in an open boat, starting about the first of the month. He is spending about a month in training on the beautiful lakes and rivers adjacent to Park Rapids before he starts.

His boat will be of steel, 9 feet long and 3 feet wide, in which he will sleep.

The "Windsor" Suit $25

Another Triumph of Wooltex Tailoring.

The suit illustrated is almost "man-nish" in its cut, the cut-a-way effect being very slight and approaching the style of a man's sack coat. But few men can have the perfect lines and exquisite fit for the price at which this suit can be had by women.

Like all plain-tailored garments it must rely for its effect on its lines, and here the Wooltex tailoring is shown at its best.

The picture reveals this better than words can.

A top pocket and a double row of buttons on back and sleeves give a dainty touch of relief. The skirt has a distinct novelty in the back panel which appears to be buttoned on at the top over a belt of self material, the real fastening being with large buttons on the side. A wide plait runs down the side and extra plaits at bottom give ample foot room.

A suit of which the wearer will never weary and which she will find hard to wear out. Made in a variety of staple cloths and in several novelty weaves. The price for almost all of these is $25.00. Come and see it!

It Is Logical to Fit Your Corsets Before You Buy Your Gown or Your Suit---

It has not always been customary for us to have our corset opening before our cloak and suit opening, as corset style has not been authoritative, but this season Warner's have hit the mark. Every model is corset excellence. They are here early in time to show them to you with our cloak and suit fashions.

Long lines—the corsets touching the figure at the vital shaping points—curving slightly when necessary for comfort, but fitting so beautifully that just the showing is a real pleasure.

These Warner's are the shapes that are this spring receiving our full approval. See them early, but be fitted before you even think of your dressmaker. Go to her or to our Suit Department with a comfortable corset feeling, based on good shaping as well as easy wearing.

Would Not Name Committee. With this program in mind, it has been suggested that only the necessary committees, appropriations to take care of the supply bills which failed in the last session, enrolled bills and accounts necessary to carry on the routine of the house, be organized at the extra session. This would defer any trouble over appointments until the tariff was out of the way.

There is some sentiment in the house, however, in favor of immediate currency legislation, arising from an impression that President Wilson desires early action in that direction. Whether Representative Carter Glass, who will be chairman of the banking and currency committee of the new congress, will be allowed to bring in his bill at the extra session, will rest largely with the president. It is said, however, that house leaders are urging Mr. Wilson to confine the activities of the extra session to the tariff.

The usual crop of lobbyists is appearing in Washington to watch the ways and means committee. Organized opposition will combat any radical tariff bills in the house, and will follow them to the senate, where strenuous efforts will be made to temper any great reduction.

SHORT CUT TO COMMISSION PLAN.

Fargo, N. D., March 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fargo may avoid the election of short term aldermen and abandon entirely the regular municipal election this spring. The new amendments to the commission system, passed by the legislature carries an emergency clause. By the adoption of the amendments the council can order an election on the matter of adopting the system within twenty days. That it will be adopted is conceded on all sides. There is no provision under the law by which members of the council continue to act in the interim between the adoption and the election of members of the commission. Under that there would be no necessity for the adoption of the amendments. A second special election could then be held to name members of the commission.

Fine Remedy For a Backward Child

Continue it for Only a Brief Period and the Good Results Will Surprise You

A low state of the general health is now the accepted cause of backwardness in children. So in the case of a backward child it is best to look to the child's health. Usually he found that the main trouble is in the food, in lack of assimilation and digestion. Hence the child should be taken in the kind of food given to the child. This, with plenty of air and exercise, should bring about a change for the better.

Watch the conditions of the bowels, to note whether the waste is being passed off or not, or whether it is being passed off too freely. If either condition prevails give a small dose of that gentilest of all laxatives, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Thousands of mothers will testify to the wonders it has wrought in the lives of their own children, and for that reason legions of families like yours are turning to Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I am certain going to keep this medicine in the house in future for I know it to be good. It is pleasant to the taste and so perfectly safe that it is given to infants, and yet it is given to grown people. All druggists sell it and the price is only fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the latter for families who need it regularly.

HARRY BRUNTZ.

Syrup Pepsin has no equal as a cure for constipation, indigestion, biliousness, headaches, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, liver trouble and kindred complaints. It has so many advantages that those who once use it forever after discard cathartics, salts, pills and other coarse remedies, for they are seldom reliable and should never be given to children.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. A. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

O'NEILL BILL DANGEROUS

Supreme Scribe of Royal League Condemns Insurance Measure.

Aimed at M. W. A., It Hits All Fraternal Insurance Societies.

One of the leading fraternal insurance authorities of the country is in the city today. His name is C. E. Piper, he is from Chicago, and he is far from unknown in Duluth for he comes here many times a year in his visits as supreme scribe of the Royal League. Yesterday he appeared before the insurance committee of the state senate at St. Paul in opposition to the O'Neill bill, which he considers one of the most dangerous bills affecting fraternal insurance companies that has ever been offered. He is president of the legislative section of the National Fraternal congress, and it was in this capacity that he appeared before the legislative committee. In connection with a discussion of the bill he said to The Herald:

"The discussions on the O'Neill bill in the legislature are of unusual interest. It is a Woodman tight pure and simple, but the bill is so loosely drawn that it may affect, disastrously, other fraternal societies besides the Woodmen. In the beginning the thing that the bill was intended to do was to prevent the head and shoulders of the Woodmen from putting into effect the rate in rates adopted in Chicago a year ago. Now the bill has been changed so that it affects the decisions of the courts the society has been unable to complete the readjustment of the executive officers have announced that nothing further would be done until after the next annual meeting, thus giving the members ample opportunity to act on the bill. This is not what the so-called insurance leaders want. They do not want to see their own society, the Woodmen organization in the state of Minnesota and to organize in its place a state Woodmen's society."

"A preliminary organization has been formed and the rate of offices to be filled is holding the movement together. Fraternal societies generally would like to see the bill in the outcome of the battle were it not that the proposed law of Minnesota is a known principle of insurance. It is a secession measure entirely. The proposed law of Minnesota now provide ample facilities for the organization of new societies on sound business and insurance principles. Under the leadership of able insurance commissioners like O'Brien, Hartigan, and others the code of laws has been developed under which the state has been protected in large measure from fraudulent schemes, masquerading as fraternal benefit societies. The proposed bill would not only legalize the looting of the Modern Woodmen of America but would permit the floating of an insurance proposition, insolvent from the beginning and doomed to early and certain failure."

"Insurgent members of the Woodmen are being duped by leaders many of them are of conditions, principles and some of them are absolutely vicious. The bill does not endorse the propositions contained in the bill and the commission has clearly expressed his opinion as to the doubtful future of the proposition. The bill but the question of passage has been largely paid for by the insurance companies. The bill is in order to avoid attacks upon the bill by the insurance companies. I can hardly think it possible, however, that the intelligent citizenship of the state would permit the enactment into law of the O'Neill bill."

"The secession accomplished anything in this country and this proposed secession is so devoid of content that it is not worth the effort to come from it. Many members of other fraternal societies and the various national organizations have protested to the senate insurance committee against the passage of the bill and it is to be hoped for the sake of the public welfare that the bill will be defeated."

as soon as results are observable it is announced a statement will be issued. Messrs. Greenbaum, president of the People's hospital, Dr. Friedman's demonstration, said that the opinion of physicians who were present was that criticism or praise of the culture and of the medicine was not warranted. The demonstration appeared nervous, and in the opinion of the physician, the demonstration was a success. The inoculation in the ordinary manner was given.

No Interference.—The New York Medical society, which has protested against Dr. Friedman giving his treatment as an individual practitioner because he has no state license, did not interfere with the demonstration. Dr. Friedman's invitation in a sense as a resident physician. Only patients and invited physicians were gathered, since Dr. Friedman had requested that newspaper reporters and other laymen be barred.

It is expected that at the coming demonstrations—from one to four injections may be necessary—the public will be benefited, Dr. Greenbaum said.

Included among physicians present were Dr. William J. Srochewski, superintendent of hospitals; Dr. E. W. Kellogg, Milwaukee; Dr. M. Wolff, state civil service commissioner; a practicing physician, Dr. Wood S. Hutchinson, and Dr. Tammann, rector of the city board of health.

FIFTY THOUSAND GIRLS IN CHICAGO

Returned to peer into the audience. Presumably G. H. Miller was dragged from obscurity, sworn and given a seat beside Rosenwald. Miller is superintendent of employment at Sears, Roebuck & Co.

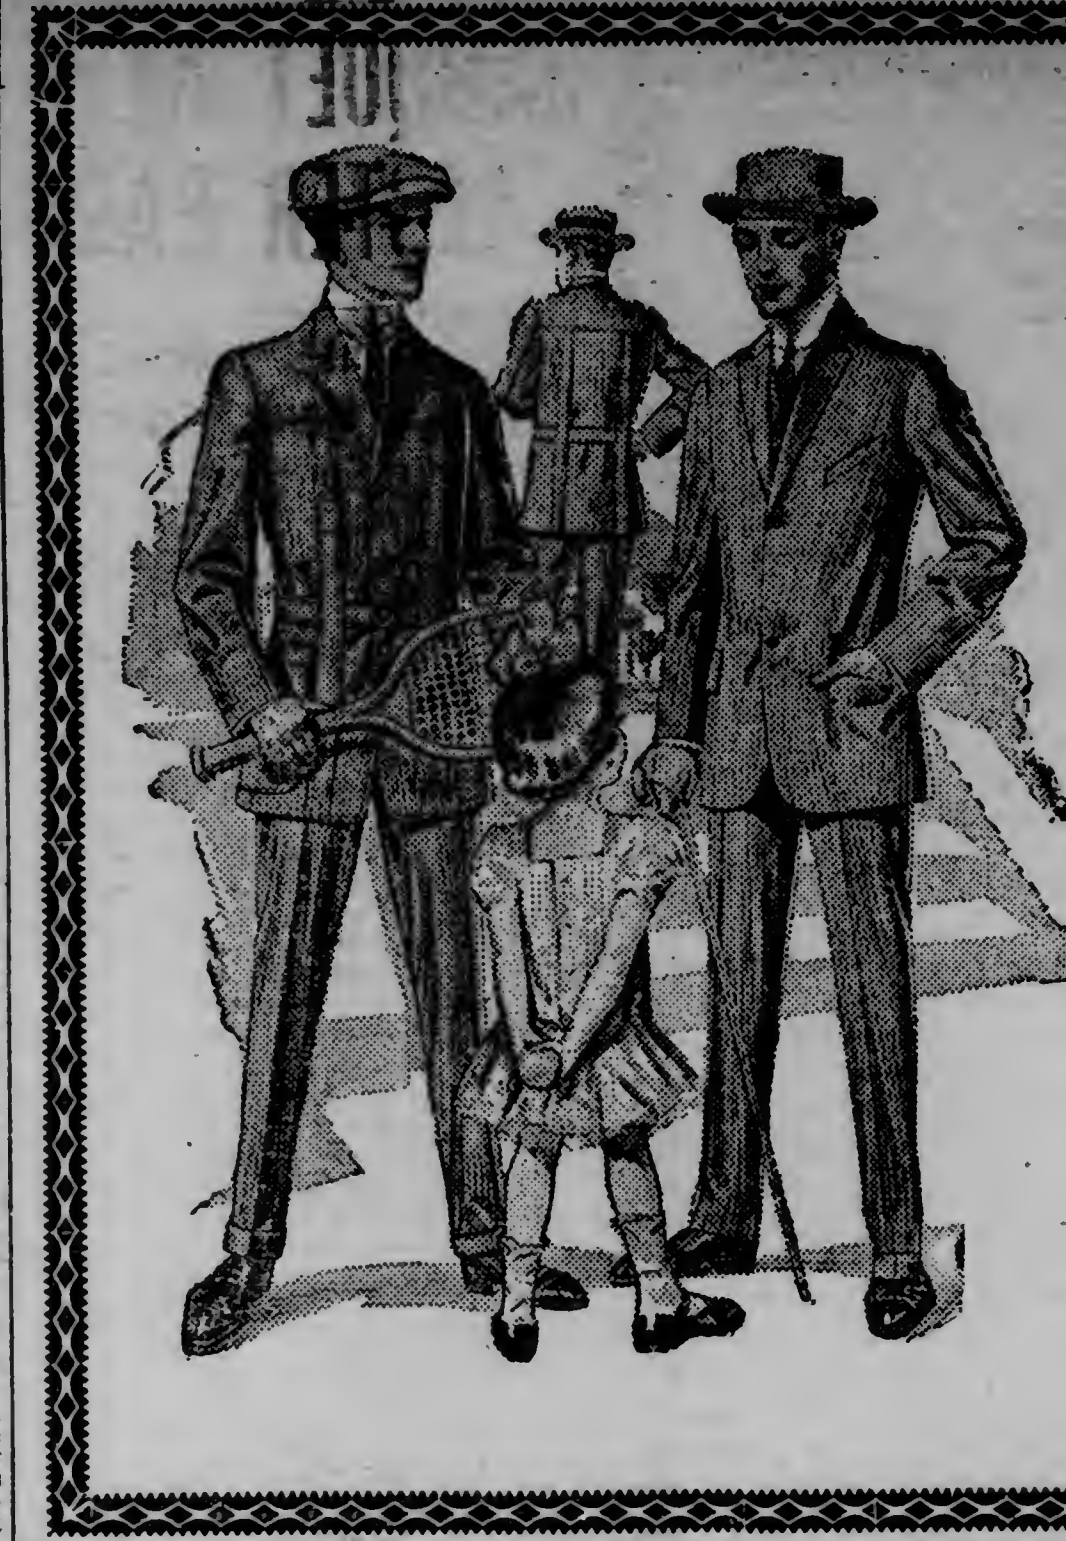

Rosenwald testified that he was at one time chairman of the Chicago vice commission which conducted an investigation of vice conditions in this city. "Did not your company within the last few years conduct a private investigation to ascertain the minimum wage necessary to support a family without assistance?" asked O'Hara.

"I don't recall—there may have been, but I don't remember just now. Perhaps Mr. Miller."

The latter promptly entered the breach and said that such an investigation had been held by a committee composed of department heads.

Minimum Requirement.—The committee reported the minimum requirements of girls "adrift" (not living at home) at $8.

"Now, I want to ask you," said Mr. O'Hara, addressing Mr. Rosenwald, "a man of wide philanthropy, if you think that low wages induce immorality in women."

"Well, I will answer that as I have answered before there is practically no connection between them. I believe that prostitution is likely to come to a woman who earns over $10 as the one who earns less. It depends on the woman. A girl earning a small wage might use that as a subterfuge to account for her derelictions."

"Do you consider $5 enough for any woman to live upon?"

"And $5 is enough for one who supports herself."

"What was your investigation showed?"

"How much did your corporation earn in 1911?" Mr. O'Hara asked, quietly.

"Approximately $7,000,000."

"Could you raise the wages of your employees and still pay your stockholders a legitimate profit?"

"The surplus of $2,000,000. The corporation pays 7 per cent on both common and preferred. There was a surplus of $12,000,000 at the end of 1912. He said he could have given $2,000,000 out of profits and still pay 'some dividends.'"

State Senator Nicola Juul asked the witness how he thought the stockholders were fair judges of what compensation the girls should receive and he did not think the state would be a fair judge.

"The question of apportionment would be glad to compare with the witness. Asked if he would object to disclosing his own income, he replied in the negative."

"Then," said Mr. O'Hara, smiling, "could you live on $8 a week?"

There was a titter when the witness said he never had tried to do it. The senators looked at the witness and wanted to know if the "corporation" of the one who was asked to live on $8 a week was sufficient in the individual case.

"No," was the slow reply. "You proceed on the theory that the state will permit the witness to pay them, commented Juul."

Then he asked if the witness thought that the girls should be asked to live on less than any average woman. The witness replied that he did not know.

"To pay 1,000 girls $5 a week more than the last session would be a difference of the one who was asked to live on $8 a week, stated the senator. "Would that make much difference in your dividend?"

"I would say that the earnings of one year might not be those of other years," Mr. Rosenwald answered.

general subjects. No decision has been reached, he said, as to whether the house should now appoint an appropriate committee to draft a sundry civil appropriation bill to take the place of the one vetoed by the senate. It is possible a new sundry civil bill and an Indian appropriation bill will be introduced in the extra session without going through the hands of the appropriations committee. The appropriations committee in the last congress over Mr. Taft's veto by a large majority and it probably could be reintroduced and passed as it then stood.

SENATOR TOMMY.—Former Governor North Carolina called to congratulate the president. The two men were in the division college. Six years ago and played on the same baseball team. It was recalled that on the last occasion of their meeting, which was in Indiana during the campaign, Mr. Glenn pushed through a crowd and said to the Democratic candidate:

"Hello, Tommy."

The future president replied, "Hello, Bob."

prepared by the Rockne special senate committee is now before both branches, the committees in each house having reported it with the amendments adopted in committee. Though some employers are fighting it, the chance of its passage is good.

The house committee on agricultural schools reported favorably on the bill to purchase 628 acres of state in 70-24, Koochiching county, and to establish a state demonstration farm there.

Initiative and Referendum.—The house initiative and referendum bill, as amended by the senate elections committee, was made a special order in the senate for next Wednesday morning. The committee submitted its report this morning and the special order was fixed on motion of Chairman Haycraft. Before making its final report the committee further amended the bill so as to cut out all together the requirement that petitions must be circulated in a certain number of counties. The house required that petitions be signed in ten counties, and at first the senate committee made it twenty. It receded from this action, however, at a meeting yesterday afternoon.

There will be no sessions Monday or Tuesday, on account of the village elections Tuesday. The senate this morning having followed the example of the house by deciding to sit tomorrow and then adjourn until Wednesday.

Bills Introduced.—The following bills came in this morning: House education committee—Giving the state superintendent of public instruction a four-year term and two additional employees, and changing his title from superintendent of education to state superintendent of education.

House banks and banking committee—Creating a state charter board to investigate the organization of new banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, etc.

Representative Minnette—Providing a fine of $2 to $25 for letting domestic animals run loose or pasturing on land not owned by their possessors.

Representative Lundeen—A workmen's compensation bill.

Representative Lundeen—Providing an eight-hour working day for women employed in manufacturing, mechanical and mercantile establishments and laundries.

Representatives Nolan, Steen and Orr—Proposed constitutional amendment authorizing the state to create and maintain an industrial insurance department to provide compensation for injured workmen.

Representative Lee—Allowing police officers to file minors by liquor when the purpose is to get evidence against law violators.

Senator Gunderson—Prohibiting dancing in public school buildings.

The senate passed a bill by Senator Boyle providing for changes of venue in municipal courts in St. Louis county, and a house bill by Representative Distance Tariff Bill.—The senate distance tariff bill reached the house this morning, and the authors of the house bill moved to suspend the rules and put the senate bill in place of the house bill on general orders, letting the house bill go to the foot of general orders.

Representative Lennon of Minneapolis opposed this and proposed making the bill a special order for a week from Monday.

Representative Minnette moved instead to make it Friday, and Representative Lennon pointed out that it would take eighty votes to do this, and the authors of the bill then withdrew their motions, and the bill was referred to committee as usual.

Pursuant to an agreement between the friends and opponents of the distance tariff bill, the house later made the bill a special order for a week from Tuesday.

The following joint committee has been appointed to confer with a similar committee from Wisconsin to frame uniform fishing laws for boundary waters. Senators Fosseen, L. O. Cooke and Carpenter; Representatives Kneeland, Minnette and Healy.

The transportation committee of the house killed the Nimocks bill providing penalties for fraudulent use of street car transfers.

The senate has postponed the special order on the county assessor bill passed by the house until Thursday, March 13, at 10:30 a. m.

John H. Norton of Duluth last night addressed the senate insurance committee in opposition to the Woodmen bill. Representative O'Neill of Thief River Falls supported it, and there was quite an acrimonious discussion.

STILLMAN H. BINGHAM.

NEW AMBULANCE MAY BE BOUGHT

City's Antiquated Vehicle Is Ready for the Rubbish Pile.

The city council will be asked next Monday night to advertise for bids for a new smallpox ambulance for the health department.

Such an ambulance is badly needed to replace the present remnants of what was once a smallpox ambulance. Health department officials have no hesitancy in characterizing it as a disgrace to the city. It looks as though it had been discarded after having gone through a shop in which hay wire and muscle were the sole available means of repair. The joys of riding in it are comparable with its appearance. The ride to the isolation hospital, which is located near the poor farm, is long and tiresome and the roads are not like the city pavements. It is not thought that any opposition will develop to the resolution authorizing the advertisement of bids for an ambulance to replace the makeshift which is still in service for lack of anything which can be utilized as a substitute.

STATE SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

St. Paul, Minn., March 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Among the supreme court decisions today were:

Hennepin county: W. F. Behrens, respondent, vs. Edna D. Brane, et al. defendants; Edna D. Brane, appellant; order affirmed.

St. Louis county: D. E. Woodbridge, appellant, vs. City of Duluth, et al., respondents; order affirmed.

St. Louis county: Simon Sale, appellant, vs. Duluth & Iron Range railway company, respondent; order reversed.

YOUNG FINN SUICIDES.

Herman Patsae Shoots Himself With Rifle Near Frazee.

Frazee, Minn., March 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Herman Patsae, a Finn, aged 21 years, living near Frazee, committed suicide Tuesday by shooting himself with a rifle. No reason for the act is known. He had at times appeared queer and slightly demented.

Servians Borrow Large Sum.

Geneva, Switzerland, March 7.—The Servian government today negotiated a loan of $6,000,000 at 7 1/2 per cent, with a Swiss banking group. The money is to be repaid within three months after the signature of peace between the Balkan allies and Turkey.

Cost of Insurance.

Washington, March 7.—Woodrow Wilson's insurance as president of the United States cost approximately $75,000. The expenditures of the Civil War insurance committee were about $48,000, while the receipts from all sources were approximately $84,000. The deficit of $14,000 will be made up from the guarantee fund of $50,000 which was subscribed in 1890. The joint congressional naval committee spent about $25,000, appropriated by congress.

Extradition Ordered.

London, March 7.—Victor Clement Fisher of Los Angeles was brought up at Bow Street police court today and ordered extradited to the United States on a warrant charging him with embezzling a large sum of money.

THE CABINET.

President Wilson is to be congratulated on his selections for membership in his cabinet. Some of the men are little known in public life, but what is known of them is decidedly in their favor. Those who have been more or less in the national eye are strong men, well fitted for the places they have been chosen to fill.

That Mr. Bryan will be secretary of state has been very generally believed for some weeks, and almost unanimous approval of him for that position has been expressed. He is conscientious in his public and private life, has an unquestioned spirit of loyalty to America and American institutions, and is thoroughly familiar with world politics.

Probably there is hardly another man in the country better qualified, in personality and knowledge of affairs, to conduct our relations with foreign countries. And there can be no question that by investing him to assume the portfolio of the state department President Wilson gave suitable and well-earned recognition of valuable political service.

But political service apparently was one of the last things considered by the new president in picking the members of his official family, though his campaign was strongly bolstered up by William G. McAdoo, whom he has made secretary of the treasury. Mr. McAdoo is peculiarly fitted for the post to which he has been called. He is a man not only of experience in public affairs, but a keen student of financial questions and possessed of an exceptional understanding of problems of that nature. He is in fact a "financial wizard," and it is particularly gratifying that the country should have the benefit of his knowledge and experience as it moves toward the solution of the currency and banking problems that must soon be determined.

Mr. Garrison's eminent qualifications for handling the problems of our insular possessions seem to have operated largely to determine his selection for the war portfolio, and that work is likely to be his principal task while in office. He has been more or less closely associated with the president in New Jersey affairs, and will be generally credited with a close knowledge and understanding of the presidential views regarding insular affairs.

In choosing a secretary of the navy President Wilson was confronted with the necessity of finding the best fitted man out of a host, none of whom has had actual naval experience. Mr. Daniels at least has been in closer personal contact with naval affairs than most other available men, and he will have ample opportunity to show his acknowledged organizational ability in the carrying out of the naval reform program inaugurated by Secretary Meyer.

There can be no question that in Mr. McReynolds the president has made an excellent choice for attorney general. His legal ability is of so high an order that, though he is a Democrat, even so partisan an administration as that of President Taft found it advisable to employ him as Federal counsel in some of the more important anti-trust cases, and he conducted the Tobacco trust and Anthracite trust suits, securing dissolution in the first and the annulment of the "65 per cent contracts" in the second. He is now called upon to continue work in which he has already made good.

Mr. Burleson brings to the management of postal affairs a wide experience of legal and legislative work. He is able and exceptionally well-informed, and is capable of taking up the newly extended work of the post-office department and developing it to its fullest possibilities.

Probably no appointment to the cabinet caused greater surprise or met with more general commendation than that of Franklin K. Lane to the post of secretary of the interior. Mr. Lane's greatest tasks will revolve about the administration of the public lands. As a Westerner he understands the situation fully from the point of view of that part of the country. His work with the interstate commerce commission has given him knowledge of the Eastern attitude on the land question, and has furnished him with ability to get the necessary perspective on the problems that will come before him. He has been out of active politics for many years, and his fairness and integrity are unquestioned.

Prof. Houston and Mr. Redfield will bring to the secretaryships of agriculture and commerce the qualifications of experts. In no other cabinet positions is it more necessary that the official shall have extended and accurate knowledge of the field in which he is to work, and these men are eminently qualified for their tasks.

In picking W. B. Wilson for the new post of secretary of labor, President Wilson has put that work under the supervision of a man who knows labor questions from the labor point of view. Secretary Wilson has taken an active part in labor affairs from the time of his early manhood. He began active life as a Pennsylvania coal miner and for several terms was international secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America. His present occupation is that of a farmer, though he has served in three congresses.

In any survey of the cabinet one must bear in mind President Wilson's declaration that he wanted men who would give him "team work," and was determined to make sure of that point. So far as can be judged, he has made sure of it. He has formed a cabinet that promises faithful, consistent work for the good of the country and the people.

The new nickels are a disappointment. They don't insure you a seat any quicker than the old ones did.

A BILL FOR COMMUNITY MURDER.

After the state has once broken away from barbarism by abolishing capital punishment, it is discouraging to see the house advance to the calendar a bill tending to restore that practice with a provision that in murder cases the jury shall have the power to say whether the defendant shall be murdered by the state.

Capital punishment under the old system was unjustified, but under such a plan as this it would be horrible. The former plan left the sentencing of a convicted man to the court, and under certain conditions the court had the power to take cognizance of mitigating circumstances, the personal equation, and other matters that bore on the case. It was to insure dispassionate recognition of these things that the power of declaring a human life forfeited was given to the court instead of to the jury.

But in the bill now before the Minnesota house no such provision is made. Indeed, it is specifically provided that the question whether the state shall commit murder be left to the jury. Now, jurors are not usually men accustomed to studying criminal cases. They are picked indiscriminately from among the citizens, and they bring to the jurybox the passion and prejudice of the public at the time they are drawn for service. To put in their hands the final determination of the question whether the state shall murder one of its citizens is little better than to leave the matter to the decision of the mob in the street, if that mob were to be first provided with the means of seeing at close range the bloodstained clothes or weapons and all the exhibits of the trial that tend to arouse human passion to unreasonableness.

Minnesota has once broken away from the legalized murder of its wayward citizens. Keep the state's name clean on that score. It was bad enough when such a practice depended on the dispassionate view of a judge accustomed to weigh evidence and appraise human nature. To restore it to the form proposed in the house would be a terrible mistake.

Anyhow, Yale can boast of a teacher who has had training and experience such as no other teacher ever had.

THE GRAIN TRADE PROBE.

Those pessimists who expected some sensational episodes in the legislative investigation into the operations of the Duluth Board of Trade are being disappointed. There never was an investigation anywhere in which more open frankness and good spirit were displayed. The investigators are going about their work courteously and fairly, and the grain men are acting in the same spirit.

That there was in fact little complaint about the operations on and in connection with the Duluth board became apparent during the inquiry at St. Paul. But it seemed advisable to hold an investigation in Duluth, too, and the Duluth men offered no objection. In fact, it begins to look more than ever as if the legislature's investigation into this branch of the state's business is to result in securing for the Duluth Board of Trade an even better position in the state than it has heretofore had.

But however it turns out, the investigation is developing along model lines. The various phases that arise are being discussed in calmness and frankness. All information asked for is produced willingly and without hesitation, and the questioners evidently recognize that those with whom they are dealing are men like themselves. It is more like a friendly

CARICATURES OF ST. PATRICK.

To the Editor of The Herald: St. Patrick's day is once more close at hand and the usual souvenirs supposed to be suggestive of the day are appearing.

The Irish people venerate the memory of St. Patrick as a saint more than the Americans could possibly venerate the memory of St. Patrick as a statesman, and yet what meets the gaze of Irish eyes in free, democratic America? The souvenirs for St. Patrick's day are the same as the caricatures of the saint himself, with green pigs, clay pipes, snakes, etc. The Irish people have not much to do with the formation and preservation of the Union to be compelled to submit to these insults year after year.

So brave, that to the Irish people a decided stand against these emblems which have no connection whatever with the great Christian hero, is a duty.

Thus Died Don Quixote

From "Don Quixote," by Cervantes.

Thus died that ingenious gentleman, Don Quixote de la Mancha, who, after a life of adventures, had at last found a peaceful end. He was buried in the town of his birth, and his name was given to a street in the city.

There's no occasion for surprise in the news that the prince of Wales is to become a farmer. It was a clench that the city neighbors never would stand for that baskie practice.

When Liberty Bell Last Rang

Philadelphia Public Ledger: Seventy years ago, Feb. 22, the Liberty bell was rung for the last time. This is contrary to the popular belief, but it is true.

Addressing himself to his pen, "Oh, thou, my slender pipe, whether wet or dry, I dare not speak my thoughts! suspended by this brass wire, remain upon this time, Part of this notion is correct and part is wrong.

On the morning of June 8, 1835, the Liberty bell, which for a century had been the city's greatest instrument for showing joy or grief, was being tolled for Chief Justice John Marshall. This great of American judges had come to Philadelphia to undergo a surgical operation at the hands of the city physician. Being an octogenarian, he did not recover, but died in this city. Marshall's body was one of the very few that have ever been honored by being permitted to lie in state in Independence hall. As the corpse of the famous jurist was being borne away from this home of liberty and taken down Chestnut street to the wharf, whence it was to be taken to Virginia, the Liberty bell was tolled mournfully.

On that occasion it was very badly cracked. But, broken as it was, the bells rung after great effort, and the tones were but sorry reminders of the once powerful tongue. So it happened that the Liberty bell was tolled for the last time on the morning of June 8, 1835, the old bell was once again tolled in joy. At that time, however, the very thing that has ever been honored by being permitted to lie in state in Independence hall, as the corpse of the famous jurist was being borne away from this home of liberty and taken down Chestnut street to the wharf, whence it was to be taken to Virginia, the Liberty bell was tolled mournfully.

It was never rung again after that day, and for seventy years it has remained voiceless.

Men like the late Frederick Fraley had often heard the Liberty bell ring. I heard him once say that the tone was unusually fine, but he added that perhaps an American had such great reverence for the bell itself that he was not a competent judge of its note-producing qualities.

Before the steam engine came into use, with its powerful siren yell, the ringing of bells must have been, according to stories that come down from that day, the chief method of celebrating. When the Declaration of Independence was adopted the now-famous Liberty bell was first to sound the great news, but immediately afterward many another Philadelphia bell took up the chorus. For them there is neither legend nor honor.

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, March 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Down in the little town of Dresden, Tenn., dwell two boys, a quarter of a century ago who were closely associated by a common interest in stealing an occasional watermelon. Their names were Flins J. Garrett, and Otis T. Wingo. They were not only accomplices, but friends. When they grew older Garrett got a job driving a delivery wagon and he got a similar place on another wagon for Wingo.

At odd times when they weren't busy delivering goods, Garrett and Wingo sat dangling their bare feet over the rear end of their wagons and talking of the future. Each had a vision that he would like to be a lawyer. Wingo's father objected, owing to a Puritanical feeling that having a lawyer in the family would be disgraceful, but the lad was determined.

The boys agreed that they would not only be lawyers but would go to congress. Already young Wingo was beginning to read the Congressional Record. Yes, they would go to congress, Garrett suggested that they couldn't both go from the same place. Wingo said he wanted to set up in some new country, anyhow, when he became a lawyer, so there would be no trouble. Thus it was all arranged.

In order to do this Wingo was obliged to defeat for the congressional nomination Chancellor Shaver of Arkansas, who was one of the board of examiners that admitted him to the bar.

Wingo was but a little stream in Tennessee known as Bear Creek. The name seemed to be an omen. When he went to Arkansas he settled in Bear Creek township, and there is a saying down that way that "as Bear Creek goes, the district goes." When he was in the Arkansas legislature Wingo was always known as "the man from Bear Creek."

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the great advocate of edible qualities in food, is constantly being hunted up by people with foods and special creams, and sanitary devices and whatnot for him to endorse. They swoop down on him at the station when he comes to a town to lecture, and dog his footsteps until he leaves. But they get no indorsement, because Wiley is not in the indorsing business. And this holds good regardless of the merit of the article. He does not feel like commercializing his name.

Regardless of their widely different political views, Victor Berger, Socialist member of the last congress, and ex-President Taft were always great friends during the time they worked in Washington. Every time Berger visited Taft he would go to see Taft for a couple of minutes, he ended up by staying an hour while the president regarded Mr. Berger with a friendly smile. "What do you want me to do—promise to appoint you to the next vacancy in the supreme court?"

One day Berger went to the White House in a suit and a pardon for a young soldier who was serving two years in prison for a technical offense. He started to leave the president's study, but Mr. President, you and I have become great pals now, and I've come to ask you for a little present."

"What do you want me to do—promise to appoint you to the next vacancy in the supreme court?"

When the supreme court hands down a decision in which one or more of the justices take no part, it is so indicated and made a matter of record in the case. For example, if the justices are five to four, the opinion of the majority will contain the line: "Holmes taking no part."

Justice Charles E. Hughes says every time he sees such a line it reminds him of the damage case in which an Irishman had judgment for $10,000, which, however, was reduced to $5,000 by the higher court. On the copy of the opinion, the justice, taking no part, he said: "I reckon, then, if I'd taken a part of the money like my erst red, they'd have reduced it to $3,000."

Champ Clark has a fatherly way of greeting new members of congress as they drift in to town to learn about their new job. His manner is much like the principal of a "new" school to have been the first that rendered those fabulous nonsensical stories of the time.

Comments of the State Press.

Coming Into Her Own. Bemidji Pioneer: Northern Minnesota is coming into her own in gaining the recognition that is due her from the rest of the state. All through the present session of the legislature there has been manifested a desire, on the part of the house at least, to recognize the importance of the north country.

Sensible Recommendations. Austin Transcript: The Minnesota Editorial association Friday went on record as opposing abuse of the postal franking privilege, for the abolition of free seed distribution by congressmen and opposing the proposed increase of second-class postage rates. The Minnesota delegation in congress is asked to use its influence in preventing increased rates. All very sensible.

New Constitution Needed. Colorado Opinions: What Minnesota really needs is a new constitution. Our present one is moulded with antiquity that it no longer meets the needs of the present requirements. A constitutional convention in the near future would be the proper paper.

Cutting Out the Racine. St. Charles Union: A turn in the tide of fair associations has begun. Some old-time fairs, with their polishing horse racing and taking the money that this costs and expending it toward numerous attractions of a modern diversified character that will please the people to a greater degree. It has come to be felt by many fair managers that the racing is not racing and chiefly a farce.

Money in Potatoes. Green Record: The price of potatoes this winter has averaged the grower from 45 to 50 cents per bushel. Not as high as they have been for the past few years, still there is a good profit for the grower at the present price, and he should make every effort to plant as large an acreage as he can this coming season.

Interest in Farmers. Cambridge North Star: It is surprising how much interest big bankers and big railroads take in farmers and how free they are with advice. One is sure that farmers ought to raise more stock and another wants them to have the soil analyzed so he can find out what kind of high-priced chemical he ought to buy. Other ways that farmers could be helped would be for bankers to refrain from "skinning" them and for the railroads to charge reasonable rates.

Gordon's Place. Redwood Falls Gazette: Sam Y. Gordon has found his life-work at last. He makes a fine censor of the state legislature and is not to be blamed if they don't improve, for he's doing his "canny" best with them.

The Second Choice. Okato Enterprise: The second choice feature in the primary law was meant for any good purpose, it has nothing to condemn it. At the last election it was never given a trial, and it was an entirely new provision and one the voters did not see much need of using. The political situation had fallen was out of the ordinary, and under the conditions the second choice was not thoroughly tested. The measure should be considered as unit and it has been given a more thorough trial.

Mispronounced Words

Kansas City Star: Are either and neither pronounced "either" and "neither" or "yether" and "neyther"? This question, much disputed, is answered in favor of "either" and "neither" by Julian W. Abernathy in a useful little book entitled "Correct Pronunciation," and published by Charles E. Merrill of New York. Not a single modern dictionary gives "yether" and "neyther," and goes on to quote Richard Grant White, who says "yether" is an abbreviation, and a second rate British pronunciation at that. Which should hold the "either" advocates a white.

And now about the word vase. It's pronounced "vace" whether it comes from the 10-cent store or Tiffany's. "Vase" is wrong, says the book, and "vay" is vulgar. Another lady for us old-fashioned folks.

Perhaps you've been confused by hearing people talk about "vay" and finding out afterward that they meant the noun "vase." Well, they were wrong, too. A straw vote of the best modern dictionaries hands the preference to "rise" as the proper pronunciation.

Another word that is frequently mispronounced is depot. It should be "deppo," not "deppo" or "daypo." Our old friend Jean Valjean, of course, is properly "Zhan Valshan," the great state of Kansas is pronounced as though the first s were a z. The folks who insist on making it soft are all to the bad.

Pierpont Morgan is a "financier," not a "finanser." The pronunciation is pronounced "ren-cessant," accent on the last syllable, not renayans, and Salome gets her last syllable pronounced.

Poets are filled with the divine "flaytus," not the divine "affatus." The ruler of Japan is the mikado, with the accent on the second syllable, has all serious minded students of Gilbert and Sullivan know, and never the mikadado.

Gibberish is pronounced with a hard g, and not "jibberish," and the word "fascist" is "faskid," not "fasid." "Amateur" is "amatur," not "ama-toor" or "amachoor."

The antipodes—Australia, you know—is pronounced "antipodes." When the wind sighs through the branches it "sows," never "suffs." A faucet is a "fawcet," not a "faset."

These are only a few examples. The book contains 2,000 words which are commonly mispronounced, and proper names which are frequently properly spoken. A little study of it will enable you to bowl out almost any of your friends frequently, besides tending to improve your own vocabulary.

Careless and slipshod enunciation among presumably cultured people," the author says, "is probably more common in the United States than in any other country in the world. A Frenchman is proud of his speech and treats it as a fine art, while an American regards his speech with indifference or contempt."

Probably he is right, as he is a Ph. D. and the author of a book on American literature. At any rate, a study of his little book is likely to prove beneficial to any of us.

From The Herald of this date, 1913.

The Minnesota house today passed a joint resolution fixing April 10 as the date of final adjournment of the legislature.

The Minnesota railroad and warehouse commissioners were waited upon yesterday by a committee of the Superior board of trade. They asked that the commission turn over to the Superior board the weighing of grain at that city. The commission refused the request, because they cannot split up the provisions of the grain act so as to allow wheat inspection by Minnesota officials and weighing by Wisconsin men, as the two departments are inseparable. The Superior delegates want Minnesota inspection to continue, because they said that it would give rise to endless confusion in Eastern grain markets if two systems of inspection were maintained at the head of Lake Superior.

The new city council will be organized tonight and there are rumors that a combination has been formed which provides for a new deal all through. The new slate is said to have H. M. Myers for president in place of W. Hugo and C. E. Richardson for clerk in place of Frank Burke. The aspirants for the city clerkship are Russell, Kennedy, Richardson, Gearhart and Burke, but it is thought the real fight is between Richardson and Burke. For the city attorneyship, S. L. Smith, who now holds that office, W. D. Edson and J. D. Holmes are candidates, but it is rumored that another lawyer upon whom the aldermen look with favor has consented to serve for $5,000 a year.

The Richness of Life

Oh, do not pray for easy lives. Pray to be stronger men and women. Do not pray for tasks equal to your powers. Pray for powers equal to your tasks. Then the doing of your work shall be no miracle. But you shall be a miracle. Every day you shall wonder at yourself, at the richness of life which has come to you by the grace of God. —Phillips Brooks.

Five Cakes for One Diner

London Mail: An elderly man in evening dress entered a restaurant in Soho the other night. The waiter took his hat and coat, and in a moment brought him a dish of five oysters and poured out a glass of white wine. The diner, who had not said a word, ate the oysters thoughtfully, emptied the glass, paid the waiter, and in five minutes was left alone. "He's off to—" said the waiter. "He never has more than one course at a place where he took his hat and coat, and in a moment brought him a dish of five oysters and poured out a glass of white wine. Dressing By Thermometer.

It was largely because man began to realize the shortcomings and the inaccuracy of the sense organs, that instruments for recording time and making comparison of weight and measure, were first introduced.

The growth of science, the search for truth became more strenuous; and these simple instruments were constantly being made more accurate, while other measuring instruments were being added daily to the list of sense-organ helps. The recognition of the narrow limitations of the eye, was the stimulus necessary to the production of the telescope. In the same way, and many other instruments in daily use by both scientists and physicians, a couple of hundred years ago the feelings, the feelings and the feelings were accepted as the only evidence of conditions as they existed; but today—the unsupported evidence of any single sense organ is looked upon as inconclusive, the demand being for more accurate observation with the use of mechanically perfect registering instruments; and people who are careful in speech, and people who are careful in action, will hardly dare make the assertion, "It's hot" or "It's cold," without first consulting a thermometer.

This little instrument has come to be a necessity in every well regulated house, and many people who believe in the prevention of disease through prevention rather than cure, are now using the thermometer daily, to dress by.

It is no longer a plaything to be found only in the homes of those who are scientifically inclined, but many of the humblest homes are equipped with thermometers both living and sleeping rooms. The window instrument is in evidence on many of the residential streets of every large city, and these are the instruments one uses to dress by, for determiners of outside temperature, when arising in the morning, gives a fair index of the temperature to be expected throughout the day.

Therefore, the wise man who must be outside a great part of the day, will dress to suit the kind of weather expected.

It is more frequently unchangeable clothes than changeable weather which is responsible for much of the grip and colds so prevalent during an open winter.

In changeable weather it is always better to dress in underclothing that is not too heavy, supple, and easily changed garments, as necessary to meet changing conditions. Don't wear a heavy overcoat on a warm day; and always take the trouble to remove it when entering a warm car or room on a cold day, even if the stay is for a short one.

The heat-making power of the body responds to the demands made by the skin sensory organs, but the response is by no means immediate. When the body is kept in the amount of heat produced the following day; and a skin always kept cool will insure a full production of bodily heat, provided sufficient food is consumed. Every healthy man, woman or child makes much more than sufficient heat for the maintenance of his or her own health; and the wearing of radiation clothing to prevent heat loss is all that is necessary to keep the body warm. In cold weather the clothing necessary to become a burden, and interfere seriously with movement; so artificially heating the body by various methods has been resorted to as the most practical way of "Pape's Diapiesin" Ends Indigestion, Gas, Sourness in Five Minutes.

"Really does" put bad stomach in order. "Really does" induce indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that's just that—makes Pape's Diapiesin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and grumble sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment Diapiesin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back. It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach doctor in the world.

preventing too rapid radiation. The great disadvantage of all artificially heated air is that it is more frequently than otherwise, much too low in relative humidity for breathing purposes; and the first requirement to which air must conform is that it be fit to breathe. Air at zero or 120 deg. Fahrenheit may yet be fit air to breathe; but when its relative humidity falls below 50 per cent it will almost invariably injure the delicate mucous lining of the air passages when continuously breathed, and in this way cause a point of lessened resistance against all forms of bacterial infection. The points to remember are: First, consult the thermometer on arising and dress for the day to suit the probable weather conditions. Second, when living or working in artificially heated air, see to it that the relative humidity is about 50 per cent at least; for the first requirement of all air must always be that it is fit to breathe, and only secondly should we consider the temperature of the air.

Questions and Answers.

Decaying Teeth When Nursing.
Mother writes: Why should my teeth fall into decay during the months I am nursing my baby? I take just as good care of them as at other times, but they seem to become soft and literally fall to pieces.

REPLY.
Nature demands a large amount of lime salts in organic combination, in the production of milk; and, if the food eaten is deficient in the proper kind of lime, there will not be enough to supply both the necessary for the baby and for repair of ordinary wear and tear of the teeth. It is a natural law that the requirements of a baby, either before or after birth, receive first attention; therefore, the baby gets its lime, and the teeth of the mother suffer. The remedy is for the mother to drink plenty of milk, and eat vegetables rich in lime salts, such as potatoes, tomatoes, etc.

Reader writes: Could you tell me what my case is, and what I can do for myself? I have no pains or aches, but am just losing weight. I eat and sleep well, but my urine is dark and I am 41 years old. 2.—What is the difference between diabetes and Bright's disease?

REPLY.
1. The information you give is not sufficient even to make a guess from, as to what is causing the loss of weight. It may be due to the loss of the ability to do with its quality. If you are passing excessive amounts, say over three pints during each twenty-four hours or if, on the other hand, the amount is less than one pint (a day) you should take a sample to some reliable physician and have it analyzed for both sugar and albumin. Should the urine be found to be normal your loss of weight is caused by neither diabetes nor Bright's disease, and further investigation will be necessary.

2. Diabetes simply means sugar in the urine. It is a disorder of metabolism, which means the ability of the body to use or burn some particular substance for fuel. In diabetes the body has lost the ability to use sugar as it should; so large quantities, when eaten, or drunk, are discharged from the body in the urine.

Bright's disease is an inflammation of the kidney and the cells become so inflamed that the kidney is unable to separate the food from the excess of water in the blood. Therefore, in some of the chronic forms there is excess of urine passed, while in other forms there is little passed; but in both cases the urine always contains albumin and casts and sometimes blood corpuscles.

On the other meats and poultry are very high and are selling well. Beef, which was selling at a week ago at 13 cents a pound, an exceedingly high price, is now bringing 12 1/2 to 13 1/2 cents a pound. A year ago the wholesale price was 7 to 11 cents. Mutton, which a week ago brought 8 1/2 to 11 cents, now brings 10 to 11 cents, whereas a year ago it sold here at wholesale for 6 1/2 to 7 1/2 cents. Pork loins are selling for 13 to 14 cents, just as they did a week ago, but a year ago the price was 10 1/2 to 11 1/2 cents.

There is no prospect for any decline in the prices of these meats. Local wholesalers declare that the market receipts are very small at all the big packing centers and the prices are going to be high during the next two or three months, if not longer.

They know that relief is immediate and all evidence of disease is quickly driven away; that pimples and minor blemishes are eradicated, inflamed and flaccid complexions cleared overnight.

More dependable than anything yet devised for the cure of surface troubles, Poslam will afford the greatest benefits in the quickest time.

Poslam is sold in the form of soap for daily use, toilet and bath, as a means of improving color and texture of the skin and assuring its continued health. Soothes tender skin. Best for infants.

All druggists sell Poslam (price, 50 cents) and Poslam Soap (price, 25 cents). For free samples, write to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West 25th Street, New York City.

their potatoes into the city by means of teams and wagons bring almost from the South, with the opening of spring. The demand for fresh poultry is quite strong. The supply of the frozen stock is probably adequate to see the trade through to the time when plenty may be had from other sources, but the amount on hand can hardly be said to be plentiful. It was put away last fall and early winter, when prices were high, and the very best was selected for the winter's stock. Dressed hens, which a week ago at wholesale brought 17 cents, now sell for 17 1/2 cents. The price a year ago was 16 1/2 cents. Live hens are up a cent, bringing 17 cents a pound.

Butter is a cent higher, but cheese is a cent cheaper, than a week ago. The best creamery butter is now selling for 36 and 37 a pound, against 35 and 36 a week ago. A year ago the price was 31 cents. The demand for butter is quite strong. That is something that people never turn down on account of its being too cheap. At the same time, dealers in oleomargarine say the high cost of butter has had the effect of vastly increasing the sale of their substitute.

Scarcely any changes have taken place in the local vegetable market during the past week. The fruit market has likewise been very steady, but with a slight upward tendency, on account of the cost of storing the fruits through the winter. Jersey cranberries, which a week ago sold for $2.25 a barrel, are now ruling at $2.50. Ben Davis apples have gone up from $2 to $2.50 a barrel and Baldwins and Russets from $2 to $2.25 a barrel. The movement in apples continues good. The price is low for this time of the year and the quality is remarkably fine.

The orange market has not changed from what it was a week ago. Some of the dealers say they are not at all afraid that the supply of oranges will be cut short on account of the January frosts in California, and they believe that reports of the damage by these frosts were exaggerated. A week ago some of the local wholesalers were expecting an orange famine, but now it seems to be the general opinion that there will be a fair supply of oranges from California and Florida all through the coming summer.

Will Punish THE INDIANS

Punitive Expedition Will Be Sent Out By Venezuelan Government.

As a result of the capture of two Duluth men by Indians in the interior of Venezuela, it is announced by Associated Press dispatches that the Venezuelan government will send a punitive expedition into the district occupied by the Indians to prevent further excesses.

The two Duluth men are Guy N. Borge and William L. Taylor, engineers. Taylor had to kill an Indian while he and his companion were effecting their escape. The dispatch says:

Willemstad, Curacao, March 7.—The two American mining engineers, Guy N. Borge and William L. Taylor, of Duluth, Minn., who were carried off by Motoline Indians in the interior of Venezuela while making explorations for petroleum in the vicinity of Lake Maracaibo, succeeded in eluding their captors after a sharp fight, according to a message received here from Maracaibo.

Taylor was engaged by one of the Indians in a hand to hand encounter and was forced to kill his assailant. The two engineers lost their entire baggage and are now returning to Maracaibo.

A speed exceeding two miles a minute has been made by cars on a short German electric railroad built by army officers for experimenting.

RELIEVES IN FIVE MINUTES

Help Comes Quickly When HYOMEI Is Used for Catarrh.

The quick relief that comes from the HYOMEI treatment for catarrh and all troubles of the breathing organs is remarkable. Put a few drops of liquid HYOMEI in the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, and before you have used the treatment for five minutes you will notice relief from your catarrhal troubles. It gives a tonic healing effect to the air you breathe, kills all catarrhal germs, stops the poisonous secretions and enflaming, soothes the irritated mucous membrane and makes a marked improvement in the general health.

HYOMEI is not a cure all; it has but one aim, the relief of catarrh and diseases of the breathing organs. When the catarrh is cured, the general health is improved, for then nature has a chance to build up the entire system.

If you suffer from offensive breath, raising of mucus, frequent sneezing, husky voice, discharge from the nose, drooping in the throat, loss of strength, spasmodic coughing and feeling of tightness across the upper part of the chest, general weakness and debility, or any other symptoms of catarrh, you should begin to use HYOMEI at once. It will destroy all disease germs in the nose, throat and lungs and make a quick and permanent cure of catarrh. HYOMEI does not contain cocaine or any habit-forming drug. The complete outfit costs $1.00, extra bottles if later needed 50 cents. Forcible Store and druggists everywhere.

SONORA STILL IN DEFIANT MOOD

Northern Mexican State Continues to Resist Fed-

Washington, March 7.—Sonora, one of the northern border states of Mexico, continues in a defiant attitude to the federal government. The consul at Hermosillo reports considerable excitement there.

Rebel bands are approaching Acapulco, pillaging the countryside. They demand a large money payment for surrendering their arms. An armed band which appeared in Acapulco spread panic through a theater and many persons fleeing from the building and other public buildings were injured.

SLEEP DISTURBING BLADDER WEAKNESS BACKACHE-RHEUMATISM, QUICKLY VANISH

Even Most Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After a Few Doses Are Taken.

Backache, urinary disorders, and rheumatism, are caused from weak, inactive kidneys, which fail to filter out the impurities and keep the blood pure, and the only way on earth to permanently and positively cure such troubles is to remove the cause.

The new discovery, Croxone, cures such conditions because it reaches the very roots of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped up, inactive kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the little filtering cells and glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism; it neutralizes the urine so it no longer irritates the tender membranes of the bladder, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped up, lifeless kidneys so they filter and sift all the poisons from the blood, and drive it out of the system.

So sure, so positive, so quick and lasting, are the results obtained from the use of Croxone, that three doses a day for a few days are often all that is required to cure the worst case of backache, regulate the most annoying bladder disorders, and overcome the numerous other similar conditions.
It is the most wonderful preparation ever made for the purpose. It is entirely different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth to compare with it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results.
You can obtain an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give desired results, regardless of how old you are, how long you have suffered, or what else has failed to cure you.

EASIER TO AMUSE THOUSANDS THAN IT IS TO AMUSE ONE

PAULINE FREDERICK AS "POTIPHAR'S WIFE."
Pauline Frederick is tired of matrimony. It is only three years ago that Pauline forsook the stage to marry Frank Andrews, the well-known architect. She found social life a bore. Amusing audiences of several thousand persons once or twice a day was so different from amusing an audience of one and always the same one. Pauline got so tired of the monotony of life with Mr. Andrews that she determined to get back to the stage and this season she is wearing the diaphanous drapery herewith shown in the character of the wife of the renowned Mr. Potiphar in "Joseph and His Brethren." When Mrs. Potiphar lures the innocent Joseph to a seat on a couch with her and there demonstrates her affection for him, all the church members who fill the auditorium marvel at her forwardness but not less at his power of control. Mr. Andrews is now in Europe and Mrs. Pauline has sued him for divorce.

MORE MONEY FOR SOCIETY

Additional Appropriation of $1,200 for Humane Work.

Monthly Report Shows Activity of Society During February.

The Duluth Humane society will receive additional financial support from St. Louis county as a result of recent legislation which empowers the county board to appropriate $200 a month instead of being limited to $100 as heretofore. Yesterday the county commissioners at their March meeting, granted the increase of the additional $100 per month for the remainder of the year. At the January meeting, an appropriation of $1,200 was made for the year. Yesterday's appropriation is an additional one.

February was a fairly busy month with the local humane society, according to the report which R. O. McKeeher submitted to the monthly meeting of the society at the courthouse this afternoon. There were sixty-eight cases investigated, forty-two involving human beings and twenty-six dealing with animals.

The February work of the society shows that sixty-eight children were involved in Agent McKeeher's investigations and they were divided as follows: Girls, 40; boys, 28. The total number of human beings involved in the cases taken up during the month was 107.

The society extended relief in eight cases during the month and found homes for four aged people. Three children and children were taken to the juvenile court. Other cases investigated are given in the report as follows:

Non-support 4
Neglect to children 4
Children in immoral surroundings 8
Destitution 7
Due to drink 2
Not substantiated 2

Children Cared For.
The report also shows that in the work among young children, nine girls and one boy were taken care of by the society. Positions were secured for two of the girls and four were referred to the juvenile court as being incorrigible. There were six cases in which it was found that children, especially girls, were found in and removed from vicious surroundings. One case was found where young girls had been abused by men. This was referred to the authorities and action may be taken by the grand jury which is now in session.

The disposition of the children cases investigated is given in the report as follows:
Committed to:
Girls' industrial school, Sauk Center 1
Children's Home 2
County hospital 1
St. Mary's hospital 2
Adopted by private individuals 3
Insane asylum, Fergus Falls 1
Contagious hospital 2

Touching upon the animal welfare work of the society, the report gives the following figures:
Total number of cases investigated 28
Number of animals involved 63
Number of horses examined 21
Horses taken off the street 4
Number of horses shod 6
Horses humanely destroyed 2
Cats humanely destroyed 1
Homeless dogs provided for 1
Cases of abusing children 1
Barns inspected 45
Crates of poultry inspected 67
During the month, Agent McKeeher made one trip to St. Paul, one to Hibbing, one to Virginia, and one to Gilbert. J. G. Luxon, assistant agent, made two trips to Smithville in the interest of the society during the month.

RAILROADS

PASSENGERS WILL NOT BE KEPT IN DARK.
The Pennsylvania railroad has sent to the press of the country a bulletin to the effect that hereafter, in case of accidents or delays to trains, it will also unreservedly information will be given to passengers from time to time in learning the causes of delays to trains on which they were traveling. In order to remove this source of irritation, the Pennsylvania railroad has issued instructions to all conductors of passenger trains that when traffic is interrupted trainmen shall pass immediately through the trains and freely announce the conditions, advising passengers without reservation the reason for the delay, if necessary, and the best means of proceeding on their journey.

"The management of the Pennsylvania railroad has for some years made it a policy to keep passengers informed of the causes of delays to trains, have a right to prompt information as to the cause and details of any delays which may take place either to the train on which they are traveling, or that on which they are waiting. It also realizes that passengers should have every opportunity to delay unnecessary anxiety on the part of friends or families, due to train delays or accident."

Rates Are Reasonable.
Washington, March 7.—Proposed advances in the freight rate on linseed oil from St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn., to the South and West, were held by the Interstate Commerce commission today to be reasonable, with the exception of the proposed increase to Des Moines, Iowa, which was ordered withdrawn.

Waterproof Wood.
Springfield Republican: A wood which accords to the department of agriculture, outlasts iron and steel when placed in water is British guano, greenheart. It is used in ship and dock building, trestles, bridges, ship-plating, platforms, flooring and for all purposes involving great wear and tear. The wood of two species of West African trees have been introduced into English markets as substitutes for greenheart under the name of African greenheart, but both are inferior to the South American tree. All the gates, piers and jetties of the Liverpool docks and practically all the lock gates of the Bridgewater canal in England are of greenheart. It furnished the material also for the fifty pairs of lock gates in the Manchester, Eng., ship canal. Circular 211 of the forest service, which describes greenheart and its various uses, tells how to distinguish between it and the substitutes.

Doctors Cause Drug Habit.
From the North American Journal of Homeopathy: It is a most unfortunate thing that the moral degeneration to which every drug habit almost inevitably comes is a sin that generally lies at the door of some medical adviser. Few patients live so far from the doctor as to warrant him from leaving a supply of morphine tablets for them to take "if an attack comes on." The practice of medicine seems to be summed up in the prescription of opiates in the case of some physicians.

GRAIN SHORTAGE

900 Bushels of Wheat Are Poured Into the Duluth Harbor.

A dispute as to whether the crew of the steamer Weston or the employees of the Great Northern elevator are to blame for a shortage of about 900 bushels of wheat in a cargo carried from Superior to Buffalo on the Weston's last trip down last season, figures in a lawsuit which the Frontier Steamship company filed against A. D. Thomson & Co. in district court this morning. Damages in the sum of $841.63 are asked.

The Frontier Steamship company owns and operates the steamer Weston. The local agent for the boat is G. A. Tomlinson. A. D. Thomson & Co., defendants, at the time of the shipment handled the grain in question from the ship to the elevator.

In the complaint it is claimed that defendant's agents were responsible for the shortage. In loading the boat it is claimed that a large quantity of wheat was spilled into the ship owing to a misdirection of the spout from the elevator.

At Buffalo, when the cargo was delivered, it was found that in one of three holds of the vessel there was a shortage of 1,157 bushels and that in the other two holds there was an overage of 166 bushels. The steamship company paid the consignee for the shortage and then made a demand on the defendant shipper for the loss, which was $841.63.

In its answer, A. D. Thomson & Co. blame the crew of the steamer Weston for the shortage. They claim that the crew of the Weston were negligent in not securing the cargo properly and that the shortage was due to their carelessness. They also claim that the grain was damaged by the crew's negligence and that the shortage was due to the crew's failure to properly secure the cargo.

TENTED CLOTHES

WE WILL open our store next week—the carpenters and painters are putting on the finishing touches and we will announce the opening in a few days.

We are new to the people of Duluth, but old in the business.

We have manufactured United Clothes for Men and Young Men in our Cleveland factory for thirty-four years.

We have had stores at 44 East Seventh street, St. Paul, and 245 Nicollet avenue, Minneapolis, for the past five years, and in many more cities—eventually we will have stores in all of them for the sale of the clothes we make direct to the people who wear them.

We eliminate the middleman and his profits of $5.00 to $8.00 on every garment we sell.

All the gates, piers and jetties of the Liverpool docks and practically all the lock gates of the Bridgewater canal in England are of greenheart. It furnished the material also for the fifty pairs of lock gates in the Manchester, Eng., ship canal. Circular 211 of the forest service, which describes greenheart and its various uses, tells how to distinguish between it and the substitutes.

Such a storm, when it sweeps over a ship, will sometimes carry away almost everything on deck. Deckhouses are often smashed and the lifeboats are often stove in and ruined.

Various attempts have been made to devise motors to develop power from the force of the waves. The amount of energy wasted through their lack of success is beyond estimate. If the power of the sea could be used, it would drive the machinery of an unlimited number of plants.

FRANCIS HANTZ WAS ONE OF THE VETERAN LAKE ENGINEERS

Francis James Hantz, the old man who was found dead by a neighbor at the rear of his home, Mrs. George Marshall, on Tuesday evening, was one of the oldest residents of Duluth and was one of the old guard of lake engineers of the pioneer days.

Mr. Hantz was born in the first town more than fifty years ago. He was then engineer of the City of Duluth and was on the staff of the city engineer, Mr. J. J. Moran, when he was on the water's edge. He was afterwards chief engineer of the old steamer Nautilus, which sank thirty years ago, forty miles from Ontonagon, Mich. He also was in charge of the old tugboat, which became too bad to get signals brought when he retired from the lake.

He was married to a woman named Mary Ann, which her own name was George Marshall, and they had a son, George Marshall, who was one of the oldest residents of Duluth and was one of the old guard of lake engineers of the pioneer days.

The high cost of living has been investigated by the Government, by Associations, by Public Clubs, and private individuals. After all has been said and done, the old philosophical law of supply and demand is the only reasonable solution. Wheat was high last year, an abundant crop this year has reduced the price of wheat and down goes the price of flour; the same applies to sugar, potatoes, all kinds of vegetables, eggs and numerous other articles of food. By careful purchasing, the cost of your food supplies this year should be reduced at least 25 per cent.

PRESIDENT WILSON AND EX-PRESIDENT TAFT AT INAUGURATION

GIVES UP BUSINESS TO FOLLOW THE SIMPLE LIFE AND EARN HIS LIVING BY HARD MANUAL LABOR

"WROLLING STONE" AT WORK IN THE MINNESOTA WOODS. He is the Man in the Center of the Picture Leaning on a Peavy Handle.

A disciple of "the simple life" who has given up a business of his own in New York city to demonstrate that it is not "the high cost of living" but "the cost of high living" that is the matter with the average man, was in the city today and called at The Herald. He is W. R. Stone, the only attachment left to the first word of the first letter of the second word—"W. R. S."—they being his initials. He proceeded on his way around the world in order to harden himself physically, when, between a desire to improve his health and a leaning toward sociological investigation he determined to get out on the road and find out if it is actually necessary to spend the amount of money the average man is spending to live well. He came to Duluth in January and took a job in the lumber camps near Abisko, Minn., in order to harden himself physically so that he may stand any unusual rigors in his proposed trip around the world. He declared to The Herald today that he feels so much better in the order to harden himself physically and took to the road that he is sorry he did not do it long before.

"I started out with the intention of crossing the continent with a four-horse team, but as I have been unable to find a companion who would fill the bill properly, I have given up that idea. I expect to go from place to place by train and to earn my living as I go. I expect also to prove that we may live almost as cheaply now, and live reasonably well, as our fathers did."

"I believe this: That the cost of living of which we complain today is more the fault of the individual than of the conditions that surround economic affairs. It is a state of mind. Of course there are many economic questions that must be solved and I think that the next few years will see that the average man and family is governed. They must live as well as their neighbors, they feel that they should be just a little better, and they are also frightened that somebody will consider them 'pikers' if they are not what is called 'good spenders.' If we would get over the fear of that word 'piker' and use the same common sense and the same fearless disregard our fathers possessed, we would live just about as cheaply."

"In the East the conditions are deplorable. Each family lives—in general—far beyond its means because it fears that significant word 'piker' that they feel like skimping and that reason spend still more. I understand that your Middle West is saturated with the same idea with the same result."

"I like the life I have chosen and I enjoyed my experience in the lumber camp where I have caused the fear of being better than I ever felt in my life before, and many others may find happiness in the same way. With the family man he could find happiness by suppressing the desire to excel others. You may be called a 'piker' but nobody will care about you if you are broke. Be a 'piker' for a time, save money and you will have all the friends you want. The fact that you have the dollars laid by attracts friends."

CONVENTION OF WOODMEN

Two Days' Session Will Be Held in Duluth Next Week.

The Woodmen of the World and the Woodmen Circle of Minnesota will hold their annual convention here next Tuesday and Wednesday, a feature of which will be a parade at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening from the Lenox hotel to the old Masonic temple.

The convention will open at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning with a joint session of the W. O. W. and the circle at the U. O. F. hall. Rev. W. E. Harman of St. Peter's Episcopal church will give the invocation. Mayor McCuen will welcome the visiting delegates on behalf of the city. A. Le Meignan will extend the welcome of the local lodges. Gen. John W. Geiger will respond. Dr. Mary McCoy will give the address of welcome to the circle, and the response will be made by Emma B. Manchester, the supreme guardian.

After the joint session at the U. O. F. hall, the circle will meet at the U. O. F. hall.

At 8 o'clock Tuesday evening the circle will hold a memorial service, followed by a musical program, at the U. O. F. hall. Refreshments will be served after the following program:

Address Mrs. Emma B. Manchester.
 Vocal solo Miss Clara Le Dev.
 Recitation Miss Clara Le Dev.
 Piano solo Miss Eva Lemoignan.

 Recitation Master Earl Holmes.
 Vocal solo Mabel Holmes.
 Piano solo Miss Maud Holbert.
 Recitation Miss Hazel Appleby.
 Piano solo Miss Hazel Appleby.

The W. O. W. will hold an initiation at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. The drill team from St. Paul will take part in the festivities, after which a social entertainment will be enjoyed.

At 10 o'clock Wednesday afternoon the circle will initiate a large class of new members. The ceremony will be assisted by the St. Paul drill team.

The parade will start at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening from the Lenox hotel, led by a squad of mounted police and Flanagan's band. All the members of the W. O. W. in Duluth and Superior will be in line. The line of the parade will march down Superior street to the old Masonic temple, where a grand installation of the head camp will follow. The festivities will conclude with a ball, to which all the members of the W. O. W. and circle are invited.

product has been seized by revenue agents because of the alleged unlawful process. Confiscation will result, it is expected, as a result of numerous suits to be brought, against butter dealers for evading a 10 cents per pound revenue tax and other penalties.

SAYS HE WAS OFFERED BRIBE IN HYDE CASE.

Kansas City, Mo., March 7.—Thomas Hollowell, a deputy marshal in charge of the jury in the Hyde murder trial, said Judge Porterfield today he had been offered a bribe of $1,000 to bring about a hung jury in the case and $2,500 to acquit him in an acquittal. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the man, who, according to Hollowell, made the offer.

TWO LITTLE GIRLS

One Who Played and Another Who Never Played.

Annie Hamilton Donnell in the Congressionalist: The Visitor and Sue Frances sat on the pleasant, shady piazza, eating cookies. Between bites they took long, straggly stitches in Lady Claire's sleeves—they thought they were making Lady Claire's dress. Since the Visitor's arrival they had played croquet and ball, g-a-visiting and school and guests—what's-in-my-mind. They were really quite tired out playing.

"Who's that striped little girl 'cross there, wheeling a baby carriage, without any hat on?" inquired the Visitor suddenly.

Sue Frances took another bite and answered: "Oh, that's the Little Girl Who Never Plays. She's always wheeling or sweeping, or doing something; she never plays."

"Never plays?" Sue Frances trembled.

"Well, honest, she never. I guess you'd play her if you lived on the opposite side of her. It makes me ache." The Visitor got up rather suddenly. "I guess I'll take Lady Claire to walk."

But it was not of Lady Claire's health she was thinking, she wanted to go a little nearer to the Girl Who Never Played and see how she looked across the street, the baby carriage came to a stop as the Visitor approached. The Girl Who Never Played was smiling! She looked just like other little girls!

"How do you do?" she nodded.

"No, thank you—I mean I'm pretty well, thank you," murmured the Visitor. "I mean because you don't ever play. I suppose you'd look—"

"Don't ever play—me! Why, I play all the time!"

"Oh," stammered the Visitor. "Oh, I hope you'll beg my pardon! I thought Sue Frances said you swept and—and worked."

"Why, I do, but I play all the time I'm doing it. I always take the baby out like this: what do you suppose I play then? It was playing it was playing it 'cross the street. You can't ever guess, so I'll tell you. I was playing body-guard!"

The Visitor's eyes opened wide.

"Yes," laughed the other. "You the bodyguard, you know. The baby's the czar and he can't go out alone for fear of being kidnapped—things. I have to stay right with him every minute to bodyguard him."

"Then when I feed him I have to taste everything first to be sure it won't poison him—like the way they do with the regular czar, you know. I take little bites, and when it doesn't poison me dead, I give it to the baby."

ASK DAMAGES FOR INJURIES

Four Suits Are Filed in District Court By Workers.

Four personal injury suits were filed in district court today.

Erick Gustafson, aged 28, wants $10,000 from the Oliver Iron Mining company for injuries claimed to have been received at the Alpena mine last July. A steamshovel, he claims, on which he was employed as engineer, dug into a bank on which there was a house dynamite, resulting in an explosion which he believes has crippled him for life.

Alvon Alto, aged 20, wants $10,400 for injuries in an accident at the Virginia mill of the Virginia & Duluth Lumber company on March 19, 1912. The same company is also made defendant in a $2,000 action brought by Matt Avikainen, who wants compensation for injuries received while unloading logs from a car on Sept. 8, last. De-murrers in both cases will be argued at the special term of court tomorrow.

Axelene Fisher has brought a $20,000 action against Alger Smith & Co. for injuries received by a minor son.

The Petersons live on a farm five miles east of Cotton. Mrs. Peterson claims that her husband is addicted to the use of liquor and has been abusive. When she caught him taking a "nip" up in the hay loft, he was so angered that he assaulted her, throwing her across a chair and bruising her eye.

On another occasion, she testified, he hit her across the lower extremities with a pitchfork. She also claimed that he was a fault finder. They were married about six years ago and have no children.

B. Schlusser, a neighbor, when he took the stand, said the witness, "I have had several drinks with him myself. We had a few together last night. Peterson, on the stand, told a different version of the alleged cruelty and said that he was willing to have his wife come back and live with him. He praised her abilities as a housekeeper. Testimony will probably all be taken this afternoon and the case submitted.

Joseph Czakowski yesterday afternoon was granted a divorce from Joseph Czakowski on the grounds of desertion. She is 34 and he is 45. They were married in Duluth on Feb. 5, 1905, and are the parents of one child, Frank, a boy of 8, of whom the mother was given custody. Plaintiff testified that her husband had left her and had gone to Canada four years ago. Judge Cant ordered the findings for a decree.

Grace Agnes Marie Osa was granted a divorce from Judge Dwyer on the grounds of desertion. This morning on the grounds of desertion. They were married in Duluth on Oct. 23, 1905. Under the decree, plaintiff is allowed to resume her maiden name, Grace Agnes Marie Hanson.
